LOCAL.

☞ In the Board of Aldermen, Thursday Evening July 10th, bills for witness fees in the case of Ira Willey vs. the City, to the amount of $92.24, were approved. A committee was appointed to confer with the Messenger of the Court of Common Pleas, relative to procuring the Court House for the use of the Police Court. Leave was given some artists and jugglers, to exhibit on Saturday evening—to close at half-past nine o'clock.—Leave was given F. W. Ham to lay sidewalk in front of his store on Congress street, and Miss Henderson to lay sidewalk on Ann st. Bills of Capt. G. W. Towle, for firing salutes on 4th July, $60; and A. M. Hoyt, for grading school house lot in Daniel street, $10, were approved.

☞ In excavating the deep Basin at the Navy Yard, in which to sink the Floating Dock, thirty-two feet, it is necessary to remove several hundred yards of ledge. This work is now in progress, under the management of U. S. Engineer B. F. Chandler. On Thursday several blasts were made in thirty feet of water, with entire success. Holes are drilled in the ledge by workmen in the diving bell; cannisters of powder deposited in them, and discharged by galvanic battery—producing a report like distant cannon.

MARKET STREET.—A correspondent approves the communication of N. about the dirty streets, and says: As for Market street, it is lined with dirt which is more enduring than flowers. This is not as it should be; and we hope some of the active young men on the street will start a paper immediately to raise funds to have this public street cleansed and put in order. We long to see it clean once more, and are willing to pay our portion for that purpose. Attend to it, young men; our City cannot afford to do it this year.

R. S. J.

For the Chronicle.

INTEMPERANCE.—That intemperance is the most alarming evil now prevalent in this city, no one, after a candid consideration of the subject, will deny. Its baneful influences are increasing among our young men. Its snares are numerous and well contrived; and happy the young man who receives warning in season to escape its impending dangers.—What has caused such disorder in this city of late, and caused our Watch House and Court House to be filled to overflowing? It is intemperance. Some remark that it is an evil which has prevailed for a long time. But does that free us from the obligations resting upon us as seekers of the good and well being of society? But at the same time it does clearly point out our path of duty, to do all that is within our power to stay its baneful influences.

S. W. C.

☞ It will be observed that the Picnic at Mr. Diman's, is to come off this (Friday) afternoon, should the weather allow. There will hardly be another opportunity this summer, to have so good a time so easily.

☞ The body of Robert Irving, who was drowned off our harbor on Sunday, washed ashore at Salisbury Beach, on Thursday.—The body was identified by papers found upon it.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

WEDNESDAY, June 9.

HOUSE.—Mr. Goodwin reported a bill appropriating $21,000 to the House of Reformation, for the erection of buildings, &c. It was ordered to a second reading.

Mr. Convers, from the Com. on Military Affairs, reported the following resolution:

Resolved, That the further consideration of the petitions be postponed to the next session of the Legislature, and that the Adj. Gen. be directed to present to the next Legislature, at its next session, a bill, providing for the reorganization and active duty of the militia of this State.

The resolution was adopted.

French Spoliation.—On motion of Mr. Goodwin, of Portsmouth, the resolutions in regard to the claims for French Spoliations was taken from the table and and considered.

Mr. Goodwin advocated the passage of the resolution, on the ground of justice, though he said he should not go into a discussion of the subject. He stated a case of peculiar hardship which had come to his knowledge in his own city, in consequence of the long delay of the government in paying these claims.

Mr. Jenkins of Portsmouth, opposed the passage of the resolution. He said he did not feel capable of discussing the matter, but he relied on the judgment of many able men who had investigated the question, and who had come to the conclusion that the government was under no obligations to pay these claims.

Mr. Edwards, of Keene, said the ground of objection taken by Mr Polk, was not, he believed, that the claims were not just, but that the treasury of the nation was not in a condition at that time to meet the claims.

The resolution passed, 150 to 132.

The addresses for the removal of Wm. C. Clark, Judge of Probate for Hillsboro', passed, 144 to 132; Eleazer Martin, Judge of Probate for Grafton, 146 to 135.

The committee on the subject of an adjourned session and the close of the Legislature, reported that it is inexpedient to have an adjourned session, and that this session be brought to a close on the 12th inst.

THE KANSAS LEGISLATURE, at Topeka, were dispersed July 4th, by Col. Sumner, at the head of 200 dragoons, and with two pieces of cannon.

There was a convention of 800 persons, all armed. Col. Sumner did not disperse the convention, nor disarm the citizens,—and declared he was called upon to discharge the "most painful duty of his life." He said "under the authority of the President, I am here to dissolve the Legislature." They dissolved without resistance.

CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, July 9.

SENATE.—Mr. Johnson of Arkansas, from the Committee on Printing, reported in favor of the motion to print 20,000 extra copies of the Kansas bill, as passed in the Senate, but adversely to the motion to print the amendments proposed.

A debate ensued, in which many Senators took part.

Mr. Hale of New Hampshire opposed the bill, drawing a vivid picture of burning buildings, mourning widows and weeping orphans in Kansas, attributing all the devastation and suffering there to the removal of old landmarks by the repeal of the Missouri restriction.

Mr. Fessenden of Maine argued that the design of the repeal of the Missouri Compromise was to make Kansas a slave state.

Mr. Toombs denied that the measure introduced by him had any other object than appeared on its face. It was to protect the inhabitants, and restore peace. There was no design to make it a slave state, unless the inhabitants should so desire.

Mr. Wilson of Massachusetts was willing to send to the country as many copies of the bill as the majority desired. He regarded the bill as intended to carry on the work which the border ruffians of Missouri commenced in 1855. The people of the country so understand it. Why was not this bill brought in in the earliest part of the session, before Kansas was conquered. Since that time Kansas has been twice or thrice invaded. Houses have been burned, cities sacked, and some free state men murdered, while others had been driven out of the territory, and those on their way thither arrested, disarmed, and sent back. The proposition brought forward at this time took positions precisely contrary to those assumed six months ago; also holding out the appearance of fairness and justice, but passing the word of promise to the ear, and breaking it to the hope.

Mr. Wade of Ohio took grounds similar to those of Mr. Wilson. He was willing to scatter the bill broadcast over the country, for it showed that the doctrine of popular sovereignty was renounced and entirely given up by the Democratic party. The bill also virtually submitted that the territorial Legislature was a fraud, for it legislated right over their heads, and annulled many of its acts.

The resolution to print was adopted, and, at 9 o'clock P. M., the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Cragin of New Hampshire, from the Committee on Printing, submitted a resolution to print 100,000 copies of the majority and minority reports of the select committee appointed to investigate the assault on Mr. Sumner by Mr. Brooks, at a cost of 9 cents per copy.

On motion of Mr. Cobb of Georgia, the number was reduced to 10,000, and the resolution, thus modified, was passed.

Mr. Ball of Ohio introduced a resolution providing for the appointment of a select committee of five, whose duty it should be to inquire into the management and expenditures of public buildings and other works here and elsewhere, whether bribery or fees have been resorted to in connection with the same. Mr. Ball said that certain papers had been put in his hands charging certain frauds against officers connected with the Treasury Department.

Laid over till to-morrow, and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Campbell of Ohio called up the report of the select committee relative to the assault on Mr. Sumner by Mr. Brooks, which concludes with resolutions to expel Mr. Brooks, and expresses disapprobation of the conduct of Messrs. Edmundson and Keitt in the affair.

Mr. Cobb of Georgia moved a substitute, declaring that the House had no jurisdiction over the subject, and therefore deemed it improper to express any opinion thereon.

A debate sprung up, in which the slavites defended Brooks and condemned Sumner.—The debate lasted through the sitting.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The Northwestern Republicans, and many from the New England and middle states, deny the truth of the statement that the party in caucus thought best that Messrs. Dayton and Johnston should withdraw as candidates for the Vice Presidency. They say that no fears are entertained but that the whole matter will be harmonized to the satisfaction of all concerned, and that they are opposed to the withdrawal of Mr. Dayton.

PORTLAND, July 9.—The State of Maine, the leading straight Whig paper of the State, this afternoon hoisted the Fremont and Dayton Flag, and came out strong in their support.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

ARE MADE TO

FOR THE CURE OF

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any lady can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 14, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which relieved her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with a few doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can cordially recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORGRIDGE

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I failed to report my case to you. A gout settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding, I was the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Hall, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its hazardous use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Say, too are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the fatal, and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL cures more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable cough that fastens upon the vitals and ends your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of the remedy, we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, care, or skill in its preparation. It is the most perfect possible, and this effect those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY.

No. 76 State st. oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others), will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal throw him within thirty days after the rejection.

In which, he is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered these seekers. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate — The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of patents, specifications, decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington — Patents secured in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,

Commissioner of Patents.

Whalebone Skirts.

THE only object of a Whalebone Skirt is to give a proper, graceful and elegant form to a lady's dress. Unless this is accomplished, the article is entirely worthless. The Ladies, by referring to Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions for April, will notice that E. & J. HOLMES have from actual experience been successful in producing this most desirable article, and that their IMPROVED SEAMLESS SKIRT meets the unanimous approbation of the ladies. They are light, pliable, and easily adjusted, and the only Skirt which is equally adapted to the street and the crowd; are made in one piece or breadth, and in our opinion, and in the opinion of thousands of ladies who have bought them, the most reliable goods of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce a Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacture and retail of these goods, we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of cord, and all starched goods, cannot be used satisfactorily, as they will not recover their place when pressed out of shape. We consider all as worthless, of whatever material made, unless there is something to give sufficient stiffness and elasticity, and at the same time yielding and pliable, to keep the dress in proper shape below the bones. To accomplish this we have our cord made under our own direction, and expressly for our goods, and from the only material that can be used that will recover its proper place when pressed out of shape, and are so twisted in manufacturing that they will not roll or curl when wet, and warranted to wash without injury. The public are cautioned against all worthless goods, as the market since our goods have become popular and extensively known, has been flooded with goods of all kinds, and put together without form or comeliness, or any other object but to sell, and of course are called Whalebone Skirts. Secure, then, the large and beautiful garden, is offered for sale.

THE HERBERT CASE.—Washington, July 10.—The trial of Herbert was formally opened this morning, yesterday having been spent in selecting a jury. The testimony for the prosecution was closed at the adjournment of the Court, although the counsel for the prisoner unsuccessfully insisted that it was the duty of the government to have present all who witnessed the killing of Keating. The evidence was substantially the same as that elicited before the examining justices. The prisoner occupies a seat in the dock, and is occasionally cheered by the conversation of distinguished friends. A dense crowd was present.

Another dispatch says "Herbert's friends express to-night great confidence that he will be acquitted."

We expect he will be—though he is unquestionably guilty.

Douglas's Kansas Bill is thus briefly analyzed by a contemporary:

"It amounts to just this, that now, the Free State men having been driven out of the Territory, and all the avenues guarded against their return, a general terror having been spread all over the country, so that a man who dares to utter a sentiment for freedom is in danger of his life, without even going through the forms of the law which abrogate the constitution of the United States: the people that have done all this, and who alone can remain securely in Kansas, shall settle the question of slavery for all future time. And to make slavery sure against any possible contingency, all this is to be done under the direction of officers appointed by the President, such men as Lecompte, Donaldson and Jones. It is nothing less than a bill for the establishment and perpetuation of slavery in Kansas. It has no other object and it can accomplish no other."

Under the direction of such men as the President would of course appoint to take the direction of matters under Douglas's bill what would the election in Kansas amount to but a a ridiculous farce?

WASHINGTON, July 10.—The amendments made to-day to the Naval Reform Bill, provide for a new board to openly re-examine and pass upon the cases of furloughed or dropped officers who desire it, with a view to a restoration to their former positions, if it is found they have been unjustly treated by the late board. The whole number of officers in service is to be temporarily increased for this purpose. This amendment does not interfere with the confirmation of the promotions made by the late board.

The Senate have refused to create the grade of Admiral, or to establish a scientific corps. The bill will pass in substantially its present shape, and action will be had upon the pending promotions.—Boston Adv.

GRAND POLITICAL OPERATION.—A prominent Hard Shell Democrat of Boston, who is so straight that he bends backwards, informed us yesterday, with rather a lugubrious face and faltering tongue, that, to his great sorrow, the Democrats had made a bargain and exchange with the Free Soilers. He was fearful that the arrangement was not an equal one; but, as the bargain was fixed, he was powerless. With much sympathy at his distress with regard to the turpitude of his party, we asked for the particulars. "Why," said he, "they have swapped off Tom Rowan for Martin Van Buren," and he thought the Democrats had been taken in by the cunning Abolitionists.—Boston Courier.

MOVED AWAY.—Mr. W. G. Brown, who has long been engaged as Bible explorer in this State, informs us that he recently found eighty farm-houses in six towns in Grafton County, which five years ago were occupied with families, but are now empty and desolate. He says "some of the farms were cultivated in part, and some had been turned into sheep pastures. Perhaps in five or six cases where houses had been left, others had been built in the neighborhood in their stead, and this was all."—Cong. Jour.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—On Monday evening a train of cars from Washington to Baltimore ran off the track, near the Relay House, in consequence it is believed of the intentional misplacement of a slip. The express train was thrown across the track, the mail car mounting on it was literally broken to pieces, and the baggage and smoking cars were also greatly damaged, leaving only the four passenger cars on the track. The engineer, James Gough, it is supposed jumped from the locomotive, and fell under the broken truck of the express car, and was instantly killed, his head being nearly cut off. The fireman, John Russell, remained on the truck, and had his arm broken, his left ear cut off, and was severely scalded and bruised.

Mr. Henry Nagle, a newsman, about twenty-five years of age, was standing on the platform of the smoking car, and was crushed between the cars, causing instant death.

Several other passengers were more or less injured. The president of the railroad company has offered a reward of $2,000 for the arrest and conviction of the person who displaced the switch.

STATUE OF WASHINGTON, IN NEW YORK CITY.—The statue is the work of Mr. Henry K Brown, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and is worthy of admiration. Washington is represented on horseback, with his right arm outstretched, as if restraining the noble ardor of his soldiers.—The head is from the celebrated bust of Houdon, in the possession of Senator Fish. The horse, a truly noble animal, is apparently at a brisk trot. WASHINGTON is seated easily in the saddle, with the old Continental hat in his left hand.

The entire construction of the statue has occupied Mr. Brown four years. It is formed of rich bronze, 88 parts being of copper, 9 of tin, 2 of zinc, and one of lead. The body of the horse was cast in one piece, the thickness of the metal averaging 3-8 of an inch. The entire weight of the statue is over 4 tons. The plinth weighs 2,000 lbs., the horse 2,700 lbs., the rider and other parts, 3,800 lbs. The modelling was done at Mr. Brown's studio, at Brooklyn; the casting took place at Ames' foundry, Chicopee, Mass. The height of the statue is 14 1-2 feet, which is also the height of the pedestal. The head of Washington is therefore 29 feet from the ground. The entire cost of the statue and pedestal was $30,000.

The statue is said to be a great ornament to the city. Its location in Union Square was effected by some wealthy citizens residing in that vicinity, whose united contributions covered the whole expense of the statue.

SATURDAY, JULY 12, 1856.

CLOSE OF THE SESSION.—Both branches of the Legislature have voted to close the session on Saturday. That will be regarded by the people as the most commendable act they could have done.—Concord Patriot.

It is certainly commendable to make as short a session as may be convenient, and also commendable to legislate sparingly. In both these respects, the present legislature is to be commended. One thing more,—the apportionment bill has passed, and there is to be no fall session unless by special call, for some emergency. This is also commendable.

BEECHER AND FREMONT. — At this time some newspapers charge Col. Freemont with being a Roman Catholic. Though this has been authoritatively contradicted, it still continues to be asserted, and in very positive and impudent forms. To this story, Henry Ward Beecher replies in the Independent, after this fashion :

We have taken pains to inform ourselves in this matter, and now state to the christian public the simple truth — that good men at least, may cease to bear false witness.

Col. Fremont was blessed with a mother devotedly pious. She was a member of the Episcopal church, St. Phillip's, Charleston, S. C., and reared her son in her own faith. Indeed, until he was fourteen, Col. Fremont was educated in the hope and expectation of becoming an Episcopal minister. At sixteen he was confirmed in the Episcopal church, and has ever since, when within reach of the church, been an attendant and communicant. Since his temporary sojourn in New York, he has been an attendant at Dr. Anthon's church, until recently : and now he worships at Grace church.

Mrs. Fremont was reared strictly in the Presbyterian church, and united with the Episcopal church upon her marriage with Col. Fremont. Their children have been baptized in the Episcopal church.

It is said that a daughter has been sent to a Catholic institution for education. So far from it, she has never been sent away from home at all, but has been educated by her own mother.

It is well known that Mrs. Fremont is the daughter of Col. Benton, and that at the time, her father was opposed to the marriage. Col. Fremont personally solicited several Protestant clergyman to perform the marriage ceremony, but on account of Col. Benton's opposition to it, they were unwilling to do it. A female friend, in this exigency, said that she could find a clergyman who would aid without fear, and brought in a Catholic clergyman, who married them. Like a true lover and gallant man, Fremont said that he did not care who did it, so that it was done quick and strong. Had we been in Col. Fremont's place, we would have been married, if it had required us to walk through a row of priests and bishops as long as from Washington to Rome, winding up with the Pope himself.

Is it not ludicrous to see a class of citizens so terribly frightened at the spread of Catholicism, and dreading the evils of Papacy above all things, seizing a quiet Protestant gentleman, and insisting upon it that he shall be a Catholic? In vain he struggles and protests; Catholic he shall be, whether he will or not.—"But, gentleman, I do not believe in the doctrines; I was reared by a Protestant mother in a Protestant Church: I have married a Protestant wife; my children have had protestant baptism; we and they attend Protestant worship, and we are, both by education and conviction, Protestants. You must excuse us, but we cannot be Catholics." The eager gentlemen will not be baffled. "You shall be Catholics; you are Catholics; we will have you Catholics; all you say may be true, in some mysterious manner; but you are Catholic, and we will have it so!" Poor Col. Fremont. We do not see how he will get over it!

We learn from a reliable source says the (Baptist) Reflector, that Rev. George D. Boardman, of Barnwell Court House, South Carolina, has been compelled to abandon his pastorate there for refusing an expression of sympathy on the side of Brooks in his outrage on the Massachusetts Senator. Mr. B., we are informed, did not volunteer any expression, but it was elicited from him by direct interrogatory.

BARNUM AND HIS CREDITORS.—A year or two ago the Connecticut Legislature passed a Bankrupt Law, which provided that whenever a debtor should procure the consent of two-thirds in amount of his creditors, to his discharge from debt, the other third should be obliged to concur. This may not be the exact purport of the Law, but it was something of this nature. It is said to have been passed in reference to a particular case. It was, however, found to be liable to abuse, and the recent Legislature repealed it,—the repeal is to take effect on the 4th inst.

We learn that on or before the 3d inst. Barnum and his attornies succeeded in procuring the consent of two thirds of the Connecticut creditors to his discharge, leaving the other third to meditate upon the glorious uncertainity of the law. What percentage he paid, or agreed to pay, to those who released their claims, we do not know.—Boston Evening Ledger.

TUFTS COLLEGE, SOMERVILLE. — The summer vacation of this institution commenced on Wednesday, and will continue for six weeks. The prospect is that the next term will open with a large increase in the number of students. The college is steadily growing in the public favor, as it possesses some peculiar advantages highly worthy of attention. Its location, too, makes it an object of mark topographically, and is one of general admiration for its romantic beauty. — Boston Transcript.

NEW HAMPSHIRE LEGISLATURE.

THURSDAY, July 10.

SENATE.—The address for the removal of certain officers, passed in concurrence, with an amendment, striking the name of Josiah Stevens, Justice of the Police Court of Concord from the list.

Read a third time and passed.—Act to incorporate the Dover Insurance Co.; act to incorporate the Manchester aqueduct; act providing for the assessment of State Tax; act in amendment of act incorporating Concord & Portsmouth Railroad; act authorizing the Governor and Council to commute the sentence of death in the case of Cornelius Haskell; resolution authorizing the State Treasurer to borrow money.

HOUSE.—Mr. Burleigh of Somersworth, introduced a bill to provide for the repairs of houses of public worship. Read twice and referred.

The House concurred in the passage of a resolution that the present session be brought to a close on Saturday.

CONGRESS.

THURSDAY, July 10.

The Senate, after making sundry amendments, passed the Indian appropriation bill.

The House passed Mr. Ball's resolution appointing a select committee to inquire into the subject of alleged frauds in constructing public buildings.

Messrs. Ball, Bennett, Burnett, King and Cadwallader were appointed on the committee.

The consideration of the report on the Brooks assault on Mr. Sumner was resumed, and debated to the close of the sitting.

LIGHTNING.—The White Mountain correspondent of the Boston Transcript, (whom we take to be Rev. T. Starr King,) writes as follows of a thunder shower on the night of the 3rd of July.

About sunset, the valley was visited by a most eloquent thunder shower, that seemed anxious to try its skill in a pyrotechnic display, with which rain could not interfere. We watched it darken towards us in slaty wrath, spreading wider and wider its grey wings, and shooting threads of jagged and fierce fire over us,—till, at last, we were called on to be grateful to it for the most startling effect I ever saw from a cloud. When the deluge was at its heights, a bolt leaped into the forest, opposite the Alpine House, with a crash that tore the air, and instantly a full sized tree was in a blaze. It caught and flamed, in spite of the rain, as if it were powder. It was a sight entirely novel to me, and very impressive. That tremendous force riding in a vapory fleece lighter than the air we breathe,—that fiery essence housed in water, and plunging into the substance of a green and saturated tree, to burst through all its pores in flame,—what miracle is more stupendous! How these great shows of nature supply each the condition for understanding, or vivifying, some striking record in the Bible! That blazing tree in the wet forest was a fit candle by which to read the passage from the first book of Kings: "And it came to pass, at the time of the offering of the evening sacrifice, that Elijah the prophet came near, * * * * and the fire of the Lord fell, and consumed the wood, and the stones, and the dust, and licked up the water that was in the trench. And when all the people saw it they fell on their faces: and they said, The Lord he is God; the Lord he is God."

ANOTHER THREAT OF DISUNION. — The Richmond Enquirer is going to dissolve the Union unless Mr. Sumner is hung, and his friends put in the penitentiary. The following is from that paper :

"Sumner and Sumner's friends must be punished and silenced. Government, which cannot suppress such crimes as theirs, has failed of its purpose. Either such wretches must be hung or put in the penitentiary, or the South should prepare to quit the Union."

WHAT DYER'S HEALING EMBROCATION HAS DONE

Would be to difficult a matter to embrace in so few lines. But a mass of living testimony bear witnes to the fact that no medicine ever performed such remarkable cures, or possessed such healing and pain destroying properties as Dyer's Healing Embrocation.

Thousands have been saved from an untimely death by the use of this preparation.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along!"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Billiousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone!

For the Chronicle

STREET DIRT.

Messrs. Editors—It gives me pleasure to see some plan proposed for cleansing one of our streets, which is recommended by R. S. J.: but as his plan does not extend beyond Market street; I take the liberty to say that the City Government either have not the power to enforce laws which would cleanse and keep clean the streets and bye places of the City, or they neglect their duty. Believing it to be the latter, and chiefly devolving on the highest officer of the City, I would ask why it is so? Is it simply to save money for the City? If so, it may prove costly, for some kinds of dirt endanger the health, and annoy the feelings of all decent inhabitants. I would also take the liberty to recommend a plan for getting rid of the dirt. Let every store, shop and house be provided by the occupant, with a suitable barrel, or other cask, to hold a week's collection of dirt of all kinds, including paper, shavings, rags, &c: let those casks be placed in the street, on a fixed morning, in front of each house, store or shop, and on this fixed morning, once a week, let one or more clerks rise but one half hour earlier than usual, and collect in the middle of the street whatever dirt may have gathered, during the week, opposite the store, shop, or dwelling wherever it may be necessary; and at the same time let the agent of the town farm be on hand to take all that may be collected in this way to the City Farm, where it may be used to advantage.

Should the city authorities think the expense of hauling worth more than the value of the refuse collected, after trying the experiment for a year, the people will be willing to adopt a better plan. N.

POLICE COURT, July 10.—Before Justice Odell. Stephen Seavey was accused of assault and battery upon Daniel H. Willey, on the 9th of July. Plead not guilty, but the justice considered him guilty, and fined him $6; costs $5.77; and to recognize with good surety in $50 to keep the peace. Seavy appealed, and gave bonds in $100 to prosecute the appeal, and to be of good behaviour till the next session of the Court of Common Pleas.

ROMAN CHURCH. — The sacrifice of the Mass will be celebrated, and a discourse on the Catholic Church, as a historical fact, will be delivered in the Catholic Church of this city, at 10 o'clock next Sunday, by the Rev. Mr. Waldron of Philadelphia.

Dr. I. S. Ives, formerly Protestant Episcopal bishop of North Carolina, is in the city, and is to lecture at the Temple, on Monday evening next, 14th inst. Subject — "Catholicity in its relation to Society."

POLITICS AND DRY GOODS.—A gentleman who is engaged in the Dry Goods business, in this city, gives us the following political census, which he has just taken. There are 44 persons engaged in the business. Of these, 36 declared their preference for Fremont, 4 for Buchanan, 1 for Fillmore, and 3 declined any expression of preference.

DEATHS IN PORTSMOUTH.—The record of mortality in this city, for June, is thus furnished us by Mr Robert Bell, city hearseman:

Males, 6—aged 1, 5, 22, 29, 51, 79 years.

Females, 4—aged 2, 37, 81, 81 years.

Total number of deaths in June, ten; in a population of 10,000.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

NEW YORK, July 11th.—The Africa arrived at one o'clock, with Liverpool dates to the 28th ult.—three days later.

The Washington was telegraphed off Southampton the morning the Africa sailed.

Money easy. The Bank of England has reduced its discounts to 4 1-2 per cent. Consols closed at 95 1-8 a 95 1-4. American stocks active and dearer.

The weather has become exceedingly fine and warm, which has produced a quieter tone in our markets, and the trade since Tuesday has been dull.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The Washington correspondent of the Tribune says: Capt. Morgan, a $1600 clerk in the office of Capt. Bowman, military architect, was dismissed yesterday, in connection with the charges of Mr. Ball, of corruption and bribery on public building expenditures.

The conferences of leading Republicans with the North American Committee on the Vice Presidency were friendly and cordial, but the decision is to elect Dayton.

FIRE IN SALEM.—The alarm of fire between 12 and 1 o'clock Tuesday night, was occasioned by the burning of a shoe-maker's shop in Congress street. The building was 12 by 15 feet, and occupied by about a dozen workmen. So rapidly the flames spread, that all the stock and tools of the occupants were consumed by the fire.

The Home Journal observes that another bubble has broken by the recent development of the fact, that the costly display of bridal presents at numerous weddings in New York for a few years back, have been hired from extensive jewellers for a reasonable amount.

Rev. W. H. Eaton, formerly of Salem, was installed as pastor of the Baptist church in Nashua, on the 26th of June. Sermon by Prof. Hovey.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and vivacate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," run the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages to applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal thrown by him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove that the office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relating to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in a saying inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHAS. MASON,

Commissioner of Patents.

Whalebone Skirts.

THE only object of a Whalebone Skirt is to give a proper, graceful and elegant form to a lady's dress. Unless this is accomplished, the article is entirely worthless. The Ladie, by referring to Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions for April, will notice that E. & J. HOLMES have from actual experience been successful in producing this most desirable article, and that their IMPROVED SEAMLESS SKIRT meets the unanimous approbation of the ladies. They are light, pliable, and easily adjusted, and the only Skirt which is equally adapted to the street and the crowd; are made in one piece, of the best cloth, and in our opinion, and in the opinion of thousands of ladies who have bought them, the most reliable goods of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce a Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacture and retail of these goods, we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of cord, and all starched goods, cannot be used satisfactorily, as they will not recover their place when pressed out of shape. We consider all as worthless, of whatever material made, unless there is something of sufficient stiffness and elasticity, and at the same time yielding and pliable, to keep the dress in proper shape below the bones. To accomplish this we have our cord made under our own direction, and expressly for our goods, and from the only material that can be used that will recover its proper place when pressed out of shape, and are so twisted in manufacturing that they will not roll or curl when wet, and warranted to wash without injury. The public are cautioned against all worthless goods, as the market since our goods have become popular and extensively known, has been flooded with goods of all kinds, and put together without form or comeliness, or any other object but to sell, and of course called Whalebone Skirts. Some imitators, in their efforts to profit by our reputation, have gone so far as to copy almost exactly our trade mark upon their goods.

Please Notice.—Every genuine article stamped, E & J. HOLMES' IMPROVED SEAMLESS WHALEBONE SKIRT, and may be found by the trade in many of the largest Jobbing Houses in New York and Boston, and at retail in the principal Dry Goods stores.

COLONIZATION IN KENTUCKY.

Nelson Graves, of Woodford county, Kentucky, left, by will, twenty-five servants to be freed, and sent by the Kentucky State Colonization Society to Liberia. He gave also to them, by will, one-half of his estate, probably $10,000.

John Gass, of Bourbon county, Kentucky, left, by will, seventeen servants to be sent to Liberia by the same society, and gave to them $2,000.

John C. Brown, of Shelby county, Kentucky, gave freedom to a woman and three children to go to Liberia with her husband, and their father.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Morton, of Shelby county, Kentucky, purchased two servants, men, of her children, and sent them to Liberia.

Miss Sally Logan, of Shelby county, Kentucky, emancipates a woman and child to go to Liberia to her sister, who is married in Liberia, and was emancipated by her, and sent there a year ago.

Haden Edwards, of Nelson county, Kentucky, freed a servant woman, and three children, and sent them to Liberia. He did a similar act four years ago.

E. R. Elliott, now of Jacksonville, Illinois, formerly of Muhlenburg county, Kentucky, emancipated six servants living in Muhlenburg county, and sent them to Liberia. He gave to them $650. Two years ago he did likewise.

E. D. Weir, of Muhlenburg county, Kentucky, emancipated a servant man to go with his wife and children to Liberia. He has done such an act before.

J. W. Herndon, of Simpson county, Kentucky; J. M. C. Irwin, of Fayette county, Kentucky; and Edward Howard, of Daviess county, Kentucky, each emancipated a servant to go to Liberia.

A colored man, a slave, was bought in order to refund the purchase money by his own labor to go to Liberia when his family went. He refunded the money, and went with his family to that new home.

The Kentucky Colonization Society sent to Liberia from Kentucky in the May expedition, sixty-seven emigrants. The society will send out another expedition from Kentucky in November next.—Frankfort (Ky.) Adv.

A CONFIRMATION.—A paper that shall be nameless, denies, with much indignation, an assertion of ours to the effect that the Southern press is not free. After spending a column of words in proving the falsehood of our remark, the editor closes with a paragraph which affords the strongest possible confirmation of it. He simply calls upon the Southern people to punish our errors by depriving us, as far as they can do it, of our means of subsistence. That is the point. The editor lays down the very rule which robs him of his freedom. He knows perfectly well that there is a political question of the highest importance, upon which a Southern paper is permited to take but one side. Where that is the case, whether the place be Paris or North Carolina, the press is not free.

We repeat another remark to which our contemporary excepts It is not the people of the Southern States who are in fault, but the politicians who use them for their own aggrandisement. We never met with a Southern man, except politicians by trade, who did not converse on the vexed questions with courtesy and moderation. On one point only have we found the Southern people "touchy," and that was, the charge that the slaves are not treated well by the whites. An accusation like this seldom fails to elicit an indignant denial; and it is a fact that, as a general thing, the slaves are what is called "happy." Concede that point, and almost any planter will, on his part, concede that slavery is an expensive kind of labor, and a moral injury to the white population. This is our experience of the Southern people. Hence, we conclude that the practical denial to the editors of the right to discuss the question, is the work, not of the people, but of the politicians. God knows what we of the North suffer from the same class!—Life Illustrated.

The Abbe Michon, a Catholic priest of Paris, has pubished a pamphlet to demonstrate that the Pope ought to renounce all secular authority and remove to Jerusalem, there to preside over the Christain chnrch.

HOOPED PETTICOATS.—The merry dames of Elizabeth's court, in a wild spirit of fun adopted the fashion of hideously deformed farthingales, to ridicule the enormous trunk hose worn by gentlemen of that period—determined, if not successful in shaming away the absurdity altogether, at least to have as preposterous a contrivance of their own. The farthingale at once became the darling of court costume, and in its original shape continued in feminine favor until the reign of Queen Anne, when it underwent the modification lately revived for us—the Hoop.

Encouraged by the prolonged and undisputed sway of the farthingale, the hoop maintained an absolute supremacy through the three suceeding reigns, though often undergoing changes which only served to make it more ridiculous. The most ludicrous of these alterations were the triangular shaped hoops, which gave the lady the appearance of being in a go-cart—and the pocket hoops, which looked like nothing so much as panniers on the sides of a donkey—we mean the quadruped.

A droll incident is related by Bulwer about the wife of an English ambassador at Constantinople in the time of James I. The lady, attended by her serving women, all attired in enormous farthingales, waited upon the sultana, who received them with every show of respect and hospitality. Soon, however, the woman's curiosity got the better of her courtesy, and she gravely asked if it were possible such could be the shape peculiar to the women of England. The English lady, in reply, hastened to assure her that their forms in no wise differed from those of the women of other countries, and carefully demonstrated to to her highness the construction of their dresses, which alone bestowed the appearance so puzzling to her.

A French paper gives an amusing account of a lady who went to a cathedral to "confess her sins," in a hooped petticoat; of course it was necessary to enter the tiny confessional and prostrate herself before the iron grating between her and the priest. In vain did she make vigorous efforts at the door to compress her unyielding dress; it stoutly refused, swelling like an air-bed, in all sorts of ludicrous tumors, at every new endeavor, until scarlet with confusion, the lady turned and hastily made her escape unshrived, with a few additional sins of impatience, anger, and wounded vanity, to enumerate on her return.

THE THUNDERS OF THE CHURCH.—Messrs. Drummond, Cartier, Cauchon and Lemieux, Canadian Cabinet Ministers, were denounced from the altar of the Roman Catholic Cathedral at Toronto, on Sunday last, for the course they pursued in Parliament on the separate school question, and on the Catholic bequests, or ecclesiastical incorporations bill. The Bishop's letter went so far as to say that they should not receive absolution.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, JULY 14, 1856.

CHOICE EXTRACTS.

The Dover Gazette says:

The long-pending report of the Kansas congressional committee has at length been made to the House. The report fully proves what we presume every intelligent man had before admitted, that the real residents of Kansas were outvoted by organized bands of men who went into the territory from Missouri and elsewhere, for the purpose of voting and nothing else. * * * *

We have always been convinced that the irruption into Kansas to control the legislative election was the work of Hindooism. We were not, however, prepared for so full an exposition of the fact as is found in the report of the committee.

Well: the Hindoos who went over from Missouri and voted in Kansas, were led by Atchison, Oliver, Stringfellow & Co.

In connexion with the above, read what the Lawrence (Kansas) correspondent of the New York Times says.

On Tuesday evening last the law-and-order men of Lecompton held a meeting and ratified the nomination made at Cincinnati. Eli Moore, who is connected with the Land Office, presided. Samuel J. Jones, Sheriff of Douglas County, and Dr. A. Rodrigue were among the Vice Presidents. Rodrigue is Postmaster at Lecompton: his son, in company with other law and-order men, were caught while attempting to burn the house of Capt. Walker, an active Free State man who resides near them. We give you one of the resolutions passed by them:

"Resolved, That we do most heartily approve and endorse the leading measures of the Administration of Franklin Pierce, and have the utmost confidence in the integrity and patriotism of S. A. Douglas, and while some of us may have preferred the nomination of one or the other of these able statesmen, yet we do heartily indorse the nomination of James Buchanan, and look upon his election as necessary to the stability and safety of the Union."

And we suppose, if we follow the Dover Gazette, we most call these patriots Hindoos, though they endorse Pierce, Douglas and Buchanan, all in one resolution.

The democratic party is chargeable with the assassination of Keating, because through its members of Congress it was accessory to the murder after the act, by screening the murderer from expulsion.—Bangor Whig.

We thought the House was in possession of our opponents. Didn't they carry it two years ago? Didn't they elect Banks speaker? How, then, are we responsible for its action? Portland Argus.

We had the idea that Banks was elected by a plurality. Banks had 103, Aiken 100, Fuller 6, Campbell 4, Wells 1.

If the Argus will look at the yeas and nays in Herbert's case, for the murder of Keating, and at the votes for speaker, it will find most of those who defend Herbert, voting against Banks! and will also find most of the same men voting for Aiken!

We say the truly democratic party is not responsible, but the party of murders, and bludgeons, the drunken chivalry of Washington, is responsible first—and every press and every man that upholds it, is responsible afterwards.

Rusk, Herbert, Brooks, Atchison, Stringfellow, Jones,—and Buford—and all who uphold them, are jointly and severally responsible, as particeps criminis.

THE BROOKS OUTRAGE.—The Newburyport Herald says:

Brooks in justification of his attempted assassination of Sumner, claims the right to defend his "political mother." If he has the right to defend South Carolina by murder, he ought to have considered that Mr. Sumner had at least the right to defend Massachusetts with words; and if it was his duty to assault Mr. Sumner, just as much is it every Massachusetts member's duty to beat up a cane over his head. The National Intelligencer complains that he was let off with a simple fine of $300; but it was as much as anybody this way expected. But how the matter is working may be learned from the N. Y. Evening Post, which says that "the demand for Sumner's speech continues without abatement. Not seven weeks have elapsed since its delivery, and at least a million copies must have been issued. Editions have been published in most of our larger cities, and the printer in Washington had on Thursday last received orders for 225,000. It is also incorporated entire as a part of the Congressional Report on the Brooks outrage, of which 10,000 copies have been printed.

RUSSIAN WAYS.—Princess Mickeladse, of Kutais, has just been sentenced to twenty years labor in the Siberian mines for having killed her husband through the agency of four men, one of whom lived with her on terms of criminal intimacy. Her son, Prince Assion Mickeladse, for complicity in the crime, has been condemned to serve as a common soldier in the army, and lose all the privileges of his rank.

If Brooks was in barbarian Russia, he would hardly escape with a paltry fine, which his brother ruffians will pay back to him ten times over.

YELLOW FEVER AT HAVANA AND MATANZAS.—The ship Lady Franklin, from Matanzas for Trieste, arrived at Quarantine, in New York harbor, on Sunday last, with nearly the whole crew disabled by yellow fever.—Matanzas is usually a very healthy port, and the captain of the L. F. reported that no fever prevailed there until recently, and not until several vessels had arrived there from Havana having yellow fever on board. From Havana vessels, the fever first spread among the shipping at Matanzas, and then into the town.

THE MORMONS.—By the latest accounts the crops were very promising in the Salt Lake Valley, and the Mormons seem to be getting along satisfactorily to themselves.—The Deseret news publishes encouraging letters from Mormon missionaries in various parts of the world, and notices the establishment of several new journals to advocate the faith, viz., the Morman in New York, the Luminary in St. Louis, the Western Standard in California, and the Millennial Star in the British Isles. That paper says:—

Faithful elders in nearly all parts of the earth, publications, besides those above named, in the German, Scandinavian, Welch and other languages, and increased faith and good works in the top of the mountains, all indicate the power and rapidity with which the latter day work is rolling forth, notwithstanding the powerful combination arrayed it.

AMERICAN RACE HORSES GOING TO EUROPE.—Among the departures by the steamer Asia for Liverpool, on the 9th inst., was RICHARD TEN BROECK, Esq., one of the leading Turfmen of the United States, and the owner of the renowned Lexington, Lecompte, Pryor, and Prioress. The career of the first named is without a parallel in the annals of the American Turf. Mr. T.'s stable of horses will shortly follow him to England, where, as a matter of course, he will "try it on" with the flyers of that region. The N. Y. Spirit of the Times wishes success to the pioneer American Turfman, and says if he should win a victory like that achieved by Commodore STEVENS's yacht "America," he will surely immortalize himself.

☞ The Portland, Me. Expositor, which was one of the principal and most ardent advocates of Gov. Wells's election, now supports the nominations of Fremont & Dayton as president and vice president, and of Hannibal Hamlin as governor of Maine. It says, MR. HAMLIN will be triumphantly elected Governor of Maine in September.

The Gloucester Telegraph, the last of the Fillmore papers in Massachusetts, has struck its flag, and gone in for Fremont. It gives as a reason, that Mr. Fillmore instead of inviting the friends of freedom to his support has sustained the south.

Ex-President Martin Van Buren has written a letter to the Tammany Society in favor of Mr. Buchanan's election.

A letter from Hon. Kenneth Raynor declines the nomination for the Vice-Presidency tendered him by the split convention in New York, which put Com. Stockton in nomination for the Presidency. He declares that he will support Mr. Fillmore.

THE FREE STATE ADVOCATE.—We have received a few copies of a campaign paper with this title, containing portraits of Fremont and Dayton, with Biographies, and much other matter. Among other articles are the platforms of the three parties. The editor is James B. Swain, New York.

The Lowell Advertiser says that the proprietor of the City Hotel, on East Merrimac street, started for parts unknown, on Sunday night last, leaving about $4000 of debts unpaid. The family of said proprietor followed in his footsteps, early Monday morning, since which time they have not been heard of.

It also learns that some villians broke into the dwelling house of Gen. Samuel M. Richardson of Pelham, N. H., on the night of the 19th ult., and stole therefrom $120 in money.

MORDECAI OLIVER.—This Representative from Missouri, has made his report to the House.—[See Congress news.]—It is a very natural report for him to make, for he is himself a border ruffian, as reported by his colleagues. Among the evidences which they have in their possession of the frauds by which the Border Ruffians attempted to deprive the people of Kansas of their rights, are sworn copies of the poll-books and census of Kansas, with the names of all the illegal voters spotted, including that of the Hon. Mordecai Oliver, Member of Congress from Missouri, and a member of the Investigating Committee.

A MINISTRY OF THIRTY YEARS.—On Sunday, the 29th ult. the Rev. Daniel Fitz, of Ipswich, preached a sermon upon the thirtieth anniversary of his Ordination, as Pastor of the South Church in that town. The interest of this occasion was increased by the fact, that the predecessor of Mr. Fitz, the Rev. Dr. Dana, was Pastor of the same people for more than sixty years. Mr. Dana's sixtieth anniversary sermon was read by Mr. Fitz on the morning of the same day. Mr. Fitz's sermon was an exceedingly interesting review of the thirty years of ministry—and a plain and forcible exhibition of the principles of the Gospel, as illustrated by the history of his church and society during that period. It is gratifying indeed, in this age of change, to see the pastoral relation for so long a time unbroken, and to witness the abundant success with which, by the blessing of God, the faithful labors of the ministry are attended.—Boston Traveller.

A Countryman entering one of the western hotels, wrote after his name—"P. O. P. A. S. F. C." "Pray my dear sir," asked a bystander, "What do these letters stand for?" "Stand for? Why that's my title!" "Yes sir; but what is your title?" "Why, Professor of Psalmody and Schoolmaster from Connecticut."

THE MISSING MAN IN THE LOCK-UP.—Louis M. Montague, who published himself as "missing" in the Boston papers, has turned up in this city, as the lover of two young ladies, daughters of Mr. C. C. Smith, Main street. He has amused himself, it seems, in writing letters to these ladies, under the name of 'Miss Smith,' and finally, without making himself known to them, wrote several letters which he signed Eugene Montague, representing himself as the brother of the other Montague. His real name is Anthony B. Laforme. He is a married man, and will be examined on the charge of sending threatening letters. Bunker H. Aurora.

London, 28th.—The Bishop of Arras, according to the Paris correspondent of the Times, intends visiting England and Ireland, with a view of exciting sympathy amongst the Roman Catholic prelacy, on behalf of the maintenance of the Pope's temporal Power.

SUICIDE.—In Granby, Conn., on Tuesday last, an unmarried man, about thirty years of age, named Charles Hanson, commited suicide by hanging himself in a barn. Excessive drinking was the probable cause of the act.

LARGE BUTTERFLY.—Eben Freeman, Esq. of York, Me., found a butterfly on the 7th inst., whose breadth across the wings was 5 1-4 inches, and the body, 1 1-2 inch in length, of a light green color.

Mary Ann Doyle, twenty years old, of respectable parentage but dissolute habits, committed suicide at New York, Tuesday, by poison.

The weevil is causing sad forebodings among the wheat growers of New York, and flour has gone up 50 cents in two days at Albany.

WHAT DYER'S HEALING EMBROCATION HAS DONE

Would be to difficult a matter to embrace in so few lines. But a mass of living testimony bear witness to the fact that no medicine ever performed such remarkable cures, or possessed such healing and pain destroying properties as Dyer's Healing Embrocation.

Thousands have been saved from an untimely death by the use of this preparation.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

☞ Mr. Diman's Strawberry Festival, after being postponed twice by the weather, came off on Friday afternoon. A lively company enjoyed the occasion very highly,—though the attendance was lessened somewhat by the postponements. Everything passed off in the most agreeable manner—especially the supper, which need not be beat. At the table, a sort of art union was formed of the beautiful boquets, plum cakes, &c., which made not a little fun. Highland Cottage is one of the most delightful summer resorts, and Mr. Diman a very agreeable host. Pic-nic parties may and do go farther and fare worse, than they might at Stratham.

"A LION IN THE WAY."—We are informed that farmers in North Hampton have had a large number of sheep killed, of late,—one man losing seven; and that the bodies of several have been found, with their vitals torn out, and the blood sucked from an opening torn through the back. Sheep have also since been killed in the upper part of Rye, in the same way. And an animal resembling a large wild cat is said to have been seen about the region, and to have driven a large dog which was set upon him.

BODY FOUND.—The corpse of a drowned man was found on Salisbury Beach, on Wednesday near the Hotel, with a bill in the pocket of his clothes indicating that it was Robert Alvan,* who left this city on Sunday, 6th inst., in a boat with three other persons.—A jury was summoned by Elias French, Esq., coroner, who returned a verdict of "death by drowning."

For the Chronicle.

WHY IS SABBATH SAILING SO FATAL.—"N.," in the Journal of Saturday, propounds this query, and then answers it, by assuming that the accidents which occur on that day are visitations on violators of the fourth commandment of the Decalogue.

I think a more reasonable answer would be, that there is, on that day, a larger number of inexperienced persons who venture upon the water, trusting to their own skill, than on any other day of the week; and I also think, should the same persons hazard the experiment on another day, they would be as likely to perish on that day as on the Sabbath. I do not make these remarks to uphold Sabbath breaking; but because I dislike to see so defective a theory as that advanced by N. pass uncorrected. H. M. J.

For the Chronicle.

SHIP JAMES BUCHANAN.

Do you wish for a model, a paragon form,
A trophy of mechanical art,
That will brave the dire storm,—
Awaiting her time to depart.
Although built in Maine, "James Buchanan" by name,
A form that now graces our River;
Lies near Strawberry Bank, be sure she's not crank—
Choice name, but I know not the giver.
On the Ides of March, our collars we'll starch,
And hie to the White House with glee;
For there a true man called James Buchanan
Will preside o'er the whole of our country.
No sectional feeling, no good laws repealing,
No bickering between North and South;
Like the fabled fish, he'll season each dish,
Send vagabonds to Salt River feeling:

BOILING ROCK.

"South Carolina's Address to her Sons" is versified in the N. Y. Post. It concludes with this appropriate appeal:

"The land that brings forth one Calhoun,
Exhausts its crop of brains;
But you have bowie knives instead,
And gutta-percha canes.
"Then grasp your gutta-percha clubs,
Approach with quiet tread,
Don't argue with the caitiff wretch,
But—knock him on the head!"

A negro who had lately returned from California thus speaks of his companions in ill luck. "As soon as dey landed in the ribbar, dar mouts began to water to be on land, and soon as dey waded to de shore, dey did'nt see any goold, but dey found such a large supply of noffin to eat, dat dar gums cracked like baked clay in a brick-yard."

The full bench of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts, have just decided the prohibitory liquor law of that State to be constitutional.

FRENCH LOVE OF SCANDAL. A French provincial paper contains the following paragraph:

"A trial took place at our Assizes. It promised rich food for scandal. All the ladies of the town bedecked themselves in their smartest toilets, and crowded to the court house. On seeing this, the presiding judge rose and said—"Persons here assembled as spectators are not aware of the nature of the case. I therefore invite all decent women to withdraw." A pause took place without a single female moving to retire from her seat. Seeing this, the judge again rose and said: "Officers of the court, now that all the decent women have retired, turn out the remainder."

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY, July 11.

SENATE.—The Senate proceeded in the consideration of private bills.

HOUSE.—Mr. Oliver of Mo., read the minority report of the Kansas Committee, in which he arraigns the report of the majority of the committee as altogether ex parte, remarking that many of its statements are without fact and testimony to support them. He states that the evidence taken shows that Mr. Whitfield was duly elected delegate in November, 1854, and that while the testimony was conflicting on some points relative to the the election in March, 1855, for members of the legislature, yet from the whole it clearly appears that the anti-slavery party was in the minority in 14 out of 18 election districts. He reviews at length the existing troubles in Kansas, saying from the evidence they are properly chargeable to the revolutionary movements of those who got up the Topeka convention.

The house then resumed the consideration of the report on the assault on Mr. Sumner by Brooks.

BROOKS AND HERBERT.—Despatches from Washington, Saturday, stat that in the event of the failure of the House to pass the resolution to expel Brooks—it is in contemplation to offer another resolution, already prepared, strongly censuring his conduct.

The testimony in the Herbert murder case was concluded on Friday afternoon, and the arguments of counsel commenced.

GEN. LANE.—Chicago despatches of the 11th, state that reports have been received there, that Gen. Lane was driven back into Iowa, with his company of emigrants, on the 4th inst. This is considered doubtful, as this company were at Osceola on the 2d, 100 miles from Missouri river.

CAUGHT HIM.—Mr. Daniel Corthell of Jonesboro, caught a very large wolf, in that town on the night of 28th ult. He had been prowling about in the vicinity of the Farm houses for some weeks and during the time had killed nine sheep, which so exasperated the owners that they had spent a great deal of time in trying to capture him by scouring the woods, setting traps and guns, without effect till luckily, as above stated, he was secured in a stout steel trap, arranged, fortunately, as Mr. Corthell knows how, and thus his lordship was dispatched and the farmers rid of a formidible enemy to their sheep folds. He was more than five feet in lengh, and very heavy in propotion.—Machias Union.

BAPTISM OF THE IMPERIAL PRINCE AT PARIS.—On the 13th the Cardinal Legate was received officially at the Tuilleries by the Emperor, who delivered him a brief speech, expressing his gratitude that the Pope, whom he spoke of as the representative of Jesus Christ upon earth, should have consented to be godfather for his child. The ceremony of baptism took place on the following day, and appears to have been a grand spectacle. The streets of Paris were gaily ornamented with flags and crowded by thousands of people waiting to witness the passage of the imperial cortege to Notre Dame. The most "delirious enthusiasm" is said to have been exhibited by the populace. The cathedral was so richly adorned that it looked more like an opera house than a place of worship. Every part of the edifice was crowded. Two stately thrones had been erected near the altar, one for the Cardinal, and the other for the Emperor and Empress. In the choir an unparalleled spectacle met the eye. Sitting in rows one above another, on a stand erected for the purpose, were nearly eighty archbishops and bishops, all wearing their mitres and full ecclesiastical costumes. The entire episcopacy of France had been summoned. At 5 o'clock the cannon announced that the Emperor was leaving the Tuilleries. The Cardinal Legate arrived half an hour before the Imperial cortege, and was conducted to the altar under a purple canopy borne by four priests. The accounts proceed:

At half past 5 the archbishop and clergy, in the same order as before, went again to the steps to receive their Majesties and the imperial prince, the cardinal remaining in his place. After the chamberlains, aides-de-camp, and other officers, the ladies, bearing the "honors" of the imperial prince, entered the church, wearing exquisitely rich court dresses with long trains. The Duchess of Montebello carried a lighted wax candle, five feet long, with infinite skill, and the Marquise de Latour Maubourg took great care not to upset the salt-cellar. There was a thrill of curiosity as the imperial prince himself appeared in the arms of Madame Admiral Bruat. He is really a very fine child, and, notwithstanding all that has been said, looks remarkably healthy. The Empress was looking very well. The ceremony of the baptism lasted but a few minutes. The Emperor, following the example of his uncle as recorded by M. Thiers, held the child up in his arms as soon as he was baptized, an act saluted by immense cheering. The Prince then left by a private door for the Tuilleries, and their Majesties went to dine at the Hotel de Ville.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

A Good Wife.—There are three things a good wife ought to be like—and yet those three things she ought not to be like.

First.—She ought to be like a town clock: keep time and regularly. She should not be like a town clock: speak so loud that all the town can hear her.

Second.—She should be like a snail; keep within her own doors. She should not be like a snail; carrying all she is worth on her back.

Third.—She should be like an echo; speak when she is spoken to. She should not be like an echo: determined always to have the last word.

Death by Starvation.—The Berkshire Eagle states that on the 28th ult., an unknown man was found in the woods near Bakersfield, in a state of starvation. Efforts were made to save his life, but he lived only a short time. He was 55 or 60 years of age.—It is supposed he was insane and wandered into the woods.

George Guy, living at Norfolk, Va., set fire to his house on Monday, and it was consumed, with one of his children. He had been on a drunken frolic for some time, and shown signs of insanity.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

Springfield, Mass., 20th Dec., 1855.

Dr. J. C. Ayer: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your Cherry Pectoral. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of Utica, N.Y., writes: "I have used your Pectoral myself and in my family ever since you introduced it, and find it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bed cold I should scorn pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

Brother Ayer: I will cheerfully certify your Pectoral is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.

HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., Monterey, Ia., writes, 3d Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your Pectoral by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

West Manchester, Pa., Feb. 4, 1856.

Sir: Your Cherry Pectoral is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., Albion, Monroe Co., Iowa, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your Cherry Pectoral for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the Cherry Pectoral affords relief and comfort.

Astor House, New York City, March 5, 1856

Doctor Ayer, Lowell: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your Cherry Pectoral has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have gone for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.

Yours with gratitude and regard,

ORLANDO SHELBY, of Shelbyville.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and many all around us bespeak the high merits of its virtues. — Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

The sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to science. Innumerable periods are shown that these Pills have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel diseases. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and testimonials of their cures of the following complaints:—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a Foul Stomach, Flatulence, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an Alterative Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability. Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for Ayer's Pills, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with them in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best and there is for them, and they should have it.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st., opp. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal throu h him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantage for procuring patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the Subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of the mechanical arts, with full and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in his and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. A weekly list is recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in a suring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

Aug. 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS MASON,

Commissioner of Patents.

Whalebone Skirts.

THE only object of a Whalebone Skirt is to give a proper, graceful and elegant form to a lady's dress. Unless this is accomplished, the article is entirely worthless. The Ladies, by referring to Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions for April, will notice that E. & J. HOLMES have from actual experience been successful in producing this most desirable article, and that their Improved Seamless Skirt meets the unanimous approbation of the ladies. They are light, pliable, and easily adjusted, and the only Skirt which is equally adapted to the street and the crowd; are made in one piece or breadth, and in our opinion, and in the opinion of thousands of ladies who have bought them, the most reliable goods of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce a Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacture and retail of these goods, we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of cord, and all starched goods, cannot be used satisfactorily, as they will not recover their place when pressed out of shape. We consider all as worthless, of whatever material made, unless there is something of sufficient stiffness and elasticity, and at the same time yielding and pliable, to keep the dress in proper shape below the bones. To accomplish this we have our cord made under our own direction, and expressly for our goods, and from the only material that can be used that will recover its proper place when pressed out of shape, and are so twisted in manufacturing that they will not roll or curl when wet, and warranted to wash without injury. The public are cautioned against all worthless goods, as the market since our goods have become popular and extensively known, has been flooded with goods of all kinds, and put together without form or comeliness, or any other object but to sell, and of course are called Whalebone Skirts. Some imitators, in their efforts to profit by our reputation, have gone so far as to copy almost exactly our trade mark upon their goods.

Please Notice.—Every genuine article stamped, E. & J. HOLMES'S IMPROVED SEAMLESS WHALEBONE SKIRT, and may be found by the trade in many of the largest Jobbing Houses in New York and Boston, and at retail in the principal Dry Goods stores.

REMARKABLE WINE DRINKERS.

Some of our greatest and most famous men have been addicted to intemperate habits. Our national roll of kings, poets, historians, painters, orators and journalists, contains the names of many a drunkard. But this is an argument for total abstinence. If the strong thus fall, why should the weak touch the enticing and destroying cup!

Let us look at some of our remarkable wine drinkers. There was Lord Byron. His life was one of misery and despair. None can read of his convivial parties, his midnight revels, and his vile associates, without feeling repelled and shocked. He was a splendid poet and a great profligate. To him the cup of wine was familiar. He ran the round of sensual joys. He withheld not himself from any gratification.—Music, wine, hoating, the composition of poetry, licensed and unlicensed love, fame, and gold, all, all were his. What then? Was he blessed?—Was his horizon bright? Did the golden sunshine fall upon his path? Let his own lines answer:

"Though gay companions o'er the bowl,
Dispel awhile the sense of ill;
Though pleasure fills his madening soul,—
The heart—the heart is lonely still."

A lonely heart is a weary load, and bows down the mightiest. It is easy for young men to speak of a "short life and a merry one," but such a career soon brings the lonely heart, the blighted reputation, and the deep, dark grave.

What student of English literature has not read the Essays of Elia? They were written by Charles Lamb. Ah! dear, quaint, witty, kind Charles Lamb. Born in London, educated at Christ Church, and made a clerk in the South Sea House, the friend of Samuel Taylor Coleridge, and a genius—who does not know him?—Coleridge and Lamb used to sit together in the dark parlor of the Cat and Salutation, Smithfield, until morning, drinking and talking, talking and drinking. And such talking! They discussed politics, history, philosphy, and poetry; and they drank—drank until the wine was in and the wit was out. These bouts did Charles Lamb no good. In his confessions he thus wrote.—

"The waters have gone over me. But out of the black depths, could I be heard, I would cry out to all those who have but set a foot on the perilous flood. Could the youth, to whom the flavor of his first wine is delicious as the opening scenes of life, or the entering upon some newly discovered paradise, look into my desolation, and be made to understand what a dreary thing it is when a man shall feel himself going down a precipice with open eyes and a passive will—to see his destruction and have no power to stop it, and yet to feel it all the way emanating from himself; to see all goodness emptied out of him and yet not be able to forget a time when it was otherwise; to bear about the piteous spectacle of his self-ruin—could he see my fevered eye, feverish with last night's drinking, and feverishly looking for the night's repetition of the folly; could he feel the body of death out of which I cry hourly, with feebler and feebler outcry to be delivered—it were enough to make him dash the sparkling beverage to the earth, in all the pride of its mantling temptation.

"Oh, if a wish could transport me back to those days of youth, when a draught from the next clear spring could slake any heats which summer suns and youthful exercise had power to stir up in the blood, how gladly would I return to the pure element, and drink of children, and of the child-like, holy hermit."

Again:

"Twelve years ago I was possessed of a healthy frame of mind and body. I was never strong, but I think my constitution, for a weak one, was as happily exempt from a tendency to any malady as it was possible to be. I scarce knew what it was to ail any thing. Now, except when I am losing myself in a sea of drink, I am never free from those uneasy sensations in the head and stomach, which are so much worse to bear than any definite pains and aches. At that time I was seldom in bed after six in the morning, summer and winter. I awoke refreshed and seldom without some merry thoughts in my head, of some piece of a song to welcome the new born day. Now, the first feeling which besets me, after stretching out the hours of remembrance to the last possible extent, is a forecast of the wearisome day that lies before me with a secret wish that I could have lain on still, or never awakened."

And once more;

"I perpetually catch myself in tears for any cause or none. It is inexpressible how much this infirmity adds to a sense of shame and a general feeling of deterioration.

"Shall I lift up the veil of my weakness any farther? Or is this disclosure sufficient?

"I have no vanity to consult by these confessions. I know not whether I shall be laughed at or heard seriously. Such as they are, I commend them to the reader's attention if he find his own case any way touched. I have told him what I have come to. Let him stop in time."

There is a hope that Charles Lamb took his own advice. I trust he did "stop in time."—Peace to his memory! I would have the flowers ever blooming over his grave.

DIED OF CHAMPAGNE.—My medical friend tells me of a Dr. F. who was remarkably successful in the first visit of the cholera to London, curing it with only cold water and mustard pots, but using plenty of both. By this treatment, which would weary description, he lost but five patients out of some seven dozen.

"What are you doing there?" said the doctor to my friend, a student then.

"I am making out the hospital report of cholera cases for last month."

"O, you must not put that old woman down; she didn't die of cholera."

"No? of what, then?"

"Champagne," said the Doctor, quietly.

"Well, I do not think the trustees will approve the expense of champagne for a pauper."

"O, it was not she but I who took the champagne."

"How do you make that out?"

"Well, I had been dining at the club. A jolly set of fellows, those; and going thence to pay my last visit to the ward, I found No. 22 greatly excited, though I had left her very low. Bled her on the spot, and the next morning there was no No. 22.

"Why, how was that?"

"All owing to the champagne, sir. I felt my own pulse instead of hers; found it beating with the accentuation of a water run. Hinc illae lachrymae. But you had better go on. Cholera reads more orthodox than champagne."

There are many champagne cases in our hospital practice. In foreign parts, of course. But a pretty many years ago, I saw a man in your hospital dying of mortification from a fractured limb, long unattended to. Next morning he was added to the yellow fever list. —Exchange.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, JULY 15, 1856.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

GARDINER, ILLINOIS, July 2, '56.

Dear F.—I left Leavenworth City a week ago last Saturday morning. I was sleeping soundly, shortly after sunrise, in the chamber of the Temperance House—(bar supposed not to belong to the house,)—dreaming of home and friends, when the whistle of a descending boat roused me to the realities of life, and in ten minutes I had jumped into my clothes, paid my reckoning, bade adieu to mine red faced host of the 'Temperance,' and was gazing on the fast receding towers and—grog-shops of the famous "Cottonwood City" from the deck of the good steamer Arabia, as she ploughed her way down the muddy Missouri.

We reached Jefferson City the next morning, arriving only ten minutes behind the boat, which connects at this place with the grand Pacific railroad, which has reached thus far in its journey towards the Western ocean.

This boat, which left Leavenworth City twelve hours before us, was forced to keep her passengers until past noon, before they were forwarded to St. Louis by rail; and our boat actually reached that city in advance of the 'iron horse,' making a run of 485 miles (from Leavenworth City to St. Louis) in 38 hours.

This railroad, which claims the title of the Great Pacific, seems to be as badly constructed as it can be, running for miles along the bank of the river, winding around the bluffs, turning sharp corners, and being subject to heavy land slides after every rain. Should the land slides ever throw a train from the track, the cars would be almost certain to fall into the river.

The road was opened to Jefferson City last autumn, and the first train which passed over it met with a frightful accident at the Gasconade. The President and directors of the road with invited guests, left St. Louis in a special train to partake of a grand dinner given at Jefferson City, but many of them never lived to reach there. At the bridge over the Gasconade river, the engineer in charge stopped the train, and refused to proceed, alleging that the bridge was not safe. The chief engineer of the road, who was on board, ordered him to proceed; and on his refusal discharged him and started the train over himself. The bridge gave way and he paid for his rashness with his life. Over twenty persons were killed and many injured.

Gardiner, Illinois, where I am now stopping, is about 300 miles from St. Louis, and 60 from Chicago, on the line of the Chicago, Alton & St. Louis railroad. It is what is termed in this country a railroad town; it is owned and laid out by the railroad company. It was surveyed about two years ago, and now contains sixty or seventy houses.

The country here is quite level, and one can see for miles on all sides. I have have just returned from a visit to a farm said to be four miles from the station, and yet the house is plainly visible from the depot. To a New England man, these prairies have rather a dreary look, even contrasted with those of Kansas, for the country there is more broken; still there are some fine farms in this vicinity, and for stock I should judge it to be unequalled. I shall try to start again for Kansas some time next week.

Yours, in haste, F. H. B.

DEBATE ON BROOKS.—We do not give, in the Congressional report, the names of more than half the debaters. As a general thing the advocates of slavery deprecate the freedom of debate. This is quite consistent.

The same men, however, claim for themselves the privilege of saying all manner of hard things, and calling all manner of hard names—but deny the privilege to their opponents. This too, is quite consistent—with slavery—which being itself a wrong, cannot agree with or tolerate a right in any man to speak against it as a wrong.—Mr. Cobb of Georgia, when he came here last winter to teach us our duty, began by saying that he would not argue or discuss the right or wrong of slavery, but would hold us to the old bargain about supporting it—and at the close of his talk, if we did not stick to his version of that bargain—"then," he asked, "where's your Union?" With him and such as he, the protection or propagation of slavery is the paramount interest.—It is to be defended, if it can be by brag and blaster—and when these fail, by assassins with cudgels, and accomplices with pistols and canes.

We look with some interest, for the Yeas and Nays, on the Brooks case.

LOW WATER.—The Lowell Courier says that the Merrimac river is said to be lower than ever known to be so early in the season, and the mills there are said to be suffering in consequence. Lake Winnipissiogee, the great reserve feeder of the Merrimac, was drawn so low last winter that it now fails for the first time to "give down" the needed supply. The rain of Saturday will do much good.

N. H. LEGISLATURE, adjourned on Saturday, July 12. The Patriot says

The number of acts passed, of all descriptions, is 122, viz: Public Acts 37; Public Resolutions 22; Private Acts 31; Private Resolutions 29; Addresses 3.

The Patriot complains of partisanship and unfairness, and says

The session has been a long one, and little has been done for the public good, or with an eye to that object.

On the other hand the Statesman says:

It has been a busy session of 39 days, and its proceedings we have no doubt will afford as full a measure of satisfaction as any one which has preceded it for the last quarter of a century. * * * *

And besides all, it has demonstrated the practicability of carrying on the government without a Fall session, at an expense of thirty to forty thousand dollars.

The last is quite an item in expenses. And on the whole we do not need half the legislation we commonly have.

THE LIQUOR LAW OF MASSACHUSETTS SUSTAINED.—The Supreme Court has rendered decisions in all the liquor cases of Essex county, in which the constitutionality of the liquor law of 1855 (the existing law) has been submitted to them. All the cases in which convictions were obtained at the October term (1855) of the Court of Common Pleas, were carried up to the Supreme Court, upon exceptions to the ruling of the Judge that the prohibitory sections (15th and 17th) of the law were unconstitutional. They were argued before the full bench in November, and, similar questions having been raised in other counties, no decision was given at the time. Within a few days, however, rescripts have been sent down, overruling all the exceptions, and ordering the cases to be remitted to the Court of Common Pleas for sentence. We gather these facts from the Salem Observer.

FUN AND JOKES.—These things abound in the present canvass.—A Mr. Elliot writes to the N. Y. Evening Post, respecting Fremont's catholicity, thus:

Allow me in this connection to suggest to the Messrs. Brooks the propriety of investigating the religious views of the other candidates, and to ascertain particularly whether or not they have any. I would also suggest to the Messrs. Brooks, that if they insist on Mr. Fremont being a Catholic and a slaveholder too, they may lead the whole of the Slave States, as well as the Free States, to elect Mr. Fremont. The "Union" then would be safe, I suppose; but where, I ask, would Mr. Fillmore be?

At a Young Men's meeting in Brooklyn, N. Y.—The President, Theodore Tilton, Esq. said that all the Brookses, including the Hon. Preston, flow in the same channel. (Laughter.) Fremont is an Episcopalian; and if any one asks, "Does he not attend mass?" it may be answered, "No, the mass attend him!"

At Haverhill, Mass., J. L. Swift said—"Fremont had been called rash and headstrong; so had Columbus and Humboldt. A Democratic sheet, in apology for the bachelorhood of Buchanan, had said that Buchanan had been married to his country for fifty years. If this was the case, he feared that Col. Fremont in November would be guilty of a greater indiscretion even than that of running away with Jessie Benton, and would go so far as to carry away the wife of Buchanan."

WHO SAID SO?—Last week the Boston Times contained an article regarding the Key Stone State, which cited a paragraph purporting to be from the National Era, the anti-slavery paper at Washington, declaring that "Mr. Buchanan will carry Pennsylvania by forty thousand majority over any man who can possibly be nominated by the Republicans," and that "Buchanan and Breckinridge must necessarily be the next President and Vice President of the United States," with other statements of a similar character. A note has been addressed to the editor of the Era, which has elicited the following response:

"I never wrote what is here credited to the National Era; nor did it, or anything like it, ever appear in its columns. My belief and calculations are the reverse of those so confidently announced in the above quoted extract, which, if I mistake not, should be credited to the Evening Star of this city."

The Evening Star is an administration paper, which will account for the predictions which the Times copies and credits to the Era. The guess must go for what it is worth—but it is the Star's guess and not the Era's,—which makes quite a difference.

ECCLESIASTICAL.—We learn that Rev. R. W. Clark, of East Boston, has declined the call extended to him by the New England Church, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Rev. D. C. Eddy has declined a call to the pastorate of the Washington Avenue Baptist Church, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Rev. Mr. Nute has left New England to resume his labors as missionary of the American Unitarian Association at Lawrence, Kansas.

The Philadelphia Bulletin denies the story that Rev. Dr. Tyng has been requested by his vestry to resign in consequence of his sermon on political matters.

The Boston Post sneers at Fremont's beard and whiskers. Would't the Col. like to raise a pair, if his materials were not of such an inflammatory character. Guess he would. Get 'em colored, Colonel, and go in for glory.—Charlestown (Mass.) Advertiser.

CHARLESTOWN NAVY YARD.—A new building is in progress of erection, which is to be 500 feet long, and used as a machine shop. The pumps are nearly ready for the dry dock, and the Cumberland will soon be placed there for the purpose of receiving repairs.

'So you would not take me to be twenty!' said a young lady to her partner, while dancing a polka a few evenings ago. 'What would you take me for?'

'For better or worse,' replied he.

A wag in New York, seeing a man driving a tack into a card, through the letter t in the word "Boston," printed on it, seized the latter and exclaimed; "Why what are you about? Don't you know that laying tax on tea in Boston once raised a tremendous muss there?"

WHAT DYER'S HEALING EMBROCATION HAS DONE

Would be to difficult a matter to embrace in so few lines. But a mass of living testimony bear witnes to the fact that no medicine ever performed such remarkable cures, or possessed such healing and pain destroying properties as Dyer's Healing Embrocation.

Thousands have been saved from an untimely death by the use of this preparation.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

☞ We learn that Mr. Joshua Brooks, who has been Conductor on the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad from its opening, retired from that situation on Saturday last—and is to be connected with the importing house of J. H. Pearson & Co., which we have before mentioned as about to commence an extensive flour and salt business in this city. Mr. B. was one of the most attentive and gentlemanly, faithful and trustworthy Conductors, and neither the travelling public nor the railroad will find a better. Mr. Geo. Noyes, formerly depot-master at Suncook, succeeds him; and will no doubt give satisfaction.

EASTERN RAILROAD. — This corporation held its annual meeting in Boston, on Monday—and re-elected the Directors chosen last year.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY, July 11.

SENATE.—Thirteen private bills were passed, one of them giving the widow of Commodore Decatur a pension of $50 a month for five years.

Adjourned to Monday.

HOUSE.—The House resumed the consideration of the report on the assault on Mr. Sumner by Mr. Brooks of South Carolina.

Mr. Giddings of Ohio tendered to Mr. Brooks the sympathies of his heart, for he recollected that fifteen years ago he himself stood here accused, but on a different charge, without being permitted to open his lips, or a friend to utter a sentiment in his behalf. He said Mr. Brooks had satisfied the law relative to his assault and battery on Mr. Sumner, but had not atoned for the great crime committed against the Constitution, and the blow made against the sovereign rights of the people.—He endorsed every word of Mr. Sumner's speech.

In House, Saturday, July 12, Mr. Grow of Pennsylvania gave notice that he would soon call up the motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill annulling the laws of Kansas was referred to the Committee on the Whole.

The House then resumed the consideration of the report on the Sumner assault.

Mr. Campbell said he should move the previous question, so as to take a vote on Monday morning, with the understanding that if the parties implicated desired to be heard, he would withdraw the motion for their benefit; but not for reopening general debate.

Voices—"That's right."

Mr. Woodruff of Connecticut spoke of the assault as a brutal outrage. It had been said there was not spirit and manliness enough here to purge the body, but let a trial be made and then it will be known who dare screen audacity and give countenance to the crime.

Mr. Savage of Tennessee said Mr. Brooks had violated a law for which he had more than atoned. Instead of being fined $300, he should have been fined three cents, which would have been sufficient. Instead of being punished, Mr. Brooks should have a statue erected in his honor. Sumner's speech was the most abominable collection of falsehood and malice, and slander, that ever emanated from any man in any age.

Messrs. Taylor, Stewart, Branch, Houston, Bowie, Ready and Florence, denied that there was constitutional jurisdiction in the premises. Messrs. Oliver of N. Y., Kunkel, Hall of Massachusetts, Donnell, Durfee, Purviance, Leiter and Campbell of Penn., took the opposite ground. The latter said if a monument is to be erected to Mr. Brooks, let it be erected on Southern soil, bearing the inscription, "Freedom of speech, with freedom of cudgel."

During the debate, Mr. Edmundson said he wished to be heard before the debate closed.

Mr. Campbell of Ohio said he did not intend moving the previous question until every member, directly or indirectly implicated, should be heard.

MONDAY, July 14.

SENATE.—Several private bills were passed.

HOUSE.—An ineffectual attempt was made to take up the adjournment resolution; but the House refused to suspend the rules, 110 to 92.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Judge Edwards will on Monday introduce in the House a resolution of inquiry into the management and disposition of the money and other matters in connection with the Smithsonian institute.—It is suspected that frauds have been committed which a rigid investigation may expose.

More clerks have resigned in the Treasury Department, in anticipation of the action of the Committee of Investigation.

Mr. Woodruff of Connecticut, in his speech this evening, said some things that were objectionable to Mr. Brooks, and was called on by his friends to know whether he recognized the code of honor. He informed his friends that he recognized no code but the laws of Connecticut and the laws of God.

TRIAL OF HERBERT.—The Criminal Court at Washington, on Monday, held an extra session, to receive the verdict of the jury in the Herbert case, but immediately adjourned to Tuesday. A question of fact was raised by one or more of the jury, upon which it is necessary that they consult the Court. One of the jury was so ill as to require the attendance of a physician. On Herbert's return to jail, he was visited by several of his Congressional friends.

POPPING THE QUESTION. — "What a strange thing is acquaintance!" said a fine girl the other day to a friend of ours. "A year ago we had not met each other—many a season had rolled its course, bringing hope, happiness and perhaps sorrow to each, without the cognizance of the other, and now we are so intimate!" Our friend says she looked so lovely he could not help pressing her delicate cheek—he asked her if he had aught to do with her future. "You are in all my dreams of the coming days," replied she. They are to be married next month. We consider this one of the neatest "poppings" we have heard of lately, though, by the way, we think it well it happened in leap year.

CALIFORNIA, MEXICO, NICARAGUA.

NEW ORLEANS, July 12.—The steamship Daniel Webster has arrived at this port with San Francisco dates to June 20th. Thh George Law left Aspinwall for New York wite $1,700,000 in specie, and also took with her a despatch for the United States, relating to the late Isthmus difficulties. There had been no decrease in the excitement at San Francisco. Very few responded to the Governor's proclamation of June 4th. The Vigilance Committee had opened books, in which the names of recruits were set down by thousands. The Committee have 6000 stand of arms and 30 pieces of cannon. Their force had been divided into two regiments, and they have erected strong breastworks in front of their rooms. At the top of the building they have put up an alarm bell, and in an adjacent room are planted several pieces of cannon. The Governor had gathered a few hundred together and gone to Benicia, to get arms and ammunition from the arsenal, but Gen. Wool refused to accede to the demands made upon him; therefore the Governor's forces were encamped near the city. Six more rogues had been banished by the Committee, and they continued to arrest others. On the receipt of the Governor's proclamation nearly all the towns in the interior held enthusiastic meetings endorsing the acts of the Committee, and commenced forming organizations to assist them in carrying out their measures. Crimes and casualities were numerous. No interest whatevor was felt in politics. The reports from the mines were favorable, and agricultural prospects good. There had been no arrivals from Atlantic ports.

The news from Nicaragua is very important. Gen. Walker was elected President June 24th. Rivas and his Minister of War left Leon the 12th and afterwards appeared at Chinendago. They there collected 600 natives in the outposts and ordered the American troops to evacuate Leon. The order was obeyed and Rivas took possessicn with 120 men. Gen. Walker has declared the Rivas party traitors. Most of the officers of the former cabinet stand by Walker.

A revolution has broken out in Costa Rica, headed by the party which was opposed to the late invasion of Nicaragua by Costa Rican troops.

MEXICO.—Advices from Vera Cruz are to the 8th inst.

Comonfort had decided to sell all the lands belonging to the Church and other religious corporations.

The new Constitution, as well as the Church property decree, had met with general favor. The Constitution provides for the formation of a new state, to be called the Valley of Leon.

IN OREGON hostilities continued. General Smith's command was attacked near Meadows by the Indians. The loss of the whites was 12 killed and 25 wounded. The Indians' loss was considerable. Col. Wright and one of his command had been killed by the Yarima Indians.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The steamship Geo. Law, from Aspinall July 5th, arrived early this morning. She brings the California mails of June 20th, $1,700,000 in specie, and 400 passengers.

The markets at San Francisco, June 20th, were dull, especially for breadstuffs.

FLORIDA WAR.—We learn from the Florida Peninsular that two engagements took place with the Indians near Fort Frazier, on the 14th and 16th ult. Some seventeen Indians were killed. Of the whites, Lieut. Carlton, Lott Whidden, Robert Paine, George Howell, and William Parker, were killed, and Daniel Carleton, J. H. Hollingsworth, James Whidden, William P. Brook, and John L. Skipper were wounded.

SYDNEY, C. B., July 12.—The Submarine Electric Telegraph Cable for the New York, Newfoundland and London Telegraph Company, has been successfully laid across the Gulf of St. Lawrence, between Cape Raylove, Newfoundland, and Ashby Bay, Cape Breton, a distance of 85 miles, and messages are now being freely transmitted from shore to shore. The company have now 700 men at work on the line in Newfoundland and Cape Breton, and it is confidently expected that the whole line will be completed and in successful operation between New York and St. Johns, N. F., the first of September next, and between St. Johns and London within one year thereafter.

The best electricians and telegraphers entertain no doubt that the extraordinary printing telegraph, recently invented by Mr. Hughes has removed every serious obstacle in the way of the triumphant success of the transatlantic line. We understand that Cyrus W. Field, Esq., one of the prominent members of the New York, Newfoundland and London Telegraph Company, will leave for Europe this week, to complete arrangements for the immediate commencement of the transatlantic line.

The New York Herald gives a list of twenty-six vessels of all sizes, including the Pacific, which sailed in January, and have probably perished in the ice, which has blockaded the Atlantic ocean last winter to an extent never known before.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

THE PULPIT AND THE FOURTH.—Considerable excitement exists in Marblehead in relation to the action of certain clergymen upon the late Fourth of July celebration. The Methodist minister, last Sabbath expressed the opinion that it was a time for national mourning and not rejoicing—that our liberties had been cloven down; and rebuked the town authorities for allowing the sale of spiritous liquors on that day. This called forth very general indignation from those who had taken part in the celebration. His choir deserted their seats during the sermon, and some of the leading members of the church called him to an account after the services, and there is a general commotion in the society, which may sever the relations he holds to them. The Baptist minister has given notice that on next Sunday he shall preach upon "Crime of the Nation," which has occasioned a stir in another quarter.—Newburyport Herald.

An attempt is being made by the Dutch government to establish a national system of education on a purely secular basis.

A SLAVE.—A poor fellow from New Orleans passed through Lowell, on his way to Canada last week. He was a slave in New Orleans, and escaped in a vessel from that port, leaving his master to "sad and solemn reflections," on the loss of his property. The man was sensible and shrewd, and will do well in Canada. He is a stout negro, and must be a loss to his owner, and we hereby extend to him our sympathy. We shall be glad to hear from him by runaway slaves, once a week until the last one has escaped. And we assure our Southern brethren that we often hear from them in this way. Not long ago we saw a slave who brought his certificate of character, from his master, a Baptist minister, on his back, in the shape of whelts and scars—Toombs boasts that he will call the roll of his slaves beneath the shadow of the monument on Bunker hill. Never! but in the streets of Washington, aye and Richmond too, and Baltimore, we will demand by Torrey's cell and Lovejoy's grave, that this foul system be abandoned. The hour has nearly come. The free can afford to wait.—Lowell Christian Era.

On the fourth, a young man is Liverpool, Onondaga county, N. Y., had the upper part of his head blown off by the premature discharge of a cannon. He was in the act of loading the gun when the discharge took place.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company
IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL
OVER TWO MILLION ACRES
OF
FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the north-east, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is of the rich vegetable mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their convenient relief over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operation of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 18 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required, experienced persons will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhoods of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information,—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

JOHN WILSON,
Land Commissioner of Ill. Central R. R. Co.,
Office up to the first of May, 52 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; after that date in the New Stone Passenger Depot, So. Water st. a8 6m

TOUCHING INCIDENT.—An affecting occurrence took place some time ago in a seaboard town in England. Six little children got into a boat on the beach, and a mischievous boy shoved it off. The boat drifted away to sea before the children were missed. Terrible was the agony of the mothers when they knew it. A number of men went off in all directions; every boat was on the lookout until far in the night. Daylight returned, and still there were no tidings from the helpless children; the day wore away, and still nothing was heard from them. They were either lost in the wide ocean or buried in its unfathomable depths. A Plymouth fisherman, fishing early next morning, discovered something floating in the distance; he bore down to it, and discovered it to be a boat, and in the bottom six children all huddled together like a nest of birds, fast asleep—God having given them that blessed solace after a day of terror and despair. He took them aboard and gladdened their despairing little hearts with the promise of taking them home. Between three and four in the afternoon, the fisherman was seen in the offing, the boat astern. All eyes were turned towards him; the best spy glass in the town was rubbed again and again, and at last they could fairly see that it was the identical boat. The news flew through the town—the mothers came frantic to the beach, for there were no children discerned in the boat; none to be seen in the sloop. Intense was the agony of suspense, and all alike shared it with the parents. At last the boat came in, and the word went round, "they are all safe:" and many stout-hearted men burst into tears, women shrieked with joy, and became almost frantic with their unsupportable happiness. It was indeed a memorable day; and a prayer, eloquent for its rough simplicity, was offered up to Almighty God, who in his infinite mercy, had spared these innocent children from the perils and terrors of the sea during that fearful night. Five of those children were under five years of age, and the sixth was but nine years old.—Eastern Argus.

MR. AMOS A. LAWRENCE, of Boston, in declining to be an American presidential elector, says:

The only course in the present canvass is to yield nothing to friends or foes, until Kansas is admitted as a free State. Then we can afford to be not only just, but generous, for we shall be beyond the reach of any serious aggression hereafter.

It has been believed that Mr. Fillmore would stand on this ground. The vote of his friends in Congress against the admission of Kansas with a free State Constitution, and which was not known until the day of the Springfield Convention, undoubtedly caused his rejection by the delegates; though the majority against him appears to have been very small on the informal ballot. It was inferred from this vote in Congress, in the absence of any contrary opinion from Mr. Fillmore himself, that he will not take a decided stand on this question, or that he and his friends in Washington will favor one or the other of the bills brought forward for a settlement of the difficulty by a new vote of the people of the Territory. But we who have friends there know that large numbers of Free State settlers with their families have left the Territory never to return; that the most active Free State leaders (who have done nothing but what every man who has any love of liberty in his heart would have been proud to do) are under arrest and strictly guarded, while others are exiles from their homes.—Therefore no vote of the present settlers can be a fair one; certainly none can be under the present administration.

Mr. Fillmore does not yet see,—it is hoped that he will, that only one course remains; and that is, to do justice to the settlers, without regard to precedents. Unless he and his friends in Congress come to this conclusion, he can have no available party in New England. This question, vital to the free States, must control all political movements during the present canvass.

A GREAT TRUTH.—By education men become easy to lead, but difficult to drive; easy to govern, but impossible to enslave.

A FATHER AND SON WITH SIX WIVES APIECE.—The Manchester (N. H.) Mirror gives a long account of the proceedings in that place and in Rutland, Vt, of two men calling themselves Dr. Lyman A. Abbott and J. H. Abbott, said to be father and son, who are now under arrest on the charge of bigamy. It is stated that they have each within a very short period, married no less than six wives. The father passed at Manchester, N. H., as the "rich old uncle" of his son, and in consequence of his representations the tradesmen of Manchester, were victimized to the amount of several hundred dollars. The career of both parties for a number of years is detailed in the Mirror with great minuteness.

At Newark, N. J., in 1854, the elder Abbot was married to Miss Elizabeth Roberts, who soon discovered that he had a wife living in Syracuse, N. Y. He was consequently arrested for bigamy, convicted and sentenced to ten years in the New Jersey Penitentiary, but was pardoned out after seven months detention.—A Miss Gardner of Westmoreland, N. H., states that she married the same man under the name of Dr. Lyman Andrews, in 1852.—In Sussex county, New Jersey, in 1849, he persuaded a Miss Sherman to elope with him, and they were married by a Justice of the Peace. He was soon after obliged to abscond for threatening his wife's life, in order to obtain her property. It was also ascertained that the true, original name of the "old Doctor" is Aaron Andrews Abbey, and the true name of the young man James Henry Abbey; the latter being the oldest son of the former by his first wife. Both parties are held for trial.

SUDDEN DEATH.—About midnight Thursday, the Harbor Police of Boston, discovered a man lying dead in a sail-boat at Union Wharf, and called Coronor Stedman to investigate the case. It appears that the deceased, (whose name is not ascertained,) in company with two or three others, procured the boat yesterday for the purpose of visiting the U. S. steam frigate Merrimac. On their return the wind lulled, and the deceased, who was intoxicated, had recourse to the oars. After pulling a few strokes he fell backwards, but regaining his seat he re-commenced pulling, when he again fell back into the bottom of the boat. His companions landed at Union wharf, leaving him in the boat—supposing him to be merely stupified from intoxication, and there he remained until found dead as above stated.—Journal.

MICROSCOPES FOR THIEVES.—Professor Ehrenberg's microscope, which did such good service in procuring undeniable proof of the Simonides' fraud, has been made use of again, in Prussia, to detect the thief that stole a barrel of specie which had been purloined on one of the railways. One of a number of barrels, that should all have contained coin, was found on arrival at its destination to have been emptied of its precious contents and refilled with sand. On Professor Ehrenberg being consulted, he sent for samples of sand from all the stations along the different lines of railway that the specie had passed, and by means of his microscope identified the station from which the interpolated sand must have been taken. The station once fixed upon, it was not difficult to hit upon the culprit in the small number of employees on duty there.

This extreme inactivity is attributed to the continued sittings of the vigilance committee, of which almost every merchant is a member. The circular, however, sustains the committee, and remarks—

We notice upon examination of manifests of lately cleared vessels from Atlantic ports for this, that the shipments are largest of some few articles of which the stocks at present here are very greatly in excess. Among these may be particularized coal, candles, AMERICAN LIQUORS and spirits of turpentine.

The liquor trade is overdone. Witness the effort to increase it by unwonted advertising, —as well as this California item.

Among those opposed to the action of the vigilance committee are Col. Jack Hayes, and Hall McAllister, formerly a judge in Georgia.

The Alta California says the committee are not in favor of revolution, or a convention to form a new state constitution; that they will mix in politics so far only as to insure the freedom of the ballot-box; and will give back their power to the people as soon as their work is done.

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES.—L. Johnson & Co., Philadelphia type founders, issue a quarterly pictorial sheet, beautifully executed, as a specimen of their work and wares. It is a very spicy little paper, withal. In the July number are portraits of Buchanan, Fillmore and Fremont, with these remarks:

Unhappy men! unfortunate trio! singled out from among the unknown millions of their fellow countrymen, and set up as marks for envy, malice, and calumny to shoot at!—doomed to be catechised, scolded, jeered and sore bestead!—to have the leaves of their past lives turned over, and old slanders revived and refanged, and old truths tortured and squeezed into shapes which Mephistophiles could not distinguish from veritable lies!—Ah! the hapless mortals! if the past is a sure presage of the future, this is to be their fate. Let us hope for better things, however, and that the canvass will be carried on with truth, honor, and magnanimity.

The portraits we sell at $1.00 each: sent by mail, prepaid, $1.30.

Well, we guess that at least two of them will be "sold" at even a less rate than $1 a head, after election. Hope neither of them will "sell" themselves at a low price, before that.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The jury in the Herbert case have been unable to agree. It is understood they stand ten for aquittal, two for conviction.

This is better than we expected. We were looking for a triumphant acquittal, after the Grand Jury placed his indictment so high as murder: though he is doubtless guilty of murder!

Yet, as things go in Washington, we supposed he might be convicted of Manslaughter,—but we supposed the jury would at once acquit him of murder. Now, we suppose he ought to have a new trial—but this may be some kind of a dodge, as a nol. pros. or something whereby he will go clear.

KANSAS.—The freesoilers state, at the same time, that the Missourians are overrunning Kansas, and that they are running away from it. The New York Post says—

"Buford has fled south, and his company are breaking off for home as fast as they can steal funds sufficient."

In another column it affirms that the free state people are driven from Kansas by the Missourians, and that none are left there to vote.—Boston Post.

That is to say, the accounts are contradictory and confused.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Brooks, Edmundson and Keitt will resign, if a majority of the House vote for the expulsion of Brooks, without waiting for the required vote of two-thirds.

Well: we don't believe the Union will slide,—if they do. The less Border Ruffians we have in Congress, the better.

The Kansas correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, who keeps the public well informed of the facts and rumors in the territory, says, as late as the 3rd inst., that murders are very frequent there, both of free State and southern men, and that 32 dead bodies had been found in the woods within a few days.

REVIVED.—The Newburyport Herald learns that work has re-commenced on the ships in Currier & Townsend's yard, under the direction of the assignees, and says, this will quicken business at the North end, and by the time they are completed, we have no doubt that Mr. Townsend will move on again.

FOREIGN WOOL.—In the U. S. House of Representitives, on Thursday last, Mr. Tappan of New Hampshire presented the remonstrance of Simeon B. Little and others, citizens of Boscawen, N. H., against reducing the duty on foreign wool.

A SUMMER RAMBLE.

BOAR'S HEAD, HAMPTON, N. H., July 14, '56.

A friend stepped in a few days since, and asked us if we did not wish to go out and look at the sea for a week or so. On the impulse of the moment, we said yes. The destination was the Shoals; the stopping place the well known house of Hon. T. B. Laighton; our kit was packed; the time appointed was Saturday morning. We looked out of our bachelor windows at the early hour of 5 A. M.

Well, it looked rather black, that is, for one unaccustomed to navigation, and who is obliged at all times, outside the harbor, to leave his breakfast on the route. The wind was dead east, sky black and lowering; small-sized drops began to patter on the window sill, and appearances indicated something of a storm. Now when one has made up his mind to go out and have a small time for a few days, and finds himself blocked up in this sort of manner, the only way is to travel for somewhere in the shortest possible order.

The destination was soon changed for Boar's Head. A hasty breakfast, a sudden good-bye to early friends, and we were aboard. The 7 1-4 train from Portsmouth will land you in about twenty minutes, at the station in Old Hampton. Here a stage coach (one of the old-fashioned kind, that shakes up the early breakfast in the most anti-dyspeptic manner) is ready to take you over a pretty hard road, in something less than an hour, to either of the numerous houses at this celebrated watering place.

We chose the first on the route, the Granite House, kept by A. J. Batchelder, Esq.,—better known in these parts as "Squire Batch," the prince of good fellows, and who understands keeping a first class house as well as the next one. Although our stay was but forty-eight hours, we shall for as many years, if we live so long, bear kindly recollections of friend "Batch," and his gentlemanly clerk, Charley Jones.

Boar's Head is one of the most beautiful sites on the coast, — a bold headland running far out into the blue Atlantic, with the ceaseless roar of the ocean forever at its base. On either hand, as far as the eye can see, a wide, hard sandy beach, with the white crested rollers chasing each other in, and in, and breaking endlessly on the gray old rocks, that have breasted the storms of centuries. At the south, Cape Ann is in full view, stretching far out to sea. Thirteen miles east, the Light-house, dwelling houses and the hotel of Hon. T. B. Laighton, are plainly to be seen. At the north, a long point of land, bearing the title of Little Boar's Head, completes the seaward view. In fine weather, numerous sail of vessels are always passing and re-passing, showing their white wings as they dip gracefully to the long rolling swell of Old Ocean.

About twenty years since, the first house was opened at this place as a summer resort. There are now five large Houses, and during the travel season they all do a good paying business. Visitors are to be found here from all parts of the country, from Maine to California, while the residents of Exeter, Newburyport and all the large towns in this section make this their favorite pleasure resort.—Owing to the unusually cold weather and easterly storms during the past month, there has not been so large a number of visitors as usual at this season of the year. The houses are, however, now fast filling up.

We are off to the Shoals to-day, of which, perhaps, more anon.

Yours, aquatically, H.

JENNY LIND AT EXETER HALL.—The last of the series of farewell concerts by Madame Jenny Lind—for so the world of her admirers will still perversely call her, regarding "Goldschmidt" as what florists call her "botanical name" only—took place last month. The great hall was crowded, and the feeling, says an English paper, which throughout was that of admiration, became towards the close of the concert one of universal regret that a singer of so pure and chaste, yet so elevated a style, should so soon be lost to us. The easy flowing melodies and somewhat delicate sublimity by which Haydn's music is distinguished, found an adequate vocalization in Jenny Lind, the style of whose voice, as clear and sweet as the warbling of a bird, gave that tone of color and expression to the airs which the composer himself must have imagined for his picture music.

A NEW BOOK BY A PORTSMOUTH BOY.—A serial story, contributed anonymously to a New York literary journal by T. B. Aldrich, is to be brought out in book form by Derby & Jackson of New York, sometime in the fall.

Queen Victoria's eldest daughter had made a narrow escape from an accident. Her sleeve caught fire from a taper, and was burned to the shoulder, but fortunately she had presence of mind to extinguish the flame ere it caught the body of her dress.

A French lady asked Omer Pacha, at a party, if the Sultan was married; "A great deal, madame," said the vizier.

A WOMAN SHOT.—Monday afternoon a man named Oliver Allen went into the cellar of Catherine Dacey, in North street, Boston, (says the Chronicle) where he got into some dispute, and in the course of the quarrel drew a Colt's revolver and discharged one barrel, the contents of which struck the hand of a woman named Margaret Bradford, and glancing off entered her right breast, lodging in the lungs. The woman at once fell, and was taken to the Hospital, where she was alive at the last accounts. She cannot, however, recover.

The man had considerable money on his person at the time, and it is said that the dispute arose from an attempt to rob him, he being partially intoxicated at the time. He says he belongs in Kittery, Me., but came last from El Paso, in Missouri. The other five barrels of his pistol were loaded with powder and ball. Allen has been arrested.

BANGOR, July 14.—Fire.—Almost the entire business portion of the village of Lincoln Centre was destroyed by fire this morning.—The jewelry store of S. R. Hopkins was robbed and then set on fire, and 7 or 8 stores, several buildings, and the Lincoln stage house were burned. Loss about $12,000—little insurance.

WHAT DYER'S HEALING EMBROCATION HAS DONE

Would be to difficult a matter to embrace in so few lines. But a mass of living testimony bear witness to the fact that no medicine ever performed such remarkable cures, or possessed such healing and pain destroying properties as Dyer's Healing Embrocation.

Thousands have been saved from an untimely death by the use of this preparation.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

DR. IVES'S LECTURE.—On Monday evening we had the honor to be present, by invitation, at the Temple, to hear the lecture of Dr. Ives, ex-Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in North Carolina, but now a layman in the Roman Church.

We have taken much interest in the lecturer, whose book, The Trials of a Mind, we read carefully through, to see what was the process whereby he was converted to the Mother Church. We found, on reading it, that he was not greatly changed — but that having the most unbounded reverence for antiquity, authority, precedent and form, he very naturally went where these things, to his mind, most abounded.

We found him, personally, on the platform, a man of engaging presence, good voice, and easy manner. He has a healthy appearance and open countenance; the bump of reverence predominates in his phrenology; and the bump of language is not small. Hence, we had an interesting lecture, showing the lecturer a devout believer in the whole creed of the Mother, and desiring nothing so much as to bring all heretics within that pale where only they can be safe.

His earnestness, however, made his lecture too long, and so tired the Yankees, a few of whom only were in the audience, while the majority were of the catholic church and of foreign birth.

The lecture was announced in the bills as a discourse on "Catholicity—its effects on society:"—but it was rather a defence of the church against the charge that "Catholics are bad people and that they are so because of their religion."

Without going into particulars, we may say, with truth, that the defence was both ingenious and courteous, as to its general tone —though we were greatly amused with the idea, expressed by him, that no one can properly understand Catholicity, except or until he embraces it.

We were pleased to hear him say that he believed the mass of protestants to be honest in their belief,—partly because he knows as many of them as any body—and partly be-because we think exactly so of the mass of Roman Catholics.

But yet his church very coolly consigns all these honest men over to endless burnings—and when she had power enough used to roast a few of them by way of foretaste.—We were also pleased to hear him say, that as he travelled through Switzerland, he could see no difference (but the crosses) between Catholic and Protestant Cantons—though others had seen much, or thought they had.

His exposure of error in history was generally correct—and the whole lecture, as a special plea, was calculated to strengthen the prejudice of his Catholic hearers against Protestant writers, and to make them less accessible to Protestant influence.

His closing idea was that as the American people became more enlightened, and thought more of themselves, they would fall into the bosom of the Mother Church, as he has. This was too rich to be offensive to any one who knows, that in that church, as per her books, no one may innocently think and speak except as the church directs.

ST. LOUIS, July 14.— Prof. Shannon has declined re-election to the Presidency of the University of Missouri, and the Board of Curators has elected W. W. Hudson.

The Republican has a letter from Palermo, Kansas, of the 8th, which says that Gen. Lane had entered the territory with several hundred men, and had been heard to declare that he would take Kansas or die. The same letter states that there has been a serious difficulty between the Kickapoo Indians, caused by the free use of liquor. Several were killed.

BALTIMORE, July 14.—Arrest of Slave Traders.— C. F. Baker, A. C. Baptista, Carlos, Labradada and William Stabler were arrested this morning, charged with being engaged in the slave trade. The schooner C. F. Cole, it was alleged, was purchased and fitted out by them for the coast of Africa, had landed a cargo of slaves at Havana, from whence she returned to Chesapeake Bay, where it was the intention to scuttle and abandon her, but she was taken up and brought into port, and the parties above named arrested. Baptista is the Portuguese Consul at this port.

SPRINGFIELD, July 14.—Last night's mail train from New York to Boston encountered a rail maliciously laid across the track, just above the Longmeadow depot, at about 11 o'clock, and was thrown from the track. The engineer of the train, Mr. Davidson, was badly injured, and the fireman had his head fractured and a leg broken. The train from this city to New York was delayed.

The colored population of Washington city, numbering 10,000, have eleven places of worship, the aggregate value of which is $40,000. Ten of the colored congregations pay on an average $650 each to their pastors.—There are 1000 children, in the Sabbath Schools, who are mostly taught by members of the several congregations.

A letter from Rome, dated May 16th, says: "A young Jerseyman, Mr. Doane, son of the Bishop, is preparing here for the Roman priesthood, and has donned the picturesque costume of his order, of which you have no example in the United States. Several priests from America were present at the celebration of the fete of Copus Domina on Thursday, but none of them have assumed the custom of the Italian priesthood."

4 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

QUEBEC, July 15.—The propeller Canadian arrived this morning, with Liverpool dates of July 4th, 4 days later than those per Africa.

Cotton market active, with a slight advance; sales of 3 days 32,000 bales. Breadstuffs dull, with a downward tendency, and decline in all articles.

Provisions—Little change.

Consols closed at 95 1-2 a 95 9-16.

In France the appearance of the harvest is splendid, and all fears of scarcity are dissipated. A protest of the Orleans princes is creating some interest.

In the British House of Commons, Mr. Moore moved a vote of censure on the ministry, for mismanagement in the American affairs,—but it failed, 60 to 247. This vote approves of peace measures.

The weather continued favorable for agriculturalists. The market is generally dull, with a downward tendency. Wheat has declined 2a3d; quotations — flour declined 1s, corn declined on all qualities.

CONGRESS.

MONDAY, July 14.

SENATE.—Several private bills were passed.

The bill amendatory of the act to promote the efficiency of the Navy was taken up, and after a little desultory debate, Mr. Toombs made a speech to a thin Senate, which lasted through the sitting.

HOUSE.—An ineffectual attempt was made to take up the adjournment resolution; but the House refused to suspend the rules, 110 to 92.

The Brooks Assault Case.—This case was called up. Mr. Meacham of Vermont moved the previous question. Motion agreed to.

Mr. Edmundson of Louisiana then, by general consent, made a statement affecting himself.

Mr. Campbell of Ohio argued that the real question involved struck at the very existence of the government—whether the people shall have the power to govern, or whether the Constitution and the laws shall be on one side and freedom of the cudgel on the other.

The House then voted on the substitute of Mr. English; that the House declares its disapprobation of the assault, and deems this a fit occasion to express its disapprobation of the use of language in debate personally offensive to individual members of Congress or states of the Union. Disagreed to—35 against 174.

The House then voted on the substitute of the minority for the resolutions of the majority, namely, that the House has no jurisdiction over the assault committed by Mr. Brooks on Mr. Sumner, and therefore deems it improper to express any opinion on the subjected. Rejected—yeas 66, nays 145.

[Among the yeas were the two Cobbs, Orr Ritchie and Lumpkin, Ready and Ruffin Rust, Savage and Shorter. Herbert would have voted yea—but he was in jail.]

The House next voted on the resolution of the majority of the committee, that Preston S. Brooks be, and he is forthwith expelled from this House, as a Representative from South Carolina.

The result was, yeas 121, nays 95.

Yeas—Messrs. Albright, Allison, Ball, Barbour, Bennett of New York, Benson, Billinghurst, Bingham, Bishop, Bliss, Bradshaw, Brenton, Brown, Buffington, Burlingame, Campbell of Pennsylvania, Campbell of Ohio, Chaffee, Clarke of New York, Clark of Connecticut, Clawson, Colfax, Comins, Corode, Cragin, Cumback, Damrell, Davis of Massachusetts, Day, Dean, DeWitt, Dick, Dickson, Dodd, Dunn, Durfee, Edie, Edwards, Emrie, Galloway, Giddings, Gilbert, Granger, Grow, Hall of Massachusetts, Harlan, Haven, Hickman, Hoffman, Halloway, Horton of New York, Horton of Ohio, Howard, Hughston, Kelsey, Knapp, Knight, Knowlton, Knox, Kunkel, Leiter, Matteson, McCarty, Meacham, Miller of New York, Milward, Moore, Morgan, Morrill, Mott, Murray, Nichols, Norton, Oliver of New York, Packer, Parker, Pearce, Pelton, Pennington, Perry, Petit, Pike, Pringle, Purviance, Ritchie, Robins, Roberts, Robinson, Sabine, Sage, Sapp, Scott, Sherman, Simmons, Spinner, Stunton, Strauham, Tappan, Thorington, Thurston, Todd, Trafton, Tyson, Vail, Wade, Wakeman, Walbridge, Waldron, Washburn of Maine, Washburn of Wisconsin, Washburn of Illinois, Watson, Weltch, Wells, Whitney, Williams, Wood, Woodruff, Woodworth.

Nays—Messrs. Aiken, Allen, Barksdale, Bell, Bennett of Mississippi, Bocock, Bowie, Boyce, Brench, Burnett, Crane, Cadwallader, Carlisle, Caskie, Clingman, Cobb of Georgia, Cobb of Alabama, Cox, Craige, Crawford, Davidson, Davis of Maryland, Denver, Dowdell, Edmundson, Elliott, English, Etheridge, Eustis, Evans, Faulkner, Florence, Foster, Goode, Greenwood, Hall of Iowa, Harris of Alabama, Harris of Illinois, Harrison, Houston, Jewett, Jones of Tennessee, Jones of Pennsylvania, Keitt, Kelley, Kennett, Kidwell, Lake, Letcher, Lindley, Lumpkin, Maco, Marshall of Kentucky, Marshall of Illinois, Maxwell, McMullen, McQueen, Miller of Indiana, Millson, Oliver of Missouri, Orr, Phelps, Porter, Powell, Paryear, Quitman, Reade, Ready, Ricaud, Rivers, Ruffin, Rust, Sandidge, Seward, Smith of Tenn., Smith of Virginia, Smith of Alabama, Sneed, Stephens, Stewart, Swop, Taylor, Trippe, Underwood, Walker, Warren, Watkins, Wheeler, Winslow, Wright of Mississippi, Wright of Tennessee, Zollicoffer.

The Speaker.—The House has refused to agree to the resolution, there not being a two-thirds vote as required by the Constitution thereon.

Mr. Brooks, after some remarks, spoke in his own defence, and concluded by informing the House he had resigned his seat.

The resolution of the majority of the committee declaring disapprobation of the conduct of Messrs. Edmundson and Keitt, in regard to the assault, was then taken up for action.

Mr. Campbell of Ohio, and others called for a division of the question.

The Speaker decided that the resolution could not be divided.

Mr. Jones of Tennessee moved that the resolution be tabled. Disagreed to—yeas 96, nays 111.

TUESDAY, July 15.

Mr. Brooks made a speech, in which he informed the House that he had resigned his seat.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," run the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

Lord Erskine, having lived a bachelor to an advanced age, finally married his cook, for the purpose of securing her services, as she had frequently threatened to leave him. After she became Lady Erskine, she lost all knowledge of cookery, and it was a mortal affront to hint the possibility of her knowing how any sort of eatable was prepared for the table.

PUMPKINS AND MILK.—This dish was prepared by the early settlers of Concord in the autumn, in the following manner: Take pumpkins that have hard shells; cut a hole with a gouge in the stem end, large enough to admit a large sized hand; scrape out the seeds completely, then fill the cavity almost full of new milk; heat the oven hotter than necessary for ordinary baking; place the pumpkins is carefully, and fasten up the lid so that no fresh air can penetrate: keep them in twelve hours or more; then, withdrawing the pumpkins, pour into the cavity more new milk, and with a spoon begin to eat, digging out the inside as you proceed, and leave nothing but the shell. In this truly primitive mode, Gov. Langdon used to feast on pumpkins and milk, when a boarder at Dea. John Kimball's. The Governor preferred this mode, as decidedly more genteel than to scrape out the contents first and eat from a bowl.—Bouton's History of Concord.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

BRIMFIELD, MASS., 20th Dec., 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of UTICA, N. Y., writes: "I have used your PECTORAL myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGFIELD, MISS., Feb. 7, 1856.

BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your PECTORAL is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chief diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.

HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, ESQ., MONTEREY, IA., writes, 3d Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your PECTORAL by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, PA., Feb. 4, 1856.

SIR: YOUR CHERRY PECTORAL is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M.D., ALBION, MONROE CO., IOWA, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the CHERRY PECTORAL affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March 5, 1856

DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for my wife. She had been five months labouring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended your CHERRY PECTORAL. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.

Yours with gratitude and respect,

ORLANDO SHELBY, OF SHELBYVILLE.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all around us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating purgative stimulates the vital activities of the body, removes the obstructions of its organs, purifyy the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Liver ous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an aperient Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no convenient roads for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The advantages are good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted navigation, communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and the value of their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. - Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete with the ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent for all the purposes money becomes power. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expenses of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

CELEBRATED WINE DRINKERS.
NO. 2.

My mention of Samuel Taylor Coleridge, reminds me of his son, Hartley. When he was born, his father proposed to make him "Nature's playmate." He was sent to Westmoreland to commune with books and mountains, rivers, clouds and stars. And he did so. He was intellectual, full of feeling, simple, true and dutiful. He went to college, and, alas! took to drinking. Being odd, clever, kind, and brimming with curious talk, he was a welcome guest at the college wine parties. He managed, however, to secure a fellowship at Oriel College. Here he might have cast anchor, and rode out the storms of life. Not so. The wine cup ruined all. He lost his fellowship, came to London, failed in his literary life, went to Ambleside, wrote for Blackwood's Magazine, in which appeared his beautiful poem of "Leonard and Susan," commenced his "Worthies of Yorkshire and Lancashire," and plunged into all the fun and frolic of the country-side. He would sit—and drink—with tourists, farmers, gentry, peasants, lords, tramps—anybody. He went to a "sheep-shearing, a wedding, a christening or a country wake," and there told stories, joked, danced, and got drunk. And yet, he could write fine and true poetry like this:

"Say, what is Freedom? What the right of souls
Which all who know are bound to keep or die,
And who knows not is dead? In vain ye pry
In musty archives, or retentive scrols;
Charters and statutes, constitutions, rolls,
And remnants of the old world's history;
These show what has been, not what ought to be,
Or teach at best how wiser Time controls
Man's futile purposes. As vain the search
Of restless factions, who, in lawless will Fix the foundations of a creedless church—
A lawless rule, as anarchy of ill;
But what is Freedom? Rightly understood,
A Universal License to be good."

Poor Hartley died in 1848, and was buried in Grasmere churchyard. Wordsworth sleeps beside him. "Around them are the quiet mountains."

DIVORCE IN ENGLAND.—In England as it is well known, a complete divorce can only be obtained by a public hearing before the House of Lords and a special Act of Parliament.—The proceedings cost at least £2000, so that the privilege is one exclusively confined to the wealthy. A strong feeling in favor of reform in this particular has lately been growing up, and a select committee to whom the subject was referred have through Lord Lyndhurst, reported a bill to the House of Lords, making some little amendments. It is proposed so far as we can gather, to limit, if not entirely to annul the jurisdiction of the Upper House and to appoint a separate tribunal for the decision of matrimonial cases. This tribunal is to consist of the Lord Chancellor, the three Chief Justices of the Courts of Common Law, and the Dean of the Arches—will have power to sit alone and decide cases a mensa et thoro, but in cases a vinculi matrimonie, an appeal on matters of law to the House of Lords is permissable.

It is decided that where a wife is separated from her husband a mensa et thoro, in consequence of his misconduct, whatever property was acquired by her subsequent to the separation should be held for her own separate use. It is also proposed to give her the right of sueing in her own name for any wrong done to her while living apart from her husband, which is denied to her at present, unless with the husband's consent.

The bill limits the right of divorce to cases in which there has been proved adultery on the part of the wife; and a wife may sue in cases of incestuous adultery by the husband, bigamy, and desertion for a certain number of years.—Traveller.

BE GENIAL AND LIVELY.—We have the impression that a great deal of genial humor is conscientiously lost in religious people, which might warm and illuminate the way of life. Wit and gaiety answer the same purpose that a fire does in a damp house, dispelling chills and drying up mould and making all wholesome and cheerful.

Richard Mott, a venerable Ohio Representative, was lying ill of Typhus fever, with some friends on Long Island, twenty-five miles from New York. Giddings, not aware of his illness, telegraphs him at New York City, on Tuesday night, to come on and vote. The message fell into the hands of a gentleman who, till now, has been an old line Democrat, but he carried out the command to the letter, chartering a steamboat at an expense to himself of one hundred dollars, that very night down Long Island Sound, and bringing Mott to the city in time to start for Washington the very next morning. And so the stanch veteran, ill as he was, was duly in his seat all day, voting on every motion till the cause of free Kansas had triumphed.

THUNDER STORM.—The Newburyport Herald says:

The thunder storm that touched lightly here on Sunday evening, was quite severe south of us, in Essex and Hamilton. In Essex the house of Mr. Daniel Norton was struck by lightning and somewhat damaged. The fluid passed down the chimney and stunned Mr. Norton, who is an aged man, as he was seated by the fire place. A piece of zinc upon the floor was melted, and a carpet was torn up. In Hamilton an ox was struck and killed. This is the third time in two weeks in which persons have been struck by lightning in the town of Essex — the first two cases proving fatal; and it was never known to strike there before this year. Everybody is at work there now, getting up lightning rods.

PERILOUS ADVENTURE.—On Saturday afternoon, two young men, who were bathing near Bosworth's wharf, Boston, (says the Traveller) made the hazardous experiment to see which could swim under the surface of the water the longer. After remaining sometime under the water, one of them named Giles Thomas, on rising exhibited signs of exhaustion, and immediately sunk again. Mr. Elbridge G. Bodwell who saw him, forthwith removed his clothing and dove for him, and it was not until diving the fifth time, that he succeeded in bringing Thomas up with him. Life appeared extinct, but physicians were called, and after the most strenuous and unwearied exertions, he was finally resuscitated.

A CORPSE DRIVING A SPAN OF HORSES.—The Jamesville (Wis.) Free Press, of the 19th inst, states that, as Dr. Evans, of Evansville, was returning home from that city on Thursday last, he met a span of horses attached to a wagon loaded with produce, and the owner, William Smith a corpse, although sitting erect and holding the reins. The Dr. stopped the team and had Mr. Smith immediately carried to a house, but life was extinct. It seems he had been sick for some time with dyspepsia, and probably died of disease of the heart. He leaves a family to lament his sudden death.

A crowd assembled at Columbus, Ohio, on the afternoon of the Fourth, to see a foolhardy fellow named Jamison jump from the National Bridge, thirty-three feet, into the Scioto. He was uninjured, and swam ashore amid the shouts of the lookers on. Some time after, a drunken man named Thomas, attempted the same feat. He jumped off with perfect ease—fell on his back and killed himself. His body was recovered almost immediately, but it was the opinion of the physicians in attendance that the fall killed him.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, JULY 17, 1856.

THE HERBERT CASE.—Intelligence of the killing of the waiter Keating has been received in California. The San Francisco papers are very indignant at the disgrace brought upon the state by Mr. Herbert's conduct, and express their opinions upon his character and antecedents with much freedom. The San Francisco Bulletin, the late James King's paper, says of him:—"To those who are not familiar with the antecedents of the gamblers' Representative in the House of Representatives, P. T. Herbert, who, with others of like stripe, are now in a position, with money obtained by dishonest means, to cast so foul a stain on the character of our people, we would state that his previous history is very much like most of our public characters—one of infamy and shame. He is well known under the title of the 'Mariposa gambler.' He is a gambler by profession, and we are told formerly dealt 'monte' somewhere in Mariposa county, and is without the slightest qualification for the responsible position he now occupies. We are much of the opinion, if justice be not done him in Washington, he may be a fit subject for our friends, the Vigilants, in Mariposa, should he ever disgrace that place with his presence again. We are not surprised in the least to see John B. Weller, the Senator from this state, the friend and supporter of the gambler McDuffie, volunteer his services to procure Herbert's release, even from a preliminary examination, on account of his position as the Representative of a sovereign state."

This Weller is the Senator who could be chosen, when Fremont could not be! He and Herbert, the murderer, (par nobile fratrum,) are in Congress by means of stuffed ballot boxes,—and true to their instincts, they always favor slavery, gags, and bludgeons.

WE SAY SO.—The Union Democrat, speaking of the attempts of the black republicans to make party capital out of the assault on Sumner, well says that when "they couple the Democratic party or its measures with that affair, they are guilty of an outrage as cool, flagrant and atrocious as that of which they complain."

On the 19th of June, we copied the above item from the Concord Patriot.

On the 14th of July, on the floor of the House of Representatives in Congress, Brooks, the assaulter, said, in closing his speech,—

If his opponents were satisfied with the present state of the case, he was. He returned his thanks to his friends, especially to good Nothern Democrats, and gentlemen who had the manhood to stand by him, not forgetting John Scott Harrison.

The final vote in the House, on Brooks' case, 121 to 95, is thus analyzed by the Boston Telegraph, of the 15th.

The vote in the House was pretty nearly a party one. The Southern members were unanimously for retaining Brooks, and they were joined by most of the northern ——, such as Cadwallader, Florence, and Jones of Penn., English and Miller of Indiana, Allen, Harris and Marshall of Illinois, Hale of Iowa, and Kelley and Wheeler of New York. A few of the more decent ones, such as Wells of Michigan, and Packer of Pennsylvania, voted for expulsion; while, for the first time this session, the Fillmorites, Haven, Whitney, Clarke of New York, Moore of Ohio, were also found on the right side. Scott Harrison of Ohio voted to retain Brooks's services, and Mace of Indiana (Republican) is set down as voting the same way, but this we think is a mistake.

The reader will put the three items together. The Union Democrat says, it is an "outrage to couple the Democratic party with the affair!"—The Patriot responds, "We say so" —well said.

But belly Brooks himself thanks the "good Northern Democrats" for standing by him. And the yeas and nays, as they stand, show nearly a party vote.

Now we take the N. H. Patriot to be the great exponent of the "democratic party" in this state—and therefore we must conclude, 1, that these Nothern Democrats, to whom Brooks is so thankful, have left the party,—and 2, that there is no democratic party at the South, as the members from that quarter all voted for Brooks!

If the reader don't like these conclusions, let him make some to suit himself.

The New York Tribune contains an article, authoritatively written, denying the report of Fremont's connection with the Catholic church, and embodying a certificate from an Episcopal Minister at Washington, that he has publicly baptized all of Fremont's children in his church.

RETURNED.—A correspondent of the Machias Union, writing from Steuben, Me., says:

A family who last fall moved to Wisconsin, have just returned. They went there expecting to get a living easier, but returned because they knew they could get a living easier here than there, and better in the bargain.

A HARD SET.—A writer says of Toulouse, in France—"it is a large town, containing 60,000 inhabitants built entirely of brick."

☞ The Manchester American has been enlarged, and the price increased rom one to two cents per copy.

PRECEDENTS.—People are very forgetful. It was suggested in the Portland Advertiser, that if Mr. Hamlin were nominated Governor, and should not resign his seat in the Senate, he would be standing before the people "in a threefold capacity—as Senator, a candidate for Governor, and as an advocate of his own election."

The Argus seconds the motion, and calls on Mr. Hamlin to resign—but the convention which nominated Mr. Hamlin, resolve that he ought not to resign.

The Portland Expositor says he ought not to resign, and adds:

When Senator WRIGHT was nominated by the democracy, and ran for Governor of the great State of New York, did he resign before his election to the office of Governor?

Certainly not. And yet he stood in the same threefold capacity before the people, of which the Argus now speaks—of Senator, candidate for Governor, and advocate of his own election.

When Senator SPRAGUE of this State was nominated for Governor by the Whigs, did he resign? Certainly not. Yet he stood in that same threefold capacity.

When JOHN FAIRFIELD was nominated for the office of Governor by the democrats of Maine, did he resign his seat in Congress? and was it democracy, then, for the nominee to resign his seat?

Certainly not. He not only did not resign his seat in Congress, but he filled up the threefold capacity of Representative in Congress, candidate for Governor, and advocate of his own election, until elected.

He not only did this up to his election to the office of Governor in September, but in the following December, he appeared at Washington, holding on still to his office of Representative to Congress, and continued to do so, and to serve, and to receive pay for it, until the 24th day of that month, which is the date of his resignation, and until he had only time enough to reach Augusta and meet the Legislature to enter upon the office of Governor.

Why then all this mawkish sensibility about Mr. HAMLIN, all at once?

It is to enable Gov. Wells to appoint some craven spirited sycophant to the slave power, to fill the vacancy thus sought to be fooled out of Mr. HAMLIN.

Mr. Hamlin is in the hands of the people who are his friends. They say his resignation is not called for, and is not intended by the nomination. On the contrary they say, stand at your post in the Senate. When that body shall adjourn, then they want you to take hold with them, in no less earnestness than if not nominated, and uphold the glorious cause of freedom!

SUMNER.—In Massachusetts, the Republican State Committee have voted to give a public reception to Charles Sumner, upon his return from Washington. But the Newburyport Herald says, a party reception is not appropriate,— all parties, and all the people of Massachusetts should give Charles Sumner a reception,—and when his term expires let him be unanimously re-elected, without regard to his politics, that it may be a rebuke to the assassinly scoundrels who assaulted him.

MR. SUMNER.—The New York Tribune of Monday furnishes the following statement in regard to the health of Mr. Sumner:

In passing through Philadelphia, Senator Sumner consulted a physician there of approved skill, who, on a careful inquiry into his case, pronounced that there were no symptoms of any organic disease in the brain. His pulse was found to be regular but low, like that of an invalid, and his whole nervous system feeble and disturbed. This is attributed to severe prostration which he has undergone. The remedy prescribed for his recovery has been entire rest and abstinence from all cares or public duties. The physician did not think he could venture upon these before September without serious peril to his permanent health. Mr. Sumner, however, still hopes, by present rest, to become so far restored that he may take his seat again during this session of Congress, from which he has never before been absent a single day for the five years that he has been Senator.

Mr. S. has gone to the cottage of a friend at the sea shore.

Mrs. Lydia M. Child has died at Paris.—She was a daughter of Gen. Lee, and a native of Virginia. She was a woman of remarkable talent; her life was not supposed to be very happy. Her husband, David L. Child, now lives in Wayland in this county, and was a delegate at our late Anti-Nebraska District Convention. He like his wife, is ultra, beyond the limits of practicability.— Lowell News.

There is some confusion in the item about two women, who have names nearly alike.—Mrs. L. M. Child, who is the wife of David Lee Child, is, we hope, still living—and she was not born in Virginia at all, nor was she the daughter of a Gen. Lee, but was the daughter of a very respectable baker of crackers, at Medford, Ms., (we think named Francis) and in her girlhood went to school in Portsmouth.

Mrs. Lydia Maria Child lives at Wayland, with her husband. Her maiden name was Francis. The lady who lately died at Paris was the wife of Mr. E. Vernon Brown, late of Boston.

OR DIT.—The king of Sweeden has charged Prince Oscar, his son, to present to the emperor for the prince imperial the insignia of the order of the seraphim.

The 'seraphim,' one may presume, is an appropriate gift to the baby, on the principle that the 'cherubim and seraphim continually do cry.'—Boston Post.

The first free school in South Carolina was inaugurated on the Fourth of July, in Charleston. We may now reasonably anticipate some improvement in that State.

A RICH POLITICAL JOKE.—We have private authentic advices of an amusing but indicative mistake, of which Fremont was the victim. In New York city, last week, the Free Soil candidate went on board the steamer "Orizaba" to say "adios" to some California bound friends. A gentleman who was with Fremont, said to Priest Vijil, the Nicaragan Minister, who was on board, "Allow me to introduce your Excellency to the next President of the United States," (making a motion towards Fremont, but not calling him by name.) The Padre stepped forward, raised his hat, bowed and said. "I am very happy to see you, Mr. Buchanan!"—Southern Argus.

A TRANSIT NOT A TRANSIT!—In London a court martial has just been held on the engineer of the steamer Transit; the House of Peers had gone on board the steamer to be taken down and witness the great naval review by the queen sometime ago, but the engineer in honor of the event got so gloriously drunk that the Transit made no transit at all, but remained in the bad smelling dock. They ought to thank him for not taking them out and blowing them up, instead of staying at home for them to blow him up.

WHAT DYER'S HEALING EMBROCATION HAS DONE

Would be to difficult a matter to embrace in so few lines. But a mass of living testimony bear witnes to the fact that no medicine ever performed such remarkable cures, or possessed such healing and pain destroying properties as Dyer's Healing Embrocation.

Thousands have been saved from an untimely death by the use of this preparation.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along!"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it: if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

SABBATH DESECRATION.—Will your correspondent H. M. J. show, in a brief article, that it is either unscriptural or irrational to believe that God does visit the Sabbath-breaker often with special judgments? W.

GRADUATING CLASS OF MIDSHIPMEN.—The following is the list of the late acting midshipmen who have just graduated at the Naval School at Annapolis, Md., and are now midshipmen:—Joseph W. Harris, Augustus P. Cooke, C. L. Phythian, Thomas K. Porter, Rush R. Wallace, Thomas H. Eastman, William E. Evans, Robert F. Bradford, W. N. Allen, Le Roy Fitch, George A. Bigelow, Chester Hatfield, George S. Shryock, and George M. Blodgett. They stand on the naval register in the order announced above.

The above gentlemen entered during the years '51, '52, and 53. Mr. Harris, (a Portsmouth boy) who graduates highest in rank, entered eight months after the '53 class had commenced.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—A requisition from the Governor of California to the President has been received, calling on him to furnish U. S. Troops to enforce the laws which have been trampled on by the Vigilance Committee in that State.

John H. George, of New Hampshire, has been appointed Secretary of the Territory of Minnesota.

Mr. S. F. Tappan, Clerk of the Free State Legislature of Kansas, arrived in this city from that territory this evening.

The report that G. W. Brown, the editor of the Herald of Freedom, has been shot, is not true. Gov. Robinson and the other prisoners are still encamped on the prairie near Lecompton. Walker, the Capt. of the guard, barricaded a small cabin about half a mile from Lecompton, to protect the prisoners from a rescue on the 4th, and treated them so badly, that Col. Sumner sent Walker and his company to the fort, and placed another company, commanded by Sackett, over the prisoners. The prisoners are now treated well, and are allowed to receive the visits of their friends. Mr. Tappan reports, that when down the river, companies of armed men were stationed at Liberty, Independence, and Lexington, to intercept the steamer Keystone, which, it was reported, was expected up the river with a company of Free State men. General Smith arrived in the territory several days before Mr. T. left.

CHICAGO, 15th.—Later from Kansas.—Advices from Leavenworth of the 11th inst., state that Gen. Persifer Smith had arrived. Next day, a deputation of citizens waited upon him asking protection for their lives and property against the armed marauders from the South at the various river towns. Smith replied that he had no authority to grant such protection; that the armed bands alluded to were regularly enrolled militia, acting under color of the law, and that the people had no redress excepting from the civil law.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R. LANDS.

The lands offered for sale by the Illinois Central R. R. Company, (see advertisement on fourth page,) were granted by the United States to the State of Illinois by the Act of 20th September, 1850. All the conditions stipulated in that act have been fulfilled, and the title of these lands can no longer be affected by legislation.

By the act of 10th of February, 1851, the State of Illinois incorporated this Company, and directed the Governor to convey to said Company, by Deed in fee simple, all of said lands, &c., which was done. The said act further required said Company to execute a Deed of Trust of said lands, &c., to certain persons named therein by the State, to secure the performance of the conditions and stipulations required thereby. The Bonds issued under this trust are being paid as fast as the money is received from the sale of the lands set apart for that purpose. All Bonds received for lands, or purchased with the proceeds of such lands, are officially cancelled by the Trustees.

Where payment is made in full, the purchaser at once obtains his title from the Trustees appointed by the State. If the sale is on credit, however, the title is not given till final payment is made, but the purchaser receives a Contract, stipulating that such title will be given on full payment, and compliance with the conditions specified therein. Each payment for lands sold on credit, can be made in Construction Bonds, or cash; and if in the latter, it is applied to the purchase of Bonds; and the particular tract is at once exempted from liability, and a perfect title given by the Trustees—being, in fact, the first conveyance under the authority of the General Government.

The sales are made under the direction of the Trustees, and are authorized by an Act of the State Legislature. The lands thus sold are exempted from taxation by said law of the State till finally paid for.

The Trustees execute Deeds for all lands sold; and the conveyance by said Trustees, in the terms of the law, is "an absolute title in fee simple," and operates "as a release or an acquittance of the particular tract or tracts so sold from all liability or incumbrance on account of said Deed or Trust, and the issue of said bonds—so as to vest in the purchasers a complete and indefeasible title."

Thus it is seen, that the Act of Congress making the grant, secures the title to purchasers, whatever may be the action of the State; and the law of the State incorporating this Company, while amply securing the Bondholders, is alike careful to protect purchasers of the lands, and to secure to them perfect and complete titles in any and every contingency.

WASHINGTON, July 15. The jury in Herbert's case have been discharged. A new trial commences to-morrow.

ARRIVAL OF THE NIAGARA.

HALIFAX, July 15.

The royal mail steamship Niagara, from Liverpool about 11 A. M. on Saturday 5th inst., arrived here this evening.

London papers contain the following paragraph:—

"Negotiations between England and the United States, with a view to the settlement of existing differences, were resumed on Monday last 30th, under circumstances which justify the belief that matters are already in a fair train towards an amicable adjustment of the point at issue."

Lord Palmerston said it was understood Mr. Dallas has full power to discuss with Her Majesty's government the Central American question. Mr. Buchanan had no instructions whatever to enter on this subject.

It is believed that Parliament will be prorogued 31st inst., and that no further party motions will be made this session.

A bill was introduced by government into the House of Commons to permit distillation from rice.

Sunday music controversy continues to expand.

The Queen and the people of London are preparing to give the Guards of the Crimea a public reception.

There is an increasing demand for American securities since the political aspect of affairs between England and the United States has improved.

The grain crops were all harvested and abundant. Potatoes were short from heavy rains.

The upward tendency of English funds continues.

Portugal.—The weather is at last fine, but it is feared that all the crops have already suffered from much rain. Breadstuffs are being purchased in England.

CONGRESS.

TUESDAY, July 15.

The Senate debated and passed the House bill appropriating $50.000 for the construction of a road from Fort Ridgeby, Minnesota, to the South Pass of the Rocky Mountains, Nebraska.

Mr. Toombs assumed his remarks on the bill amendatory of the act to promote efficiency in the Navy.

The Bill was amended the more effectually to accomplish the object of restoring, through a Court of Inquiry, such meritorious officers as were aggrieved by the action of the Naval Board, those reported on favorably to be reappointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate. The bill then passed.

HOUSE.—The Keitt of South Carolina and Edmonson of Virginia matter was discussed. An ineffectual effort was made to have a vote taken in the case of each separately. In consequence of this failure, the resolution was rejected—70 against 125.

On motion of Mr. Campbell of Ohio, the vote was reconsidered, and the two cases taken up separately.

Under the operation of the previous question, the resolution censuring Mr. Keitt was adopted—yeas 106, nays 16.

That censuring Mr. Edundson was rejected—yeas 60, nays 176.

The preamble was then adopted—104 against 83.

Mr. Keitt said he should ask the House to morrow to hear him on some matters. He should endeavor not to violate parliamentary propriety, and felt quite sure he would not do so. Adjourned.

A great and salutary change seems to have come over the House within a few days. The rising spirit of freedom and justice in the country, from Maine to California, has somehow opened the eyes of many members, to see through these criminal cases.

SLAVE TRADE.—This infamous traffic is largely carried on from New York city. The laws declare it piracy, but it is seldom that guilty parties are convicted, or when they are, that severe punishment is inflicted. Judge Betts in charging the Grand Jury in the U. S. District court, at New York, on Thursday, referred to the matter at length, and urged the Jurors to a careful investigation in cases that might come before them. There is no doubt villainy enough in the North to fit out slave stealers, so long as the markets for them are open, unless conviction can be made more sure, and punishment more certain.

Rev. Peter Jones, who died lately near Brantford, Canada, was the celebrated Indian chief who was married in New York twenty-five years ago to a highly respectable lady of the vicinity of London, with whom he became acquainted on his first visit to England.

The Richmond Enquirer is anxious to have whig support for Buchanan; but it says it wants no whig to come over to it "unless he is ready to abjure his ancient faith and profess allegiance to our peculiar platform."

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

NEW YORK, June 15.—From Mexico.—A passenger who arrived here to-day in the steamer Florida, from Savannah, reports that he left Mexico on the 2d, and Vera Cruz on the 5th. The decree that the clergy are not permitted to hold property was published in Mexico on the 28th ult. The people in general congratulated President Comonfort on that important step. The Jesuits are to leave the country. The Spanish difficulties are settled. The Spanish Minister was received officially on the 26th. The ports are open for emigrants, and liberty of conscience had been guaranteed by Congress.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The Pacific Railroad.—The Special Committee agreed to report a bill making a grant of land to the Southern Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company. The bill provides for three roads—one north of the 44th parallel, one between the 38th and 44th, and one south of the 38th parallel.

The Emperor of Russia has instituted a Crimean medal, to be given to all who took part in the defence of Sebastopol. It is in gold for the officers, and silver for the soldiers. On one side are the words, "In commemoration of the immortal defence of Sebastopol;" and on the other, "Given by their Majesties, Nicholas, of eternal memory, and Alexander II."

PRETTY WOMEN.—A pretty woman is one of the "institutions" of the country—an angel in dry goods and glory She makes sunshine, blue sky, Fourth of July, and happiness wherever she goes. Her path is one of delicious roses, perfume and beauty.—She is a sweet poem, written in rare curls and choice calico, and good principles. Men stand up before her as so many admiration points, to melt into cream and then butter.—Her words float round the ear like music birds of Paradise, or the chimes of Sabbath bells. Without her, society would lose its truest attraction, the church its firmest reliance, and the young men the very best of comforts and company. Her influence and generosity restrain the vicious, strengthen the weak, raise the lowly—flannel-shirt the heathen, and strengthen the faint-hearted. Wherever you find the virtuous woman, you also find pleasant fireside bouquets, clean clothes, order, good living, gentle hearts, piety, music, light and model "institutions" generally. She is the flower of humanity, a very Venus in dimity, and her inspiration is the breath of Heaven.

A little boy was munching a piece of gingerbread; his mother asked who gave it to him. "Miss Johnstone gave it to me." "And did you thank her for it?" "Yes, I did, but I did not tell her of it."

J. F. BARTLETT.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices they sell.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and very hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual instalments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 18 ft. by 36 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers, and in the powers of Chemistry, and of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application

KANSAS WOMEN.

A letter to the Providence Transcript, under date of Lawrence, Kansas, July 2, says:

The temperance movement here in this place has been a subject that has excited us almost as much as the political difficulties.—We have had great difficulty to make any move to effect anything, as you must know we have no laws on this subject or anything else except that spawn that was brought forth by the Bogus Legislature, the burden of which was to gag all that spoke against slavery.—There have been two groggeries in operation this Spring, and we have had temperance meetings, but no plan has been devised that seemed to accomplish much, until a week or ten days ago they formed a plan to raise a committee, and funds were procured to buy the liquors and take the sellers' pledge they'd sell no more. One acted in good faith and closed his business—the other sold his stock and bought a fresh supply, removing a few rods over or beyond the city limits and prepared to do quite a business. Here it seems that they were completely foiled and out-witted, but the ladies took it up. They had a meeting last night and chose a committee to go forward, accompanied by many other women and young ladies.

They first visited the one who had removed just over the city limits, and made an attack on bottles, decanters, jugs, runlets, kegs and barrels, breaking and destroying the containing and contained, (and it was supposed to be near two hundred gallons,) and then they told the man that they wished him to understand distinctly that they were in earnest, and they told him just as often as he bought liquor of any kind, to sell calculated to intoxicate, they should visit him in their official capacity, and make a libation to Bacchus by breaking the kegs or vessels and pouring it on the ground.

They were told by the man whose liquor they had been destroying, that the first man mentioned kept and sold it, although secretly. This story they did not believe, but to satisfy some, they went and examined his premises, but found nothing.

He was very polite, treating them very gentlemanly—in fact their visit to him was such, that it will be remembered with pleasure by many of the posse. Another who had found there was no liquor to be sold, had commenced selling ale, &c. The ladies visited him and made him promise that no more should be purchased and sold. So that what the men had been trying to do all the season, the ladies last night met, formed a plan, and by eleven o'clock to day it was executed, and Lawrence is a Temperance town. And to crown the whole the ladies were arranged in the street, each having some instrument in their hands which they had used in demolishing the fortresses and magazines of intemperance, and a daguerreotype taken of them in the dresses they wore, and their countenances beaming with joy and delight, conscious of having done a good deed, and meeting the approbation of all the respectable part of the community here and also in the States, when the transaction becomes known. Copies will be taken and transmitted to friends in different parts of the country, and probably an engraving with a short account of it will be published in some of the popular pictorials.

TOO TONIC.—The Germans are pouring in upon us at a tremendous rate this season, and there will soon be nobody left in Faderland. The Emperor of Austria, and their Majesties of Wurtemburg, will soon be coming over after their runaway subjects. Up to the present time the number of emigrants arrived at this port (ordinarily comprising about three-fourths of the entire arrivals in this country,) is something like 12,000 less than up to the same date last year; but it is judged that before the end of the year this deficiency will be made up.—The preponderance of Germans continues. Rather more than the usual proportion of emigrants are settling in the eastern states.—N. Y. Courier.

Enos Williams, of Amherst, has a dog, which, seeing a shovel-fall unobserved from his master's wagon, on the public road, watched over it for twenty-four hours, till his owner, missing him, made search and recovered both dog and shovel.—Boston Post.

REV. M. D. CONWAY.

This is the name of the Unitarian clergyman in Washington city, who was so impudently independent as to speak his mind of the peculiar institution. Mr. Conway is a young Virginian, which may account somewhat for his fiery language. It is said he will be dismissed from his Society on account of the sermon. The following is an extract.

"As well appeal to the fang of the serpent not to strike, as to that poisoned fang of Hell, Human Slavery, by any means it can command, not to send its deadly virus into the fresh young blood of Freedom. Why should we expect this monster to change its instincts? Can a leopard change its spots? Is there anything incompatible in buying and selling men and women made in the image of God, on the block, and a violation of the most sacred compacts? Is it anything wonderful, when tearing babes from their mothers, husbands from their wives—scenes which passed my unconscious childhood as an amazing panorama of the Pit, to raise within me at last, thank God, a hatred of slavery which shall never cease save with the last heart's throb; never, till this tongue is dust again.—Is it, I ask, anything wonderful, when all this, in the South, becomes, in Kansas, murder, robbery and arson? Is there anything unnatural, when oppression and brutality towards the weak and helpless in Carolina, become dastardly and cowardly assassination of the unforewarned and defenceless in Washington? Nothing unnatural, say the South, in endorsing those men who have wormed their way into power by the very slime they secrete, and use it to lift themselves on the happiness of millions. Nothing, they repeat, in universal representative sanction of a crime which would have been a scratch, but for their sanction; which makes the word Union a satire, and virtually says to half the men in this land "There is no point of honor between us. The lowest white Southerner must be forewarned and challenged, or the assailant loses caste forever. But you Northerners shall be beaten as we beat dogs: we do not forewarn our dogs when we beat them."

Living in the midst of slavery, I have ever felt that it was dishonest and wrong that the Northern man should not know how we are trained to despise Yankees as worse than anything else; how it is nearly a proverb that there is no gentleman north of Mason and Dixon's line. Gutta percha is very honest at any rate, and places the matter frankly before the freemen of this country. It is well if even the devils become honest, real devils, and conceal nothing in their hearts."

MR. UNDERWOOD.—We have already noticed, that Mr. J. C. Underwood, the delegate from Virginia to the Philadelphia Republican Convention, who was recently denounced by the citizens of Clarke County, for some remarks which he made on that occasion, has not been allowed to return to Virginia, and was obliged to avail himself of the services of a friend to conduct his wife and family to New York. Upon arriving in that city from Philadelphia, he received letters from his friends, saying that he could not go home without meeting personal violence. In a note to the New York Evening Post, correcting some errors in the first published account, Mr. Underwood says:

"Your other error was mortifying to me, for you say I am an extensive planter—I only consider myself an ordinary farmer. I am certainly not a planter, for the sweat of unpaid labor has never moistened my fields, and while I should be unwilling to acknowledge any man master, I would scorn to call any man slave. One month ago I supposed I owned eight hundred acres of Virginia soil, but perhaps the respectable gentlemen who have driven me from the State have confiscated my property by a new code established very recently. My wife who reached me on Saturday evening, informs me that when she appealed to the respectable gentlemen, who demanded either my blood or banishment from the State, to know what law of Virginia I had violated; they replied to her that they did not know that I had broken any law, but that I had broken the 'rules of Virginia.' Now, as I am not acquainted with these 'rules of Virginia,' I think it very possible that they may apply to property as well as personal freedom. It seems to me that confiscation is just as suitable a 'rule' as exile, to apply to freedom of opinion. One of the old rules of Virginia, as I had supposed, was free speech, and, in the language of Jefferson, I had thought that even 'error of opinion might be tolerated where reason is left to combat it.'"

Morning Chronicle.

SENTIMENTS.—Preston S. Brooks says:—

1. I went to the Senate deliberately. I hesitated whether I should use a horsewhip or a cowhide, but knowing that the strength of the Senator from Massachusetts was superior to mine, I thought he might wrest it from me. If he had done that I should have regretted it for the rest of my life.

2. He said to Mr. Woodruff, (who would not except his challenge,) "Go, little wretch—there is room enough in the world for you and me."—In his judgment the cock that crows and will not fight, is despised even by hens and pullets.

3. He spoke of Mr. Pennington as the persecutor, as the thumb paper, the Falstaffian member, ect., for which the Speaker called him to order.

4. When he remarked, the people of the great North speak of me as a bad man, they will do me the justice to say that a blow from me at this time would be followed by revolution, and they know it.

From these pithy extracts, we infer 1, that the drunken chivalry of which Brooks is a choice specimen, suppose they have the exclusive right to deal in invectives,—(see items 2 and 3.)

2. That a blow is necessarily a disgrace to him that receives it—unless the assailant gets floored in the melee, in which case the disgrace falls on him.

3. That it is no disgrace, but a great and honorable deed, to steal deliberately up to a man and knock him on the head,—and that he would have "forfeited his self respect and the good opinion of his countrymen if he had permitted the offence to pass unpunished."

And 4. That he thinks himself a man of vast consequence, when a blow of his would be followed by a revolution. Even so, a child, a maniac or a drunken man may set fire to a city or explode a powder magazine. And Brooks's blow already struck on Sumner has began a revolution of which no man yet can see the end.

TEMPERANCE.—A working friend of the cause, in Salem, N. H., under date of the 12th inst., writes us as follows,—and sends pay for several subscribers to the Phenix.

I enclose nine dollars, for Phenix, as follows. * * * We have been trying here to enforce the law for the suppression of Intemperance; and we hope to be able to do it, by the help of the next Supreme Judicial Court. I hope the friends of the cause in Portsmouth, will use their influence to have the right kind of a man (on the question,) appointed for County Solicitor, in place of the recent incumbent. Our cause depends mostly on the officers of courts. E. C. G.

We shall be pleased to hear from E. C. G., or other friends of the cause, at any and all times. Will our readers who can handle a pen, please bear this in mind; and also that we solicit them to "do what they can" in this line as a duty to the cause of temperance. We should like correspondents in every town in the state.

COLONIZATION.—It appears from the Republican Journal, that Colonization to Africa is flourishing, insomuch that "seven hundred manumitted slaves go out from Savannah this month. Geo. F. Patten, of Bath, gave ONE THOUSAND dollars for colonization."

It would seem that there must be some strange leaven of abolition fanaticism in Georgia, which leads the white people there to set loose so many negroes who cannot take care of themselves. The Richmond Whig and Enquirer must take a South Side View of matters, else they will presently be troubled with a fire in the rear.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The special dispatch to the Boston Advertiser, dated Washington, Wednesday evening, says:—

The Senate had an exciting discussion upon the naval promotions, in executive session to-day. It is understood that no vote was taken.

Mr. S. P. Hanscom, late Clerk of the Kansas Investigating Committee, was called out of his room to-day, and assaulted by Captain Pate, late in command of a company of Border Ruffians in Kansas. Mr. Hanscom received only a single blow. The cause of the assault was a letter by Mr. Hanscom, saying that Mr. Pate showed the white feather in surrendering twenty-five men to fifteen free state men.

An assistant doorkeeper of the House was also assaulted by a companion of Mr. Pate.

Probably Pate and his companion, had both taken an extra glass of Washington brandy.

NEW YORK, July 16th.—An Assault.—At a late hour last night, at the Metropolitan Hotel, Mr. Bashford W. Vicks, of South Carolina, attacked and beat with a cane Mr. Jacob Stanwood, of Massachusetts, for saying that the attack on Mr. Sumner was brutal and cowardly. Stanwood received one or two severe blows on the face before he had time to repel the attack. The parties were separated. Vicks was arrested and locked up for the night. He was discharged this morning, but a warrant has been issued for his arrest.

No doubt the man was half drunk. Sober men don't act in this way.

For the Chronicle

PHYSICAL VS. MORAL LAW.—Messrs Editors:—As "W" seems desirous of making a newspaper controversy out of my short article, which appeared in your paper of the 14th, I am sorry to inform him that my tastes lead in a different direction. He wishes me to show that it is unscriptural to believe that God does visit Sabbath breaking with a special punishment. I (though not deeply versed in Scriptural lore,) think that he will find it difficult to point out in the Bible a passage in which the Lord threatens any such fate. In the book of Nehemiah, 13th chapter, 18th verse, Nehemiah says, "yet ye bring more wrath upon Israel by profaning the Sabbath; elsewhere, we think nothing stronger than the words of Math. 10: 29, is to be found in favor of special providences. In that place Christ says, "are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? and not one of them falleth to the ground without my Father." That God should be cognizant of all passing events is one of the fundamental principles of christianity, in this land; but though we have instances of special punishments for disrespect of age and for lying, (vide II Kings 2: 24, and Acts 5; 5, 10,) we have no mention of a similar judgment for Sabbath-breaking; and indeed I don't recollect of one for any other cause than those named. Therefore with such slight authority, I dont think the deduction scriptural.

It remains to be seen if it is rational. Take a common example: suppose a number of persons, who but poorly understand the management of a boat, start for the Shoals in the face of a rising storm. It breaks upon them ere they reach their place of destination; no one of their number is seaman enough to know that the first act should be to strike the sail; the boat is capsized, and in our swift strong tide, a storm raging, and they with a suit of wet clothes clinging to them, become victims to the watery element. Does "W." call that a special judgment, even though the day be Sunday?—Does he call it a special judgment that a poor drunken sot walks from the end of one of our wharves, on a dark rainy night? Does he call it a special judgment that Senator Sumner is dangerously wounded by an assault, and one of the noblest minds in the country put in danger of idiocy? Does he call it a special judgment, that a drunken, profane, and hard-hearted man is spared beyond his alloted space of threescore and ten, and when he leaves this world his name is honored by a newspaper eulogy; while the young, good and the beautiful die by myriads, unknown to all but their circle of sorrowful friends? No! the world keeps on its course steadily, and as the wheels of time move on, one by one we go to our long, long home; and the spirit goes on its upward flight till it stands before the bar of God, then and there to bow before the judgment of the Almighty—and as I think, not till then. But the heathen are represented to have thought to be heard for their much speaking, which was condemned as a fallacious idea,—therefore I will cut short the thread of my discourse. H. M. J.

Portsmouth, July 17, 1856.

The crowd at a fire in Manchester, N. H., the other day, by which a stable and house were burned, became much excited by finding under a half consumed bed quilt, the bones of what a physician termed a man or a woman. The Mirror gives the remainder of the story thus:

"A police force was sent for, and the remains carried to the school house near by. A couple of physicians were summoned in and examined the remains to see whether they were those of man or woman. When turning them over the bristles of a hog appeared, and great were the shouts, and since that it seems as if Bedlam had broken loose, and every man you meet has a broad grin upon his face, and asks about the Coroner's Jury upon the hog! It is probable that the hog ran into the bedroom from the stable in the rear, after the fire commenced. Another hog was consumed in the stable.

RELIGIOUS ACTION.—At the late meeting of the New Hampshire Convention of Universalists, in Concord, it was

Resolved, That Slavery, Intemperance, and War, are among the great evils which affect humanity; and that it is the duty of every Christian to employ those wise and salutary measures for their remedy, which the mild and reformatory principles of the Gospel would seem to dictate.

Rev. Geo. Hill will preach in Sutton, N. H. a week from next Sunday,—and Lectures at Bradford Corner, at 5 o'clock, P. M.

Rev. John S. Barry will preach in the Town Hall at Kingston Plain, N. H., next Sunday.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

The cars were filled with eachers and children of St. Michael's ch Sunday school, bound on an excur- The cars were set on fire and several were lost. The accident occurred at 7 k this morning. Rumor makes the l from 60 to 200. No train has arrived om the scene of the accident. Other panies have furnished locomotives and and surgeons have been despatched to id of the sufferers. FUGITIVE SLAVE.—There was a good of excitement in Boston on Wednesday ning, in consequence of a report that ther fugitive slave had been apprehended the United States authorities, and the of-of Marshal Freeman was beset by anx-visitors, who wished to learn the name he victim, where he came from, and who belonged to. The Marshal said he knew hing about the affair; and although he is wn everywhere to be a man of the strictest acity, yet no one, in this instance, would ke his word." The famous "Vigilance mmittee" were on the alert, and after find-out that the story arose from the fact that olored man, named Joseph Williams, had ived—secreted in a vessel from Alabama— y consulted together, and adopted a plan of ion. The history and end of the matter is rt. It seems that Williams, a mulatto, o is between thirty and forty years of age, reted himself on board the bark "Growler," ile lying at the dock at Mobile, on the rning of the 27th of June last—that he naged to keep out of sight of the master, pt. Pillsbury, until yesterday morning, en, off the Castle in this harbor, he came on deck and jumped overboard. Captain lsbury ordered a boat to be manned and t after Williams, which was done, and he s taken on board again. The captain, who s in an "uncomfortable fix," came up in a at to seek legal advice; but the news of the an overboard" came with him, and the gilance Committee, through their counsel, nt into the Supreme Judicial Court, and, der the third section of the Personal Liber-law, and upon the petition of John Oliver, colored carpenter, asked for a writ of habeas rpus, with a view of ascertaining by what ht Williams, a freeman, was restrained of liberty. The prayer of the petition was anted by the presiding Judge, Metcalf. The Deputy Sheriff, Alonzo T. Neale, took e writ, and proceeded to the "Growler," nick by this time had arrived at Long wharf. he Sheriff found Williams in the cabin, un-r charge of the mate of the bark, who, we lieve, is a colored man—the captain not aving yet returned to the vessel. The writ as read, and Williams was at once surren-ered to the Sheriff, who conducted him to the ourt House. Quite a large crowd, including any colored persons, had assembled in the cinity of the building; but it having been ated that the prisoner was in the hands of s friends, no demonstration threatening to e public peace was manifested. Three o'-ock was fixed as the hour for a hearing on e petition, and in the meantime Williams emained in the custody of the Deputy Sheriff the Court Room.

At the appointed time Judge Metcalf came nto Court, and no one appearing to show ause why Williams should be restrained of is liberty, he was ordered to be discharged y the Court. This announcement was hail-d by three loud cheers, and Williams, the ond-man made free, was conducted to a car-iage, which was driven rapidly through seve-al streets to the district inhabited by colored persons on the hill. Here he was furnished with a change of clothes, refreshments and some pocket money. His stay in the city was short. His friends, deeming it unsafe to let him remain here, conducted him, at half-past four o'clock, to Cambridge, and from thence we know not.

The affair made quite a stir for a time, but it having been generally ascertained that the United States Marshal had no warrant for the arrest of Williams, and knew nothing of his presence until it was made known to him by persons who came to ask questions about him, the excitement was soon allayed.

The "Growler," the vessel in which Williams came, is owned at Thomaston, Me., and is a freighting bark. The present affair will probably prevent her return to Mobile, inasmuch as, under Alabama laws, she would be liable to seizure for the cost of the "fugitive from service and labor" in that state.— As the world is wide, this circumstance may prove no inconvenience to her owner or mas-

CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, July 16.

SENATE.—Mr. Brown, from the Committee on the District of Columbia, reported in favor of retroceding Georgetown to Maryland.

The amendatory copyright bill was passed.

Mr. Jones of Tennessee made a speech on the three million armament bill, contending that the appropriation was necessary to place the country in a proper state of defence. It was a peace, not a war measure. There was not ammunition enough on the whole Pacific coast to fire ten rounds with the guns there in case of war. There was not enough in the whole country to fire 25 rounds with our own guns.

The further consideration of the bill was then postponed till Monday

The Senate then went into executive session, and was nearly four hours engaged in the consideration of the question whether more than 200 nominations or promotions of the President, sent in some months ago, to supply the vacancies occasioned by the action of the late Naval Board, should be passed upon before the House shall take action on the Senate bill providing a remedy for meritorious officers aggrieved by the Naval Board.—Finally Messrs. Pendergast and Nicholson were severally confirmed as Captains by so large a vote as to be regarded favorable to all the remaining nominations.

The Senate will probably go into executive session on them to-morrow.

HOUSE.—Mr. Keitt of South Carolina, who was censured, made a speech in his own defence—he said he was in the Senate when the assault was committed. He knew that it would be committed unless Mr Sumner should make an explanation or apology, but he repeated he knew not the time when or the place where the assault would be committed. He did not anticipate it would be in the Senate chamber. The Northern papers had attempted to establish complicity on his part, charging it as a slaveholding act, and had attemgting to fix the responsibility on South Carolina, &c.,—After a wretched apology, he resigned his seat. So mote it be.

The House then took up the resolution of the Committee on Elections, that J. C Allen was not, and Wm. B. Archer was elected Representative from Illinois, and entitled to his seat.

Mr. Washburne of Maine advocated the resolution.

Mr. Allen replied in his own defence. Adjourned.

THE HARVEST IN ILLINOIS.—The Chicago Tribune says that the area sown with wheat in Northern Illinois, this year, was unusually large. The harvest has commenced. The berry is plump and heavy, and the aggregate crop will be large—larger, perhaps, the area considered, than ever before.

Throughout all parts of Upper Canada the crops are said to be looking remarkably well. The weather has been mild, rather than hot, and has contributed to their growth and present healthy condition. The weevil is said in some parts to be destructive; but its ravages have usually not proved so serious as has been predicted.

The San Francisco Vigilance Committee took the precaution to daguerreotype the faces of all the men they banished from the State, and to send on copies to the Atlantic cities.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

W. P. Fetridge & Co. Proprietors, 238 Pearl street, New York, and 100 Washington street, Boston. For sale in Portsmouth by William R. Peirce & Co.

MAHOMMEDANISM DECLINING.—There is said to be everywhere in the Levant an increased interest on the part of the Moslems in the Bible and the Christian religion. They are becoming indifferent and sceptical with regard to the faith of Islamism. They no longer perform their prayers and pilgrimages and observe their same fasts and festivals with the same strictness as of old. Their mosques are more or less neglected and deserted by devout worshippers. Though the Muezzin cry still sounds from the minarets three times a day—"Come to prayer! come to prayer!—Prayer is better than sleep; prayer is better than meat; there is no God but God, and Mahomet is his Prophet!"—yet but few of the faithful heed the call.

A CONGRESSMAN WARNED BY THE VIGILANCE COMMITTEE.—The Worcester Spy says that a letter has been received in that city from a gentleman in California, which states that Herbert, the Congressional murderer, has been notified by the Vigilance Committee of San Francisco, never to show his head in California again, under the severest penalties. His recent murder in Washington, it is said, is not the first he has committed; and he has been a monte dealer in California besides.

DEBATE IN THE U. S. SENATE.—July 2. Mr. Toombs said "He had no higher law. He dispised the man who had. He looked upon him as a wretch who would steep his conscience in perjury."

This reminds us of the Rev. John Pierpont's demonstration,—at the Hale dinner in Boston, May 1853—that not to believe in a higher law is stark Atheism. It was stated thus. If there be no higher law than the constitution, then is there no higher lawgiver than these, then is there no GOD."—Vt. Standard.

NEW YORK, July 17.—The Express Safe on the Erie Railroad train, one day this week, was opened by some thief on its way to this city, and robbed of all its contents. As the way-bill was also taken, the amount of the loss has not yet been ascertained, bu it is probably some $20,000.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. SIR: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will save others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills with my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

POST OFFICE, HAMILTON, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 16, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around her paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, and yet were not cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured she tried your Pills, and they have cured her. — ASA MORGRIDGE

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1855.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATOR CRAWFORD, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout — a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtile and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that stealts upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the incurable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than to say that it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one acre and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their produce; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great variety of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and of others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 16 by 24 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company furnish all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with farming implements, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with but moderate means in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. Where requested, an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information desired, will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to MOVEMENT AT ROCKPORT.

For some time past, intemperance has been on the increase, on account of the freedom with which liquor could be obtained; and a company of perhaps twenty ladies, whose husbands and brothers have been sufferers from this evil, resolved to take the matter into their own hands.

Accordingly, they assembled in Dock square, where they were joined by others, and soon some seventy-five were seen marching with all the solemnity of a funeral procession, towards the place where the liquor was to be sold.—They were followed by a man bearing a flag, which he planted at the entrance of every place at which they halted for the purpose of search.

Though sometimes receiving threats of deadly violence, on they went, into stores, cellars, pig-sties, henneries, among vessels, &c., &c., vigorously removing with their hatchets, whatever barrier obstructed their course.

In one building, the place of deposit was usually attained by a ladder, which on this particular occasion was nowhere to be seen; but nothing daunted, one brave woman was lifted in the arms of another, and the precious article was soon dislodged from its hiding place and running in the gutter.

In another place the liquor had been wedged in amongst ice, so as to be inextricable, and the whole covered very innocently with fish to be kept cool,—but down descended the hatchets, and ice cream of a new and peculiar kind was speedily manufactured.

"You haven't got this," said one man tauntingly, as he held a bottle suspended at arm's length in the air. "Nor you either," was the quick reply of a woman near, as with a blow of her hatchet, it was instantly shivered to atoms.

One woman whom they visited, greeted them with the appalling cry of "small pox here," but they judged that just now the disease was probably not contagious, so they pressed on. Another was nursing a sick child in a cradle, which must not be disturbed, but when a search was insisted upon, the child was missing, and valuable substitutes obtained in its stead.

An Irishman in feeble health sprang vigorously across the floor to protect his wife's "emptins," but was overpowered by superior forces. All day long the committee continued their operations, never stopping to taste a mouthful of food; their forces increasing from time to time, till they numbered some hundreds; and the liquor meanwhile pouring in streams through the streets.

Notwithstanding the crowd assembled, the proceedings were conducted with the utmost order and decorum; all seemed to be working in earnest, not in sport. While search was being instituted at any place, the crowd without stood in silent expectation, but loud cheers followed the announcement of the discovery of the article, and it speedily found a summary end.

SEIZURE CASE.

In the Police Court in the City of Manchester, Tuesday, July 15, before Justice Smith, (as we learn from the Mirror,) one James O'Brien was complained of for "keeping for sale one gallon of spirituous and intoxicating liquor" on the 14th inst. A search warrant was sworn out on the oaths of H. G. Lowell and B. F. Philbrick that they believed that "one gallon of rum, one gallon of gin, and one gallon of brandy, two glass tumblers, one decanter and one counter" were in possession of the respondent.

The search was made and the following inventory given of property found upon the premises of the respondent: 8 tumblers, 1 sugar bowl part full, 1 quart bottle part full of gin, 1 quart measure, 1 half pint measure, 1 pitcher, 5 glass bottles, 1 forty gallon cask half full of gin and on tap, 1 barrel of strong beer part full and on tap, 12 bottles of beer, 1 two quart jug, 1 counter.

The inventory was not put in, but witnesses were put upon the stand to prove about that that contained. One person stated that the place referred to, on Manchester back street, was one of common resort, and that he had frequently seen persons come out of it intoxicated. The respondent works for the Mayor in his garden, one witness said. Officer Philbrick had been in the respondent's place three times, and never knew of his selling a glass of liquor, and never knew of a man being tried for drunkenness who got his liquor of respondent.

John L. Fitch, Esq., appeared for the respondent and argued that the evidence was not sufficient to hold his client, as no sale was proved, or anything from which it could be deduced that he kept liquor for sale. Besides, it was improbable that the Mayor would keep a man guilty of such conduct in his employ. The fact of his working, weeding gardens, showed that rumselling was not his business.

S. D. Lord appeared in behalf of the city. The report stated that this kind of case was novel in this State, it not being criminal to keep liquor for sale till the passage of the Liquor Law. It had as yet no benefit from rulings of the Higher Courts, but under the circumstances he felt it his duty to order respondent to give $200 bonds to answer further. It had its doubts upon cases of this kind, what would be the verdict of the Grand Jury. They were about the only kind of liquor cases that had been successful here, it being so difficult to prove actual sales.

DRESS.—A coat that has the marks of use upon it is a recommendation to people of sense, and a hat with too smooth a nap and too high a lustre is a derogatory circumstance. The best coats in Broadway are on the backs of penniless fops, broken down merchants, clerks with pitiful salaries and men that don't pay up. The heaviest gold chains dangle from the fobs of gamblers and gentlemen of very limited means; costly ornaments on the ladies indicate that to the eyes that are open, the fact of a silly lover or husband cramped for funds, or worse still, a tainted reputation. For women are like books, too much gilding makes men suspicious that the binding is the most important part.

PRODUCTIONS OF THE SANDWICH ISLANDS.—A friend handed to us a few days ago some specimens of coffee and sugar from the Sandwich Islands, the latter being raised on the plantation of a Bostonian, who is a high officer of the islands. The sugar is of excellent grain and superior strength, and it is well to have the product of this great necessity extended, as its price has risen alarmingly within a year or two. The coffee is of delicate and excellent flavor, and it is to be hoped that the Sandwich Island Yankees will not only be able to supply their own people, but to raise sufficient to furnish California with the valuable products of their soil.—Boston Courier.

"Buck-wheat" is a corruption of "Beech-wheat," a name given to the grain in question on account of the shape of its kernel, like a beech-nut.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, JULY 19, 1856.

GIDDINGS AND EDMUNDSON.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Post relates the following anecdote:

Mr. Edmundson, during the present session, interrupted Giddings in one of his speeches, by approaching, and with a menacing air challenged him to "say that again!" The Shakspearian retort of the sturdy veteran was admirably telling. Shaking his white head with excitement, stretching forth his arms with indignant defiance, the brave old giant exclaimed:

"'Go show your slaves how choleric you are,
And make your bondmen tremble.'

But don't come here!" Whereupon Mr. Edmundson returned to his seat.

STRANGE PLEA.—On Thursday morning, at Boston, in the Municipal Court, a man named Howes was tried for bigamy. It seems that on the 18th of June last he married Rachael Brewster, his first wife being alive. The minister to whom he applied recollected having married him only a year before, and asked, in his surprise, if his first wife was dead; to which he promptly replied, yes. To the Court he stated that he was drunk at the time of his second marriage, but the Judge would not allow that to be an excuse, and sentenced him to one year in the State Prison—the fellow thus paying two penalties for his intemperance—the second marriage and the prison.

A CONVERT.—The Boston Chronicle of the 16th says, G. W. Collamore, Esq., of Boston, a Whig conservative enough to please even the Courier, has visited Kansas, and confirms all the worst stories of ruffianism and robbery. He places the free State heroes of Kansas on a par with those of the revolution, and alleges that his respect for the latter has been increased by witnessing the courage, fortitude and fidelity of the former.

THE HERBERT CASE.—The correspondent of the Atlas says:

"The Southern members of Congress have taken a deep interest in Herbert's behalf.—Among others, Judge Butler took pains to walk into the Court House and give him his countenance, by taking a seat with his counsel. In Southern eyes, and to Southern notions, the killing of a waiter is a much less heinous offence than the killing of a horse or a pointer.

A decision has been made by the Supreme Court of Alabama by which every railroad, steamboat or stage, is liable to the owner of any slave absenting himself from his owner, who may be found travelling with them under any disguise or concealment.

That is, within the State of Alabama only,—for her laws cannot reach beyond her own limits.

CALLED TO ACCOUNT.—A Washington letter of Sunday, says—

Rev. Mr. Conway has been arraigned today by his society for preaching a powerful sermon, two weeks ago, against slavery. A resolution was offered declaring that he had converted the pulpit into a political forum in which to advocate sectional doctrines. After a lengthy discussion, the society, pending the passage of the resolution, adjourned to next October.

WHAT IS CHIVALRY?—At a public meeting in St. Peter's parish, South Carolina, the 3d, Jesse Peeples, member of the legislature, became indignant because the chairman did not place him on the business committee.—The chairman said it was because he did not think of him; Peeples said "you lie!" whereupon a general fight ensued in which Peeples was killed and Dr. E. H. Martin, son of the chairman, was severely cut. Half a dozen duels, it is thought, will be required to settle the difficulty.

NEW YORK July 17. The Metropolitan Assault.—Our previous report of the outrage at the Metropolitan Hotel, was, in some respects, inaccurate. Mr. Stanwood had been out visiting, and, on his return at a late hour to the hotel, he found a friend from the eastward and Mr. Vick, of South Carolina, in angry conversation. Mr. Stanwood took his friend by the arm and led him out of the room, but soon afterwards returned for a light, when he was accosted by Vick, who demanded of Stanwood if he wished to take up his friend's quarrel. Mr. Stanwood replied that he had nothing to say to him (Vick) and turned away to get a lamp. While in the act of lighting this, Vick approached him from behind, and struck him a stealthy blow with a stick upon the back of his head, inflicting a severe wound.

Worse than was first reported.—Vick is a follower of the illustrous Brooks.

☞ The August number of Godey's Lady's Book contains two steel engravings—one a colored fashion plate; 100 pages, 47 engravings, and 54 contributions. Now is an excellent time to commence a subscription to Godey's Lady's Book, as July commenced the 53d volume; and a great variety of newly illustrated articles will be given in the succeeding numbers.

The careful and attractive publisher, L. A. Godey, Philadelphia, has also sent us, at our request, a copy of the March No.—"eleventh edition." We mention this, partly to show the demand for that number,—but especially to notice the care taken of an order so small, as a missing number of an editor's file. Business must be done carefully where such orders are filled correctly four months after date.

For the Chronicle.

SPECIAL PROVIDENCES.

Messrs Editors.—Your correspondent is mistaken if he supposes that W. is desirous of "newspaper controversy." He has some desire that true views of God's providential government should prevail, and wished therefore to know how extensively H. M. J. had examined the subject on which he wrote. He is now satisfied on this point.

H. M. J. remembers recorded instances of special punishments for disrespect of age and for lying, but he asserts positively that "we have no mention of a similar judgment for Sabbath-breaking." Did he ever read the following story in the book of Numbers?

Ch. 15. vs. 32—37. And while the children of Israel were in the wilderness, they found a man that gathered sticks on the Sabbath day. And they that found him gathering sticks brought him unto Moses and Aaron, and unto all the congregation. And they put him in ward, because it was not declared what should be done to him. And the Lord said unto Moses, The man shall surely be put to death: and all the congregation shall stone him with stones without the camp. And all the congregation brought him without the camp, and stoned him with stones, and he died; as the Lord commanded Moses."

What the Lord here commissioned Moses, he now, it is believed, often commissions the elements of nature—"those ministers of his that do his pleasure"—to accomplish.

W. does not think the argument from reason, demands any reply from him, but regards it perfectly safe for each reader to answer the interrogatories of that paragraph to himself.

Portsmouth July 18, 1856. W.

A DETERMINED EFFORT FOR FREEDOM.—The Boston Chronicle, says that the fugitive Johnson who was most happily put out of harm's way on Wednesday, must have had rather a hard passage of it on his way hither; and if freedom was his Jordan, he certainly found the road a "hard one to travel."

It seems by the statement of some of the crew that the fugitive must have secreted himself in the hold of the Growler just as she had taken her cargo at the wharf at Mobile, without the knowledge of anybody on board.

As usual, after the bark had got to sea, the hatches were battened down tight, and the hold, where the heat was at a most suffocating height, was almost entirely deprived of air. In this dreadful situation for four days and three nights did poor Johnson swelter out his existence until on the fourth day the captain ordered the hatches to be taken off in order to get a cable, when the presence of the fugitive, much to the surprise of Capt. Pillsbury, was discovered.

Apparently he was in the last extremity, and restoratives were at once applied, which restored him to life and vigor, and from this time he worked to the best of his ability as a sailor until the vessel reached this port. He was kindly treated while on board, although Capt. Pillsbury confesses himself as much embarrassed at the unexpected addition to his passenger list. Johnson is said to be now in Canada, and we trust he is. He desired his freedom, and he obtained it through sufferings as grievous as any which humanity can bear, and his passage from chattelism to manhood deserves to be as successful as it was arduous.

RAILROAD DISASTER.—The Philadelphia dispatches of Thursday evening, give some particulars of the destruction of life and limb, on the Northern Pennsylvania Railroad, near Fort Washington, at 7 o'clock of that day.

The cars were filled with the teachers and children of the St. Michael's Church Sunday School, bound on an excursion.

The excursion train contained 1100 children (another account says 800) with their parents and teachers.

They came in collision with a down train on the curve near Fort Washington, while the latter train was moving slowly, and the former rapidly, endeavoring to reach the stopping place.

Both locomotives were crushed, and three of the cars of the excursion train rushing together, caught fire, and were consumed.

When the locomotives came together they rose on end, their fire boxes nearly touching each other, and fell over across the road.

The fire being scattered about the wreck of the first excursion car, it caught fire, and extended to the two other cars, piled upon it.

Beneath their ruins were a number, crushed so that extrication was impossible.

The scene was of the most heart-rending and terrible description.

Most extraordinary efforts were made to extricate the mutilated beings crushed amid the wreck, many of whom were still alive when the flames reached them.

The groans and cries that filled the air were awful.

Eleven men and women and two children were consumed in one car.

The total killed is 39, and wounded 69.

Among the killed is Father Sheridan, of St. Michael's Catholic Church.

The scene of the accident is 14 miles from Philadelphia, in the neighborhood of two curves, so that approaching trains cannot be seen 500 yards, and the track is a single one.

Wm. Van Steven, the conductor of the down train, has committed suicide by taking arsenic.

Wm. Lee, the engineer of the same train, has been arrested and committed for examination.

Two engineers from Chesnut Hill forced water through hose to the wreck, and after working for several hours, the human remains beneath it were removed.

All the human remains were gathered up and brought to the city. Twenty-seven bodies have not been recognized, and they are so badly burned it is feared they never can be.

We assure our friends in other states, that the Democrats of New Hampshire, though perhaps not making so much noise as their opponents, are as wide awake and active as at any previous Presidential election for the past thirty years, and further that they can't be beaten.—N. H. Gazette.

BUFFALO, July 17. The Northern Indiana took fire about 11 o'clock this morning, while on her voyage to Toledo, and burned to the water's edge. Thirty or forty passengers are reported lost. The following are among the passengers and crew taken off by the Mississippi:—A. Stockbridge, of Hartford; Caroline Turner, of Reme, Me.; E. and J. Giles, of Worcester; John M. and Matthew Farrar, of Manchester; Jos. R. Fitz, of Hartford; Jos. Twichell, of Oldotwn Me.; Eldridge Blanchard, of Augusta, Me.; Rev. J. M. Presslin, of Indiana, whose brother was drowned; C. T. Dadman, of West Needham, Mass.; Milo Doty, of Hartford.

Capt. Pheatt, commander of the Nothern Indiana, was not on board of her, being sick and confined to his room in Buffalo.

There are fifteen or twenty missing, who were known to be on board, but it is thought they may have been saved by the propeller Republic, and a schooner that assisted in picking up the passengers.

A monument to John Wesley is about to be erected at Epworth, in the Isle of Axholme, N. Linconshire, Eng. The design of the proposed monument represents John Wesley attired in a gown, with a Bible in his hand, and preaching from a tomb-stone, he having once delivered a sermon from the stone over his father's grave in Epworth church-yard.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in a hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; If you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

EASTERN RAILROAD IN N. H.

At the annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Eastern Railroad in N. H. held July 15th, the following named persons were elected Directors:

Stephen A. Chase, of Salem; Isaiah Breed, of Lynn; Benjamin T. Reed, of Boston; Daniel P. Drown and Ichabod Goodwin, of Portsmouth.

At a meeting of the Board elect, Daniel P. Drown as elected Clerk, Ichabod Goodwin, President, and John B. Parker, Treasurer.

Mr. Goodwin had determined to retire from the Presidency and from the Board of Directors, and at the meeting had signified his purpose. But so general and decided was the wish among the Stockholders that he should remain at the head of the Road, that he was induced to reconsider his determination and consent to a re-election.

After the election, the Hon. Asahel Huntington, of Salem, with some appropriate remarks, offered the following Resolution, which was unanimously agreed to:

"ICHABOD GOODWIN having filled the office of President of the Eastern Railroad in New-Hampshire from its first organization, and having to-day, at our earnest request, consented to a re-election; and the Stockholders being desirous of marking the event by a public approval of his official conduct, it is thereupon—

Resolved, That the thanks of this Corporation be, and the same hereby are, given to the Hon. Ichabod Goodwin, for the faithful and acceptable manner in which for the last twenty years he has discharged the duties of President."

To which Mr. Goodwin made a brief and pertinent response.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE EASTERN RAILROAD CORPORATION was held on Monday, in Boston, about 156 persons being present. The president presented his annual report which has already been published, when considerable discussion arose upon having a more complete report, giving the details of their financial operations.

The president said it was impossible for the directors to prophecy as to when a dividend would be paid. They did not wish to enter upon speculations. Negotiations were pending which ought not to be made public, and if the negotiations were successful, six months or a year would put a better face on the matters. The freight business at present required the keeping of a large property at East Boston, at least until those negotiations were concluded, and it was therefore difficult to say how much more than $300,000 worth of the East Boston property could be sold.

The directors had assets which they believed to be good, and worth $780,000; the debt had been reduced, and it was probable now could be carried forward at 6 per cent. The disposal of assets was of course a work of time; they could not be forced without a loss; and were subjects of constant discussion with the directors.

The president said the directors would, when there was a dividend surplus, present the details to an annual meeting, to say whether it should be applied to paying funded debts or not. In regard to the earning of last month, he made the following tabular statement as a pleasing one:

	Earnings.	Expenditures.	Surplus.
June '56,	69,557 19	26,624 48	41,033 81

Of the earnings in June, $10,800 were received for three-months season tickets, so that two-thirds of that sum should be deducted, in counting a single month, from the $41,000.

The following persons were elected directors for the ensuing year, by nearly a unanimous vote—the whole number of ballots cast being 1377, and the lowest number for any one 1357:

John Howe, Samuel Hooper, George M. Brown, John C. Lee, Nathan D. Chase, Micajah Lunt, Henry H. Ladd.

PORTSMOUTH BRIDGE.—At the annual meeting of the Proprietors of Portsmouth Bridge, held on the 15th inst. Ichabod Goodwin, Albert Thorndike, Isaiah Breed, Daniel P. Drown, Samuel Hooper, Stephen A. Chase, and Benjamin T. Reed were elected Directors. And at a meeting of the Directors elect, Daniel P. Drown was elected Proprietors' Clerk, and Ichabod Goodwin, President and Treasurer.

HOLD ON.—There is much reason for believing that the depression in the price of Eastern Railroad stock is made by the management of the Boston brokers. Sales are reported of a large number of shares at a low figure, when no application is made to have shares transferred on the books. In the estimation of good judges, those who sell the stock for less that $50 will in a few years find that they missed a figure.

Speculators are also active in endeavoring to purchase the bonds of the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad at a low price. After the road passes into the hands of the bondholders, and with the management of the new company, we can see no reason why the bonds should not command over 50 per cent.—Journal.

LOCAL.

THE BORDER RUFFIANS.—The N. H. Gazette of the 19th says:

We stated last week that the breaking in of windows and doors and the destruction of property by a mob on the 3d of July, was attributable to the party known among us for the past two years as the know nothings.

So it was attributable to the Pope or Prince Albert, if any body would look away from facts, to find a theory, or frame a guess. But on what was the attribution based?

This statement was bassed upon the history of the organization and the lawless acts which have distinguished it here and elsewhere.—The demonstrations upon various houses on the night of the 3d of July, bear evident marks of a conspiracy. There could be no chance in the houses selected for attack. One of the houses broken in by the border ruffians was at the foot of Decr street, another half-way down Hanover street, another in the vicinity of the Steam Factory, and others perhaps in still different sections of the city. Every house or building assaulted was occupied by Irish or other foreigners, and Catholics. Here is a discrimination worthy of notice, which corresponds very well with our designation of these outrages last week, &c.

These facts should have their weight—and others should be added to them, to make the whole case plain.—The first fact in addition is, that most of the places assaulted were groggeries as well as dwellings.

The 2d is, that most of the assaulters who are known, were customers or visitors at the houses.

3. No one of those convicted of assault that night or next day, is known to be a K. N.—but the principal convict, who was the ringleader in several assaults, is a National Democrat, and was known to be here at the last March meeting to vote for Governor Wells and ticket. On that occasion he was surrounded and protected by a gang of the same rowdies who were his accomplices in the 3d and 4th July riots. They were his body guard on both occasions.

We heard the testimony on most of the trials; and among the witnesses for the defence, and the sympathisers generally, we did not see one black republican, one fanatic, nor one temperance man. On the contrary, they all seemed to be birds of a feather

If any of the rowdies were "know nothings," as the Gazette charges, they must have known enough, not only to escape conviction, but to keep clear of prosecution! A most remarkable case, truly.

At all events, the assaulters were drunken or half drunken rowdies, whose desire is free cudgel, free rum and free row:—and several of them, by the testimony which we heard them give of themselves and of each other, had been frequently before into those tippling houses, were they now made a smash.

A 4th fact is, that the Baptist Church, a fence in Austin street, a lamp post, several signs, and at least four houses and shops, which were assailed and injured on the 3d and 4th—certainly did not belong to Irish or Catholics.

It is of very little consequence by what party name the rioters are called—they are certainly the rum party—no total abstinents can be found among them.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, Thursday evening, July 17, T. F. Willey and others stated intention of forming a military company, and asked the city for thirty muskets.—Laid on the table. They also applied for Jefferson Hall to drill in. Granted, under the direction of the Superintendent.

2d Ward.—Jere. M. Teague, Martin L. Twombly, Abram Holmes, Charles Littlefield, Oren Banks.

No quorum in Common Council.

THE EASTERN RAILROAD.—This road has transferred the freight depot to East Boston, where hereafter the freight busines will be carried on. The passenger station is to be moved to the site of the present freight depot.—The engine house at Prison Point will soon be ready for use.—Boston Chron.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

CONGRESS.

THURSDAY, July 17.

SENATE. Mr. Toombs offered a joint resolution that the action of the late Naval Board in the case of Lieut. Bartlett was a violation of his rights, and therefore void.

The Naval nominations were taken up, and after confirming 195 of them the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House resumed consideration of the Illinois contested election case. The report of the majority of the Committee says that Mr. Archer was elected by 2 majority, and that of the report of the minority states that Mr. Allen was elected by 1. The subject was debated, and the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON, July 17. The Secretary of the Treasury has asked Congress to amend the act of 1842, so that it will in addition to the prevention of the importation of indecent prints, paintings and transparencies, embrace statues and figures of similar tendency.

The Herbert case is progressing slowly. Mr. Bradley for the prisoner, opened a broadside on some newspapers, charging them with studied efforts to prejudice the case, and likewise condemned individuals for openly expressed censures on the Court. The interest in this matter seems on the increase. The District Attorney is assisted by Mr. Preston of Baltimore.

The Senate confirmed to-day, in addition to the two yesterday, 192 appointments or promotions in Navy Retiring Board. Four officers, since their nominations were made, have died or resigned. The Senate acted on the nominations en masse.

WHO OWNS 'EM?—We notice a large number of boys wandering about the city, who, as we suppose, must be lost. They are for the most part very well dressed, wearing long coats, tight pantaloons, shiny hats and boots, and generally carry small canes in their kid-gloved hands. From the manner in which they stare at the ladies that pass them, we infer they are looking for their mothers. Why don't our charitable citizens get up an asylum for these poor children? The kind-hearted keepers of taverns and billiard saloons, allow them a refuge in their establishments, and most charitably supply them with cigars and adulterated liquors. Parents in search of their sons will hear of them by paying these places a visit.—Phila. Post.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st., oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal thereof by him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none BUT THE MOST SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate — The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on all legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington — Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. Time to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the farmer in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, independently of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual instalments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be broken under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere on the Road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of farming, the cost of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

JOHN WILSON,
Land Commissioner of Ill. Central R. R. Co.,

Office up to the 1st of May, 52 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill; after that date in the New Stone Passenger Depot, So. Water st. a8 6m

NEW YORK POLITICS.—The Hards and Softs of New York have united on terms satisfactory to their committees, and that is as far probably as the union will extend. The people of New York, and generally in the north, will vote very independently of party leaders. There will be three parties in New York, as there was at the gubernatorial election. Then Clarke, who carried the same votes that Fremont will receive, obtained a plurality. Ullmann, the American candidate, probably carried some 30,000 Hard votes, that will now be thrown for Buchanan; but more than 30,000 Softs that did not go for Clarke, will go for Fremont. Apparently the changes in New York are in favor of the Republicans. They will carry all the anti slavery votes, the Seward Whigs, the North Americans, and perhaps one half of the Softs, which will almost certainly give them a plurality.—Of those papers which supported Van Buren in 1848, a majority, we should think, are now for Fremont. So the most influential Soft leaders such as Preston King, Abijah Mann, Wm. C. Bryant, Rathburn, Selden, Grover, and fifty others that might be named, who went for Jackson, and a part of them for Cass in 1848, have committed themselves for the Republicans. These facts would seem to indicate that New York would go for Fremont.

Buchanan's prospects would be better if Fillmore was not in the field; for if the South Americans, who are very active, should cast 50,000 votes—and they expect three times that number, and the Tribune estimates that they will "count up fully 100,000"—since most of them will be straight-out whigs, they would rather increase than diminish Fremont's chances. Three quarters of them would go for Buchanan if Fillmore was not in the field. Fillmore while he will injure the Republican prospect in Pennsylvania, if it is anything to begin with, and perhaps in other States, will assist him in New York, and we believe give Fremont the electoral vote.—Newburyport Herald.

NOT A SUICIDE.

PHILADELPHIA, July 18.—Further Particulars of the Railroad Disaster.—At the scene of the disaster the excitement among the surviving passengers and those who came to the ground was, at one time, directed against Mr. Van Stavoren, the conductor of the down train, whose violation of the rules of the road was alleged to have caused the appalling calamity. That individual had borne the reputation of being a careful, intelligent and reliable man, and many were at a loss to explain his conduct. Soon after the accident he came to the city, and immediately proceeded to his residence in Tenth and Buttonwood streets.—There, it is said, he appeared to be laboring under a gloomy excitement, either proceeding from mental trouble or injuries received by the shock of the collision. He went out, and returned about dinner time. About 5 o'clock in the afternoon he was found dead. The story that he had committed suicide by taking arsenic was spread throughout the city, furnishing material for the gossips, who never have a sufficient mouthful when a calamity of this kind occurs. Others said that grief and remorse had killed him, but the brother of Mr. Van Stavoren called at our office to inform us that the unfortunate conductor had died of internal injuries received by the shock of the collision.

CHARADE.

Ho, railroad! ho, chariot! ho, steamboat, balloon!
I must soon emigrate, but not to the Moon;
Let me hie to my First, where the sun sets at night,
Tho' fever and ague my prospects may blight.
With the Boon of my Next, I have here in store,
Your far famed rich prairies and fens I'll explore.
Let my Whole be the watchword, as we slowly move on,
To the land of promise, where the squatter 's a Don.

BOILING ROCK.

A GREAT COUNTRY FOR A LAZY MAN.—Dr. McBean, in his lecture on Nicaragua, on Monday night, drew a picture of what could be done in that country by a man who was not disposed to waste much time in labor, and yet wished to live independent. The government gave him 250 acres of land, and the first necessity was a house. This want was quickly supplied by the placing of four posts uprightly in the ground, the spaces between which were filled with the common cane, which grew in abundance around, and then plastering over with mud. The roof was then thatched with grass, and the house was thus completed. Little or no furniture was needed, a hammock answering all purposes of a bed and seat, and almost any kind of earthen vessel would answer to cook in.

The next care was to plant about a dozen banana or plantain trees, which needed no further care; about fifty yards of land should be hilled and planted in yams, which, if properly placed, would yield enormously. The common frijole and Lima beans would grow with the yams, as well as other vegetables, and the native fruits of the country were almost indigenous.

The plantains and yams would yield more than enough for the subsistence of an entire family, and game of every variety could be shot almost from the door of the house. The climate was such as to render little or no clothing absolutely necessary, and thus, with one month's labor, a man can fix himself comfortably for a year. Isn't that the country for a lazy man?—N. O. Picayune.

The Lord Mayor of London, Solomons, a Jew, gave an entertainment on the 4th of June, at which was the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Primate of all England. And the Metropolitan was supported by no fewer than ten of his Suffragan Bishops, besides a goodly fellowship of the clergy of London.

This breaking of bread and drinking of wine between Jews and Christians, shows a great change in public sentiment since the time when the Jews were butchered in the streets of London like dogs, and the Israelite was the most despised of human kind. But on this occasion, the fellowship was full. The Lord Mayor Jew toasted the Archbishop, and eulogized him for his "boundless zeal in promoting the spiritual welfare of those committed to his care;" and the Archbishop drank his wine and eulogized the Jew. At other similar entertainments, dissenters have been invited and treated in the same way. This is the state of religion in the 19th century. How unlike what it was in the 5th or 12th?—Tour in England.

WEATHER.—As yet we have had no rain of any consequence, everything of herbage is dried and parched; the dust flies at every footstep. Cisterns are all dry, the hay crop is generally ruined—or at least partially so.—Corn is suffering, potatoes are done for; the weather is hot, very hot, frequently up to a hundred degrees above "Peru," as the boy said; but we are informed by our physicians that as yet it continues healthy. Everybody is anxious for rain, a few drops of rain.—Vevay (Ind.) Times.

In the Village Class for the same time average yearly assessment has been less than 1 10 of 1 per cent. on the amount insured. Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, JULY 21, 1856.

DISCRIMINATION. RECRIMINATION.

In the late affair of honor between Brooks and Burlingame, the latter, after denouncing the assault on Mr. Sumner, as a cowardly and brutal act, and after vacating his personal responsibility for his words, now states that "discriminating between the man and the act to which he was called upon to allude, he had characterized the latter only in such a manner as his representative duty required him to do."

Brooks says he is satisfied with this. So we perceive it is a settled point of honor, north and south, that we may innocently say a certain story told by A. B. is a lie,—as it is not personal but parliamentary. But we must not say A. B. is a liar, because that is personal.

Well: there is quite a difference, after all,
'Twixt Tweedle-dum and Tweedle-dee.

Under the head of Reason or Virulence, the Boston Courier says:

We submit, moreover, that the Free Soil papers ought to be the very first to abandon their intemperate vituperation of Mr. Brooks. He has done more for them and their cause than any man living. Whatever advance the Republican cause may make at the next election, either in state or nation, it will not be on account of Kansas or Col. Fremont, but it will be on account of Mr. Brooks. His bludgeon will have been the magic wand by which large numbers will have been led to the polls. * * * * It is the conservative Whigs who have the most cause for blaming most severely the conduct of Mr. Brooks.—They might be excused for calling him hard names. He has made it difficult for them to rally their forces, and has given a fearful advantage to their adversaries.

It is a fact, that Brooks's blows waked up the people to consider the acts of violence which arose from the same source, in Kansas, Washington, California and elsewhere.

An Opinion,—The N. H. Gazette of the 19th says, speaking of the California Vigilance Committee,

Several notorious characters have been banished from the State and sent to sea in foreign bound ships; and it is certain that this organization is doing a good work for society in this summary dealing with these rascals, whatever may be thought of the necessity of subverting the constituted authorities of the land and instituting martial law for the purpose of purifying the moral atmosphere.

There is no doubt this opinion is in the main correct. And there is a remarkable likeness between the "law and order" men in Kansas, and the "law and murder" party in California and in Washington. Herbert of California is one of the denounced men there, —he murdered Keating the Irish waiter in Washington,—and upholds the Stringfellow, Atchison and Douglas movement in Kansas.

Vicks and Stanwood. — The Boston Transcript says:

Mr. Jacob Stanwood, of this city, who was grossly assaulted by a Southerner at the Metropolitan Hotel in New York, (as has been announced by telegraph,) arrived home this morning, and has furnished us with a brief but plain statement of the affair.

Mr. Stanwood is a very intelligent and respectable merchant of North Market street, well and favorably known in mercantile circles, and this foul attack upon a person of his high character and social position has, of course, excited much attention here. It may not be improper for us also to state that he is what is popularly known as a Webster Whig, of the conservative stamp.

Stanwood has commenced a civil process against Vicks. Mr. Stanwood says in his statement:

I forbear making any further comments, only that I never expressed a word in my life against Mr. Preston S. Brooks of South Carolina.

Alas and alack-a-day;—No amount of conservatism, no amount of dumbness at outrage, can shield a northern man from the attacks of the drunken chivalry.

The Nashua Railroad Disaster. — Verdict of the Coroner's Jury in relation to the late accident on the Concord Railroad, whereby a little boy, Henry P. Jewett, son of Rev. Mr. Jewett, lost his life on the 15th April, 1856.

The jurors find the facts to be, that no person was stationed at said crossing to signal the approach of the train, and that no such signal was given—that the usual notice, warning travellers to "look out for the engine," was not erected at said crossing—that the bell upon the engine at the other end of the train was ringing at the time of said accident, but that the train was of considerable length, and was backing up on a curve, and, owing to obstructions upon parallel tracks, the engineer upon the engine was unable to see the car which ran over the deceased aforesaid, said car forming the opposite end of the train.

And that there was no brakeman upon said train, to stop the same in case of accident.

The negligence of the road, then, was gross and criminal.—Of course they cannot pay for the child's life—but they can pay smart damages for injuries to his parents who were hurt at the same time.

Correction.—Mr. Mace of Indiana did not vote against the expulsion of Brooks, as was at first reported. He was absent.

For the Chronicle.

"SEARCH THE SCRIPTURES."

I beg leave to differ from "W." in my opinion of the passage which he quotes from the 15th chapter of Numbers. I don't consider that a special judgment of God, in which man is the chief agent. Did I so consider it, then might I say, in reference to the law closing the barbers' shops in Boston, a year or two since, "The hand of the Lord is upon thee, O ye knights of the razor."

And again, the passage he quotes is under the Mosaic dispensation, the same in which we find this beautiful extract; "Breach for breach, eye for eye, tooth for tooth; as he hath done, so shall it be done unto him," (Leviticus, 24: 20,) and though we don't deny that it is a mild and beautiful law, yet it is in direct contradiction of the command of our Saviour, (but perhaps "W" doesn't accept the the New Testament.)

A propos of stoning, did "W" ever read in Deut. 21: 21, "And all the men of his city shall stone him with stones, that he die," in reference to rebellious sons? Pray is this special judgment put in force? We have a faint recollection of the stoning to death of one Stephen, as recorded in the latter part of the 7th chapter of Acts, and wonder if it was a special judgment.

Does he call it a special judgment that

"A man also, or woman that hath a familiar spirit, or that is a wizard, shall surely be put to death; they shall stone them with stones." (Lev. 20: 27.)

For what crime was the special judgment near Fort Washington, last Thursday, when 39 persons were hurried into eternity, by a most agonizing death; where wives were made widows, children orphans, and desolation scattered broadcast through the families of that church?

Is sailing so much worse than walking, that while the latter needs no penalty, the former must be punished with death? Out upon such a Draconian creed, 'tis worse than heresy.

Christ himself, we are told, in Mark 2: 23, not only was walking on the Sabbath, but he also gathered corn, the property of another, while the poor man who gathered a few sticks, perchance to cook his food, was stoned to death.

However, Mr. Editor, I will trouble you no more on this subject, and as "W." professed in his last to have attained the end for which he raised the question, I trust he will have no objections. I still maintain the same ground which I took at first; if he has a different belief, it is his misfortune, not fault, for no man is to be blamed for his belief, erroneous though it be. H. M. J.

Blown Up.—The Dover Gazette informs us that the extensive powder mill in New Durham, in this state, owned by George Mathewson Esq., of Dover, was blown up on Tuesday last. In these works were manufactured large quantities of the most valuable sporting powder in the country. The works were nearly new, and had been in operation but comparatively a short time. The damage to the works by the explosion was but small, and will cause no great inconvenience to the operation of the establishment.

Some of the Boston papers located the mill in Dedham, N. H. which amounted to locating it Nowhere.

A Victim.—The Providence, R. I., Transcript says:

In passing the Alhambra yesterday, we saw one of the victims of that receptacle of unclean things, emptied out as no longer worthy of being harbored there. He was a young man, stripped of his mon of his reason by the fiery poison dealt out to him, he was set adrift to stagger to his home through the public streets.

We suppose the Alhambra to be a gambling and drinking saloon.

A Hard Case.—A case came to our notice yesterday, which should attract the attention of the philanthropic as well as the police. A man named McGar, living in the rear of Call Street, Charlestown, has a wife who has been confined to her bed for some time with lung fever; and her husband has been for nearly the whole time dead drunk. Having expended what little money he possessed for rum, he, as a last resort, took down the doors from their places, removed the hinges, and the iron hoops from barrels, and with other things sold them in order to obtain rum to quench his insatiable thirst. The house now remains without a door. In the meantime his wife lies upon her sick bed with scarcely a friend to attend to her wants, and we think in need of many of the necessaries of life. The brute of a husband manages to keep full of rum; and it is would be a relief if he was disposed of by the Police.—Boston Traveller, 15th.

Liquor Case.—Michael Moran, of Lowell, for violation of the Liquor Law, was fined $10 and costs, and 20 days to the House of Correction, and ordered to find sureties according to law in the sum of $1000. Appealed, and ordered to find two good and sufficient sureties in the sum of $200 to prosecute his appeal.

Philadelphia, July 19.—The late Railroad Accident.—The dead of the Railroad catastrophe, as far as ascertained, amount to 56, including 6 unrecognized bodies. The wounded, so far as known, number 78.—Many of these are in a very precarious condition, and their death is hourly expected.

The Herbert case is going on slowly. The counsel for the defence appears to have felt the damaging effect of the California revelations, and he abused the press accordingly.—Nothing new was elicited in evidence.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

LOCAL.

SUICIDE.—A man whose name we were unable to learn, was found dead hanging by the neck in the crotch of a tree, on the land of Mr. Charles Hodgdon, at Gravelly Ridge in this city, on Saturday afternoon. He was apparently between 40 and 50 years of age; the top of his head was a little bald; he was decently dressed, except that he had no coat on; and every thing about the spot is evidence of suicide well planned. The tree on which he hung was a willow, and his arms lay on two branches, while he had a knot near his feet, from which he doubtless swung himself off.

P. S.—We learn that the man has been identified as Nathaniel Montgomery, who has been employed on our river, and lived in Dover.

☞ The Mackerel fishery at the Isles of Shoals has been extremely dull for the past fortnight. The catch within that time has not probably averaged two barrels per day. The schooners engaged in the business have nearly all left, and several of the boat crews have dissolved. The mackerel already caught are of very good quality for the season, consisting principally of large No. 3s.

☞ About forty men were discharged from the Navy Yard on Saturday, the appropriations being nearly expended.

GOING TO PORTSMOUTH.—We are happy to state that a steam Ferry-boat is in a good degree of progress to cross the River at Dover Point, giving us thereby direct communication with our neighbors in Portsmouth, in place of the old Piscataqua Bridge. It is expected that the boat will be on duty by the last of August, and it gives us much pleasure to add that immediately on opening the Ferry our enterprising fellow citizens, Messrs. Kimball & Thompson will put upon the route between Dover and Portsmouth a line of first rate Stage Coaches daily. There can be no doubt that our townsmen will appreciate the enterprise and bestow upon it a liberal patronage. Success to the undertaking!—Dover Gazette.

A MAN HANGING HIMSELF IN HIS SLEEP.—Last night, after all the good people of the city, and the "rest of mankind" had retired to rest, a German, by the name of George Haynes, of organ County, stopping at Walters Hotel, on Marietta street, rose from his couch and attempted to crawl out a second story window, in which act he succeeded admirably—having got himself entirely through and was about to fall to the hard pavement where his brains would have been dashed out, his foot accidentally caught between the window sash and casing, thus waking him. With one foot and one hand he hung suspended until by his cries he brought assistance. Mr. H. weighs over two hun red pounds, and consequently would have made quite an impression on the brick pavement had he succeeded in his somnambulic enterprise.—Zanesville Aurora.

STEAMER BURNT.

BUFFALO, July 18.—The Northern Indiana.—The fire originated in the woodwork around one of the chimnies, and spread very rapidly The vessel burned to the water's edge in fifty minutes. Mr. Wetmore, the first mate, commanded in the absence of Capt. Pheat; exerted himself to the utmost to save the passengers, and was the last one to leave the burning vessel. He stood at his post, throwing doors, life-preservers, stools, &c., to the passengers, who wild with excitement, were leaping overboard in masses. The weather was pleasant, and a dead calm prevailed, and Mr. Wetmore says could he have controlled the recklessness of the passengers in jumping overboard, not one of them would have been lost.

During the excitement some of the firemen and deck hands launched a small boat, into which several of them jumped, but it was drawn under the wheels of the steamer, and they were lost.

The steamer was towed on shore by the propeller Republic, and now lies in Pigeon Bay, above Point au Pelee, in ten feet of water. Her hull is said to be uninjured, and with favorable weather may be towed into port.

With regard to the number lost the reports are conflicting.

Mr. Marsh, the clerk of the vessel, arrived here this morning. He says that not less than fifty have been lost. The propeller Republic, supposed to have saved a number of the passengers, arrived at Detroit this morning, with several of the crew, but with only two of the passengers.

A dispatch from Adrian, of the 17th, says the passengers were all saved, by the Mississippi. But the Mississippi has arrived at Detroit, and saved 142 passengers only.

The following persons are known to be lost:—Newell Turner and Ariel Gray of Rome, Me.; Michael Burke and Thos. Farie, firemen, of Buffalo; Mrs. Eliza Blanchard of Augusta, Me., Henry Nims and child of Tully, N. Y.; Augustine Fortwalle of Buffalo; Geo. Lawson of Brockport, N. Y.; Mrs. Mary Ladayard of England; Mrs. Mary Ackayds, her father, mother, husband and two children, of England; G. Smith of Buffalo; Eugene Cary and child of Greenburg, Wis.; Miss Jennings of Waverly, Ill.; Hezekiah Thomas, of Buffalo; Nicholas Cummerford of Rochester; a lady and child of Louisville; three coal heavers, a deck-hand and a child. It is feared that more than these have been lost. The citizens of Detroit held a meeting and raised $800 for the sufferers, and several more hundred was raised next day. Every attention is paid them. Free railroad and steamboat passes are furnished them, and the hotels and telegraph lines are also free to them.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY, July 18.

SENATE.—The Senate, after passing an act repealing the law authorizing the erection of an armory in Washington, proceeded to the consideration of private bills.

The Senate discussed, without coming to any conclusion upon it, the bill extending the patent of Obed Hussey's Reaping Machine.

Mr. Yulee reported a bill providing for the compulsory prepayment of postage on all transient printed matter. Adjourned to Monday.

HOUSE.—The House is still engaged on the Illinois contested election case.

The resolution that Mr. Allen was not entitled to a seat was adopted by 94 against 90, and the resolution that Mr. Archer was entitled was rejected by 89 against 91.

An effort was made to reconsider the last vote, but it was lost by 4 majority.

Resolutions were then passed declaring that a vacancy exists in the 7th Congressional district of Illinois, referring the election back to the people, and giving Mr. Archer, contestant, mileage & per diem to date. Adjourned.

The special dispatch to the Boston Advertiser says:

The highly important issue of admitting Mr. Archer to his seat as a Representative of the seventh district of Illinois, was lost by the carelessness of Mr. Bliss of Ohio, who went to dinner without pairing and lost his vote.—Mr. King of New York voted with the Administration.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," run the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

A CONVERT.—The Christian Secretary says that the ordinance of Baptism was administered on Sunday at Bridgeport, by Rev. A. G. Palmer, of the first Baptist church.—The candidate was a young Irish girl, a convert from the Catholic church. Her experience given before the church, as we are informed, was satisfactory, and distinguished by an orderly arrangement of the thought and utterance, and by an amount of evangelical knowledge, that excited the astonishment and admiration of those who heard it. The girl had been violently and abusively treated by her parents, on account of the change in her religious sentiments and connections; and the parents were arraigned before the authorities a few weeks ago, to answer for their conduct. The testimony of the girl was given at some length in the Bridgeport Standard, and we had intended to publish it in our columns, but are compelled to omit it. She stated that she lived "in constant fear of her life from her father and mother;" and that she had reason for this is made sufficiently evident by the facts, as corroborated by a number of the most respectable people of the city. The parents were bound over in the sum of one hundred dollars for their appearance at the Supreme Court.

AYER'S

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

BRIDGFIELD, MASS., 20th Dec., 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. R. MONTLEY, Esq., of UTICA, N. Y., writes: "I have used your PECTORAL in my family and in my practice since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., Feb. 7, 1856.

BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your PECTORAL is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.

HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTEREY, IA., writes, 3d Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took much medicine without relief; finally tried your PECTORAL by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best you can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, PA., Feb. 4, 1856.

SIR: Your CHERRY PECTORAL is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., ALBION, MONROE CO., IOWA, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the CHERRY PECTORAL affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March 5, 1856

DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for my wife. She had been troubled with a hacking cough, dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which we did we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We blessed his kindness, as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.

Yours with gratitude and regard,

ORLANDO SHERLEY, of SHELBYVILLE.

Consumption, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all around us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the assumption of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, and Pains arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with something other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st., opp. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty) is paid back by others, will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal thereof by him within thirty days after the application.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant testimonials, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in his and foreign countries prepared and a advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.—Patents secured in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY.

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in a saying inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1854.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the laws, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MAGUIRE,

Commissioner of Patents.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the lake east, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $3 to $2 50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1 50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles in land, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1 25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or transported water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received in payment.

READY MADE FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will be sent complete set up on ground chosen any where along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such building over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the States—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

JOHN WILSON,

Land Commissioner of Ill. Central R. R. Co.,

Office up to the 1st of May, 52 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill; after that date in the New Stone Passenger Depot, So. Water st. a8 6m

JAMES BUCHANAN'S COURTSHIP.

The effort to impress the public with the belief that the democratic nominee for the presidency possesses a cold and selfish temperament, from the fact that he is a bachelor, is defeated by the general knowledge of the sadly romantic and touching circumstances which closed to him the joys of connubial life. We find the story going the rounds of the papers, without credit.

Some years ago a member of the United States Senate, distinguished not only for his talents but for his fine personal appearance, was seated in a richly furnished parlor in the city of Washington, engaged in a lively conversation with one of the most amiable and accomplished married ladies that ever honored our national capitol with their presence.—The subject was the common and most agreeable one of marriage; and the lady, with a beautiful enthusiasm natural to her character, was pressing upon the notice of her distinguished bachelor friend the claims of a young female friend, whose position in society, amiable disposition, and liberal education, eminently rendered her fit to be the wife of a distinguished statesman, who had seemingly already spent too many years of his life without a proper companion to divide his honors and bear with him willingly the ills of life.

The gentleman, who had for a long time entered with hearty good-will into the half serious and half play al conversation, suddenly became excited, and remarked that he could on such a subject, bear all that was said in jest, but when serious arguments were brought to urge him to change his condition, then his reply must be that such a thing could never be—that to love he could not, for his affections were in the grave.

The lady was struck with the Senator's manner, and surprised that throughout her long acquaintance with him she had never suspected that he had found time, amidst the struggles of a laborious profession and a high political position, to "fall in love." With the blandishments only known to the sect, and with a curiosity prompted by he kindest of hearts, she asked for an explanation of this seeming mystery; and the gentlemen, for the moment overcome by the eloquence of his interlocutor, explained as follows.

"It was my good fortune, soon after I entered upon the active duties of my profession, to engage the affections of a lovely girl, alike graced with beauty of person and high social position. Her mother, her only living parent, was ambitious; and, in the thoughtless desire to make an alliance of fashion, opposed the union of her child with one who had only his talents and the future to give in return for so much beauty and wealth. The young lady however, was more disinterested; mutual vows of attachment were exchanged, a correspondence and frequent personal interviews succeeded, and the future seemed to promise a most happy consummation of all our wishes.

At that time I had just commenced, under favorable circumstances, my profession in my native town; and making some character was finally engaged as counsel in a suit of importance before one of the courts holden in the city of Philadelphia. The opportunity was favorable to make an impression if I possessed the ability to do so; and I gladly accepted the position, and bent my whole energies to accomplish my ambition. Arranging to write frequently to one who divided my heart with my business duties, and to receive frequent epistles in return, I set out for Philadelphia, expecting to be absent at most not more than two weeks. The law's delays, however, detained me a month beyond the anticipated time; and, although I succeeded beyond my most sanguine expectations, and established myself in a position before the highest court of my native State, my triumphs were dashed that in all the time thus engaged I had not received a line from Lancaster, instead of which, the atmosphere was filled with rumors that the person upon whom I had set my affections had been seduced into the ambitious designs of her thoughtless parent, and that I had been discarded—a thing I could not believe, and yet the dreadful silence seemed to indorse.

At last, released from my engagement, I took the usual, and in those days, the only conveyance to Lancaster—the stage. The idleness consequent upon travelling gave time for consuming thoughts, and my suspense became painful to the last degree, and unable to bear the slow pace of my conveyance, I determined to anticipate the usual time of my journey, by making the last miles on horseback. In carrying out this determination, I mounted a fleet steed; but just as I reached the suburbs of my native place, the animal, from some unaccountable cause, sprang from the road, threw me with force, breaking my arm, and otherwise injuring my person. Picked up by my friends, I was conveyed helpless and full of physical and mental agony, to my home. Scarcely had the surgeons performed the necessary duties, than one, whom I esteemed a friend, announced to me the gossip of the village, and, among other things, detailed the particulars of the courtship and engagement of the young lady in whom I was interested, with a well known person of a neighboring city—a person whose claims to regard no one could dispute. These things, stated with such apparent good faith, connected with that fearful silence of six long weeks, had no other effect than to increase my anxiety to unravel the mystery; and on the following morning, concealing my wounded limb under a cloak, probably pale and haggard, I presented myself at the mansion of my mistress. I was received in the presence of the mother. She confirmed my suspicions. The young lady stood by, the picture of despair, yet silent as the grave. Desperate at what seemed this bad faith, I returned to my house, wrote a hasty letter, demanding my correspondence, and returning at the same time, every once cherished token of affection. I received all I sent for, save, perhaps, some forgotten flower.

That night the young lady, accompanied by a female servant, left for Philadelphia. Arriving at her uncle's house, she complained of being fatigued with her journey, and retired to her room. Complaining of some serious pain, only soothed by narcotics, she sent her faithful but unsuspecting servant and friend to a neighboring drug store for laudanum, received it, expressed the wish to be alone, and seemingly retired to sleep. The following morning, not making her appearance, the family became alarmed, broke open the door, and found the young lady dead—in her hand the little keepsake retained from my correspondence. The uncle, as if comprehending the particulars which led to this dreadful tragedy, had the body encoffined, and with it returned to Lancaster. Placing all that remained of this once lovely being in the parlor, he brought the mother forward, and displayed, what he was pleased to term, the result of her work.

I was sent for, and arrived to witness the eloquent agony of that mother's heart. Over the cold remains of the daughter she revealed the particulars that led to the awful result.—My letters and hers, by untiring industry, the command of large resources, and paid agents, had been all intercepted. The reason of my prolonged absence in Philadelphia had been explained as the result of he fascinating charms of city belles; even an engagement had been pronounced. All this while the victim had been full of hope. She had heard of my arrival in Lancaster, but not of my accident; for long weary hours she sat in the parlor waiting my presence, but doomed to disappointment. Here was seeming indifference, a confirmation of all that she had heard. On the other side, I was made the dupe of the mother's arts, and the fiend who had poisoned my ear was merely the agent to carry forward the great wrong. The last interview I have described, which resulted in the return of correspondence, was enshrouded in the consequences of all these plans. The result was death to one party, and the burial of the heart of the other, in the same grave that closed over one who could not survive the wreck of her affection."

Many years have passed away since the incidents detailed in the above sketch transpired; but the country strangely becomes interested in the event, from the fact that the White House may possibly have a bachelor for its occupant; but one not so because of indifference to woman, but really from the highest appreciation of one of the lovelist of her sex.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, JULY 22, 1856.

EXCELLENT SENTIMENT.—The Democratic Standard, published at Concord, N. H. and supposed to be Mr. Burke's paper, says:

If Mr. Sumner had done injustice to the State of South Carolina, or to the Senator on the floor of Congress, public opinion would ultimately have visited upon the aggressor, a punishment far more condign than that which Brooks undertook to inflict, if not so summary. The attack upon a sovereign State and her Senator, might well have been left to the corrective power of public opinion, which never fails to condemn vituperation and blackguardism, wherever indulged in, and especially in high places. Contempt and scorn are more effective weapons than canes and bludgeons. To truly sentative minds, they have in them the sting of the scorpion. We think those weapons—moral weapons—applied to Mr. Sumner, would have inflicted more efficient punishment than to assault his person.

Exactly so; all true. But then the drunken chivalry have no such moral weapons: They had used, and still use all manner of "vituperation" on all persons who they style abolitionists, and on whom they exhaust all the foul expletives in the language. The public opinion, also, of a majority of the nation, happens to be not on their side.

Now having read the excellent sentiment, let us see the cloven foot.

We repeat we do not approve of violence to correct even the abuses of speech. But, if the abolitionists in Congress will take the very best method to avoid such acts, they will be decent and decorous in speech. They cannot expect to indulge in personal vituperation and abuse, and escape from accountability, under the plea of freedom of debate.

The abolitionists must not:—every assailant of theirs, from the biggest bully in Washington down to the smallest demagogue in New Hampshire, may be as personal and as severe as he pleases—but they must not pay him in kind.

Now for duelling:

They must expect to be held accountable in some form; and, if they have not the courage to acknowledge the responsibility of gentlemen, they must expect to face the accountability of the cane and cow-hide. If they would be blackguards, they should be brave.

We have generally found the blackguard to be an arrant coward; and we perceive that the paper whence we quote indulges in these savory terms: "the monster Bank and its myrmidons and assassins,"—the wicked and treasonable machinations of abolitionism,—"and in the matter of political proscription, the Black Republicans have been equally indiscriminate and ferocious with the savages."

Now hear the closing appeal of the gentleman who wrote the above amiable phrases.

But if they will be gentlemen in speech and action, we know the Southern people so well, that we do not hesitate to warrant them, that they will not only escape personal assault but, on the contrary, they will be treated with courtesy and kindness, notwithstanding the offensive opinions which they entertain and express.

Of the Southern people, very well—but the drunken chivalry, Butler, Brooks, Herbert, &c, how very courteous, and kind! Keating, the Irish waiter, gave a true answer to the debauched and half drunken M. C. who came in from an overnight's stew—for this true answer he was assailed—defending himself he was shot and murdered. And then—last and greatest of all—the rest of the chivalry from the South, and some of it from the North, voted down a motion to inquire into Herbert's conduct.

How kind and courteous they are, as long as no one contradicts or criticises them—but dare to oppose—gags, cudgels and pistols are to be applied by owards, who go in gangs of half a dozen to the Senate house, and one ruffian steals up to strike his victim, while the rest keep watch.

O courtesy! O kindness! O chivalry!

MUSICAL.—Messrs. Murray, Young & Co., of Lancaster City, Penn., have just published a new church music book, the "Keystone Collection," edited by Prof. A. N. Johnson of Boston.

The New York Musical Review says there is no better tune in existence than "St. Anns," as arranged by the old English harmonists.

The Hutchinson Family are concertizing in Illinois. Mr. Dempster is singing in New York State.

Mr. Satter, the pianist, writes to the New York Musical World, from Boston, that he has been engaged for the seasons 1857 (fall) and 1858 for a grand concert tour in France and Germany, to begin with his native place, Vienna, for the sum of 36,000 florins (18,000) and a third of the receipts of each concert, by Dr. Auguste Verennes, a very wealthy gentleman, and for a long time the intimate friend of Fr. Chopin, the celebrated player and composer.

SAVED FROM A MUDDY GRAVE.—Yesterday afternoon, a woman named Ann Armstrong, while slightly intoxicated, tumbled into the dock adjoining a wharf at the foot of Lehigh street. The tide was out at the time, and the condition of Ann, as she was floundering about in the mud, was peculiarly uncomfortable. She was pulled out by police officer Hutchins.—Boston Traveler.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

KITTERY POINT, July 21.

Dear Uncle Toby:—You are too well acquainted with the delights of this rural and aquatical retreat, to need to be told that, which if the denizens of the dusty city once felt, they would ever after wish to enjoy. Where else can be found the combination of all the pleasures of a cool repose for the weary, or for active exercise for those, who, from sedentary pursuits, need that recreation? Here are sweet fields, odorous from the new mown grass; shaded by noble elms; with the ocean's breeze to fan your cheek, and an ocean and sky view to fan into a flame that inspiration which ever comes from communion of the heart with the loveliest scenes in nature. What glorious sunrises! what glowing sunsets! doubled in magnificence by the faithful reflection of the river-mirror. What lovely nights! when the full moon comes glimmering across the gently agitated waters. How the fresh sea air gives new vigor to the life stream which flowed so sluggishly in the city! Here within fishing-line distance one may take the bold silver mackerel, or entrap the wily, lively cunner—as sweet a dish as may by found.

From this place the most interesting points on the river are easily accessible—Fort Constitution is reached by crossing the river; the Navy Yard by sailing one mile up; and Fort M'Clary by sailing, walking, or riding one mile down. An easy walk brings one to the former residence and tomb of Sir Wm. Pepperell, a spot full of historical reminiscences. Fort Sullivan, with its commanding heights, is within a stone's-throw across the water.—These and many others well known to you, are the charms of a summer visit to this place.

The Gerrish House, so favorably known to the public for some years, under the auspices of its owner, is now open; and Mr. Amee, its present obliging and courteous landlord, is doing his best to make his guests happy & healthy. He who could not thrive on the fresh drop cakes, fish, butter and cream which Mrs. Amee presents to her guests, after a salt water excursion, should seek some aerial asylum to get an appetite.

The facilities for bathing are now completed, and for those who love the water for its own sake, and not for its frothiness, here is a charming beach for a douse or a swim.

The sand-peeps have made their appearance,—te-tering around the rocks and muscle beds, turning, wheeling and flashing their white breasts in the sunbeams. A crowd of distinguished visitors is expected from the South daily: but there is room enough.

Yours, from DIXBY'S ROCK.

The Columbia (S. C.) Carolinian, of Wednesday, after noticing the resignation of Preston S. Brooks, "with much pleasure," says: "Governor Adams has ordered a new election to be held on the fourth Monday of the present month, 28th instant, when we have no doubt Col. Brooks's course will be endorsed by his constituents."

And if it shall be—then what becomes of the assertion, made in a paper in this State, that it was only a personal affront, resented by Brooks?

CASE OF REV. D. A. TYNG.—It is currently reported that, in re Morris versus Tyng, the Diocesan thinks that he cannot interfere. He has expressed his regret, it is said, that the preacher should have been so injudicious in his choice of time and place for the delivery of his opinions on "Our country's troubles," and also his regret at the interruption which took place. In the mean time the sermon has been published, and many persons say that "it is by no means such an outrageous production as they had been led to suppose it was." True, it speaks of some things in very plain terms, much plainer than many like to use or to hear. He holds many good as well as many ultra notions, and he has no hesitancy about putting forward those notions, as he holds them, boldly, in the strongest terms, so that there can be little doubt about what he means, any more than about what he says. The bump, whose lobe of brain gives self-possession, seems to have very largely developed, and he is not to be put out or put down by trifles; it may be that this quality is not always applied in the best way, but it certainly presents an estop to the chance of making him change his course by getting up a scene of what our Canadian neighbours call "brawling in church."—Phila. cor. N. Y. Churchman.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—We learn that in the thunder tempest last Tuesday the Congregational Church in Rochester, was struck by lightning, and considerably damaged. It is said that the church was on fire in several places but extinguished without much difficulty.—Dover Gazette.

JOE SMITH'S MOTHER DEAD.—"Mother Smith," as she is called among the Mormons, the mother of the prophet Joseph Smith, is dead. She was a native of Gilsum, N. H., and was born in 1776. Her father's name was Mack. He emigrated from Connecticut into New-Hampshire.

FROM HAVANA.—New York, July 21st.—Steamer Quaker City arrived this morning. She left Havana on the 18th.

The yellow fever prevails to some extent in the environs of Havana, though there had been but few cases in the city. Gen. Concha is down with it.

Clipper ship War Hawk, from Swatow had landed a cargo of 568 Coolies; 42 had died on the passage from suicide and disease.

Lord Braxfield was an eccentric Scotch judge, with a bad tempered wife. His butler determined to leave, because Lady Braxfield was always scolding him. "Why," exclaimed the old judge, "Ye've little to complain o'; ye may be thankfu' ye're no married to her."

ANOTHER DISASTER ON LAKE ONTARIO.—A despatch from Kingston (Canada) says: The Propeller Tinto was burned last night off Nine Mile Point, and is a total wreck.—About twelve persons are lost, among them Capt. Campbell and a Mr. Henderson.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone!

LOCAL.

☞ The man who hung himself at Gravelly Ridge, on Saturday, has been proved to be Nathaniel Montgomery, formerly of Dover. He was about 50 years of age, and leaves a wife and five children, who have recently moved to Lowell, Mass. He has a sister living in Rye, and was at her house a day or two before the suicide; and was then known to be a little derange . When a young man he was for a time in an insane asylum.

☞ On Saturday last, Mr. William Clark, while at work with his scythe at the Bartlett farm, Gravelly Ridge, cut his leg very severely, severing an artery.

☞ Although we are often told that the mercantile interest in Portsmouth is totally lost, still we are favored by the arrival of quite a number of small craft, conspicuous among which, alike for elegance of form and neatness of detail, is the fine new schooner "Red Eagle," Capt. Rodgers, of New London, a vessel of 305 tons carpenter's measurement, which, for some days past, has been lying at the yard of Geo. Raynes & Son, to whom she brings a cargo of lumber, from Wilmington, N. C. H. M. J.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—[Correspondence of the N. Y. Herald.]—The Pacific Railroad Committee have agreed upon a bill, eleven members concurring, and Gen. Denver, the chairman, will report it on Monday, if he gets the floor. Three roads are provided for; one to be built north of the 44th degree of north latitude, by the Northern Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Co. of which Alexander Ramsey is President; one between the 38th and 44th parallels, to be constructed by an association of all the roads now chartered and running westward through Iowa and Missouri, the junction to be formed near Fort Kearney, and the single trunk to run to the navigable waters of the Pacific in California; the southern road is awarded to the Southern Atlantic and Pacific Railroad, of which T. Butler King is President, a new company associated with the Atlantic & Pacific Co. and the Vicksburg and Shrevesport Co. This line runs from the Mississippi, at some point south of the 38th degree, and runs to San Francisco, with a branch to San Diego; and with a grant of forty sections of land to the mile, west of Texas to the California line, and then ten sections per mile to San Francisco. No grant is made for that road east of the western boundary of Texas. The Northern road receives forty sections from point to point, 1700 miles. The middle road receives thirty sections until it reaches California; then ten sections to its western terminus. The provisions for mail pay are liberal. Telegraph lines are provided on each road. The report will be long and satisfactory, and the bill will be put through without delay.

BERTHA BURDOCK'S CHICKEN SONG.
JUST ISSUED.

[Supposed to be sung with that long blue apron on, with appropriate accompaniments on a panfull of Indian meal.—Ed. of Spirit of the Times.]

You sing of your pet canaries,
In strains would be sublime;
But I've the prettiest birdlings, O,
The darling pets of mine!
You praise your rare exotics,
Now listen the Burdock's song!
(But if you do not admire it, O,
You needn't listen long.)

"Here, chicky chick chicky chick chick!
Come hurry on, pick up your dinners!
Run along there, hasten, be quick!
You troop of voracious sinners!

Chick, chick, chick, chick, chick, chick!
(Keep the long-legged Shanghai away—)
I shew them off; hand me a stick!
They entirely devour me to-day).

Chick! little white thing! be quick!
(Eat while they are out of the way,)
Now shew——ul each voracious chick!
You've quite enough for to-day."

CONGRESS.

MONDAY, July 21.

SENATE.—The Senate adopted a resolution submitted by Mr. Hale, calling on the President for information whether any instructions had been issued to military officers in Kansas to disperse any unarmed meeting of the people, or to prevent by military power, any assemblage of the people.

HOUSE.—The House is considering the Nebraska contested election case.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The Intelligencer of this morning publishes a card from Mr. Burlingame, saying that the conversation of himself and friends with Mr. Brooks, having received an interpretation which does injustice to its real meaning, he now withdraws it, and leaves his speech to interpret itself, holding himself personally responsible for it, without qualification or amendment.

FROM MEXICO.—Advices from Mexico of July 9, state that Secretary Marcy had sent a proposition to President Comonfort to purchase another slice of Mexico. Marcy's offer, it is stated, was $6,000,000 for the 31st parallel of latitude for the boundary line to the Gulf of California. President Comonfort refused to entertain the proposition.

The departure of the Spanish fleet was hailed as a triumph of Mexican diplomacy.

Comonfort's decree for the sale of the Church property was hailed with great popular enthusiasm, and an immediate rise in the value of government stocks followed.

Gov. Franconis, of Puebla, has expelled the monks of the order of St Vincent de Paul, and they have consequently removed to the City of Mexico.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when a using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st. oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal thereof within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given, prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate — The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington — Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY.

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the pen of Hon. Charles Mason.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,

Commissioner of Patents.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to the State of Illinois to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating, and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A team with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles in land, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation; which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced prices of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brot under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FURNISHED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

JOHN WILSON,

Land Commissioner of Ill. Central R. R. Co., Office up to the 1st of May, 52 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, 19 after that date in the New Stone Passenger Depot, So. Water st. a8 6m

THE INDEPENDENT PRESS.

There is a portion of the press that claim to be independent, and to a certain extent they are. Some are independent in politics, some in religion; but many more not at all. They would be independent if they could; but this "universal Yankee nation" of ours do not know what an independent paper is—can't understand such a thing; and therefore, as a general rule, we may say that it does not exist, though there are exceptions to the rule.—A Yankee knows what a neutral paper is; for that is nothing; does nothing, says nothing, thinks nothing, knows nothing: but the very moment a press has an opinion, since that opinion must be favorable or unfavorable to a party, he declares it to be a party paper, however much the publisher may protest that the opinion is individual and not partizan; and when it has two opinions, they must coincide with each other in a party sense; or the paper is not only a partizan sheet, but it is inconsistent also. Thus whether he will or no, they make a man what he never thought to be, and declare that he is not even that.

Now what constitutes an independent paper, is not the fact that it does not express a thought favorable to any sect, but the very contrary; that holding such an opinion it dares to express it and to do it without considering its political or religious consistency, in a party sense, with anything else he says. An independent paper may think the national good demands the election of Mr. Buchanan for the next presidency, but if it says so, there is no reason why it should abuse Col. Fremont; it may still say in truth, that Col. Fremont is one of the noblest men America has produced. And when it supports Mr. Buchanan, it may think the good of Massachusetts, on account of local questions or State interest, requires the election of Henry Wilson for governor, or any man like him.

We take an extreme case; but if it was an honest opinion it would be perfectly consistent with the character of such a press, though you could as well make a Yankee believe in a winking Madonna, as in such an idea; for in his tenacity of purpose he always lo ks right ahead, sees but one object and only one side of that. The London Times or such a sheet, would have no consistency to his mind; and he would demand that it should be on one side of all questions, or say nothing; for there is little more freedom of opinion, when you come to thereal merits of the case, here, than in South Carolina.

As an illustration, it happened that we said, three months before any other paper, that John C. Fremont was the most available man, and the strongest for the opposition to unite upon. The other day a gentleman remarked to us—"you have not put up Fremont's name, though you were the first to go in for him." Now that was no such thing. We could say that a candidate was the strongest of his party, or even he would be president, and yet feel under no obligations therefore to vote for him. We are not bound to go for a successful man; it may be our duty to oppose him. We have since said, and do now say, that we believe him to be a person of great honesty, great ability, great patriotism, and great deeds; but there are others of whom we could say that, and yet knowing them to be unsound, on what we consider the vital principles of free governments, no consideration would tempt us to vote for them.

It is just so in religion. Having occasion some three years ago, to speak of the excellent character of our fellow citizen, pastor of the Catholic church, who has done so much for the welfare of his parish, a friend remarked to us, that if he thought thus, he would go there to church—just as though we could not express a favorable opinion of a man, with out being obliged to hear him preach; or even if we did hear him preach, that we were not still at liberty to dissent from what were peculiar in his views. Out upon such nonsense! there must be more freedom than that, or the world has not emerged from the fetters and obscurity of the Dark Ages!

An independent press, if it can be sustained, is of the utmost advantage to a community. It will freely and as impartially as a man can, state its views of a question, and thus give a fair chance for judgment. It will not applaud the vile and approve the false, because our party says so—for it has no party. It will not magnify the errors and obscure the virtues of opponents, for it will have no opponents. It will not run mad for victory, nor die in defeat. It will utter the truth—set itself against the false—moderate excitement—mollify the asperities of partisan and sectarian warfare, do good to all, and seek to promote the ends for which alone a press should live—to vindicate the right, defend liberty, assist the weak and unfortunate, and promote the general good of society.—Newburyport Herald.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 23, 1856.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

LETTER FROM THE SHOALS.

APPLEDORE HOUSE, ISLE OF SHOALS, July 21st, 1856.

I have no doubt Mr. Editor, that you were roasting all last week, while your correspondent was cool and comfortable. This difference in our conditions is not to be attributed to a difference in our moral deserts, but to the fact that you were so unwise or so unlucky as to be "cribbed, cabined, and confined" in a city, while I had the free range of these celebrated and breezy isles.

No pent up Portsmouth here contracts our powers. The whole unbounded sweep of Ocean's cure.

Are you really aware what blessings lie only a dozen miles from your sanctum? We are all too apt to overlook the good things that are within our reach, and I believe you do not appreciate the Shoals, for if you did, you would long ago have transferred the Chronicle office here.—Let me remind you of what you are missing by enumerating our enjoyments. In the first place we are free from the noises of the continent. No cat disturbs our slumbers with attempts to court the feline mews, no politician ruffles our tempers by long-winded speeches, no dogs howl, no enthusiastic crowd cheers for anybody, no engine whistles, no church-bells ring, no carts rattle 'o'er the stony street,' no babies cry.—The only sounds that reach our ears are the rushing of the winds and the war of the waves. No, there is a flaw to every diamond,—we do hear occasionally a little praticing on the piano. In the second place we are free from the smells of the continent. Our atmosphere is pure and unpolluted by any of the reeking odors that exhale from crowded and neglected streets. In the third place we have none of the disagreeable sights of the continent. We see only the blue ocean bearing the white sails on its bosom and reflecting the clouds that drift lazily in the sky,—and in the distance the misty line of the land with an occasional lighthouse overtopped by hills—the beacons nature builds. I wish I could describe the sunsets we witness, as they really are. Many a tourist comes home enamoured of Italian skies, who in all his wanderings has never seen such a display of Nature's painting as almost every night here glorifies the West. In the fourth place, we have no wilting and sultry heat. The thermometer never ventures above 80°, and the nights are always cool; so that while you have imitated (as far as possible) the primitive costume of Adam, we have sought the shelter of blankets by night, and broadcloth by day.

So much for neutral sensations. I wish I could impart to you a little of the inward satisfaction which we feel, especially after dinner. Here only can one know the ecstatic delight of a perfect chowder, or the solid comfort of a freshly-boiled lobster, or the delicate richness of a mackerel right out of the sea. There is one drawback, however, namely, that after you have been here you will always maintain a philosophic indifference to what is called, by courtesy, fresh fish by market-men and landlords of the continent. For amusements we have bowling, sailing and fishing. And, Mr. Editor, I commend the latter to your especial consideration; for I am sure that a fast and clean boat, hungry fish, and a 'prince of skippers,' who knows his business and does it to perfection, will rouse your enthusiasm if you are human.

I should like to tell you how much enjoyment we get from our landlord who is no less remarkable for his genial conversation and witty and wide-ranging information, than for his skill as a caterer and his attentiveness to his guests,—but I know he would be shocked to see himself in print, and besides who of your readers hasn't heard all about Hon. Thomas H. Leighton?

Have I not said enough to induce you to hurry to the wharf and put yourself under the care of Capt. Goodwin, en route for the Shoals. But the half is not told. I must not close, however, without referring to this place as a resort for invalids. I do not know whether the reason is the bracing air or the steadiness of the weather without any sudden or great changes, or the effect of a fish-diet, or all together,—but certainly my experience and observation both attest the wonderful strengthening and reviving effect of a residence here. One who has been sick many months and who came here a month ago feeble, lean and pale, can no longer claim the sympathies of his friends, for he is strong, fat and brown,—even your correspondent,

X. Y. Z.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.—At the democratic caucus of members of Congress, on Wednesday night, it was generally conceded that the election of Mr. Buchanan depends on Pennsylvania, and that success there is certain.—Consequently it was resolved that an extraordinary fund of one hundred thousand dollars must be raised for electioneering purposes in that State.—Cor. of Boston Adv.

This does not look like anybody's "walking over the course," into the White House.

THE ROMANCE SPOILED.—In the Morning Chronicle of Tuesday, July 22, we gave a romantic and beautiful account of Mr. Buchanan's Courtship and disappointment in love, which caused him to remain a bachelor all his life long. This account we found floating in the papers without credit. But now we see it in a department of Harper's Magazine called the Editor's Drawer.

Of this article, the Eastern Argus says:—

If the first article of the Editor's Drawer is intended to refer to Mr. Buchanan, the editor has been imposed upon. The Pennsylvanian says, "there never was a more unfounded romance."

Doubtless, then the whole romantic story is the merest humbug. Mr. Appleton, the editor of the Argus, was Secretary of Legation to England, with Mr. Buchanan as Minister; and he has otherwise a good personal knowledge of him.

This spoils the romance entirely.

☞ Harper's New Monthly for August, is received by Williams & Co. Boston, and J. F. Shores, jr. Portsmouth. It contains a very interesting chapter of Virginia Illustrated, with numerous engravings: also the Valley of the Connecticut, with several fine illustrations; Passages of Eastern Travel, with several Oriental Scenes; The Wonders of Vegetable Life, with 40 illustrations; more of Daniel Webster's Social Hours; another instalment of Little Dorritt; Rakings from an Old Fogy's Journal; and much other interesting miscellany, besides the indispensable editorial chapters, comicalities, fashions, &c.

THE BALLOON.—Mons. Goddard's Balloon, which was to go up from Boston on Monday P. M. did not get underway till about dark, viz. a quarter past 8, and then did not go very high nor very far, as it landed in Roxbury, a mile off or so, in 8 or 10 minutes. The two amateur balloon*ists*, or balloon*ers*, or whatever they are, did not go up at all. Mrs. Goddard went up a few feet, but the balloon alighted, and she stepped out. Mr. G. and the pony went over to Roxbury, as above mentioned: the spectators grumbled, and the press says the public are not satisfied. We are quite satisfied that ballooning is nearly all gas and gammon;—useless when well done—contemptible when the operator is tipsy or foolish.

FROM KANSAS.—We give the following extract from a letter received by one our compositors from a relative, who went out to Kansas with Maj. Buford's company:—

I have been through the "wars" in Kansas Territory, and am now perfectly tired out.

The United States Troops will not permit us to enter the Territory armed, any more, and hence "Othello's occupation's gone."—I am coming South just as soon as I can make a "raise."

The South ought to send 20,000 men here this Fall, well armed and provisioned. If she don't begin to stir her "stumps" Kansas will be a free state, sure. J. F. S.

—Montgomery (Ala.) Journal.

Gen. Wilson has just received a letter from Gov. Robinson and his fellow-prisoners in Kansas, under date of July 5, urging upon the friends of Kansas to save that territory from the curse of Toombs's bill.

Mr. Deitzler, one of the prisoners, adds in a postscript the the following:—"The plan of Toombs, if adopted, will entomb the cause of Freedom in Kansas."

FROM KANSAS.—The Cleveland Herald announces the arrival at that place, on Saturday last, of Mr. C. K. Holliday, of Topeka, (formerly of Pennsylvania,) who made the trip from Topeka to Cleveland in a little less than six days. He met with no interruption on the Missouri river, though armed bodies of men were guarding several points in anticipation of the arrival of a company of Northern emigrants. Mr. Holliday reports matters in Kansas comparatively quiet at the time he left. He says it is not true that the Free State men are leaving Kansas. None have left except a few on temporary absence. Business at Lawrence, Topeka, and other points had revived, and was going on with unabated energy, and the Free State men generally were in the very best of spirits. At Lawrence the re-building of the Free State Hotel was about to be commenced, and was to be enlarged to double the dimensions of the one destroyed by Sheriff Jones and his mob.—The new hotel will be 60 feet by 125. A fine Unitarian church is also completed.

CALIFORNIA.—A letter from San Francisco says—

Should the governor persist in his mad purpose, and attempt to suppress the vigilance committee by force, the work will be a short but bloody one—but woe to the vile herd of gamblers, shoulder-strikers and knaves who will gather around the official standard.—When the smoke of the battle clears away, the great "law and murder" party will be no more. The sovereignty of the people will be established, and the laws wrested from the hands of the officers who have trampled them under foot.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—An old man, of 70 years, named Hagen, attempted to commit suicide Monday afternoon, by throwing himself overboard at the foot of Second street, South Boston. He was taken out insensible, but was restored by proper efforts. Domestic troubles he acknowledge to be the cause, and he regretted that he was saved.—Times.

PREDICTION.—A correspondent of the Eastern Argus, writing from Iowa, says Iowa is sure for Buchanan and Breckinridge, as are most, (if not all) of the Western States.

CONGRESS.—The House on Saturday was engaged upon private bills and succeeded in passing one, and debated another until the hour of adjournment.

Charles Potter, a middle aged deaf and dumb man, was instantly killed on the Providence and Hartford Railroad, about half a mile from Washington Village, Coventry, on Thursday of last week. He was walking on the track, when a freight train approached unobserved and run over him.—Prov. Trans.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "motto" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

☞ The "Festival of Beauty," is to be held at the Temple this(Wednesday)evening. It is well worthy of the attention of all who would cherish a love for the beautiful. Mr. Pennell is a pleasant and popular, and, so a successful teacher of the young; and does much to develope a taste for music and flowers, wherever he goes. He has a large class of youthful singers, and will give a good concert.

LIGHTNING.—A heavy shower visited this city and neighboring towns on Monday evening. In Rye, a man named Stevens, was instantly killed by the lightning, which struck a tree under which he had taken shelter from the rain. The deceased was a man about 35 years of age, and leaves a wife and one child.

☞ An Extra Train of six cars, on the Eastern Railroad, visited this city and vicinity, on Tuesday, from Lynn, Mass. The passengers were a party of Sunday School scholars, teachers, and friends, of the 2d Universalist Society in Lynn. They visited Portsmouth, Rye Beach, and Greenland.

CONGRESS.

MONDAY, July 21.

SENATE.—The Senate adopted a resolution submitted by Mr. Hale, calling on the President for information whether any instructions had been issued to military officers in Kansas to disperse any unarmed meeting of the people, or to prevent by military power, any assemblage of the people.

The Senate passed the bill amendatory of the act of December 17, 1792, concerning the registering and recording of ships or vessels, the object being to make it conform to the present regulations of the Treasury Department.

The bill for the armament of fortifications, alteration of small arms, etc., was amended, reducing the proposed appropriations from $3,000,000 to $1,800,000, and then passed by 27 against 10.

Nays—Messrs. Biggs, Durkee, Fessenden, Hale, Houston, Thompson of Ky., Toombs, Trumbull, Wade and Wilson.

A resolution was passed, providing for the close of the session on the 11th of August.

The following bills were then passed:

Regulating fees and costs,and other judicial expenses of the government, throughout the United States:

Making appropriations for the improvement of the Delaware Breakwater:

Also, for the improvement of certain harbors in Maine, and the harbors of Marquette, Michigan, and Manitowall, Wisconsin. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House is considering the Nebraska contested election case.

The Committee on Elections reported a resolution that Bird B. Chapman was not, and that Hiram P. Bennett was elected delegate.

Mr. Watson made a speech in favor of the resolution, when the subject was passed over.

The daily hour of meeting was changed from 12 to 11 o'clock.

Humphrey Marshall, from the Judiciary Committee, reported a bill to establish a uniform rule of naturalization. Referred to the Committee of the Whole.

Mr. Smith of Tennessee moved a suspension of the rules, with a view to action on the Senate resolution, just received, to adjourn on the 11th of August.

Mr. Dunn said he should move to amend it by adding, as a condition, that on or before that, an act be passed and receive executive sanction, for the settlement of the troubles in Kansas, containing, among its provisions, one for the re-establishment of the slavery restriction applicable both to Kansas and Nebraska.

Mr. Meacham gave notice of a substitute for a recess from the 4th of August to the 20th of October, provided that no extra mileage or per diem during the recess should be paid.

Mr. Smith's motion prevailed by 128 against 46.

Mr. Dunn moved to table the resolution.—Lost—59 to 105.

Mr. Campbell of Ohio moved an amendment, substituting the 2d of September, showing that it was impossible to transact the public business before that time.

Mr. Havens said the remedy was to fix an early day, and then go to work industriously. He commented on the manner in which so much valuable time had been wasted. As to Kansas, he believed that the majority of the House will pass a bill for the restoration of the Missouri restriction, knowing at the same time that the Senate would reject it.

Mr. Meacham said Mr. Havens had no right to make a speech impugning the motives of other members.

Mr. Havens disclaimed any such intention.

Mr. Greenwood suggested the 18th of August, saying three weeks were long enough for practical purposes.

Mr. Giddings thought two weeks were as good as two months. He dissented from Mr. Havens, and do what was right, without inquiring whether the Senate would or not.

Mr. Havens replied that he (Havens) would do what was right, but when he could not get other men to do what was right, he would abate a little rather than the citizens in Kansas should bleed, and rather than go before the country with an offer to the Senate not made in sincerity.

Mr. Giddings said Mr. Havens had been all the session finding out which side was wrong, instead of asking himself whether the act to be performed was just. He brought here the bugbear of the Senate. Now he (Giddings) would act right though the Heavens fall.

Mr. Dunn said he had come here with high expectations —(A voice, "No doubt of it!") —that the Missouri Compromise would be restored. He was exceedingly sorry they had grown smaller and smaller, until they had entirely disappeared. He was persuaded that no effort would be made to restore it. There could be no peace in the country till that was done, in substance or in fact, and the North and South must remember this. Until the question of individual safety in Kansas was settled, no appropriations should be passed.

(Cries of "Agreed — agreed—that's it—that's the talk")

r. Dunn continued. The only way to insure a compliance was to stop the wheels of government, and give some trouble while they were rolling. As for the Presidency—he would not go for Buchanan or Fremont, but for the man living in New York, as the only one whose election gives promise of peace.

Mr. Lester made an ineffectual motion to table the resolution. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—During the Herbert trial this morning, Mr. Brooks came into Court, and paid his fine of 300 dollars, and eighty-five dollars cost.

It is said that Edward C. Stiles of Pennsylvania has been appointed Consul to Vienna.

The reports of the majority and minority of the Kansas Commission make nearly 1200 octavo pages. The design is to call up the Kansas contested election next week.

WASHINGTON, July 21 —The Postmaster General has just ordered a daily mail from Jefferson City to Springfield, Mo., at the instance of Maj Phelps, thus opening a direct and expeditious route to the Osage and Cherokee countries from St. Louis.

The Herbert trial will, probably, close on Wednesday. New testimony having been procured, the cross-examinations are more rigid and prolonged than on the former trial. The interest in the case continues unabated.

The Senate confirmed the nominations of John Forsyth as Minister to Mexico, and Walker Fearne, as Secretary of Legation, today.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Francis C. Treadwell of New York, yesterday made affidavit that he had reason to believe that a challenge to fight a duel had passed between Messrs. Brooks and Burlingame, and that they were making preparations to fight; he therefore prayed that the parties be arrested and put under bonds.

Brooks was arrested this morning, and held in $5000 to keep the peace.

The Police are in search of Mr. Burlingame, who left the District late last night or early this morning, with the supposed intention of receiving a challenge. Up to noon today, his friends could not tell whether or not there had been a meeting, though a rumor to that effect is in circulation.

NEW YORK, July 22nd.—Three lager-beer distileries in 5th street, were destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. They were owned by Messrs. Miller, Rupert, and James.

Rupert's loss is between $50,000 and $60,000. Miller's and James's $10,000 each.—Rupert had $30,000 worth of lager-beer in his vaults.

Seven or eight dwelling houses were also burned; loss about $14,000.

The New York Herald says: "We have private advices from San Francisco to the effect that, on the 20th of June, the Vigilence Committee unanimously adopted the resolution to disband on the 24th of the same month.

In the towns of Haverhill, Burton and Piermont, N. H., wolves are quite numerous, and are doing extensive damage to flocks of sheep and to young cattle. One farmer in Haverhill lost over forty sheep in one night, about two weeks since. The selectmen of those towns have offered a bounty of $100 per head for wolves, and the State bounty is $20 more.

A cargo of 750 negros was landed at, and distributed from the bay of Cabanas, ten days since. The landing was effected without discovery, by an American clipper ship, built down east, and fitted out in New York, says a letter in the Journal of Commerce, from Havanna July 10.

We learn that the $200,000 necessary to be raised to extend the New Haven & New London Railroad to Stonington, has been subscribed, and that the road will be put under contract at once. Of course the contemplated road from Westerly to Groton will not be built.—Providence Transcript.

For the hot weather, says the New York Mirror, two costumes are recommended to gentlemen. One is a whole suit made of India rubber in one piece, to tie tightly at the neck, to fit closely elsewhere, and from time to time to be filled with cold water or with a lump of ice. Another is more compendious, being merely—a lady's skeleton petticoat tied round the neck!

The New Orleans Delta says:—We understand that Mrs. J. Morrison Heady, a lady who has been a resident of New Orleans for the last twenty years—ten of which she enjoyed all the blessings of life, but the remaining years in sad reverses—has lately become heiress to property in England worth $250,000.

HOBSON'S CHOICE. — Mr. F. Plummer Hobson was married in Richmond, Va., on the 9th inst., to a daughter of Governor Wise of that State.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only tender it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they clear at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 16, 1854.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife great good. I think I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctor bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

From a Prominent Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the parent of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORGRIDGE

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure; by persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Piles, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Yet, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the Cherry Pectoral saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, for neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful history of lung affections, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and then afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and at all the points it touches within miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from those to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned soil is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2 50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of inland lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1 25 per acre are not as good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is so far greater, and for hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and leaves a different precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and other with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual instalments; the first to become due the two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro't under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained by application to Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the rapid settlement of the country this country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, rent of farms, cost of labor, harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

Whalebone Skirts.

THE only Objection to a Whalebone Skirt is to give a proper, graceful and elegant form to a lady's dress. Unless this is accomplished, the article is entirely worthless. The Ladies, by referring to Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions for April, will notice that E. & J. HOLMES have from actual experience been successful in producing this most desirable article, and that their IMPROVED SEAMLESS SKIRT meets the unanimous approbation of the ladies. They are light, pliable, and elastic, and the only Skirt which is equally adapted to the street and the crowd; are made in one piece or breadth, and in our opinion, and in the opinion of thousands of ladies who have bought them, the most reliable goods of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce a Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacture and retail of these goods, we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of cord, and all starched goods, cannot be used satisfactorily, as they will not recover their place when pressed out of shape. We consider all as worthless, of whatever material made, unless there is something of sufficient stiffness and elasticity, and at the same time yielding and pliable, to keep the dress in proper shape below the bones. To accomplish this we have our cord made under our own direction, and expressly for our goods, and from the only material that can be used that will recover its proper place when pressed out of shape, and are so twisted in manufacturing that they will not roll or curl when wet, and warranted to wash without injury. The public are cautioned against all worthless goods, as the market since our goods have become popular and extensively known, has been flooded with goods of all kinds, and put together without form or comeliness, or any other object but to sell, and of course are called Whalebone Skirts. Some imitators, in their efforts to profit by our reputation, have gone so far as to copy almost exactly our trade mark upon their goods.

Please Notice.—Every genuine article stamped, E & J. HOLMES'S IMPROVED SEAMLESS WHALEBONE SKIRT, and may be found by the trade in many of the largest Jobbing Houses in New York and Boston, and at retail in the principal Dry Goods stores.

CELEBRATED WINE DRINKERS.

No. III.

Dr. Magin comes next. Learned, eloquent, large hearted, ready, and in good health, he might have been rich, happy, and useful, but fondness for the ruby wine blighted his career. Speaking of him, a writer in the Irish Quarterly Review said:

"He now turned for comfort and inspiration to the foul fiend, brandy, which has been the cause of misery and death to so many men of genius. We regret the errors of Addison and Steele; we sigh at the recollection of poor Moreland the painter, working at his last picture, with a brush in one hand, and a glass of brandy in the other; for he had arrived at that terrible condition in which reason could only reach him through intoxication; and Magins, not so fallen as this, sunk deeply. The weary hours of lonely watching brought no resource but that which copious draughts of the liquid could supply. Health was fast falling away, the brightest years of life were past forever; and as the dim future lowered, he gazed upon it under the influence of the demon which enthralled the brilliant souls of Addison, of Sheridan, of Charles Lamb; and which sent the once stalwart form of Theodore Hook, a miserable, wretched skeleton to the grave."

The writer of Passages from the History of a Wasted Life, relates a sad story of this brilliant inebriate:

"Maginn had a daughter to whom he was deeply and tenderly attached. She was about to be married, but her father had no portion to give her. Suddenly he determined to keep steady and work. He did so—abandoned drink, and soon earned enough to enable him to furnish a house splendidly for the young couple, who were accordingly united and set off on the marriage tour—on their return from which, they were to occupy the pretty new dwelling.

"On the evening after the marriage, Dr. Maginn walked to the well furnished house—sat down on a sofa, and afterwards walked over the apartments well pleased.

"Ah!" said he, "I have some reason to be proud; all this is the work of my own hand!"—Then he sent for a friend to come and admire it also; and after all had been inspected, he two sat down in the drawing room.

"Now," said Maginn to the old woman, who was left in care of the house and furniture, "go and fetch a bottle of brandy, and we'll drink the young people's health."

"The spirits was fetched and drank; and then more was procured. Other persons were also sent for, and the beautiful drawing room was soon converted into a scene of bacchanalian revelry. Songs were sung, speeches were made, and healths drank, and so it went all night. The ball had been set in motion, and on it went. The Doctor's money was all spent, so article after article of furniture was sent out to be pawned! Then went the piano—then sofas, beds—all but the chairs they sat on, and the table. At last, these went too, and the carousers sat on the floor round the punch bowl! Nor did they cease their revels until the bride came home to a house from which every article of furniture had been swept away."

There is a sense of degradation such as any in the slums of St. Giles could not excel. And yet it was one in which literary gentlemen were the chief actors. Truly, the pledge is needed in high life as well as low life.

Here is one sketch more. Some years ago there was a young man who grew famous as a public lecturer. Crowds went to hear him.—He sat in the splendid halls of the rich. Fame and wealth waited upon him. Smart, droll, energetic, highly educated, proud, and a fine speaker, he drove the world before him. And then he fell and such a fall; I found him in a den of filthy wretches—himself the lowest, meanest, worst.

"What are you doing for a living?"

"I recite in public houses, and when I am not allowed to do that, I sing in the streets."

"Why do you do this?"

"The light of other days is faded," was his curiously appropriate reply.

What could I say? He had fully described and rebuked himself.

It were easy to write a commentary upon these sketches, but none that would render the warning of Solomon superfluous. "Wine is a mocker; strong drink is raging! and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise. Who hath wo? Who hath sorrow? Who hath contentions?—Who hath wounds without cause?—Who hath redness of eyes? They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to seek mixed wine. Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his color in the cup, when it moveth itself aright; at the last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder." The sparkling wine is death; the sparkling water is life. Who then would drink wine? Who is wise in despising water? "Spring up, O, well. British Advocate.

The Latest Dodge Yet.—The San Francisco vigilance committee, in the course of their investigations into the case of a coroner whom they had arrested, elicited satisfactory evidence that he was in the habit of disinterring the bodies of persons who had been buried, for the purpose of dropping them in the docks, and thus receiving the fees attending an inquest. In this way, it is said, one body has been made to do service three or four times—or as long as it would hold together. This accounts in part for the great number of bodies that, but a little while ago, were constantly found under the wharves of San Francisco.

Cincinnati, July 21.—Wm. Arrison was to-day convicted of manslaughter on the third trial, for causing the death of Mr. Allison, by an infernal machine about two years ago.—Great dissatisfaction is expressed with the verdict. The sentence will be deferred, and he will be put on trial for the murder of Mrs. Allison, for which an application has been made for change of venue.

Fire in Eliot, Me.—A dwelling house and other buildings situated opposite Eliot Common, occupied by a Mr. Stackpole and owned by Mr. Jenks, druggist, corner of Portland and Merrimac streets, Boston, caught fire one day last week and were entirely consumed, together with nearly all the furniture and wearing apparel of the occupants. The buildings were fully insured.—Ballot.

Nearly a Holocaust.—A man residing in Hamilton street, Boston, went home Sunday night, drunk and having lighted his pipe he lay down in bed to take a comfortable smoke. He fell asleep, and his dudheen fell among the bedclothes, which got on fire, and the sleeper was with difficulty saved from being burnt alive, and the house from destruction by the police.—Times.

More than thirty Steamboats have been destroyed by fire, fifteen demolished by the ice, and twelve rendered useless by boiler explosions thus far, during the present year, on the Western waters. Sixteen have been burned at Algiers, Louisiana, and St. Louis, Missouri.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, JULY 24, 1856.

WHERE SHALL I GO?

To us, there seems, and always has seemed to be, no prevalent idea more foolish, than the desire of emigrating from New England, somewhere—generally 'out West.' We believe the sun does not shine upon another spot where so much real comfort and true happiness may be had for the seeking and working, as in these same old quiet Eastern States. True, a man may somewhere else get a little more money for his day's or month's work, than here; but he must, in a new country, either pay more for the comforts and real luxuries here attainable,—or as is usually the case, do without them.

If a man or a company of men will work as hard here, and put up with as poor accommodations and cheap fare, as they must be content with in a new and wild country, we have no doubt those who stay at home can increase their stores as fast and more surely, than those similarly situated in the most highly colored spot 'out West.'

These remarks are, perhaps, more especially applicable to tillers of the soil, than to mechanics; though in a great degree they are equally true of workingmen in almost every department of industry. And we were led to this train of thought, by a couple of paragraphs we have chronicled within a short time—one of which stated the number of farms deserted in this State within a few years, their self deluded occupants emigrating West; and the other mentioning the return of a family to Machias, Me., after they had tried the new country.

And to illustrate the subject, we quote below an article from the Newburyport Herald, telling "what perseverance can accomplish."

It has been said, and with much more of truth than is credited, that a Yankee can subsist upon a rock. A verification of this remark may be found near here, upon the farm of Mr. Balch, on the opposite side of the Merrimac river; and not only this, but it extends further, and shows that a Yankee may make money upon a barren waste. Seven years ago a more unproductive spot could not be found. There was hardly vegetable life sufficient upon it to graze a goat. Scarcely a rod of the land that was not covered with huge boulders or ledges of rock, which not only defied the plough, but seemed to resist the skill and efforts of man to remove them. But yet the obstacles have been overcome, and that by the hand of a single man, whose perseverance and industry, has in a few years turned these barren rocks into a regular and productive garden,—blasting the stones and piling them up for walls, digging many ditches for better security and making of the earth a fertilizing matter, carting in dirt and overlaying the ledges, filling up here and blasting down there, until a surface was obtained; and all this time, subsisting upon the products of those places which were yearly reclaimed, or made and added to the main ground. It is worth one's time to visit this garden, to see how much may be accomplished by determination and industry.

The land being underlaid with rocks, is kept warmer, and its crops are in advance of those upon other land. The strawberry beds showed an abundant yield, and the grape vines are already loaded with fruit.—The yield of grass upon those portions which have not as yet been laid out for other purposes is large, and the grass is of most excellent quality.—Everything about the place is in good order, and although the proprietor is dependent almost wholly upon his own labor in making his farm, time has been found to gratify fancy and good taste, in laying out walks and forming beds. He has about five acres under cultivation, and in a few years will realize a profit that will doubly pay the trouble. The lands are surrounded by a trench and a substantial and well built stone wall.

If the labor of one man can accomplish such results, and turn to profitable account a mass of rocks, we see no reason why the poorest laborer may not possess a farm, and in that farm the means of wealth and the stepping-stone to position. There is plenty of land in this neighborhood vastly better than this, that can be obtained almost for the asking. Indeed, we doubt if there can be found a spot of the size in the county of Essex, unless it be in the vicinity of this, that would require one tithe of the labor to bring it to a good state of cultivation.

There are hundreds of poor men every where who might, if energetic, provide for themselves and families, by settling down upon some spot of land in their vicinity, which may be bought for a song, and if they could not at once secure competence, would provide a comfortable home, and make of themselves independent men and valuable citizens. Energy and industry are all that are needed, and these qualities will soon show their value when applied in this manner.

Now although it may not be a fair inference, that every man should go to digging among boulders, even when richer and easier land is at hand; yet this case does show to us, that farmers need not emigrate in order to get through the world comfortably. The same amount of energy, industry and self-denial, that is necessary to tame the wilderness—expended at home, will pay a much larger premium. This being the case, it is folly and madness to pine for a western swamp, while not one half the land in Maine and New Hampshire is cultivated at all, and not a tithe of that which is occupied, is properly dealt with.

A correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune writes that Senator Hamlin will not resign his place.

BROOKS AND BURLINGAME.—In addition to the items in the Morning Chronicle of Wednesday, the Boston Advertiser's special despatch from Washington, Tuesday evening 10 o'clock, says:

Mr. Brooks yesterday addressed Mr. Burlingame, inquiring where outside the District of Columbia, he would receive a message from him;—that this note was probably sent by the hand of Gov. Lane of Oregon;—that Mr. Burlingame who, as the party to be challenged, had a right to name the place of meeting, named the Clifton House, on the Canada side of Niagara Falls, where there could be no outside interference;—probably, that taking with him General Charles James of Wis., as his friend, he left the District last night, in order to avoid arrest, and took the cars between here and Baltimore this morning, on his way to the Falls; that Mr. Brooks declined going to Canada, on the ground that it would not be safe for him to do so. He has been arrested here today, and bound over in the sum of $5000 to keep the peace.

I have also no doubt that his confidential advisers as to his movements yesterday, were Senator Sam Houston of Texas, and a distinguished member of the House whom it is unnecessary to name.

Mr. Burlingame will probably proceed to the Falls, unconscious that Mr. Brooks is not following,—will wait a reasonable time for Brooks, and then return.

In answer to the statement of a New York paper, that Mr. Burlingame's friends alone goaded him to withdraw his original memorandum, I reply that his enemies distorted and misrepresented it also.

Another dispatch, half an hour later, confirms the foregoing statements, and adds:

Mr. Burlingame addressed Mr. Brooks a note last night, acknowledging the receipt of his message asking where he would receive a communication from him, and informing him that he would meet him on Saturday noon, at the Clifton House, Niagara Falls, where any difference between them could be settled. Mr. Burlingame then immediately started. Mr. Brooks, on receiving this note, said he would pursue the subject no further. It is understood that Mr. Brooks's friends will publish the correspondence tomorrow.

[From another source we had an intimation that there was a hostile meeting between Mr. Brooks and Mr. Ashmun—but this may be incorrect.]—Boston Adv.

The public sentiment in New England is not in favor of duelling, nor club law, nor gag law. So, if Mr. Burlingame, and Mr. Ashmun, and Mr. Anybody from New England, choose to fight duels with a man whose constituents approve of all the three abominations above named—they fight at great disadvantage.

But if they would take the ground that they will not fight duels, because they would thereby disgrace and injure themselves at home,—but defend themselves if attacked, they would stand vastly better.

Senator Wilson declined a challenge on his own responsibility, as wrong, but claimed self defence as a right which he would exercise—and he stands well.

We wish our representatives to be neither bullies, duellists, nor cowards,—but men, who know their rights, and knowing, dare maintain them.

P. S.—The correspondence is published in the Boston papers of Wednesday evening.—It does not redound greatly to the honor of anybody. Brooks had the honor of a duellist and a bully before—he has no more now.—Burlingame has not the honor of a duellist nor yet of a man who declines a duel. Mr. Brooks declined to go to Canada, "700 miles through the enemies' country," for fear of arrests and dangers.

☞A semi-annual Meeting of the New Hampshire State Teachers' Association, will be held in the Academy, at Wolfborough, commencing Tuesday, August 12th, at 3 o'clock, P. M. The order of exercises includes the appointment and Reports of Committees, reading of Essays, &c. Addresses will be delivered by Prof. A. Crosby, of Westfield, Mass.; Dr. C. F. Elliot, Great Falls; Prof. H. Brickett, of Merrimack, Mass.; and Rev. Lyman Whiting, of Portsmouth.

Teachers are urged to "have a glorious gathering, in this Summer vacation, on the shores of the beautiful Winnipisseogee, and let the work of this meeting tell upon the interests of Education, in New Hampshire."

They "are assured of a cordial reception by the citizens of Wolfborough. Arrangements for reduced fare on return will be made so far as possible."

The New York Mirror, which has rather leaned towards Fillmore has finally declared for Fremont. The Mirror has, no doubt, been brought to this state by reflecting the luminous articles of the Herald.—Boston Post.

And the Herald, in all probability, owes its sudden conversion to its ambition to be in company with the Tribune and Times, and to its admiration of the Courier and gratitude to its editor!—Boston Courier.

Putting the two items together, as we find them above, with our previous knowledge of papers there,—we find that in New York City, the following papers, of great circulation, all support Fremont for President, viz. Evening Post, Independent, Courier & Enquirer, Herald, Tribune and Times. They never all united on one candidate before.

One hundred millions of dollars worth of hay will be raised on Uncle Sam's farm this year—equal in value to the cotton crop.

COMMENCEMENT AT DARTMOUTH.—The anniversary exercises at Dartmouth College, will commence on Tuesday, July 29, with an oration on the character of Washington, by the Hon. Edward Everett. On Wednesday, at 10 o'clock, A. M., Prof. Hitchcock of the Union Theological Seminary, New York, will address the Theological Society of the College. At 2 o'clock, P. M., of the same day, Prof. Huntington, of Harvard College, will deliver the annual oration before the united literary societies. This oration will be followed by a poem from Mr. W. H. C. Hosmer.—The exercises of the graduating class will take place on Thursday, July 31.

☞Four boys, sailing in Salem harbor last Sunday, were upset and would have been drowned, but that a boat from a steamer at hand picked them up. The young Sabbath-breakers may learn a lesson from their accident. There was one of them, however, who is a noble boy. As the boat came near, he besought them to leave him and pick up a younger lad who was just ready to sink—they did so, and thus all were saved. That was too good a boy to be sailing Sundays,—says the Newburyport Herald.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, 'Warranted by R. Crowley.' A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

☞ Mr. Pennell's "Festival of Beauty," at the Temple on Wednesday evening, was a very pleasing exhibition, and elicited much praise from the audience. The children appeared beautifully, and performed their parts well. The stage was tastefully decorated—and the whole affair reflects creditably upon Mr. Pennell. The exhibition is to be seen once more, this evening—and you 'd better go. See advertisement.

☞ At a meeting of the members of the Executive Committee of the Rockingham County Musical Association, who reside in Portsmouth, on Tuesday evening, it was voted to be inexpedient to hold their proposed Convention at Exeter, in August next.

The Association will hold their third annual Musical Convention at Portsmouth, in January next, agreeably to their constitution and vote.

☞ We are under obligation to Mr. C. M. Meinerth, for a copy of his new composition, "a Nocturne" for the piano-forte. It may be had at the bookstore of J. H Foster.

☞ A Keystone Club was organized in this city on Wednesday evening. The following are the officers:

Hon. Richard Jenness, President;

Wm. Rand, Augustus Jenkins, Wm. Fry, Albert Hayes, Daniel Marcy and A. Greenleaf, Vice Presidents;

G. H. Rundlett, Cor. Sec.

EARLY CORN.—Uncle Toby acknowledges the receipt of some first fruits of the Corn crop, from the farm of Messrs. J. M. & T. G. Furber, in Newington, and also from Mr John Lowe Pickering, of the same place.

☞ The Hay Crop, in this vicinity comes in well,—a better crop than for the last three years,—but not so large as in some former years.

For the Chronicle.

THE SABBATH.

Mr. Editor—As you have had considerable on the subject of 'Desecration of the Sabbath' it may not be amiss to have a third person express a few thoughts on the subject.

I do not consider that for a person who is confined to labor during six days of the week to take either a walk, a ride, or a sail on the seventh, is an act of Sabbath breaking; for where can a keener sense of the greatness and goodness of God be gratified, than in viewing and enjoying his works?

Some may think it more devotional to attend church; but is it reasonable to suppose, that in the sight of God, that man who goes to one of our miserably ventilated churches, listens to the singing, and during the sermon either dozes or revolves in his mind the business of the past or coming week, or listening to the discourse, hears a bitter, invective against another body because in some point they disagree with "our church," is more acceptable than the lover of nature who walks through the verdant fields, whose silent offering of incense casts a softening influence over the mind: or in the aisles of the forest, the slightest zephyr breathing through the tree tops, a pleasing monody to the glorious creator of such magnificent temples of worship, the tall trunks putting to shame the puny columns which man loves to rear in his churches, while the feathered choristers warble, far up in those umbrageous galleries, a song of thanksgiving, such as would raise a blush on the cheek of our hired minstrels (not that the laborer is not worthy of his hire) should they vie, one with another for the precedence, or taking his boat, skim the waters of the restless ocean, and hear the majestic chorus of waves, as they surge heavily on our rock-bound coast, proclaiming the might of Him who can hold the sea in the hollow of his hand?

God has been represented to us as a loving and merciful father; Jesus bases the greater part of his teachings on this point, preaching forbearance, setting seventy times seven, as a gauge beyond which we must go before it ceases to be a virtue; and shall man be more lenient than God?

I have been a careful peruser of the controversy contained in your interesting little daily, for a day or two back, but have seen nothing adduced which leads to a conclusion such as "W." would have us infer. SPECTATOR.

Portsmouth, July 22d.

Uncle Toby will just append a note to this effect, viz: The true and devout worshipper, whether in ship or on shore,—in the temple made with hands, or in that House of God and Gate of Heaven where Jacob worshipped—is doubtless accepted and blessed; while the man who trifles or snores in a pew, and the other man who trifles and drinks in a boat, or lounges and trespasses in the fields,—are but triflers at best, and not worshippers.

Individual or private worship is well,—and this can be performed anywhere—for God is everywhere. But public worship must be in some place where masses of worshippers can be conveniently brought together—and this is commonly in a house, generally in one built for the purpose, wherein those persons who deem public worship a privilege and a blessing are wont to assemble.

This note is on worship, rather than on the Sabbath—and so is Spectator's communication, which barely touches the question before discussed.

In the 'Life of Wilberforce,' is the following entry in his diary: "Went to hear Mr. Foster. Felt much devotion, and wondered at the man who fell asleep during the psalm. During the sermon went to sleep myself!"

ONE WEEK LATER FROM EUROPE.

NEW YORK, July 23.—The Persia arrived this morning. She left Liverpool 12th inst, with 200 passengers.

England.—The chief feature of interest in London was the return of the Guard from the Crimea, after an absence of two years. The Queen and Royal family, together with Prince Oscar of Sweden and a crowd of noble ladies and gentlemen, waived them a welcome from the balconies of the palace. Half a million persons were assembled.

In Parliament there had been no reference to American affairs, excepting some interrogations concerning the boundaries of the Belize.

The Spinning Mills of Joseph Ainsworth, at Bolton, have been burned. They contain 80,000 spindles.

Ireland.—A serious riot occurred at Nenagh on the 6th of July and succeeding days, caused by the alleged bad faith of the government towards the militia. They had been ordered to disband and give up their clothing and arms, which they refused to do; but instead broke open the magazines, seized the ammunition, and afterwards paraded the streets.—Assistance was telegraphed for, and one thousand troops of the line soon arrived, and after a short struggle they succeeded in disarming the insurgents. Three of the insurgents and one of the regulars were killed and about a dozen wounded. At the latest accounts all was quiet.

The Crimea.—The definite evacuation of the Crimea took place July 5, on which day Marshal Pellissier embarked for home.

CONGRESS.

TUESDAY, July 22.

SENATE.—The Senate adopted a resolution of inquiry as to the extent to which iron may be substituted for wood, stone and brick in public buildings.

Mr. Butler introduced a bill proposing a salary of $3000 to members of Congress, instead of their present per diem, retaining their present pay for extra sessions.

The Senate concurred in the action of the House to adjourn on the 18th of August.

The bill continuing the improvement of the harbor of Racine, Wisconsin, was passed by 24 against 2.

A long debate on the constitutionality and expediency of appropriations for such purposes ensued on the bill for continuing the improvement of the harbor of Kenosha, Wis., but the bill was passed. Adj.

HOUSE.—The House passed the Senate resolution with an amendment fixing the 18th of August for the close of the session; yeas 123, nays 51.

The resolution of the Committee on Claims, declaring Chapman not elected, was rejected—63 against 9. Adj.

FATAL AND HORRID ACCIDENT BY CAMPHENE.—A most deplorable casualty occurred in one of the negro quarters on the farm of Dr. Anthony G. Boykin, near Smithfield, in Isle of Wight county, on Sunday night last, by which two women and two children were burned to death, and three children so badly burned that they are not expected to recover. The sad catastrophe was caused by one of the women, while in the act of pouring camphene from a jug into a lamp, the wick of which was lighted. The women were exceedingly valuable, and Dr. Boykin would have refused $1,000 each for them. They were the mothers of the children who suffered with them. One was in bed at the time with a newly born infant. Mother and babe both fell a sacrifice to the flames.—Norfolk Herald, Wednesday.

DROWNED.—A respected citizen of East Greenwich, R. I., by the name of George W. Champlin, was drowned on Sunday morning last, while on a sailing and fishing excursion He was attempting to swim ashore from his boat, which had been struck by a flaw and and partially sunk.

PAPER FROM REED.—The Baltimore Co. Advocate, published at Towsontown, Md., comes printed upon paper made of southern cane or reed, which is commonly used for fishing rods.

"Two days ago," writes a Paris correspondent of Le Nord, "there died at Versailles, in complete obscurity, a personage who has a name in history—Court de Bombelles,, who after Napoleon 1, and the Count de Niepperg, was the third husband of Marie Louise."

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

W. P. Fetridge & Co. Proprietors, 323 Pearl street, New York, and 100 Washington street, Boston. For sale in Portsmouth by William R. Preston. 6mje16

The Washington correspondence of the New York Evening Post says that Senator Hamlin has determined, reluctantly, to accept the Republican nomination of candidate for Governor of Maine, though he had, in advance, positively refused the use of his name to the Convention which nominated him.

All the Presidential candidates furnish proof of Roman Catholic proclivities. Col. Fremont was married by a German Catholic Priest. Mr Fillmore's daughter was educated in a Roman Catholic School, and Mr Buchanan adopted the Roman Catholic doctrine of celibacy! 'Our Liberties are in danger.'

30,000 copies of Upham's life of Fremont have been sold, and the demand for them increases.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within 10 miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is generally rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1 50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and for one hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Rail Road, upon which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual instalments; the first to become due the two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro't under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be constructed for a proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contractors, and any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

JOHN ALSON,

Land Commissioner of Ill. Central R. R. Co., Office up to the 1st of May, 62 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; after that date in the New Stone Passenger Depot, So. Water st. a8 6m

Whalebone Skirts.

THE only object of a Whalebone Skirt is to give a proper, graceful and elegant form to a lady's dress. Unless this is accomplished, the article is entirely worthless. The Ladies, by referring to Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions for April, will see that E. & J. HOLMES have from actual experience been successful in producing this most desirable article, and that their IMPROVED SEAMLESS SKIRT meets the unanimous approbation of the ladies. They are light, pliable, and easily adjusted, and the only Skirt which is equally adapted to the street and the crowd; are made in one piece or breadth, and in our opinion, and in the opinion of thousands of ladies who have bought them, the most reliable goods of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce a Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacture and retail of these goods, we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of cord, and all starched goods, cannot be used satisfactorily, as they will not recover their place when pressed out of shape. We consider all as worthless, of whatever material made, unless there is something of sufficient stiffness and elasticity, and at the same time yielding and pliable, to keep the dress in proper shape below the bones. To accomplish this we have our cord made under our own direction, and expressly for our goods, and from the only material that can be used that will recover its proper place when pressed out of shape, and are so twisted in manufacturing that they will not roll or curl when wet, and warranted to wash without injury. The public are cautioned against all worthless goods, as the market since our goods have become popular and extensively known, has been flooded with goods of all kinds, and put together without form or comeliness, or any other object but to sell, and of course are called Whalebone Skirts. Some imitators, in their efforts to profit by our reputation, have gone so far as to copy almost exactly our trade mark upon their goods.

Please Notice:—Every genuine article stamped, E & J. HOLMES'S IMPROVED SEAMLESS WHALEBONE SKIRT, and may be found by the trade in many of the largest Jobbing Houses in New York and Boston, and at retail in the principal Dry Goods stores.

SENTENCE OF BURGLARS.—A month or two since, some persons who broke into a butcher's shop in Needham Ms. and stole a large quantity of beef, and were traced through the fields to a house in Needham occupied by an Englishman named Enoch E. Shaw, which was found to be full of goods stolen from stores and dwellings in all the region round. Shaw was arrested, and at the last session of the Grand Jury of Middlesex County, was indicted for no less than four storebreakings.—On these he was tried last week at Concord Ms. and found guilty.

The Court sentenced him on three indictments to thirteen years in the State Prison, and the other indictments were placed on file. There are, also, several charges against him for robbery in Norfolk County. His accomplice, William Toone, an English weaver, of 35 years, who fled to the South after the arrest of Shaw, but was pursued and brought back, was also convicted and sentenced to eight years in the State Prison. There is reason to believe that this gang has connections at various places between Boston and Baltimore, by which they were enabled to dispose of their plunder.

On Tuesday afternoon, says the Philadelphia North American, as Mr. Charles M. Wilson, in company with a friend, was passing by a residence in Coates street, his attention was attracted by the cries of a woman. He opened the door, and discovered an individual engaged in beating his wife. Mr. Wilson seized the husband, and attempting to impress him with the enormity of the offence, when the wife turned on her rescuer and demanded to know what business he had there, at the same time enforcing her remarks with a poker. The knight-errant retired immediately, and left the entertaining couple to amuse themselves as they thought proper.

CROPS IN MAINE.—The Gardiner Transcript says:—"Our farming interest has rarely appeared more promising. The hay crop will be very abundant, and the grain, and corn, and potatoes, and other numerous vegetables will probably equal, if not surpass, any crops raised for many past years. We predict a good supply of fall feed, which will enable our farmers to furnish a sufficient quantity of the best of meat, for home consumption, with a large surplus for exportation."

Speaking of cucumbers, the Maine Cultivator says:—"When a cucumber is taken from the vines, let it be cut with a knife, leaving about an eighth of an inch of the cucumber on the stem, then slit the stem with a knife from its end to the vine, leaving a small portion of the cucumber; on each division and on each separate slit there will be new cucumbers as large as the first." Those wishing to raise large quantities of this article for pickles will do well to try the experiment.

Some half-educated philosophers, (Says the New York Times) are gloating over the discovery that cockroaches were made to destroy bed bugs, and are publishing the fact that the two, like small-pox and measles, can't co-exist. We have already a stack of letters from boarding-house keepers denying the alleged fact. We don't publish them, because as they give the names and numbers we suspect that they are only adroit puffs. The true use of cockroaches, as all truly wise people have known for years, is to flavor fine old Burgundy with.

A few years since, Col. Colt went to Hartford penniless. The citizens enabled him to raise $25,000 capital, and he began the manufacture of his revolvers, since so celebrated through the country. His establisment has supported hundreds of employees, he has expended $1,000,000 in beautifying and improving the city, and he is to-day worth, probably $2,000,000.

A Down East paper says that during a thunder shower in that vicinity recently, a man and three telegraph poles were knocked down by a thunderbolt, and remained insensible nearly half an hour.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, JULY 25, 1856.

THE DUELLISTS.—The following item of news from Brooks and Burlingame, is a special dispatch to the Boston Advertiser.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday evening, July 23.—The excitement relative to the affair between Messrs. Burlingame and Brooks, is quieted to-night. The opinion among Northern men is remarkably unanimous in support of Mr. Burlingame's course. Southern men say little upon the subject so far as I can hear.

Mr. Burlingame, having been informed by telegraph that Mr. Brooks declines meeting him at Niagara, will be here to-morrow.

The Boston Advertiser says, editorially:

The two heroes of this strife appear in a position which would be ludicrous, if the matter were not serious—both eager to avail themselves of a pretext for refusing to fight.

Another Washington dispatch says:

A telegraphic dispatch was received here today from Mr. Burlingame at New York, saying he intended forthwith to return to Washington as Mr. Brooks had failed him. A reply was sent to him to pursue his journey to Canada, and await the appointed time, but some of his friends anticipated his return to this city to-morrow. Meanwhile the officers are still on the look out for him.

We hope he will be arrested, and he and Brooks both dealt with according to the severest penalty of the law.

It ought to be stated, and generally understood, that Mr. Burlingame is not a native of New England, but a Western man by birth; and he has shown conclusively, in this matter, that he does not fully understand the public opinion of New England.

The Yankees want no duels and no assassinations. They have, to be sure, honored some men who gave and received challenges, but they did not honor them for these acts, but in spite of them, on account of other and better acts.

And, by the way, Yankees should be represented in Congress by Yankees.

A Philadelphia dispatch of the 28th says:

Letters have been received here stating that a challenge has passed between Messrs. Burlingame and Bocock. The latter was not in his seat yesterday, and he is said to have left Washington, accompanied by Gen. Lane.

The Boston Transcript says:

The course of Senator Wilson, when he was called upon by the chivalry for denouncing the assault on his colleague as "brutal, cowardly, and murderous," has met with general approbation in this quarter. He refused to fight a duel, but repeated the objectionable language, and said he recognized and should act upon the law of self-defence if assailed.—Mr. Woodruff, of Connecticut, took the same brave and manly ground, and the result has been that both gentlemen stand higher in the public estimation for their course.

Not so with Mr. Burlingame. He avowed that he was "responsible" for his words, in a manner to indicate that he was a duellist.—The result has been, that he is involved in correspondence—assailed on every hand—has to do that most unfortunate of all things, "define his position"—and under whatever circumstances may hereafter arise, he cannot morally occupy the vantage ground upon which Messrs. Wilson and Woodruff stand.

FREE LABORERS READ THIS!—The Montgomery (Alabama) Mail, of May 15, thus notices the murder of Keating by the Cincinnati Delegate and Member of Congress, Herbert:

SHOT THE RINGLEADER.—A few days ago, Mr. Herbert, (formerly of Tuscaloosa, in this State,) M. C. from California, was attacked by a mob of waiters at his hotel, in Washington. He promptly put a bullet through the head-waiter and then surrendered to the authorities. There is no doubt he acted in self-defence.

"It is getting time that hotel waiters a little farther north were convinced that they are servants, and not 'gentlemen' in disguise.—We hope that this affair will teach them prudence."

This is a fair sample of the estimation in which the free white laborer is held by the slaveholding oligarchy—in exact accordance with what Thomas Jefferson said of the institution more than fifty years ago.

MERCIFUL.—One Henry Peterson was brought up in the Police Court yesterday morning, on the charge of an assault on Wm. Brailand last January, and also of assaulting four unknown females, by pushing them off a sidewalk at the North End, last Monday evening. For these repeated offences Justice Russell sentenced Peterson to two years imprisonment in the House of Correction on each case, or four years in all, but for certain reasons allowed him 48 hours in which to avoid them by leaving the city.—Boston Papers.

This Peterson is evidently a rowdy—and we fancy that he is not a fanatical total abstinent,—but on the contrary a liberal—one of those scoundrels who sought kindred spirits in Boston, and found them. He is declared worthy of four years imprisonment—but is let off, to go elsewhere, to Portsmouth or to Portland perhaps, there to repeat his crimes.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT. — Samuel Francis, an Englishman about 35 years of age who worked in this city for Tingley Brothers, was killed yesterday on the Bristol Railroad. He was walking on the track near Bower's Cove, when he was overtaken by the downward noon train. He heard the whistle, and stopped on the bridge that crosses the cove; but being intoxicated, could not get out of the way. The cow catcher struck him and threw him into the water.—Prov. Jour.

SUICIDE.—On Sunday, at Worcester, Mr. John H. Matthews, Esq., committed suicide. The Worcester Spy says:

He was discovered by his cries of distress at about half past 12 P. M., in his private office or sleeping room. Dr. Joseph N. Bates and Dr. J. M. Rice were immediately called, but upon arrival were informed by Mr. Matthews that they could do nothing for him, but "to make him die easy," as he had taken strychnine. He said he had taken five grains of the poison, procured from two different apothecaries, which was found to be nearly a year ago. He gave no reason for the act, and none can be assigned. He died about 3 P. M. Mr. Matthews was a man of more than ordinary talent. He was educated at Amherst, and studied law with Hon. Isaac Davis of this city. He was appointed District Attorney by Gov. Gardner about 19 months since, which office he has filled with ability, and to the entire satisfaction of all parties having business at the Courts. He was a member of the Masonic Fraternity, and had been Grand Master of the Lodge, and was an Aide in the staff off Maj. Gen. Hobbs. He was a man of a noble nature, of a large and generous heart, and was beloved by a very large circle of acquantances, who deplore his untimely end.

POLITICAL MAP.—We have received from the publisher, Wm. C. Reynolds, New York, a Political Map of the United St tes, designed to exhibit the comparative area of Free and Slave States, and the territory opened to slavery or freedom, by the repeal of the Missouri Compromise; with a comparison of the principal statistics of the Free and Slave tates, from the census of 1850. A valuable chart, about three feet square. Price 25 cts.

PRESIDENT PIERCE.—Governor Reeder, in his testimony before the Congressional Committee, referred to his interviews with President Pierce, and gave the following statement:

The President stated that this Kansas matter had given him more harrassing anxiety than anything that had happened since the loss of his son; that it haunted him day and night, and the great overshadowing trouble of his administration.

ARISTOCRACY IN THE JAIL AND GUTTERS.—The Washington correspondent of the Boston Atlas says:

Herbert is, by official position, a gentleman, while his victim was a hotel servant. Southerners look upon one in the humble condition of poor Keating, as even below their own black slaves. To permit the punishment of Herbert for the homicide of Keating, would be an invasion of their privileges as an aristocratic order; it would be setting a dangerous example; and it will not be allowed, if it is in the power of influence to prevent it.

MORE SOUTHERN PROSCRIPTION.—Our readers will recollect the story about the slave woman who was sent to New York and exhibited in Beecher's church, when money to purchase her freedom was paid, and she was free. They will remember in this connection that a slave dealer behaved with singular humanity, so much so that it was deemed incredible. Now we see it stated that the conduct of this man, whose name was Shaffer, has excited a feeling of deep hostility in Virginia. The Staunton Vindicator advises him to leave the state, and threatened him with a coat of tar and feathers should he visit that neighborhood. Sarah, the slave woman, is a reputed daughter of a man named Churchman and he owns Sarah's child, a daughter, but refuses to sell it to the mother, who had been provided with the means to purchase by Northern sympathizers.—Cincinnati Commercial.

Punch has a picture of "Life in an American Hotel." One "gentleman" presents a pistol at the head of an amazed individual, with the request to "pass the mustard."—The other boarders are eating their dinners quietly. Punch's large picture has Johnathan as "a spoiled child," sitting on a table covered with broken plates, bottles, and plaything, and beating upon a drum with a revolver and a cat o' nine tails. John Bull is sitting by, saying, "I don't like to correct him just now, because he's about his teeth, and sickening for his measels, but he certainly deseves a clout on the head."

CURIOUS INSURANCE CASE IN KENTUCKY.—Some very curious facts relative to the character and antecedents of an insurance agent were developed during the trial of a case before the criminal court of Louisville, Kentucky, a few days ago. It appears that Mr. Elias Hall, engaged in that business, had procured an indictment for felony against a well known gentleman doing business on Third street. Hall was necessarily the principal witness, and had arrayed a vast amount of testimony against the accused. His evidence was about completed, and he appeared perfectly satisfied with his success, when the lawyer for the defence asked Hall where he had spent the year 1843. He responded that he did not remember. The lawyer then repeated the question as to 1844 and 1845, and received the same response. Jos then the name of another witness was called, and as Hall heard the name and saw him approach, he darted from the Court House, and made strides towards a stable, where he hired a horse, and drove rapidly to New Albany.

No wonder that he left in such hot haste.—The witness proved by his own personal knowledge and records that Hall was convicted in New York for horse stealing, and sent to the State Prison at Auburn for three years. There was also an indictment against him for housebreaking. The Louisville Courier remarks that "since Hall's residence in this city, he has laid claim to excessive virtue, and is, we believe, connected with the second Presbyterian church. His outrageous attempt to injure the good name of a gentleman, by instigating a malicious prosecution for felony, has thus recoiled upon him with terrible effect."

NEW YORK, July 24th.—Mr. Burlingame and Gen. James arrived in town yesterday morning, from Washington. They were en route for Niagara Falls, but it is believed they returned to Washington this morning.

The Tribune's Washington correspondent says: The publication of the duelling correspondence, by Brooks, has been the subject of much and varied comment all day, especially in Congress. It is generally conceded that Brooks committed a serious blunder in not notifying Burlingame of his objection to go to Canada, instead of publishing the place named by other gentlemen than Mr. Burlingame, to enable both parties to avoid the violation of the laws of this country, and those gentlemen will assume the responsibility.

Mrs. Henrietta Harden died in St. Mary's county, Md., on the 20th ult., having attained the age of 118 years. She was the widow of a revolutionary soldier, and as such applied for a bounty land warrant under the act of Congress; but was unsuccessful in her application to prove her marriage.

Miss Celia Logan is now detained at the Mammoth Cave, Ky., in consequence of a sprained ancle, occasioned by one of the steps in the stairway in the cave giving way as she was ascending.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, 'Warranted by R. Crowley.' A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it: if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself! Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

☞"The Festival of Beauty" was attended by full houses on both evenings of its exhibition here; and must have been as successful in a pecuniary sense, as it was in delighting the children who participated and the audiences (composed mostly of ladies) who witnessed. One hundred and fifty little girls, all dressed in white, with wreaths on their heads and boquets in their hands—arranged on an inclined plane—is a sight well worth a quarter, whether they sing or not. Mr. Pennell's entertainment was certainly all this; and he brought out the full number of performers announced, which is more than some concert-givers do. But the musical performances were not of the highest order. Judged by themselves, and considering that most of the children have had only the very little instruction in music which Mr. Pennell has given them in a few hours, the singing was perhaps, all that should have been expected; though very far from equalling the juvenile concerts given here by Mr. Moses, and others. Then a little melodeon is but a sorry accompaniment, compared to a grand or even square piano, which we have always had before.

But we have no reason, and certainly no disposition, to find fault with Mr. Pennell. He gave all he promised, and well earned his money. The scene in singing the Star-spangled banner, when one Miss waved the American flag, and all the rest their white handkerchiefs,—was exceedingly beautiful, and in itself well worth the price of admission. Mr. Pennell is courteous, unassuming and gentlemanly; his exhibitions tend to good and not evil; and we are glad he is so successful. We wish there were three or four permanent juvenile singing schools in Portsmouth, as large as his—as there might well be.

☞We are requested to state that Mr. George Atkins, the spiritual medium, who advertised to visit Portsmouth this week,—is again compelled by unforseen circumstances, to postpone his appearance here until further notice

☞A young man named Cornelius Welden, about 25 years of age, was drownad on Thursday evening in our river, near Noble's Island. It is supposed he was taken with cramp, while bathing.

☞The Portsmouth City Book and Directory, for 1856, is just published by C. W. Brewster & Son. Every family and every business man should have a copy.

☞The thermometer, on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in this city, stood at 90.

MUSICAL.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY MUSICAL ASSOCIATION.—This Association has held two Conventions in Portsmouth, in January, 1855 and 1856. The first was attended by about one hundred members—the second by upwards of two hundred. The third Convention is to be held in Portsmouth on the first of January, 1856. Prof. B. F. Baker of Boston, who gave universal satisfaction at the former meetings of the Association, is to be conductor. This is a matter of general interest to all lovers of music in the county and vicinity. Below we publish the Constitution of the Association:

Article 3. The officers of this Association shall be a President, Vice President, Secretary & Treasurer, and an Executive Committee: who together shall constitute a board of Directors. CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, July 23.

SENATE.—A long debate occurred concerning the propriety of business, during which Mr Weller said that today had been assigned by the Democratic caucus, for the consideration of the Pacific Railroad bill.

Mr. Trumbull protested against the majority meeting in secret to decide the order of business. They might as well expel the minority at once.

Mr. Clayton said for the remainder of his public life he should always vote as he pleased, without being the slave of any party.

Mr. Douglas justified the caucus, in order to defeat the policy of the opposition, who desire no action on public business.

The bill continuing the improvem nts of Skeboygan harbor was passed. Adj.

HOUSE.—The House passed the bill providing for the improvement of the Savannah River, and also the joint resolution authorizing Lieut. Maury and others to receive various medals from foreign governments.

The House then proceeded to the consideration of the New Mexico contested election case.

By unanimous consent the Clerk read a statement from Mr. Gallegos, in which he says he should be heard by counsel, because of his inability to make a formal discourse in English.

Mr. Otero, the contestant, during his reply, said that Mr Gallegos should have gone to school and learned the English language before attempting to represent New Mexico in Congress. The sitting delegate, Mr. Gallegos, had appealed to the magnanimity of the House, but he (Mr. Otero) demanded justice, and, failing in this, he would scorn to ask a favor. He was the first native of New Mexico who had addressed the American Congress in the language of the Constitution and laws.

The resolution declaring that Mr. Gallegos was not, and Mr. Otero was, elected delegate, was then adopted.

A resolution was adopted, to print 20,000 copies of the reports of the majority and minority of the Kansas investigating commission, and 100,000 without the journal and evidence. The former costs 61 and the latter 9 cents a piece.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole.

Evening Session.—Mr. Davis of Masssachusetts spoke in favor of the bill heretofore introduced by him, giving privateers' men bounty lands, and placing them on an equality with soldiers and sailors. He stated that 15,000 of them were employed in the war of 1812, of whom probably not more than 2000 were now living. He eulogized their services which, he contended, had not been sufficiently appreciated.

Mr. Barksdale argued that Know Nothingism at the North is abolitionized, and expressed the opinion that Mr. Fillmore was not the man for the times, on account of his unsoundness towards the South. In condemning the Republicans, he said if Mr. Fremont by any possibility, should be elected, he would select his entire cabinet from the North.

Mr. Stanton asked Mr. Barksdale how he knew it?

Because no Southern man would disgrace himself by accepting such office. He said the Democratic party was national and progressive, and that under it Cuba would be acquired. He anticipated its triumph at the coming election.

Mr. Clawson condemned the administration and its co-laborers for the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, and spoke in general disapprobation of the Democratic party and its practices.

Mr. Dean opposed slavery and its extension.

Mr. Stewart replied, arguing that slavery had been beneficial to the country, and was promotive of happiness to the negro race.—Adj.

"PETERBORO," June 20, 1856.

L. B. KERR, Esq.—DEAR SIR—I am personally acquainted with Col. Fremont and his wife. They are both opposed to slavery. It may be, but I do not think it possible, that Col. Fremont has been a slaveholder.

Mrs. Fremont once told me that her mother taught her children to dislike slavery.—She was the wife of Col. Benton, and daughter of Gov. McDowell of Virginia.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

THREE PERSONS POISONED BY A SURGICAL OPERATION.—Dr. John Potter of Prattsburg, Steuben county, brother of Dr. Hazard Potter of Geneva, one of the most skilful surgeons in the state, was recently called upon to dress a man's arm which had been mutilated in the cog wheels of some machinery. He made every effort to save the arm from amputation, and has probably succeeded. The arm having naturated, he called on his brother, Hazard Potter, to assist in opening it. By some accident he cut himself slightly, and allowed some virus from the arm of his patient to mingle with the blood. This in a few days had poisoned his entire system. He died on Friday. While attending his funeral, his brother Hazard, who had a slight scratch on his hand at the time of performing the operation, and who had also become poisoned by the virus, felt an itching about his fingers, which proved to be the workings of the poison, and although attended by all the physicians in Geneva his life is despaired of. Another man who helped to dress the wound is dead.—Geneva (N. Y.) Gazette.

A lady connected with one our most respectable families in town, says the A bany Knickerbocker, was detected in the act of stealing a velvet scarf, worth $20, from one of our dry goods stores the other day. The husband was made acquainted with the facts, and he settled the matter and hushed it up.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL,
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF
Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BREMEN, MASS., 20th Dec., 1855.
DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. The constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. REBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of UTICA, N. Y., writes: "I have used your PECTORAL myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.
SPRINGFIELD, MISS., Feb. 7, 1856.
BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your PECTORAL is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chief disease of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.
HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTEREY, IA., writes, 3d Jan., 1856: "I had a bedious Influenza, which resisted me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your PECTORAL by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.
WEST MANCHESTER, PA., Feb. 4, 1856.
SIR: YOUR CHERRY PECTORAL has performed marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M.D., ALMON, MONROE CO., IOWA, writes, Sept. 5, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.
Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the CHERRY PECTORAL affords relief and comfort.

ASTON HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March 5, 1856
DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.
Yours with gratitude and regard,
ORLANDO SHELBY, of SHELBYVILLE.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures are all around us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all classes. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have made which seemed to belief were they not authenticated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute extensively to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Cutaneous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an efficient Medicine, Scrofula or Kings Evil. They act, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgic and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.
The Illinois Central Railroad Company
IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL
OF
FARMING LANDS,
In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stones picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

When sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is found at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course the value of their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be mentioned that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY PREPARED FARM BUILDINGS,
Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced German will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

Land Commissioner of Ill. Central R. R. Co.,

Whalebone Skirts.
THE only object of a Whalebone Skirt is to give a proper, graceful and elegant form to a lady's dress. Unless this is accomplished, the article is entirely worthless. The Ladies, by referring to Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions for April, will notice that E. & J. HOLMES have from actual experience been successful in producing this most desirable article, and that their IMPROVED SEAMLESS SKIRT meets the unanimous approbation of the ladies. They are light, pliable, and easily adjusted, and the only Skirt which is equally adapted to the street and the crowd; are made in one piece or breadth, and in our opinion, and in the opinion of thousands of ladies who have bought them, the most reliable goods of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce the Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacture and retail of these goods, we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of cord, and all starched goods, cannot be used satisfactorily, as they will not recover their place when pressed out of shape. We consider all
WHALEBONE SKIRTS
as worthless, of whatever material made, unless there is something of sufficient stiffness and elasticity, and at the same time yielding and pliable, to keep the dress in proper shape below the bones. To accomplish this we have our cord made under our own direction, and expressly for our goods, and from the nature of the material, can be used that will recover its proper place when pressed out of shape, and are so twisted in manufacturing that they will not roll or curl when wet, and warranted to wash without injury. The public are cautioned against all similar goods, as the market since our goods have become popular and extensively known, has been flooded with goods of all kinds, and put together without form or comeliness, or any other object but to sell, and of course are called Whalebone Skirts. Some imitators, in their efforts to profit by our reputation, have gone so far as to copy almost exactly our trade mark upon their goods.

Please Notice—Every genuine article stamped, E & J. HOLMES'S IMPROVED SEAMLESS WHALEBONE SKIRT, and may be found by the trade in many of the largest Jobbing Houses in New York and Boston, and at retail in the principal Dry Goods stores.

Morning Chronicle.

GREAT DOINGS IN NEWBURYPORT.—The Herald of Friday contains two rich items; the first is about a baby, which the Herald calls "A Young 'un."

On Wednesday night a mother with her infant, accompanied by another female, entered a store on State street, when the proprietor, attracted by the smallness and extreme youth of the child, inquired its age—"It was born this morning," replied the mother, indifferently, attending to her business as though it was an every day affair to have a child born in her family.

The second is about a polygamist, who ran away from a congress of wives:

A man who had been able to live with a good degree of quiet in this city, while two women claimed him as husband; was taken all aback, on Wednesday evening, by the appearance of a third lady in the same character. He was fortunate enough not to have the first meeting at his own residence, and was able in a few minutes to be among the missing. What has become of the man since, we have not learned, but we should not be surprised if he was once more seeking "life on the ocean wave." The third living wife, who is from New Orleans, passed directly over the way from the hotel where she had met, and been deserted by her husband, and now puts up at a boarding house where he was residing, and his second wife is. He had married her while in New Orleans as master of a ship, and robbed her when he left. She says, Griffin has yet another wife in Wales.—How many more may turn up, nobody knows. So goes the world; few dreaming what very many are about.

AN IRISHMAN'S IDEA OF AMERICA. One of the best definitions of an Irishman's idea of America that we ever saw, is contained in the following extract from "The Fairy Circle," a tale of John Brougham's Irish Echoes.

"Where did 'baccy come from, Corney?" inquired Mary.

"Why, from 'Meriky; where else?" he replied, "that sent us the first pitaty. Long life to it, for both, say I!

"What sort of a place is that, I wonder?"

"'Meriky, is it? They tell me its mighty sizeable, Moll, darlin.' I'm tould that you might rowl England through it, an' it would hardly make a dint in the ground. There's fresh water oceans inside of it that you might dhround Ireland in, and save Father Mathew a wonderful sight of throuble; an' as for Scotchland, you might stick it in a corner of one o' their forests, and you'd never be able to find it out, except it may be, it might be by the smell of whiskey. If I had only a thrifle of money, I'd go an' seek my fortin there."

"THE GREAT RACE."—It was recently attempted to make the celebrated race horse, "Sacramento," in California, perform the great feat of trotting 100 miles in ten hours. The race was commenced under saddle, to be changed to harness. While performing the 77th mile the horse broke down and expired in 40 minutes afterwards.

The only horses that ever performed this feat are Fanny Jenks, Fanny Murray, Kate, Conqueror and Tom Thum. Of these only three survived the effort. We hope in the California case, the Vigilance Committee has given the parties concerned a hundred lashes and a few months solitary on bread and water. Such cruel wretches are unfit to live.—Lowell News.

Lynch Law prevails in some parts of the South. A letter from a gentleman in Rio Grande City, Texas, of the 12th instant, contains the following: "We have had a little hanging in this place. A few days ago two robbers, a white man and Mexican, were hanged. They had robbed the church at Gurrero, and attempted to steal the horses from a detachment of Rifles and were caught in the act." In Morgan county, Missouri, a man named Rae, who was accused of the diabolical deed of poisoning a spring of water at a school house, was hanged a few days since.—He asserted his innocence to the last, but he had a bad character.

DEATH IN THE CARS.—A death occurred in the cars which left Boston on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, on the Lowell Railroad, when near West Medford. A male passenger appeared to be in a swoon, and attracted attention towards him, and various efforts were made to revive him by those in the car, who offered smelling salts and other appliances; but they were all in vain, and in five minutes afterwards he was dead. The body was left at the West Medford depot, where further efforts were made to reanimate it, but to no purpose. The name of John W. Bradford, of Keene, N. H., was found in his pocket-book; who, it appeared, had dealings with Messrs. Alley, Choate & Cummings, of Congress street, Boston. His personal effects were left with the depot master at West Medford. He appeared to be about 35 years of age.—Boston Courier.

In New Haven on Saturday night, Mr. Robert F. Howell, a boarder at Eagle Tavern, found a thief in his room whom he knocked down with a bootjack, and afterwards had him arrested and locked up. He was an old offender from New York, and gave his name as Charles Carroll.

We learn from the Providence Post that Olney W. Arnold, Esq., of Cranston, was struck by lightning on Tuesday afternoon, while at work in his hay field, and was carried to his house senseless. He, however revived, and hopes are entertained of his recovery, though he was considerably burned. The horse he was driving was killed, also one of his oxen in the same field. A barn in the same neighborhood was burnt by lightning.

MURDER.—Patrick Bourke, porter in the clothing store of William Joyce of New York, was murdered there on Thursday night. He slept in the store, and was found lying with his throat cut, his shoulders and breast covered with wounds and his skull stove in. Bourke's watch and chain were the only articles missing, and it would seemthat the poor fellow had harbored some person who murdered him for this trifling amount of property.

AT Cincinnati, on Wednesday last, Patrick E. Keeley died of sun stroke. While attending his funeral, his brother Edward was struck down in the same manner and died. The next day another brother, Michael, was sent to jail, where he died of delirium tremens.

The Rev. Dr. Maclay, late President of the American Bible Union Association, resigned his office in consequence of the improper manner in which he alleges the association administered its affairs. The association is rendering a new translation of the Bible, which the doctor declares unworthy of confidence, while he represents that pecuniary transactions of the association are as reprehensible as its literary.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, JULY 26, 1856.

MAINE AND N. H.—In answer to a Querist, the Boston Times says:

In the last State election in Maine, the Democratic vote was 48,373; Fusion (or Morrill's), 51,488; Whig, 10,645.

The same paper says of New Hampshire:

We learn from the Granite State that the Democracy are in the best spirits, and are unmoved by the puffings of Fremont gas which characterize the hour. As soon as the sturdy yeomanry — the bone and muscle of that little State—can rid themselves of their summer labor, there will be such a mass meeting held as will make rotten Republicanism tremble in its worn-out slippers. Buck and Brock will carry our sister State, sure.

To this we append the vote of New Hampshire at the last Presidential election, viz. Pierce 29,997, Scott 16,147, Hale 5,695. This gave Pierce above 7000 majority over all.

At the election for Governor of N. H. in March 1853, Martin had 30,934; Bell 17,590; White 7,995; scat. 47.

In March 1854, Baker had 29,788; Bell 16,941; Perkins 11,080; scat. 122.

In March 1855, Baker had 27,055; Metcalf 32,769; Bell 3,436; Fowler 1237; scat. 193.

In March 1856, Wells 32,081; Metcalf 32,-123; Goodwin 2,360; scat. 193.

In round numbers, Pierce in 1852 had 30,000 votes; Martin, in '53, had 31,000; Baker, in '54, had 30,000; do. in '55, had 27,000; Wells, in '56, had 32,000.

The election in March 1856, was most earnestly contested by the democratic party, with the aid of the liquor question, and of Wells's stumping the State to promote his own election, and the visits of Messrs. Cobb, Orr, and others.

The opposition varied still more; at the but election Metcalf led Wells by about 50 votes; and the 2650 for other candidates leaves the latter in a minority of 2,700.

As a plurality chooses electors in this State for the first time this year — the reader will judge, from these figures, and from other events as they have occurred, how sure the victory is here,—and also who is likely to get it.

☞ An American State Convention met in Boston on Thursday, and lasted with much confusion, debate and division, into the next day. The Fremont men proved to be largely in the majority—and the Fillmore party seceded, and set up a convention of their own.

After the Fillmore man had left the hall, an informal ballot was taken for a candidate for Governor, as follows:

Whole number of votes	343
Scattering	16
A. A. Richmond	85
H. J. Gardner	242

Henry J. Gardner was then unanimously declared the nominee of the Convention, for Governor, and Henry W. Benchly for Lieut. Governor.

The gas was shut off, and the Convention proceeded to the nomination of the other officers by daylight, Friday morning.

The bolters left the Hall under the lead of Daniel Warren, and met at about 3 o'clock, A. M., at the Fillmore head quarters, but without accomplishing anything, adjourned sine die.

To such an extent has incendiarism become rampant in Portland, that the different wards are organizing Vigilance Committees to patrol the city every night.

This reminds us of some electioneering threats two ago, of incendiary fires in case Neal Dow was elected Mayor.—He was elected, but the fires did'nt come. Last year another man was elected, and now the incendiaries have come. We do not suppose however, that the incendiaries are angry with the new Mayor,—but that they take advantage of circumstances, to pursue their criminal course

☞ The following votes of Pennsylvania, will show how closely that State has been contested in past years:

In 1848, Cass, 172,748; Taylor, 186,188; Van Buren, 11,267. Taylor's plurality over Cass, 13,440. Taylor's majority over both Cass and Van Buren, 2233.

KEY-STONE CLUB.—The Boston Times, of Friday, reports some speeches at Key Stone Club No. 1, in Boston. Dr. Leland of Fall River said, now elect Mr. Buchanan, and you will, within six months after that time, find many men abandoning sectional and disunion sentiments, and acknowledging that the Democratic party is the only party of and for the Union. Dr. Leland thought Kit Carson would make a better candidate for the Presidency than Col. Fremont, because Kit had a brother—Charlie he believed was his name—who could quaff a pint of brandy at one draught, and then only "whet his whistle." What a candidate Kit would be with such a backer! Dr. L. urged upon the Democracy of the State and of the Union to be united, and to work energetically for the success of the cause.

☞ Answer to the Charade, in Daily Chronicle of July 21, and weekly of the 26th, —is Westward.

For the Chronicle.

DUELLING.

Duelling will never be countenanced or tolerated in New England, unless the population shall retrograde to the state of the past ages of the world. That it is a relic of barbarism, or the half-civilized state, no intelligent person will deny. It is opposed to moral principles and the precepts of Christianity. This being perfectly clear, all arguments in favor of the revengeful and disgraceful practice fail. The duellist is a practical atheist, and derides the laws of God. In heart he is a murderer, and should be accused is guilty of murder in point of fact. Human society can vest him with no authority to take life, nor has he any authority to destroy his own life. Should he induce or consent that another should take it, both are equally guilty.

We rejoice that this heinous sin against high Heaven is almost universally condemned in New England, as it must be in any land where the people are civilized and christianized. We are aware of all that has been published in its favor, but it can have no justification whatever resting upon sound argument. It affords no true remedy for an injury—and to take revenge into our own hands is expressly forbidden by the great irrepealable law.

The duellist is not ignorant that his code of laws or honor is opposed to the Divine commands. He therefore declines to argue upon christian principles. He is the fool that saith in his heart "there is no God." His antagonist falls, and must answer for his crimes, at the judgment seat, with all his sins upon him. What greater sin than agreeing that his life may be taken in pursuance of the code of false honor! The survivor may remain a little longer, with the execrations of just men upon him—detested as a murderer—his conscience haunted during the residue of his days by the ghost of his bloody victim. This is the revenge, by for an insult! To take vengeance into his own hands, and thereby bring upon himself the severest punishment—the stings of conscience.

The Northern man who engages with a Southern bully in this disgraceful practice, sullies his character, however bright it may have been. If a representative, he dishonours his constituents. In the latter case, the station serves to give a degree of countenance to the practice.

We honor our Representatives who evince their bravery by scouting the duelling code as not pertaining to a state of civilization.—They thereby give a brighter halo to their fame. But we do a great injury to society and our northern institutions, by upholding or attempting to justify any one who would engages in a duel. Our young men may thereby imbibe silly and false notions of honor. Let truth correct them. CIVIS.

POLITICAL. Syracuse, July 24.—The Convention of the Radical Democracy of the State of New York, which met in this city to day, is respectably but not largely attended. There are present many of the most prominent and influential members of the Democratic party.

David D. Field submitted a long address to the radical Democracy, repudiating the Democratic party, as at present constituted, and its pliancy to the slave power; and deploring the consequences of its acts in Kansas and elsewhere, the remedy for which is only to be found in the defeat of the Cincinna i nominees, and the admission of Kansas as a free State.

The address eulogizes and enforces the Republican candidates, and calls on the fellow-Democrats to support them.

Resolutions embracing the sentiments of the addresses were adopted with enthusiasm.

20,000 of the address and resolutions were ordered to be printed in English, and 10,000 in German.

Numerous speeches were made, mostly in denunciation of slavery extension and in praise of Fremont. Much enthusiasm was manifested. Adjourned, sine die.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Mr. Burlingame arrived tonight. His friend, Mr. Campbell of Ohio, named Canada as the place of meeting and claims his own responsibility therefor. I understand that Mr. Burlingame objected to it, lest it should be deemed inconvenient by Mr. Brooks, but Mr. Campbell properly insists that that was his business.

The debate in the House today was of exciting interest, as showing that the Kansas question takes the deepest hold of any now pending. It is the determination of the Republicans to insist upon their amendments, declaring the Kansas laws null, even if they lose the army bill by it. Mr. Matteson of New York, intends moving an amendment, that no money appropriated by the bill shall be expended until nolle prosequis are entered on the Kansas indictments for constructive treason.

Special advices from London, encourage the hopes of an early settlement of the American question. The most serious difficulty is now found in the controversy between Nicaragua and Costa Rica, as to the jurisdiction over the mouth of the San Juan.—Boston Advertiser.

ST. LOUIS, July 25.—Advices from Kansas state that Col. Lane crossed the Missouri into Kansas on Monday, with 600 men, fully armed. After crossing, Lane returned, saying he would force his way up the Missouri with his other regiment.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toued the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

☞ On Thursday evening, one of Mr. Pennell's white-robed scholars was considerably frightened by a "fluid accident." Her brother having filled a tin lamp from a gallon can, lighted the lamp—when some of the fluid which had run on the outside, ignited, and simultaneously communicated the flames to the dripping nose of the can, which sat near. In removing the fiery can, some of the liquid flame was sprinkled upon the back of the little girl's skirt—she at that moment having turned to flee. She ran through the house, and was caught by her brother, and the "fire in the rear" smothered, just as the child was trying to open the door to escape into the street. Having done this, he returned to the original scene of action, and with a bucket of water soon extinguished the fire. No great harm done—only a breadth of that new dress singed, the hands of the chief actor in the scene ditto, the fluid-can melted down, everybody in the house waked up,— and a narrow escape from something more serious.

WHO'S TO BLAME!—A year or two ago the U. S. Government furnished a large size metallic Life Boat for the Isles of Shoals and appointed Lemuel B. Caswell, superintendent. Life Boats are only needed in very bad weather, and at such times should be in readiness for instant service. The boat at the Shoals is laid up one side of the general passage way from the water, exposed to the weather, without thole pins, and the oars in a building, at some distance. The first time we saw this boat, it was half full of water. The only time there has been occasion to use it since it has been on the island, was last winter, and then the boat was frozen down so as to be useless. The superintendent has made several applications to the U. S. authorities for the building of a house over the boat, but being always unsuccessful, has resigned his office. The boat is consequently exposed to all sorts of damage, in the open air, with no one on the islands having any authority to prevent it. Friends of the Humane Society, should look to this matter.

☞ We learn that Mr. John Oxford was entirely overcome by a severe stroke of the sun, on Thursday morning, while driving his truck-team through our streets.

Mr. Israel Marden, jr., while haying near Sagamore Creek, a few days since, was prostrated by heat, and lay some hours insensible before being found.

☞ The Atlantic House on Rye Beach, is deservedly one of the most popular pleasure resorts on the coast. Ocean and land attractions are here presented in unusual combination; and within doors, the gentlemanly and experienced landlord, John C. Philbrick, Esq., and his attentive clerk, Mr. Sheppard, leave nothing undone that conduces to real comfort.

☞ Ladies and gentlemen, when at the South End, may find a nice ice-cream or a glass of first-rate root beer, at the residence of Sol Homes, No. 84 South Street — the old Janvrin house, which Sol now owns, and has much improved by laying out a flower-garden all about it.

☞ The Sunday School connected with the Methodist Society in this city, will hold their annual Pic Nic on Wednesday next, at Stratham.

CONGRESS.

THURSDAY, July 24.

SENATE.—The Senate had under consideration the bill protecting the American citizens who may discover guano deposits. The bill was passed.

The bills for the improvement of the harbors of Milwaukie and Kalamazoo were passed.

The bill for the improvement of the harbor at the mouth of Grand River was discussed until the adjournment.

HOUSE.—The House went into Committee on the Appropriation bills.

Mr. Barbour of Indiana moved to amend the clause appropriating $3,275,000 for the pay of the Army, by adding a disapproval of the code of alleged laws of Kansas, and the manner they are enforced, expressly declaring that until they shall be confirmed by Congress no part of the federal military forces shall be employed for their enforcement; nor shall any citizen of Kansas be compelled to act as posse comitatus of any officer acting as marshal or sheriff in the territory.

Mr. Phelps of Missouri raised a question that such an amendment could not by the rules be embraced in the bill.

The Chairman (Mr. Leiter of Pennsylvania) decided otherwise, and in an appeal was sustained by the committee—74 to 54.

Mr. Stanton moved an amendment, declaring the laws of Kansas null and void. He would stand by this even at the hazard of the loss of the bill. [Cries of "Agreed."

Mr. Stanton's amendment was agreed to—67 to 56.

Mr. Barbour's proposition, thus amended, was adopted—72 against 57.

(The House has yet to vote on the bill.)

The Committee then rose.

Mr. Washburn of Maine, from the Committee on Elections, reported a resolution declaring Mr. Whitfield not elected to a seat, and that Mr. Reeder be admitted to the seat as delegate from Kansas. Mr. Washburn gave notice that he would call up the resolution on Wednesday next.

The evening session was occupied with a spirited debate on Kansas.

Mr. Campbell of Kentucky gave notice of his intention to speak of the corruptness of the government, from the period of Mr. Buchanan's connection with it, holding himself responsible, in or out of the capitol, for what he may utter.

Mr. Branch of North Carolina, while defending Mr. Buchanan, said that the continuance of Mr. Fillmore in the Presidential contest must very greatly increase Mr. Fremont's chances of election. He reviewed, in condemnation, Know Nothingism in the North and South, charging that in the former section it is allied with Abolitionists.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Mr Burlingame, in answer to a warrant, appeared before Justice Hollingshead this morning, in company with Mr Campbell, and the two entered into a joint bond of $5000 that Burlingame shall neither engage in a duel in the District, nor leave its jurisdiction for that purpose.

The Albany Journal gives the following idea of Southern logic;—"Rust beats Mr. Greeley, to convince him that his resolution ought to have been adopted by the House; Herbert shoots a waiter, to prove that he is entitled to breakfast after 11 o'clock; Brooks pounds Mr. Sumner on the head, to establish the fact that his state is prosperous and his uncle a gentleman; Keitt puts pistols in his pocket, to satisfy the public that South Carolina had more troops in the revolution than Massachusetts; and Pate with five assistants, attacks a news-paper correspondent vi et armis, by way of refutation of the charge that he is a 'ruffian'!"

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

FATAL MISTAKE—A WIFE SHOT BY HER HUSBAND. Caroline, Va. July 16th, 1856. Last Friday morning, about 1 o'clock, Mr. William M. Kelly was suddenly roused from his sleep, and under the impression that his house was being broken into, siezed his gun and instantaneously fired upon some one, as he thought, entering the door; but to his horror he found he had shot his wife, who was fastening it. The shot entered just in front and above the right hip, penetrating deep into the body. Two physicians were immediately called in, but found her beyond hope. She lingered resignedly and uncomplainingly until about 4 o'clock Saturday morning, when she died, leaving an almost distracted husband, an infant son 11 months old, and a large number of relations and connections to mourn her loss.

Mr and Mrs Kelley had been married nearly two years, and were living most happily together, when the unfortunate occurence, like a thunderbolt, destroyed her existence and blighted his. He was, at night, timid, and in the habit of keeping a loaded gun near his bed, and hence the terrible accident. [Correspondence Richmond Despatch.

Mr. Lester Hall of Williston, Vt., died on the 17th inst., from the effects of poison. By mistake he took from a bottle of alcohol, containing corrosive sublimate in solution, instead of from a similar one which contained camphor.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one acre and half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses, the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

Whalebone Skirts.

THE only object of a Whalebone Skirt is to give a proper, graceful and elegant form to a lady's dress. Unless this is accomplished, the article is entirely worthless. The Ladies, by referring to Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions for April, will notice that E. & J. HOLMES have from actual experience been successful in producing this most desirable article, and that their IMPROVED SEAMLESS SKIRT meets the unanimous approbation of the ladies. They are light, pliable, and easily adjusted, and the only Skirt which is equally adapted to the street and the crowd; are made in one piece or breadth, and in our opinion, and in the opinion of thousands of ladies who have bought them, the most reliable goods of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce a Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacture and retail of these goods, we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of cord, and all starched goods, cannot be used satisfactorily, as they will not recover their place when pressed out of shape. We consider all as worthless, of whatever material made, unless there is something of sufficient stiffness and elasticity, and at the same time yielding and pliable, to keep the dress in proper shape below the bones. To accomplish this we have our cord made under our own direction, and expressly for our goods, and from the only material that can be used that will recover its proper place when pressed out of shape, and are so twisted in manufacturing that they will not roll or curl when wet, and warranted to wash without injury. The public are cautioned against all worthless goods, as the market since our goods have become popular and extensively known, has been flooded with goods of all kinds, and put together without form or comeliness, or any other object but to sell, and of course are called Whalebone Skirts. Some imitators, in their efforts to profit by our reputation, have gone so far as to copy almost exactly our trade mark upon their goods.

Please Notice.—Every genuine article stamped, E. & J. HOLMES'S IMPROVED SEAMLESS WHALEBONE SKIRT, and may be found by the trade in many of the largest Jobbing Houses in New York and Boston, and at retail in the principal Dry Goods stores.

MUMMY OF NEBUCHADNEZZAR.—It is stated that Colonel Rawlinson, who is prosecuting the discoveries commenced by Layard and Botta, and exhuming from the mounds of the long lost rival cities, Nineveh and Babylon, the instructive remains of this once gigantic power, has lately discovered, in a state of perfect preservation, what is believed to be the mummy of Nebuchadnezzar. The face of the rebellious monarch of Babylon, covered, by one of those gold masks usually found in Assyrian tombs, is described as very handsome—the forehead high and commanding, the features marked and regular. This interesting relic of remote atiquity is for the present preserved in the museum of the East India Company. Of all the mighty empires which have left a lasting impression on the memory, none has so completely perished as that of Assyria. More than two thousand years have gone by since the two "great cities," renowned for their strength, their luxury, and their magnificence, have crumbled into dust, leaving no visible trace of thei existence; their very sites forgotten.

LIFE IN BOSTON.—The Times says, the coroner's jury on the body of James Somers, who was reported to have died from the effects of an overdose of laudanum, have returned the following verdict:—That he came to his death about 4 o'clock, P. M., on the 18th of July, at his residence in Wharf street, from exposure to the heat of the sun, combined with the exposure to the heat of the sun, combined with the excessive use of alcoholic stimulants.

The same paper says:

The woman, named Margaret Bradford, who was shot by a man named Oliver Allen, in cellar No. 108 North street, on the night of the 14th inst., died of her injuries yesterday, at the Mass. Hospital. Coroner Stedman will hold an inquest. Allen has been lying in jail, awaiting the result of his shooting. His defence is, that an attempt was made in the cellar to rob him, and he took out the pistol to defend himself, and that the woman was accidently shot.

WON'T TRY IT AGAIN, PROBABLY.—The Cambridge Chronicle states that a few evenings since a grocer in that city, while busy waiting upon customers, discovered a 'customer in the act of putting an egg into his coat pocket. Keeping an eye upon him, he waited till he had appropriated fifteen in the same manner. The grocer went outside the counter, stepped quietly up to the offender, and with both hands squashed the eggs as they were in his pocket, and then "booted" him out of the store. Something of a yellow tinge was seen running from his coat pocket over the legs of his pants, as he made his way home.

We are reliably informed that there are now 60 per cent. more criminals in the House of Correction and Jails of Worcester Co. than there were last year, when the anti-liquor law was well enforced. The increase of criminals arises mainly from the city of Worcester, where the law is now disregarded.—Bost. Tel.

An interesting ceremony took place at Rockport on the afternoon of Sunday last. After religious services, the remains of the Rev. David Jewett, former pastor of the Congregational Society, and a man whose influence was deeply felt over Cape Ann and its vicinity for many years, were placed beneath the beautiful monument lately erected by the citizens of that place to his memory. The proceedings were opened with an appropriate prayer by the Rev. Nathaniel Richardson, of Lanesville. He was followed by the Rev. Wm. R. Jewett, of Plymouth, N. H., the son of the deceased, who in a most feeling and eloquent address, committed his father's remains to the people of Rockport, which was responded to in their behalf, by Dr. Haskell, of the Committee appointed to receive the remains.—Gloucester Tel.

A correspondent of the Peoria (Ill.) Republican writes that paper as follows:—"Mary Ann Moody, aged 19 years, daughter of J. Moody, of Rosefield, Peoria county, was accidentally shot on Thursday, the 10th inst. A young man living with Mr M. was playing with a double-barrel pistol, one barrel of which was loaded. The young man was not aware of this fact, as there was no cap on either tube. He put a cap on one of the tubes, and, with the design to have a little sport, pointed it at Mary Ann, who was standing a few feet from him, saying he was going to shoot. He did so, and the fatal ball entered her side. She was to have been married to the young man in a few weeks."

DAMAGE BY LIGHTNING.—The Congregational Church in Rochester, N. H., was struck by lightning on Tuesday, 15th inst. about noon. The lightning entered the dome, setting it on fire, and passed down one of the posts of the belfrey, shattering it to atoms. It then passed down between the furring of the main body of the house, each side of the porch, tearing off the plastering on the inside and taking up one of the pews, and shattering the boarding and tearing the clapboards from the outside badly. The Engines extinguished the fire before it made much progress. The house was probably damaged about three hundred dollars.

THE WAY THEY DO IN MISSOURI.—A Mrs. Anderson of Bourbonton, Mo. lately cowhided her husband. He ha l seen fit to go away with a woman, but, becoming weary of her, had returned to his first love. Mrs. Anderson received her recreant spouse with open arms and a long cowhide. With the latter she inflicted sixty lashes upon him in the presence of all her neighbors. Mr. Anderson thinks he "won't run away any more."

There seems to be some fight in New England, if it be not among the game cocks. A hawk having stolen a chicken in Watertown, the parent hen took flight after the thief, which she overtook about one hundred feet from terra firma, and gave him such a drubbing that he was glad to let fall the chick and escape with his life.

Mary Jane Richardson, 17 years old, has disappeared from her home in Eden, Maine, and it is conjectured that she has gone off with a married man, about 30 years of age.—Any information, respecting them, addressed to "Post Master, Eden, (Maine,)" will be gladly received by a distressed mother.

THE SABBATH.

A fourth person who has noticed the correspondence of "W.," of "H. M. J.," and 'Spectator' hopes that he shall not "darken counsel by words without knowledge," if he has a few words to say on the subject.

No doubt exists in my mind that neither of the above named cherish any wish foreign to the proper view of Sabbath observances—but it appears to me that each of the three trains of thought, though expressing much that is good, run in an isolated direction, and therefore fail of presenting an all embracing truthful view of the subject.

To begin with W. and H. M. J., the former thinks that special judgments may be visited as a mark of the divine displeasure against certain acts while H. M. J. rejects such an idea as being, as he believes, false.

It might be asked, on what grounds do they have such a supposition or rejection; neither of them has adduced proper support for their theories from the Scripture.

Now for myself, believing that the secret operations of providence, and the reasons why, belong to the Great Ruler and Disposer, and not to man, I hold that the first idea is superstitious and baneful, while the 2nd is impious, for in regard to the 2nd do we not "limit the Holy One" if we say that he does not or cannot?

But there is that which "belongs to us and to our children" to know, and that is a knowledge of right and wrong, and it is to this point that I wish to direct a few remarks.

The highest and best condition attainable by man, upon earth, comes from the appropriation of a proportionate amount of time to his interest as a spiritual and immortal being—therefore if there be days and seasons for labor, for recreation, for pleasure, &c., &c., there must also be some time which shall be sufficient to secure the blessings of the spiritual life; hence the value of the Sabbath and its privileges.

By this standard, I judge that he who should lock himself up in a church or a closet in acts of devotion or other spiritual pursuits and exercises, would violate the laws of his physical constitution, and therefore commit sin—so he also who would confine himself to a round of labor, pleasure, and natural sentiments, though each good in its place, violates the law of his spiritual being, and likewise commits sin.

Now, believing that the true order of things is in a day apart for spiritual things, when labor, pleasure, merely animal gratification and the like shall not disturb, I assume that he who violates this order commits sin—and I declare that the best estate of man upon earth is in Sabbaths honored and social worship maintained.

Thus far in regard to the absolute right and wrong. I now wish to say a few words in a relative point of view.

If all men honored the Sabbath and maintained the institution of worship in "spirit and in truth", one of the blessed fruits would be that everything secular in the world would be regulated thereby—none would be condemned to a life of half-required toil, but for a reasonable amount of labor all would receive a reward of all needful comfort, pleasure, recreation, natural enjoyments; and every work and purpose would have its time and its season.

Now if a man be born into the world under damaged circumstances in these respects, if he be condemned from his childhood to consume the appointed time for every other purpose in mere labor; it seems to me that he commits a sin much less than absolute if his time for natural enjoyments intrudes upon the proper time for spiritual things. So also, his sin would lose its heinousness in comparison with that of his privileged neighbor who was born under circumstances of high privilege and who should have the opportunity to regulate his time and seasons, if he should allow secular things to intrude. The sin of the latter would be absolute.

I might pursue this train of thought through many ramifications. I was naturally drawn to the remarks of "Spectator," and should allow, that in this relative point of view he entertains some similarity of views with myself, but it is only in this relative point of view that his remarks are to be tolerated. To notice particularly one remark, it is the writer's privilege to reside where not only on the Sabbath but on most other days, he enjoys the sights of the Ocean, and I think that I gratefully appreciate the glorious privilege. But besides the showing forth the might of Him, it reals to my mind some lessons not easily interpreted until one goes into the sanctuary of our God.

LEDGER.

BEGGING A RE-ELECTION.—The Charleston papers publish an address from P. S. Brooks to his late constituents, which is very sharp. He asks a re-election, as an approval of his conduct in assaulting Mr. Sumner.

A REMINISCENCE.—The Salem Gazette says: "The Imbroglio of Messrs. Burlingame and Brooks will remind the elder portion of our readers of the duelling farce played by Cuming and McDuffie, some twenty-five or thirty years ago, which set the whole civilized part of the country in a broad laugh. Their contrivances to get the advantage of each other, in place, position, weapons, and even dress, were carried to an extreme which seemed anything but "chivalrous" to those who boasted no more courage than commonly belongs to peaceable citizens.

We have already expressed our opinion upon the course which Mr. Burlingame has seen fit to adopt, in reference to the duello. It is inconsistent with good principle, sound judgment, religion, and law. Representatives from a state, which, like Massachusetts, shares in the best civilization of the age, should not suffer themselves to be moved from the ground that they will enter into no barbarian strife; that they will neither accept the duel nor carry murderous weapons; but standing upon their constitutional right of free speech, and keeping within the strict limits of parliamentary law, they will die in their seats, if necessary, but they will not go back to the bloody and brutal usages of barbarism.

Brooks is a coward. The manner of his assault upon Mr. Sumner proves that. For this infirmity he is not to be blamed. It is no more a merit to be courageous than to be handsome; and no more disgraceful to be timid than to be lame. It is simply a great misfortune, as the world goes. But nature is very impartial of her favors,—as in the case of the dunghill fowl, where she withholds the endowment of courage, but balances the want by an extra gift of loud crowing. Brooks therefore, we say, is not to be blamed for his cowardice, but only for the brutal exhibition of it, by surrounding himself with accomplices, and then attacking and defenceless man, and beating him almost to death, with a wolf-like ferocity which no man of common courage and humanity could use to a dog. He may fight five hundred duels, if he can find so many condescending Burlingames to accept his challenges; but he can never wash out the brand of cowardly brutality which the civilized world has stamped upon his brow."

WASHINGTON NEWS.—We learn from the special despatch of the Boston Advertiser, that the jury in the Herbert case returned a verdict of "not guilty," at half past 10 o'clock on Friday evening. So this criminal goes unwhipt of legal justice in Washington, and we presume will again take his seat in Congress, to vote in favor of Brooks, Butler, Atchison, Keitt, Stringfellow, Douglas & Co.

We learn from the same dispatch that Messrs. Burlingame and Campbell were put under $5000 bonds to keep the peace, and that Mr. Burlingame's wife had arrived at W. Mr. B. has been urged by the western republicans to take the stump in the State of Iowa, and has agreed to do so, soon.

☞ We learn by a private letter from our old friend Gustave Satter, that he is to spend the next six weeks or so in rusticating at Newburyport, and his friends may find him at the Merrimac House. He also informs us that the statement which we copied from the N. Y. Musical World, a few days since, that he had engaged to give a series of Concerts in Germany, is incorrect—that he had such an offer, but had declined it, not wishing to leave America at any rate. Mr. Satter is much more of a Yankee than many who were born this side of the water; and we are glad America pleases him as much as he gratifies Americans.

THE RETURN OF THE GUARDS.—The return of the Brigade of Guards to London, after an absence of nearly two years and a half in the Crimea, was made the occasion of great public rejoicing. An immense concourse of people of all classes assembled to welcome them, and their progress through the streets was one continued ovation. This Brigade is composed of three battalions, the Grenadiers, Coldstreams and Fusiliers, comprising in all about 3200 men. The "Guards" are the particular garrison of London, never being ordered away from the metropolis except in time of war. Two years and a half ago these regiments left home with full ranks, and they return with full ranks; but their ranks have been largely recruited since they have been abroad. It is a melancholy fact, and one that must have cast a shade over the rejoicings which attended their return, that but 260 of the men who composed the original Brigade, have survived to tread again upon the soil of England.

A SPIRITUAL WEDDING.—A wedding took place at Cincinnati the other day, between a spiritual lecturer of dark complexion and mixed blood, by the name of Randolph, and a white woman—a young widow by the name of Brooks. It is said that he psychologized her, and thus having gained control over her will, caused her to consent to a marriage.—They lived together for some days, but she finally recovered her will, refused to remain with him, and went home to her friends.

FOUR ULCERS.—The New York Herald says there are four spots in this immense republic beyond the pale of civilization, to wit: California, Utah, Kansas, and the city of Washington. Murders in hotels, riots on the floor of Congress, gambling in the avenues, and corruptions everywhere.

At Winchester, Ill., last week, the horses attached to one of McCormick's reapers, on Benj. Coulter's farm, became frightened and ran, and Mr. C., in attempting to stop them, fell before the machine and was so horribly mangled that his recovery is hardly expected; his son, who was on one of the horses, also fell and was instantly killed under the wheels.

Hon. Samuel Morrell, now in his 78th year, has recently resigned his post which he has occupied for 26 years, as Treasurer of the New Hampshire Savings Bank, located in Concord; and James Moulton has been appointed to succeed him in the same office.—For accuracy, fidelity and promptness in discharging the duties of his office, he has set an example which all business men would do well to follow.

ST. JOHN, N. B., July 25.—Provincial Liquor Laws.—The bill repealing the Prohibitory Liquor law has passed the Assembly—38 to 2. The old license law has been revived.

DISTURBING A PICNIC PARTY.—On Wednesday of last week, a picnic party from Boston visited a grove in Watertown, where they were disturbed by a number of men, also from Boston, who set up a liquor stand in their midst. The managers of the picnic party requested them to leave, which they refused to do, and an attempt was made to remove them by force. During the contest, the liquor jugs, &c., of the intruders were demolished and they were beaten off, but they afterwards rallied and beat two of the picnic party, named Howard R. Fillebrown and John Curley, quite severely. Deputy Sheriff Fiske, of Waltham, with a posse, soon after came upon the field and arrested two of the aggressors, named John Murphy and James McGuire. After examination before a Justice of the Peace, they were committed to East Cambridge jail, in default of bail in $800 each, to await their trial in October, in Lowell.—Times.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you want any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

☞ Those persons who have seen oxen only in their quiet moods, and have never witnessed a match against time by the sluggish creatures—can form no idea of the speed an ox-team can make, when thoroughly started by fright or anger. We had often been told of the summary manner in which they would clear the track, when once started—with tails erect and heads outstretched, and no reins flying wherewith to check their mad progress; but we had never chanced to see any such capers, until very recently. While returning home from a ride, a few days since, in Greenland we overtook a young farmer friend, driving two yoke of oxen attached to an empty wagon. "Nat" was walking, with another gentleman; when we thought we would just show them a little speed in passing, and accordingly let out on the ribbons. The sudden rattling started the two gents, one of whom sprang to the roadside, while our hero of the goad-stick caddled up to the near ox, and gave him the full benefit of his brad. In the twinkling of an ox-tail, the whole team was on the off side the road, and also making off down the road at a flying rate. Close after us they came,—Nat's application of the goad in front of the leading cattle, only serving to strike a balance of speed, by offsetting the application in their rear, of the horns of the hinder yoke. On we went, horse and riders, oxen and (not exactly) driver, for a hundred rods or more. We stopped, but the oxen didn't; and we were obliged to start our horse into a gallop, to save ourselves from being run down. At last, after much beating, more sharp running, and still more shouting, the team subsided into their usual lazy pace, and we drove on, laughing at the adventure,—which, but for the perseverance, coolness, and good wind of their driver, might have resulted more seriously.

☞ We learn that the South Parish (Stone Church) in this city, design building a new Chapel, on the site of their old one, in Court Street. Also to put a new Organ in their Church, and make other improvements in the building.

The Middle Street (Baptist) Society are also contemplating extensive repairs and improvements in their church.

The Pleasant Street (Christian) Society at their recent annual meeting, decided to repair, alter and improve their present house, or build a new one in another location. The situation of their church, a little removed from the centre of the town, is thought to have always operated against the prosperity of a society worshipping there: and we have no doubt it may be so—though it is an absurd idea, that all our churches, school-houses and other public buildings must be built in a huddle.

☞ Among the seventeen young ladies who graduated at the State Normal School in Massachusetts, last week, was Miss Caroline A. Hawkins, of Portsmouth. There are now eighty-nine pupils in the school.

☞ Many of our readers will be pleased to learn that Mr. Pennell intends to give another of his attractive Floral-Musical entertainments at the Temple on Thursday evening next.

☞ Dan Rice's Great Show, (which we suspect is very like a Circus,) is to enter this city to-morrow forenoon, and exhibit in the afternoon and evening. See the advertisement on our fourth page—horses climbing stairs, &c.

☞ The Journal is down on Dr. Drew of last year, alias Prof. Stephen of this year, for not paying his advertising bill under either name. The best way is for printers themselves to have divination enough to foresee the advisableness of being paid in advance. We, however, have not a word of complaint to offer against the Professor—he paid us like a gentleman. We will only say, that if he could but unravel his own future as readily as he promises to that of his patients—we doubt if he would have visited Portsmouth, to meet such poor success.

☞ Rev. Thos. Whittemore, in the Trumpet, states that he has seventeen thousand dollars of debts on the ledger of that paper, which he will sell for five thousand. He has commenced the publication in his columns, of a black list—giving the names and amounts due from those subscriber who refuse to pay, or who have changed their residences without notifying him. A good plan—but a better is to cross off the books all who won't settle at least once a year. If a man can't or won't pay for one year, we never could see how the probability of his settling is increased by letting his bill run up to five or ten times that amount. Some of the amounts due for Trumpet subscriptions, are twenty dollars.

Massachusetts—We have always beaten her in the debates of the Union. We have whipped her in Kansas, and we have caned her in the Senate Hall!

LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

NEW ORLEANS, July 26.

The Daniel Webster arrived today from Aspinwall, with California dates to July 5.—Steamer Illinois left Aspinwall 10th, for New York, with upwards of $1,700,000 in treasure and 650 passengers.

The Isthmus was quiet. Aspinwall sickly. Walker was inaugurated President on the 12th inst. There was much sickness among Walker's troops, and frequent desertions.—Among the deserters are Col. Mendez and Gen. Chillon.

Rivas still holds Leon, and many of the natives have declared against Walker.

Skirmishes in Oregon continue. Colonel Wright is not dead. He had had a fight at the Big Meadows: 40 indians and 10 whites were killed.

The result of the Oregon elections were not all in, but the territory has probably gone democratic.

Accounts from the mines are encouraging, and agricultural prospects good.

There was no abatement of the excitement at San Francisco. The Vigilance Committee were still in session, and firmly established. All the arms collected by the Law and Order men, had been seized by the Committee.

Judge Perry, of the Supreme Court, had been committed for stabbing one of the Committee's policemen while making an arrest.

Mr. Durkee, one of the committee, was subsequently arrested by the authorities, on a charge of piracy in seizing arms belonging to the State from a vessel.

Gov. Johnston remains at Sacramento.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY, July 25.

The Senate adjourned until Monday, after passing several private bills, and transacting other business of little importance.

The House, besides other private bills, passed the Senate bill for the relief of the widows and orphans of the officers and marines of the missing sloop-of-war Albany, and brig Porpoise. In the evening session, the Kansas matters were further discussed.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Acquittal of Herbert.—The Jury in the Herbert case, after retiring for three-quarters of an hour, returned a verdict of acquittal. The announcement was received with manifestations of delight of delight, and Mr. Herbert was immediately surrounded by his friends, who accompanied him to the Kirkwood House.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—There is much indignation and excitement among the Irish population here, in consequence of the acquittal of Herbert, who left early this morning.

The House is engaged today in the consideration of private bills.

SUICIDE COMPLETED.—The old man Hagen, who jumped overboard at South Boston on Monday, with the intention of committing suicide, but was rescued, had his suicidal desires gratified by doing on Friday. Domestic troubles and an over dose of salt water hastened his death.—Boston Times.

On Tuesday last, a mob in Georgetown, D. C., cut down the Democratic pole; and in the disturbance consequent upon that act, a man named Semmes was shot dead by another named Magee.

ACCIDENT FROM LIGHTNING.—The Parsonage of the First M. E. Church in this town, occupied by Rev. H. Baylies, was considerably damaged by lightning on Tuesday afternoon. The lightning struck the chimney, forced out a part of the kitchen stove, and filled two rooms with soot. The fluid seemed to part at the ridge and pass down both sides of the roof, following the conductor on one side into the cellar, and on the other side, the conductor being off, following the water to the side of the house, where it displaced several clapboards and entered. It burst into the parlor in several places, scattering the wall and wood work, and splintering the piano. A chair in which Mr. B. was sitting a moment before was thrown across the room. The fluid pierced the wall in a bedroom in several places, broke a dressing glass, and scattered parts of the case with lime, &c., across the bed, covering the face and neck of his sleeping babe, and yet without injury to her. The fluid entered the house in more than a dozen places, and escaped in as many different places, all around the house; it pervaded every part of the dwelling. Under a kind Providence the family escaped the slightest injury.—Taunton Whig.

FREAK OF LIGHTNING.—The Peterboro' Transcript says that during a shower on Tuesday last, the lightning descended upon a barn in Rindge, and a man being engaged in adjusting a cross-bar to which the great doors were fastened, the fluid knocked the bar from his hands and shivered it into more than a thousand splinters. It melted a silver watch in his pocket and passed down through the sole of his boot, making quite a large aperture. He was thrown down, but not seriously injured. He was not even stuned by the shock so much as to lose his consciousness. If this is a correct statement (and we have it from an authentic source, it is a strange freak of lightning.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," run the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

LONDON SABBATHS.—An Edinburgh gentleman at present in London, writing to the Scotsman, says: "It is a perfect joke to talk of Sunday music as Sunday desecration in a city such as this, where carts drive about with goods—where bakers, grocers, publicans, newsmen, confectioners, &c., keep open shop on Sunday—where street criers are as on other days—where trains and omnibuses run and newspapers are published—where the only thing really proscribed is the receiving and sending away of letters.

The veteran lecturer, John Hawkins, who has now been fifteen years in the field as an advocate of temperance, has been speaking in many of the surrounding towns for some weeks past, with more than usual success. He has been well received and has good audiences. Though his head has become quite white with the marks of time, he is good yet for a long campaign. He has averaged over three hundred addresses a year for the last fifteen years.—Boston Tel.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any man could have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. FREEBLE,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON, D. C., ? Dec., 1854. }

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 16, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking her Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be universally used.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can conscientiously recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORGRIDGE

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Nevertheless, I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, notwithstanding the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie. I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been so cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its inconsiderate use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects, and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can remove the incurable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, nor toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to many of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one acre a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands this situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the settlements the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five equal instalments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be put under cultivating. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds all be received as cash.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground adjoining the place where the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, the time, place, and manner, the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

Whalebone Skirts.

THE only object of a Whalebone Skirt is to give a proper, graceful and elegant form to a lady's dress. Unless this is accomplished, the article is entirely worthless. The Ladies, by referring to Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions for April, will notice that E. & J. HOLMES have from actual experience been successful in producing this most desirable article, and that their IMPROVED SEAMLESS SKIRT meets the unanimous approbation of the ladies. They are light, pliable, and easily adjusted, and the only Skirt which is equally adapted to the street and the crowd; are made in one piece or breadth, and in our opinion, and in the opinion of thousands of ladies who have bought them, the most reliable goods of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce a Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacture and retail of these goods, we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of cord, and all starched goods, cannot be used satisfactorily, as they will not recover their place when pressed out of shape. We consider all as worthless, of whatever material made, unless there is something of sufficient stiffness and elasticity, and at the same time yielding and pliable, to keep the dress in proper shape below the bones. To accomplish this we have our cord made under our own direction, and expressly for our goods, and from the only material that can be used that will recover its proper place when pressed out of shape, and are so twisted in manufacturing that they will not roll or curl when wet, and warranted to wash without injury. The public are cautioned against all worthless goods, as the market since our goods have become popular and extensively used, has been flooded with goods of all kinds, and put together without form or comeliness, or any other object but to sell, and of course are called Whalebone Skirts. Some imitators, in their efforts to profit by our reputation, have gone so far as to copy almost exactly our trade mark upon their goods.

Please Notice.—Every genuine article stamped, E & J. HOLMES'S IMPROVED SEAMLESS WHALEBONE SKIRT, and may be found by the trade in many of the largest Jobbing Houses in New York and Boston, and at retail in the principal Dry Goods stores.

ROYAL COURTSHIP.—The announcement that Prince Michael, of Russia, is about to visit Berlin, to see if he can select a consort from the Prussian princesses,—has drawn out the following anecdote.

While we are on the subject of imperial and royal marriages, it may not be out of place to mention a little incident connected with the late Emperor Nicholas's courtship of the Princess Charlotte of Prussia. As his son Michael is now coming to the Prussian court, so did the Grand Duke Nicholas, about the year 1816, come to Berlin to see if one of the Prussian princesses would not suit him, and the Princess Charlotte was given to understand by her parents that if he should take a fancy to her, they would have no objection to her returning the penchant.

The time originally fixed for the Grand Duke's stay had come, and he was seated at supper on his last evening, next to the Princess Charlotte, when he abruptly told her he must leave Berlin the next day. He hoped to surprise her into some demonstration of feeling on the occasion, but her maidenly pride withheld her from making any more than some very say-nothing remark in acknowledgement.

The Grand Duke then took another plan of operations; knowing that, however little the eyes of the company might be actually fixed on him and his fair neighbor, they were, nevertheless, the objects of general observation, he commenced telling her, but in apparently unembarrassed manner, and playing the while with a ring of his, that he had devoted himself during his short stay there to making himself acquainted with her character and disposition &c., and that he had found in her every quality that he believed best calculated to make him happy in his wedded life, &c., but, as they were at that moment the object of scrutiny to many present, he would not press her for any reply to his overtures, but, if it was agreeable to her that he should prolong his stay at her father's court, she would perhaps have the goodness to take up the ring he had in his hand.

This ring he then, apparently while playing with the two objects, thrust into the roll of bread lying on the table before him, and went on with his supper, seemingly in all sang froid. With an equal appearance of unconcern, the Princess presently put out her hand and took up the roll, as if mistaking it for her own bread; and, unnoticed by the company, withdrew the ring and put it on her own hand. The rest requires no narration.

BEFORE THE CHALLENGE.—"Now, sir, I say to that gentleman that no man has the right to wear arms who does not dare to use them. In my country, the cock that crows and won't fight is despised by the hens and even by the pullets, who know a thing on two instinctively."—Preston Brooks, July 14.

AFTER THE CHALLENGE.—"He requires me to meet him in Canada, a distance of near seven hundred miles by the mail route—a route running through the enemy's country, and through which no man knows better than Mr Burlingame, that I could not pass without running the gauntlet of mobs and assassins, prisons and penitentiaries, bailiffs and constables. He knew that I could never get to Canada, and that were I to do so, and he were to fail, that I never would get back."—Preston Brooks, July 22.

LIFE PRESERVERS AND PINCUSHIONS.—The serious consequences which may arise from an act of thoughtlessness, received another illustration at the burning of the steamboat Northern Indiana, on Lake Erie. It is stated that a large number of life preservers were rendered valueless, by having been used by the ladies as pincushions on retiring to their state rooms or berths.

From all parts of New Brunswick we read most flattering accounts of the various growing crops. Hay is most abundant. Potatoes look excellent, and every other description of farm produce is the same. In Nova Scotia the farmers are revelling in plenty, the present prospect of crops promising an abundant supply.

ACCIDENT AT BRANFORD.—As the noon train on the New London road was coming through Branford on Saturday, on its way to this city, it encountered a horse and carriage driven by Mr. Frank Harding of Branford, who, on his way to Indian Neck, attempted to pass just ahead of the cars. As the pilot of the engine struck the vehicle about midway, Mr. H. was thrown upon the forward part of the engine, where he remained until the train was stopped. There was a bad wound upon his forehead and a cut across the back side of his head. A physician driving past, stopped and took the injured man home.—We learn that his condition is considerably improved this morning, and that his injuries are not so severe as was thought at the time. It is singular that he should drive across the track when a train was approaching at full speed, and the necessary signal of warning had been given.—Hartford Times.

MOST TREMENDOUS FEAT.—Miss Kate Cooke has announced for her forthcoming benefit at Astley's, that she will take a flying leap over a lady in full dress, and clear the entire body without touching a single flounce. The distance—measured from skirt to skirt—is calculated to exceed, by two or three yards, that of the longest leap on record. There are wagers to a considerable amount, both in sporting and equestrian circles, that the daring young lady will not be able to accomplish the difficult feat. She has been strongly advised by all her friends to abandon the fool-hardy undertaking, and to jump over sixteen hoops, or half a dozen elephants, or a Greenwhich hotel bill, or any other bulky object, instead. —Punch.

ELOPEMENT.—There was quite an excitement in the village of River Point, Rhode Island, on Saturday last, occasioned by the elopement of a singularly matched couple.—The man, an Englishman, about forty-five years of age, is named William Clayton, and is a little fellow, less than five feet high. He has a wife and four children. His companion in guilt is a married woman of about the age of Clayton, and remarkable for her great height. Her husband has been an invalid for a number of years.

Capital punishments are extremely rare in Denmark, and when one does occur it creates an immense sensation. A woman was recently decapitated in the province of Jutland, where it is certain no execution has taken place for three hundred years, and the event was witnessed by upwards of 20,000 people. The woman astonished the multitude by her extraordinary calmness and apparent indifference. Her crime was the murder of her husband.

TUESDAY, JULY 29, 1856.

THE MURDERER HERBERT.

The Washington jury has done with him, but the press has not; and he and his abettors and sympathizers must be shown up.

The San Francisco Bulletin, of June 20, has a very severe article in regard to Herbert. We copy the following paragraph from the article:

"The atrocious deed was in perfect keeping with the man's past history and present character. We regret exceedingly that the Minister from the Netherlands should have taken advantage of his diplomatic privilege, and refused to appear as a witness, inasmuch as he seems to be the only party present who did not take part in the disgraceful proceedings. The idea thrown out by some of the eastern papers that more weight should be given to the evidence of the defence, from the fact that the witnesses for Herbert were men of education and intelligence, is in our opinion ridiculous. The idea that because a man is poor and filling a humble position in society, he cannot give as correct and true a version of an affray to which he was an eye witness, as the better dressed, more polished, but in all probability not so pure a gentleman, is preposterous. But this representative of the bowie knife and revolver fraternity, not satisfied with violating all rules of gentlemanly deportment adds a foul murder to the disgrace he has already heaped on this State. Among the witnesses for defence appears one Maj. Graham—we are glad he does not appear under the honorable title of 'Mr.'—and swears it was not the habit of the prisoner to carry deadly weapons.—We think it would have been better for the friend of the murderer to have qualified his evidence a little. It is well known that Herbert was never known to be without arms while in this State; that his antecedents are of the worst kind; that his friend William Gardiner, with whose pistol, it is said, he committed the murder, is equally a bad character, and at one time the citizens of Coloma gave him the choice of dangling at the end of a hempen cord, or leaving the town in fifteen minutes. We are free to say that if Herbert had been here at this time, he would be hung as high as his bosom friends and companions, Casey and Cora. When seeking office, such political demagogues as John B. Weller and P. T. Herbert, are loud in their protestations of love for the Irish; but when their wishes have been accomplished, they not only treat that people with contempt, but brutally murder them for daring to address them even with uncovered heads."

The True Californian publishes a narrative of the murder of Collin Cooke, a few years ago, at Brazos River, Texas, by a man named Waters, assisted by his brother and by Herbert. These parties, armed with double-barreled shot guns, rushed into Cooke's chamber, and while Herbert and one of the brothers held Cooke, Waters shot him dead by two discharges from his gun and one from a revolver.

The Boston Pilot says, of Herbert's first trial—

We have looked over the reports of the trial of Herbert in vain to find the ground upon which the first jury could disagree, at least on the question of manslaughter. All the clear and explicit testimony establishes the facts, that Herbert used the first insulting language, and struck the first blow, and that poor Keating was endeavoring to retreat, when Herbert pulled him round and shot him in the breast. The evidence of the two friends of Herbert was loose and obscure in the extreme. The nearest either of them could come to anything definite was, "an impression that Herbert was bent forward when the pistol was fired."

There was no good ground for acquittal then or now. But we assure the Pilot that the true ground of acquittal is in the corrupt public opinion in Washington, made up as it is by men who plotted and aided similar wickedness in California and Kansas—made up by the men, who, in the House of Representatives, voted alike to shield Herbert and Brooks—made up indeed by men who act exactly as the Pilot itself speaks in of its own opinion, the following item:

Constituted, as the present House is, a majority having been elected upon a platform incompatible with the constitution, we attach no importance whatever to its decision, that Brooks and Keitt had committed a breach of privilege; and hold to the opinion that Brooks was only amenable to the ordinary judicial tribunals of the District of Colombia, for a criminal act done out of the house.

Brooks and Keitt and Herbert all consider that a deadly assault on a free state Senator who tells the truth against them and their deeds, is only punishable by the ordinary courts in Washington—and that the murder of an Irish waiter for truly answering a drunken rowdy, is only punished in the same way.

The same company of debauched congressmen who defended one of these criminals, defended both of them! And their influence in the courts and on the juries,—renders a trial before "the ordinary judicial tribunals of the District of Colombia," the merest farce when the crime is small, and an outrage on justice when the crime is great and atrocious.

☞ On Sunday, a disgraceful row occurred in New York at the John street M. E church, between the up town and down town parties, who were struggling for possession. The up towners employed some bullies to close the church, and the down towners rallied in defence of their rights. Great excitement ensued, and the police finally interferred and quelled the riot.

The Eastern Watchman states that in the single State of Maine, there are about 150 Baptist churches destitute of pastors.

BULLY BROOKS, AT HOME.—In his letter asking for re-election, Brooks says;

Every member from the slave-owning States voted to sustain me, but two, and they were Know-Nothings—the one from Maryland (Mr. Hoffman) and the other from Delaware, (Mr. Cullen.) Thirteen gentlemen from the free States also voted against the resolution to expel.

[Nearly every one of the same men, voted also to sustain Herbert in the murder of Keating.]

But a majority of the House has pronounced me, because of my act, unworthy of a seat in the American Congress. I could not, as the representative of a high-toned and gallant constituency, rest with this imputation upon you and myself. I resigned my seat, and kicking the black dust of a black republican majority from my feet, I left the hall in indignation and disgust.

Brooks kicks off the republican dust! What a refreshing contrast to the northern doughface who kneels in southern dirt, eats it to order, and is then kicked off the ground by his masters, to make room for a new tool to be used up in the same way.

My appeal is to you. If I have represented you faithfully, then elect me with an unanimity which will thunder into the ears of fanaticism the terrors of the storms that is coming upon them. If in aught I have failed to represent you as you are, then in God's name send some man whose blood is more sluggish than mine.

Who can they send? Can any body wait two days instead of one, and then steal in more softly to aim the mortal blow? We wait to hear the thunder.

The acquittal of Herbert created so much excitement in Washington, that he was obliged to leave the city at once. If the club law of assassin Brooks is good and sound, then the Irishmen of Washington should waylay Herbert, and beat his head to a jelly with their shillalahs. Brooks says Sumner insulted his mother State,—therefore he commits a cowardly assault to defend her dignity. Herbert called Keating a d—— Irish son of a b——, thus slandering his mother; and then shot him dead with a pistol. Now on the Brooks plan, on which he appeals to the drunken chivalry to reelect him,—every true son of Erin ought to try his cudgel on Herbert's head.

It is reported in the New York News that the slave girl whose freedom was purchased by Mr. Beecher's congregation absconded lately, taking with her certain articles not her property. It was a trick, it is said, concocted by the master and the girl to raise the $1200. She returned to him, was quite happy, and getting along as well as could be expected.

Is it possible, that the chivalry of Virginia are conniving and contriving with a negro wench, to swindle and cheat a church so as to obtain money on false pretences?

The New York News is very poor authority—so the story may be false—but if true, it is the hardest cut on the chivalry we have seen for a long time.

☞ The large newspapers contain a heap of documents, published by Mr. Burlingame and his friend Campbell.—Brooks seems to have been afraid of Burlingame's rifle, and also of the northern barbarians through whom he must pass to Canada.

One thing now strikes us as quite ludicrous—viz. that Brooks is a most intense Union saving man, believing in no law higher than a compact to sustain slavery, &c.; yet he would go about to break the laws of all the States and of the Union, against duelling.

Laws favoring slavery must be obeyed, on his theory—but those for anything else may be broken ad libitum, if they stand in the way.

PROBABLE MURDER.—Saturday evening an Irishman named John Woods, went into a saloon in Chelsea, near the Ferry, kept by a negro named George Tolliver, where he got into some difficulty with Tolliver, who struck him on the head with a heavy club, and fractured his skull. The Irishman was picked up senseless and carried home, and is not now expected to live. The negro was last seen in Malden. The police are after him.

Tolliver is a well known black scoundrel who has kept rum dens in and near Boston for a long time, and was fined once or twice under the license laws.

☞ Flora Temple under saddle, beat Tacony in harness, on the Long Island course, last week—mile heats, best two in three—match for $1000. Time (Tacony) 2.31¼, (Flora) 2.28¼, 2.29¼. Flora, we think, was never beaten; Tacony is said to be done up—though his time in his race with Mac, (2.24¼,) has never been out-trotted.

☞ Count Lanscombe, of Paris, recently won a bet with his English hunting horse John Bull, by making him back "one kilometre" (about a mile, we believe) in six minutes. The last twenty rods were accomplished at a rate which put to test the full trotting powers of some of the witnesses' steeds.

☞ A veterinary surgeon, in an able article published in the N. Y. Spirit of the Times, on the shoeing of horses, complains of the long toe universally left on horses, and the wearing of narrow toe-corks, so common. We have always regarded as vicious, the practice of paring the heel and leaving the toe.

HOT WEATHER, SUN STROKES, &c.—In Boston, on Saturday, Geo. Doherty, aged 29, at work in Dover street, was overcome by the heat, and died.——Daniel Berry, while carting gravel in South Boston, was struck down by the heat, and cannot recover.——A hackman named Eben Stodder was attacked with delirium tremens, and taken to the Hospital, where he died in a fit of apoplexy soon after his admission.——Hugh McIntire, a carpenter, aged 45, was overcome by heat Saturday afternoon about 5 o'clock, and died an hour after. He was engaged in laying floors in the new houses on the Milldam.——Mrs. Sophronia Look, aged 22, died very suddenly of internal hemorrhage on Saturday. She had been suffering from an attack of dysentery for several days, but had entirely recovered and was expressing thanks to her physician, at the time that she fell down and expired.——Patrick Shannon visited house No. 9 Strong place, on Sunday, when, after drinking several glasses of liquor, he was attacked with delirium tremens and died.

☞ Amongst the Acts of our Legislature at its late session is one, providing that the County Commissioners discharge such duties as devolve on them in term time of Courts, within the first week of the session.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?" It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six pages to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

The blasting is to remove a ledge encountered in digging a Basin in which to sink the Dry Dock for the reception of vessels. The rock is light-colored granite, intermixed with a sort of quartz; and is very close and heavy. By the way, we think this fact of a granite foundation thirty-six feet below, settles the question as whether the Navy Yard belongs to Maine or the Old Granite State. The work is proceeding finely, under direction of B. F. Chandler, Esq., civil engineer of the Yard; to whom we were indebted, on Monday afternoon, for a polite explanation and exhibition of the process. We were informed that a blast will be made each Saturday afternoon at three o'clock—and we advise all who can, to witness the experiment.

☞ A most permanent and substantial fence, of wrought iron, on a stone foundation, is now in course of erection, round the new High School House at the corner of Daniel and Chapel streets, with a proper sidewalk to match.

To Voters.—Those who change their residence from one ward or from one town to another, after August 4, will lose their vote in the Presidential election. This fact should be borne in mind by voters.

Pic Nic at Newmarket.—The Methodist Episcopal Society, of this city, propose having a Sunday School pic-nic, to-morrow, in a beautiful grove, not heretofore used for that purpose, near Newmarket Junction. It is bountifully supplied with springs of excellent water.

Washington, Sunday evening, July 27.—The Republicans propose to join with the Administration members to-morrow, in taking up the substitute for the bill for the admission of Kansas, and disposing of it. This policy seems to me to be doubtful, because, while it is futile now to hope that the Senate will consent to any course not certain to make Kansas a slave state, there is danger that if the bill is taken up, enough 'weak-kneed' Northern men may join the democracy to eventually carry the Senate scheme.

Late intelligence from Mr. Sumner shows that he does not recover from his debility. He has left Cape May for the mountains.—Boston Adv.

Rock Island, July 25.—Kansas.—Gen. Stringfellow and other citizens of Preston, issued a handbill on July 8th, calling on all Missourians to go over to Kansas before August to vote at the November election under Toombs's bill. We learn by mail that Lane's party of 200 persons, including women and children, crossed the Missouri to Nebraska City on Monday. Gen. Smith says if Lane enters Kansas he will arrest him if it costs him $500. Lane will remain in Iowa unless the Missourians attempt to intercept his party. Six hundred Missourians are said to be organized at St. Joseph to intercept Lane's party. There will be a general battle if they attempt it. Ninety Chicagonians and thirty Massachusetts men are expected to join Lane at Nebraska City.

Baltimore, July 27.—The Southern mail to-day brings nothing from any point South of Savannah.

On Friday last a train of six cars on the Whelden and Wilmington (N. C.) Railroad were thrown from the track, and turned bottom up. A number of passengers were more or less injured, but none fatally.

The Higher Law. Pierpoint's Demonstration.—"Not to believe in a higher law is stark atheism. For if there be no higher law than the constitution, then is there no higher law-giver than its framers. And if there be no higher law-giver than these, then is there no God."

St. John, N. B. July 26.—Legislative.—The Governor has assented to the repeal of the prohibitory liquor law, and the Assembly has been prorogued.

Sudden Death.—On Sunday morning last, Mr. Asa Gile, of Upper Gilmanton, arose in his usual health, drove his cows to pasture, shaved, ate his breakfast, and was preparing some tobacco to smoke, when his knife was heard to drop upon the floor, and he immediately expired. His death is presumed to have been caused by disease of the heart. His age was 65 years.—Laconia Democrat.

2 WEEKS LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

ARRIVAL OF THE ILLINOIS.

New York, July 27.

The steamer Illinois arrived at noon today, bringing California dates of July 5, and Panama and Aspinwall to 19th, and $1,650,000 in treasure.

The Illinois connected with the steamer John L. Stevens, which brought down upward of $2,000,000 in treasure. The J. L. Stephens spoke on her passage the Sierra Nevada, on the 12th, and the Sonora on the 17th, both bound up.

Advices from San Francisco indicate that the State authorities had apparently determined to make no further resistance to the Vigilance Committee.

The startling event of the week was the stabbing of S. R. Hopkins by Judge David S. Terry, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. Hopkins proceeded to the office of Dr. Ashe, Navy Agent, for the purpose of arresting J. R. Maloney, charged with attempting to convey munitions of war to the city for the use of the state. Judge Terry, being present, interfered to protect Maloney, and together with others, formed an armed party to escort Maloney to the Dupont street armory. Hopkins collected assistance and attacked the other party in the streets. A struggle ensued, in the course of which Terry stabbed Hopkins with a bowie knife, and he fell senseless.

The news of this melee was immediately communicated to the executive of the committee, which was then in session, and a general alarm was sounded for the rally of the committee troop. In fifteen minutes one regiment of infantry, two companies of cavalry, and five companies of artillery were in motion.

In the meantime, Maloney and his party had taken refuge in a brick building, well guarded and fortified. This building was invested on all sides by the committee troops, and the inmates ordered to surrender. They obeyed without hesitation, and Maloney and Terry were conveyed prisoners the the headquarters of the committee.

At the same time the armories of the state troops were invested, and forced to surrender to the committee. One hundred of the state troops were taken prisoners, but subsequently released on parole.

At the latest dates Judge Terry was still in the custody of the committee, and Hopkins was still alive.

On the same day Hopkins was stabbed, two vessels, freighted with arms for the state authorities, were seized in the bay by armed vessels belonging to the committee. Subsequently J. L. Durkee, commander of one these vessels of the committee, was arrested by federal officers, and held in $25,000 on charge of piracy.

The Committee disclaim any intention to oppose the federal authorities.

On the day following the stabbing of Hopkins, the committee arrested a notorious gambler named Dan Aldridge.

Hopkins was, at last accounts, considered out of danger.

Much indignation is manifested at San Francisco relative to the bill before Congress for quieting land titles in California, said to have been introduced by Herbert.

From Mexico.—We have Vera Cruz dates to the 22d inst. A conspiracy has been detected at Puebla to restore Santa Anna.—Many priests were implicated.

Fall River, July 27.—A serious accident occured on Saturday night on board the steamer Empire State when off Point Judith, on her passage from Fall River to New York, caused by the collapse of the steam chimney of the starboard boiler, thereby forcing all the steam down the flues in the fire-room and upon the main deck, scalding 22 persons, 9 of whom have since died of their injuries.

Immediately after the occurrence of the accident, the boat returned to Fall River, where the best of medical attendance was immediately procured, and everything done which could tend to alleviate the condition of the sufferers. The remaining passengers were immediately forwarded to New York by the steamer State of Maine.

The names of the injured, and who have since died, are as follows:—J. C. Beach, lawyer, New York; Joseph S. Reed, East Boston; Joseph Darman, New York; Charles Clyde, New York; Joseph Richards, Bangor, Me.; Fred. Boardman, (German) New York; Ezra Williamson, (3d, Engineer) Fall River; Hiram Peachey, (fireman) Williamsburg; William McGee, (fireman) New York.

Will Probably Recover—Thos. J. Nixon, Taunton; Moses Benner, Hatfield; Thomas Farrel, Brooklyn; N. Y.; John Welch, Dexterville, Pa.; Nathaniel Amos, Marshfield, Mass.; Wm. Hersey, Dexterville, Pa.

Slightly Scalded—Michael Daley, New York.

Advices from Fall River, Monday morning, state that two more of the scalded are dead, making 11 in all, and that of the eleven others injured, all but four will probably die.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A Perfumed Breath.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A Beautiful Complexion may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

Shaving Made Easy.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," run the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

Quebec, July 27.—The Indian, from Liverpool, Wednesday, July 16, arrived at this port today.

In the House of Commons, Lord John Russell made his looked for motion of inquiry, demanding to be informed what course the Government proposed to adopt in reference to the suggestion of the Congress of Paris respecting the affairs of Italy.

Palmerston replied that it was not deemed expedient to make known the intentions of the Government.

The motion was negatived.

A ministerial crisis has occurred in Spain. Espartero has tendered his resignation, and other changes are expected. It is reported that the difficulty with Mexico is settled, and the fleet will return to Havana.

Wanted a Good Coat Maker.

COLD WATER.—Not long since, while seated at the breakfast table of an old aquaintance, having myself been supplied by request, with a tumbler full of the sparkling beverage of nature, and others with a mixture of hot water, sugar and milk, drugged with coffee, his little daughter about three years old, was supplied with a cup, not of coffee or tea, as hundreds of children are, at the present day, to their very great injury,—but of the simple mixture of water and milk. She tasted the compound, but as if recarding it a fac-simile of a policy that in this age, extends far and wide, that is, of being neither one thing nor another, or more correctly of being one thing intensely, and only whitened with the other (as in the above case,) to save reputation, she stretched out her hand toward a cup of cold water, exclaiming, "I want drink." "I want clean drink." "Clean drink." "Clean drink." was repeated after her with much interest, while it was thought to be the best definition of clean water, yet heard. It is emphatically clean as it falls clear as crystal from the pure regions above; it contains nothing when cooled to offend the taste, disorder the stomach, shatter the nerves, palsy the limbs, blast the face or bewilder and destroy the brain; it is clean drink, good and healthy, promotive of thrift, of long life and happiness. Let every child and young person ask for clean drink.—Cor. Fulton Adv.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with U S Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in securing Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantage for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britian, France and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in stating that inventors cannot employ a person more competentand trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

Commissioner of Patents.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to $2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is found at several points near the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles in land, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no cheap means for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands are carried either by wagon or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be demonstrated that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro't under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM HOUSES.

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, showing the Sales-stock the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

JOHN WILSON,
Land Commissioner of Ill. Central R. R. Co.,
Office up to the 1st of May, 52 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.; after that date in the New Stone Passenger Depot, So. Water st. a8 6m

TAKING CARE OF THE BABY.

Of all work, the amusing of a baby, when you don't feel like it, is the hardest. I do not mean a little baby who will lie satisfied in your lap, and be trotted gently to the tune of 'Governor's coach,' thereby sinking off to sleep, with his thumb in its mouth; or who will sit in your lap an hour at a time rattling a bunch of keys, turning them over and over; throwing them down for you to pick up, wetting them all over in the meantime.

But a great baby like Bertie, about twenty months old, large enough to trot about, and talk a little, and get into every possible mischief.

Your nerves have been on the stretch till you can bear it no longer, on account of the violent trotting kept up in the nursery, and the low murmurs of discontent proceeding therefrom.

You wonder why Nancy cannot posses a little tact in amusing the baby. You do not wonder either; of course she is willing that you should lay aside the dress you wish to finish as a Saturday's job, and take her place in the nursery—it is quite a relief to her; but it is very singular 'why he wont stay content with her at all, and she is so fond of children.'

And there you have to sit and build block houses, and roll balls, and caper on all fours, and creep under the bed, so as to peep out again, and laugh when you want to cry.

You look at the time piece to see if it is baby's bed time—it is only four o'clock.

Baking-day comes—baby must be taken care of—you give very special directions to the nursery maid; and to Susy and Charlie—you seat baby on the floor and empty his basket of playthings before him, you have even provided an extra 'bow-wow,' for him which will really open its mouth when it barks—and that Charlie be not jealous, a new trumpet for Charlie, and in order that Susy may take no offence, a cap and ball for Susy; and then in the interest of the moment you slip out into the kitchen.

With the nervous intensity you hurry up the dough; rendered every moment more nervous by the frequent shutting of doors up stairs, the patting of little feet in the entries, and the calls of 'mamma.'

Hammer, hammer, hammer, goes the nursery poker against the nursery stove, or trot, trot, trot, upon the floor, Nancy's stereotyped method of settling babies' uneasiness. In vain have you told her again, and again, that baby is too old to be amused by a mere din, and that is a very wrong way of amusing any baby.

There is no alternative but to receive baby into the kitchen—and as you give the word, you hastily clap the flour into the closet, and shut the door, set the butter and eggs on a high shelf, and cover the sugar jar.

What a crow of satisfaction as he seizes the spice box, and empties it on the floor.

You interfere.

Baby screams in resentment, you give him a little ball of dough, as a peace offering—so you go on—trying to keep baby at as trifling an expense as is possible.

You get through at last. One pie is burnt, one loaf is heavy, but your success has been as good as could be expected, and when you go up stairs with baby, Nancy scowls at the disorderly kitchen, with firkins pulled from the closet, skillets in the chairs, flour scattered, and fat dropped.

'Ah!' says Uncle, 'but the end is not yet, you are laying the foundation of a great work in the care of your children—baby as well as the rest.'

Yes, I do not dispute it, but I say it is harder than unmolested washing, ironing, scrubbing, or all three.

And you men go every day to your offices or stores.

You look after yours clerks, take invoice of goods, produce duplicates, meet cronies, go on change, dine at refectories and come home tired.

Hard work, you say—so it is—but just come and take the supervision of the nursery for two days—the task shall be uncommonly moderate—you shall have only baby to look after, and see if you wont find it as hard a two day's work as you ever did.—Daisy Dell.

THE MAMMOTH CAVE ENLARGED.—Last Thursday a party of five gentlemen, consisting of Stephen Bishop, the guide, and three students, Robert Taylor, Clarence Bates and William L. Stone, discovered a heretofore unknown passage in the celebrated mammoth cave, two miles long. By this discovery, the cave, already the largest in the world, is found to extend eleven instead of nine miles. This passage was found by the party to lead to chambers which they consider vastly superior to those already known, both in extent and grandeur.

LOOK OUT NOW FOR THE CONTRACTION OF BAD HABITS.—It is now hay-time as well as hot weather and many a plea will be put in to the young man, that he "should not drink too much cold water; it has been known to kill folks when heated, and a very little spirit is necessary at this season and in such labors. And besides it is Presidential year and we can go a step or two out of course in this free country, where the people are their own masters, and not hurt any body. What if we should wet our lips once in a while."—Beware. Remember the half-ounce phial of Brandy. You may bind yourself to the demon in indissoluble bonds.—Vt. Standard.

The Philadelphia Republicans have inaugurated a rather novel series of meetings. Instead of holding one-sided convocations for the hearing of glorification speeches, they have established meetings on Wednesdays and Saturdays for the discussion of the grand question of "Who should be next President of the United States?" Democrats and Americans participate, and the consequence is, that they have meetings based upon an intelligent principle. On Saturday night, about 1000 were present to hear the debate.

A man employed on the Genesee river new Suspension Bridge, near Rochester, slipped, caught hold of a fellow-workman's leg, and he being pulled off the scaffold, hung by the wire until both were rescued. They were hanging 240 feet above the water.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 30, 1856.

EXTRACT.—The Kansas-Nebraska Bill, which upset President Pierce's prospects for a second term, contains this passage:

"It being the true intent and meaning of this act not to legislate Slavery into any Territory or State, nor to exclude it therefrom, but to leave the people thereof perfectly free to form and regulate their domestic institutions in their own way, subject only to the Constitution of the United States.

The Eastern Argus of the 29th, in copying this, says:

This seems sufficiently plain to be understood by any body.

So it seems. We understood it to be a cheat and a falsehood, as soon as we read it; we denounced it as such forthwith. A majority of the people in every New England State, who read the papers, understood it in the same way,—and at their next State elections and Congressional elections, voted against it and its authors.

Plain enough for anybody.

The Argus continues:

It is still more plain, when taken in connection with that clause of the bill which thus refers to the Missouri Compromise:

"Which being inconsistent with the principle of non-intervention by Congress with slavery in the States and Territories, as recognised by the legislation of 1850, commonly called the compromise measures, is hereby declared inoperative and void."

Exactly! The Compromise line was here repealed that slavery, under the fostering care of the then supposed strong power of Douglass, Atchison & Co. might extend into Kansas without any troublesome intervention by Congress. Just this and nothing else. Still more plain, indeed. So plain, that the people of the free states, so called, created a new Congress which has become quite troublesome, passing bills over vetoes, and doing all sorts of new things. Plain enough we think.

Subsequent events have shed a flood of light upon it.

KANSAS MATTERS.—Of Kansas matters in Washington, where the iniquities and outrages against liberty in Kansas were concocted, we have some important news.

First, we see that on Monday the House refused to take up the Toombs Douglas Kansas bill of the Senate—and it is supposed it cannot now be reached.

A Kansas pacification bill will be introduced in the House to-morrow or next day, embracing the good features of Toombs's, Haven's and Bennett's bills, providing for resubmitting the "Topeka" Constitution to the people of Kansas, abrogating the territorial laws, declaring the legislature illegal, and providing for a similar commission to that named in Toombs's bill, to be appointed on territories or otherwise, but not by the President.—This bill will receive the support of the Fillmore men.

Next, we see, by a dispatch of Monday, that "the President has nominated to the Senate, John W. Geary of Pa., to be Governor of Kansas, in place of Shannon, removed. Mr. Geary, for many years a Civil Engineer, was elected Colonel of the Second Pennsylvania Regiment, in the Mexican war. He was appointed by President Polk in 1849, to proceed to California as Post Master of San Francisco. He was subsequently appointed by Gen. Riley as Judge or Alcalde. He was the first Mayor of San Fransisco, under the city charter, and was appointed by the State Legislature a member of the Board of Commissioners for the funded debt. He is represented as being forty years of age, and admirably fitted for the discharge of the duties of the office, to which the President has appointed him."

He may be, we hope he is, a soberer and better man than Gov. Shannon. He can hardly be worse, more sottish, or more completely the ally and tool of the border ruffians.

And last, but not least, we see the Committee of the Whole, in the House, have adopted an important amendment to the army appropriation bill, withholding the money until Congress declares certain dark doings in Kansas to be cleared up.

☞ Hon. Hannibal Hamlin has accepted the Republican nomination for Governor of Maine. He says he will address the people of every county in the State before election, and will resign his office of Senator if the democrats carry the State. He is to be one of the speakers at a great pic nic in Eliot on Friday next, Aug. 1. Hon. F. O. J. Smith is also to speak, at the same place, on the same occasion.

A COLLISION.—The Boston Times says, John Sylvester Gardner, a lawyer of that city, 25 years of age, who, several weeks since, was struck on the head with a pitcher during a collision which occurred at a shop in Tremont street, died at the residence of his father, Temple place, on Friday last, from inflammation resulting from the injuries which he received. That must be a bad shop where lawyers' heads come into collision with pitchers.

FELL AMONG THIEVES.—On Friday last, says the Newburyport Herald; an individual from one of the rural districts, who was the owner of a piece of salt marsh in Newbury, came into the city for the purpose of effecting a sale, receiving therefor upwards of three hundred dollars. Falling in with some friends he participated freely in exhilarating and stupifying fluids, and on coming to his senses, found himself minus salt marsh and money.

NEW PAMPHLETS.—John P. Jewett & Co. have just published a political pamphlet, containing the Republican Platform, the lives of Fremont and Dayton, (with beautiful steel portrait of each.) Also, the Declaration of Independence, and the Constitution of the United States.

The same publishers have also issued Kate Coventry: an Autobiography, from Fraser's Magazine.

BLUEBERRIES.—On this enticing subject, the Brunswick Telegraph thus discourses—

Brunswick Plains are now daily covered with men, women, and children, with all sorts, sizes, and qualities of pails, kettles baskets and boxes, in busy search for this delicious berry. They are large and plenty this year, and the whole population appear to have resolved to enjoy them to the fullest extent.—The children are losing all interest in their studies, planning for "blueberrying," and on the whole, the berry-loving population of Brunswick are just now having a high time on a small scale.

Advices from Hayti announce that Emperor Soulouque was about to acknowledge the independence of the Dominican Republic, and that a treaty of peace will shortly be concluded between the two parties who inhabit the island of St. Domingo. Commissioners are to be appointed by both governments, for the purpose of fixing the boundaries, and the English and French consuls are to act as umpires. Hopes are entertained that the peace may be lasting, and that much good will result therefrom to all parties concerned.

SUDDEN DEATH OF FATHER AND SON.—On Friday last, Mr. Abraham Dodge, and his son, Alphonso Dodge, of Wenham, Mass. were engaged all day in haying. Mr. Dodge during the day, drank freely of ardent spirits and ate but little. This in connection with the extreme heat, caused him to be taken seriously ill at night-fall, with congestion of the brain, and he died Saturday morning, at 4 o'clock, The son, during the night, was seized with cholera morbus and died at 6 o'clock, about two hours after his father.—The son was but 17 years of age, and the hope and pride of the family. Both were buried at Wenham on Monday.

HAY IN MAINE.—The Portland Transcript says that the hay crop thus far has been secured in good order, and is larger than for several years past.

☞ Mr. Godard, Mrs. G., Mr. Colburn and Mr. Sleeper, all went up in a balloon from Boston, on Monday afternoon, and landed at Deer Island in safety.

LIBERIA COLLEGE.—Hon. Joseph J. Roberts, late President of the Republic of Liberia, has been appointed President of Liberia College, and has accepted that office.

After remaining a few days longer in Boston to complete the necessary arrangements, Mr. Roberts will return to Liberia by way of England, and will at once begin the work of preparing the College grounds,—one hundred acres, given by the Legislature,—and the erection of the necessary buildings. As soon as these can be completed, the college will be open for the reception of students.

DEATH ON A RAILROAD.—The Monday afternoon up train from South Vernon to Keene, over the Ashuelot railroad, ran over and killed Calvin Elmer of Hindsdale, N. H., while he was walking up the track towards that place, with his back to the approaching train. The engineer sounded the whistle upon seeing the man, but the alarm was not heeded and the train could not be stopped.—The man had a bottle in his pocket.

Tobias Koch has been arrested for placing obstructions on the track of the Milwaukie and La Crosse Railroad, in Wisconsin. This man owns a farm on the line of the road, and exhibits the most inveterate hatred towards the railroad company, on account, as he says, of their running over and killing some of his stock.

Preston S. Brooks says he shall come back to the House, and he feels constrained to assure those who voted for his expulsion that for all future time his self-respect requires that he should pass them as strangers. The members must feel somewhat relieved at this assurance. The danger was that instead of passing them, he would step up behind and rap them over the head with a cudgel.—Boston Journal.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Miss Eliza Steele, a young lady 15 years of age, daughter of Eleazer Steele, Esq., of Bradford, N. H., while riding with a party of friends in that place, on Wednesday last, owing to the horses becoming unmanageable, was thrown from the carriage and instantly killed.—Worcester Spy.

POTATO ROT.—We are sorry to state that the potato rot has appeared in this vicinity, notwithstanding the dry and clear weather, with a good deal of virulence. It is perceptible on potatoes from the South as well as those in the vicinity. We examined a number of kinds of potatoes yesterday, in all of which the rot had commenced, appearing at the stem end in the shape of a little spec of rust under the skin. In some of them, examined with a microscope, the disease appeared like a burn in the flesh, almost black, and a minute after a transparent insect could be seen moving over it, imperceptible to the naked eye.—Bunker Hill Aurora.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but perfect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cutting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.—They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.—We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Needle. We desire all parties purchasing these Needles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, notwithstanding the heavy damages we have recovered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, 'Warranted by R. Crowley' A liberal discount will be allowed to dealers who purchase in large quantities.

Overaly Mills, Alcester, England.

Having made arrangements with the Manufacturers of the above brand of Needles (which I earnestly recommend as the best Needle in the market,) I am prepared to sell them

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it: if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

LOCAL.

THE CHRONICLE.—The fourth year of the issue of our little sheet, closes with to-morrow's paper. On Friday we shall commence our fifth year, considerably enlarged; and with other improvements, typographical and editorial.

From and after the 1st of August, the price of the Daily Chronicle will be $4 per year, in advance, $1 for three months, 36 cents per month, 9 cents per week, and 2 cents per single copy. Of course this change will not affect those who have paid their subscription in advance—which number, we are (for the first time) sorry to say is large.

The Weekly Chronicle and Phenix we are also intending to enlarge and correspondingly improve, in a week or two. The price will remain the same—$1 per year, in advance; single copies 3 cents.

☞ At last, a most grateful and refreshing shower sprinkled our city, for about an hour, on Tuesday afternoon—preceded by sharp lightning and heavy thunder, in a westward direction. It was quickly drank up (or down) by old, thirsty, mother earth, who seems to crave more yet.

☞ Dan Rice's Great Show appeared in our city on Tuesday, and exhibited near the Sagamore Mill, in the afternoon and evening, —highly entertaining large audiences; by a series of amusements brought out very much as promised per bills. As most of our hotel keepers had arranged to charge rather higher prices for accommodating man and beast than heretofore on such occasions, the old Eastern Stage Stable on Hanover street, (which has not been inhabited for about a score of years, save by rats and bats,) was cleared up, and quite a menagerie of elephants, camels, horses, &c. found good shelter there.

SHORT PASSAGE.—The ship Typhoon, of Portsmouth, Capt. James S. Salter, deeply laden with flour and grain, arrived at Liverpool on the 15th inst., in fifteen days from New York.

CONGRESS.

MONDAY, July 28.

SENATE.—The Senate is engaged on the bill amending the Diplomatic and Consular bill.

On motion of Mr Pugh, a resolution was adopted requesting the President to inform the Senate whether any application has been made to him by the Governor of California to maintain the laws and peace of the state against the usurped authority of the Vigilance Committee of San Francisco, and also to communicate whatever information he may have respecting the Vigilance Committee.

The bills making appropriations for the construction of harbors at the mouths of Grand River and Beach Lake, Michigan, were passed. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House passed the bill appropriating $200,000 for continuing the improvement of Des Moines Rapids, in the Mississippi. The vote stood 17 to 40.

Mr Dunn moved to take up the Senate bill providing for the admission of Kanzas into the Union, his intention being to offer a substitute reorganizing the territory, restoring the Missouri Compromise, and dismissing indictments for treason, &c. The motion was negatived by a vote of 103 against 82, not two-thirds.

Mr Denver, from the Select Committee, moved a suspension of the rules, in order to enable him to make a report on the Pacific Railroad Bill. Motion negatived by 77 against 87.

The Senate's resolution, appropriating $3000 for a modification of the plan of the Custom House at Ellsworth, Me., was passed.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the Army Appropriation bill.

Mr Sherman of Ohio, offered an amendment, that no part of the military force of the United States shall be employed to aid in the enforcement of the alledged laws of the Legislative Assembly convened at Shawnee Mission, until Congress declares whether those laws were passed by the Legislature chosen in conformity with the organic law; and until Congress so declares that it shall be the duty of the President to use the military force to preserve peace, suppress insurrection, repel invasion, and protect persons and property of the citizens of the territory on the highways of Missouri and elsewhere against unlawful search and seizure, and that the President disarm the present militia, recall all United States arms, and prevent armed men from going into the territory to disturb the public peace, or enforce real or pretended laws.

The Chairman, Mr. Leiter, decided the amendment out of order, but was overruled by a majority of two.

Mr. Sherman said his amendment was just, fair and honest, and would do more for the settlement of the Kansas difficulty than all the bills for that purpose put together.

A spicy debate ensued.

Mr. Giddings was opposed to giving the executive funds to support despotism and usurpation.

Mr. Smith of Virginia wished the country to know that a party in the House design to stop the wheels of government and force the Senate into co-operation with a measure not practicable, the only effect of which would be revolution.

Mr. Sherman's amendment was adopted by 88 against 40, when the committee rose.

Ten thousand extra copies of the report on the Pacific Railroad was ordered to be printed.

The evening session was devoted, as usual, to debate.

HALIFAX, July 28.

The Arabia, from Liverpool Saturday July 19, arrived here this evening.

England.—Liverpool papers say—"We understand that the difficulties which have for some time surrounded our relations with the United States are in a fair way of adjustment, and believe that great assistance has been rendered by Wm. Brown, M.P., in the discussion between Mr. Dallas and Lord Palmerston, which, it is confidently hoped, will prevent a rupture between the two countries.

In Parliament, several items of minor interest had occurred. A committee of the House of Lords recommend executions henceforth to take place within the jail precincts, as in America. No interference is contemplated with the usages of capital punishment in the colonies. The Decimal Coin Committee cannot report this session.

The Queen grants five years exclusive privilege to Ord, Hindson & Henshaw of Liverpool, to the guano on the islands off the south coast of Arabia, recently ceded by the Imaums of Muscat.

An explosion had occurred at the Cymmer coal mines, near Cardiff. 110 persons were killed.

The trial of Wm. Dove, for poisoning by strychnine, is going on at York, and excites attention second only to the Palmer trial.

Spain.—A formidable insurrection broke out in Spain. The imbroglio began by the opposition compelling Espartero and the ministry to resign, and the appointment of a new ministry.

Immediately on the new appointments, the insurrection broke out in Madrid. The National Guards assisted the citizens in erecting barricades, and, being attacked by the troops, fighting ensued in the streets for twenty-four hours, with much loss on both sides.

On Tuesday, the 15th, at 4 P. M., a suspension of hostilities was agreed to until 5 o'clock, to allow the insurgents to make submission. Fighting seems to have been renewed, for the next accounts we have is a government dispatch, dated Madrid, 4 P. M., 16th, stating that the insurrection is suppressed, excepting a few bandits, one band under command of Pachita, the celebrated bull-fighter.

The Queen presented herself to the combatants, and a government dispatch says she was respectfully received, but other statements say the insurgents proclaimed a republic.

Madrid, July 17.—At 8 o'clock this morning, the insurrection was overcome on all points.

The various bodies of the lower orders were commanded by Pachita, who was killed, and twelve pieces of artillery were in his possession in the Plaza Sevaldo.

The Queen visited the wounded; happily the victims were not numerous. The government has been admirably supported.

All is tranquil in the provinces except at Saragossa.

Madrid, July 16.—To-day order is completely re-established at Madrid. The Queen, accompanied by the King and Marshal O'Donnell, has just reviewed the garrison.

To-morrow will take place the solemn burials of the soldiers who have died gloriously in defending the throne and order.

The 12 pieces of cannon posted on the Plaza Sevaldo belonged to the insurgents; they were captured by the royal troops, after some hours fighting.

Italy.—Naples letters say that signs of a revolt are more frequent, and even the army are discontented. Government increases its securities.

Greece.—The Russian government has sent the disbanded soldiers of the Greek Cyon back to Greece, but the Greek government refuses to receive them, and calls on the British for assistance to refuse them.

Russia.—The coronation is officially fixed for August 31.

Gen. Luders had issued orders to respect the graves of the Allies in the Crimea.

Egypt.—The government has reduced the charge for the transit of Australian gold via Egypt, to 4 1-4 per cent on the value.

Arabia and the holy cities continue disturbed.

The last sheriff sent from Constantinople was refused reception.

There are a great many pilgrims this year to Mecca.

China.—Hong Kong papers of May 22 report the Chinese insurrection over, around Canton, but broken out again in Hounan, and the insurgents held most of the cities on the Kiang Si. On the whole, affairs have not improved.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning.

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," rub the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

AN APPOINTMENT.—A gentleman who was present at a meeting of the Spiritualists of Lowell last Sabbath, says that a corpulent man who seemed to have charge, gave out an appointment as follows:—"Next Sabbath morning at the usual hour of divine worship, General Andrew Jackson will lecture through the medium of Brother Pierce." He added further—"that Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, the ladies would assemble to decorate the hall for the reception of Gen. Andrew Jackson's Spirit."—Andover Ado.

MYSTERIOUS VESSEL.—The Village of Barnegat was yesterday (15th) thrown into a high state of excitement by the appearance in the Bay of a suspicious looking vessel, evidently a foreign craft, and well calculated for sea-service. The Custom House authorities boarded her, and found three men (English and Irish) in her. She had no compass, charts, nor cabin furniture, and had been out of provisions two days before making land.—The vessel is undoubtedly stolen from the Government Dock Yard at Bermuda, and is most probably a hospital boat, as the words "Jane, Hospital Boat, Bermuda Dock Yard," are painted on the sail; and on another sail is the name "Clara." The men are doubtless either navy deserters or escaped convicts.

AYER'S

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BRIMFIELD, MASS. 20th Dec., 1856.

DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of Utica, N. Y., writes: "I have used your PECTORAL myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should scorn pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGFIELD, MISS., Feb. 7, 1856.

BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your PECTORAL is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.

HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTREBT, IA., writes, 3d Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your PECTORAL by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, PA. Feb. 9, 1856.

SIR: YOUR CHERRY PECTORAL is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has laboured under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M.D., ALBION, MONROE CO., IOWA, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the CHERRY PECTORAL affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March 5, 1856.

DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her security. Her case was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.

Yours with gratitude and regard,
ORLANDO SHELBY, of SHELBYVILLE.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all around us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the ordinary complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Cutaneous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an efficacious Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with something else that they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with U.S. Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below give proof that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the most informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
" Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—"During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office, and regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. FARM LANDS FOR SALE.
The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL
OF
FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the northeast, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, on the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or stone picked off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, are long the western frontier of farms miles in land, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of those lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the produce of those lands arrives ried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduction of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities for those lands, the Road, and others with which it connects, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual installments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be bro't under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Agents.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to suit those purchasing the Company's lands with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably greatly increase their value for or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, and respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, cutting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to TOUCHING INCIDENT.—REFLECTIONS.—Three heavy storms of rain attended with thunder and lightning, passed over the town of Essex, Mass., during the few weeks past, succeeding each other at intervals of a few days. In each of the three tempests the thunder bolts which were hurled awfully and promiscuously around, struck—killing instantly those who were stricken in the two first showers, and stunning the one in the last.

Mrs. Bartlett, who was killed during the first tempest, has had a sort of presentiment of her death; and felt terrified at the approach of every cloud which in any way indicated a thunder shower. She remarked some weeks previous to her death, that she thought she would not live long, for she felt in a hurry to finish her work for her husband and children, which she was preparing for them as though she was to leave.

On the day when the sad catastrophe happened, she sent for her husband to come and be present, for she was very much depressed, in view of the clouds which were approaching. While the storm was raging, herself and husband occupied the front room, and her children an adjoining bedroom, in which a window was open. Her husband sat at the window watching the clouds and the lightning. She, like many others, supposing that there is more danger of being stuck by lightning near a window, than in any other part of the house, entreated him to sit in some other place. Then leaving him to look for her children in the bedroom, she reached the place at the instant of time when the electric fluid darted down the wall and through the floor, killing her before she fell. A very short distance from that fatal spot she would have been saved. Her two children were near by, one was shocked (of which I shall speak presently,) the other was not, but both escaped serious injury. Why that woman should have such previous feelings, and why she must step to the only place in the house where its full power was received, I will leave for the reader's meditation, who takes an interest in studying the ways of Providence. But there is another incident which particularly suggested the idea of writing this article.

When the mother fell to the floor, her son, two years old, was stunned by the fluid, and fell a few feet from her. Her daughter nine years old, perceiving the entrance of the fluid, supposed the house had taken fire. Deliberately, without waiting a moment, she took her little brother in her arms, stepped over her dead mother, approached her father, saying, "father, the house is on fire, and I will try to save Danny." Scarcely stopping to utter these words, she carried him out of doors, and sat him down in the wind and rain. This saved the child. Two hours passed before he came to life. In all probability the water which drenched him profusely was the means of his recovery. Had the daughter not felt the impulse she did to carry her little brother out of doors, he undoubtedly would now be sleeping quietly by the side of his mother. But it is otherwise. I will not say it was so ordered by a special providence, but it has that appearance.

In reading the history of those who become the benefactors of our race, events are often noticed in their early lives by which almost miraculously they have been saved from premature death. The preservation of the child has been generally regarded as a special interposition of Divine Providence. Should the subject of the foregoing incident become distinguished, his wonderful preservation by means of his sister's singularly cool manner of carrying him into the open air and seating him down in the pouring rain, will be referred to as one of those interpositions. Two physicians who were soon called, said nothing else could have saved him. But whether he ever becomes eminent or not, the incident is singular and touching, worthy of being recorded and considered, and should serve among other numerous startling events which are constantly occurring, to deepen the sentiment within us, of committing all our ways confidingly to the guidance of Divine Providence.

O. P. TUCKERMAN.

DIVINE PROVIDENCE.

The subject which has been discussed recently in several newspaper articles, is one of deep interest and of acknowledged difficulty.—A firm belief in a universal providence, a providence extending to the minute as well as comprehending the vast, seems absolutely essential to the repose of a reflecting soul. It would be fearful to think that anything however minute, is disconnected from God's providence. But how far, if at all, can we interpret divine providence? "Providence is no doubt a lesson-book spread out before us that we may read it. Yet it is a difficult and mysterious book." There are mysteries in revelation—"but the volume of providence is as much more difficult to be understood than the volume of the word, as hieroglyphic writing is more difficult of interpretation than alphabetical."

There is on the one hand a rash and eager readiness to read off the precise lesson of every marked dispensation, which is evidence of any thing rather than deep reflection or a proper reverence for God. One might infer from the tone of confidence which some use, that they had been in the secret councils of Jehovah and were specially commisioned to interpret his acts. The Jews of Christ's time, seem to have been prone to interpret the providences of God thus readily, and to see in every calamity judgment of God on peculiar guilt.

If they knew of no crime in the sufferer, they inferred its existence, though hidden. Thus when they saw one blind, they asked of Jesus—"Did this man or his parents sin, that he was born blind?" And when Pilate had surprised certain Galileans, and put them to death in the midst of their sacrifices, causing their blood to mingle with the blood of their victims, they seem to have inferred that these Galileans were enormous sinners, because they were permitted to suffer such things.—This disposition was sternly rebuked by Christ. The decision it prompted was not only fallacious, it was cruel. It was a terrible infliction for the sufferer to be regarded as one afflicted and smitten of God for his sins—and to have a whole community looking upon all which he endured as so much evidence of guilt. This is not the world of retributive justice. Sentence against an evil work is not always speedily executed. Virtue is not always rewarded, nor vice always punished here. The judgment of God, though certain, lingereth many times. We do therefore egregiously and harmfully err when we infer that one man is good because he is prosperous and exempt from trouble, and that another is bad because he is the child of adversity and of frequent sorrow.

Directly the opposite decision may be the true one. Whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth. There is a terrible vindictiveness often in a disposition which originates such decisions. If calamity overtakes our enemy we are ready to conclude God has a sympathy with our hatred, and has become the executioner of our wrath and the avenger of our wrongs.

But we need to mark what it was that Jesus rebuked in these Jews. It was not a disposition to note and to be instructed by the providences of God, but the disposition to make these providences the criterions by which to judge of the character of the sufferers. He did not here or elsewhere deny that sin is sometimes visited by immediate and special judgments. The Jews inferred the character from the judgment,—not the judgment from the character. If they had known these Galileans to have been engaged in some enormous wickedness at the very hour when Pilate slew them, if they had been mocking Jehovah, or profaning his temple, would Christ have rebuked the Jews for seeing in their slaughter a visitation of the divine judgment?

The truth is, we cannot always interpret the design of a providence. We can never, or should never, do it dogmatically. But there are providences so marked that they need no interpreter. Every man feels their meaning. The judgment follows so immediately the crime, is so linked to it, that whether we wish it or no, we cannot help seeing the hand of God in it. We read in the one the displeasure of God at the other.

Let for instance a man in a frenzy of passion, while uttering fearful blasphemies, fall instantly dead on the Parade to-morrow—the oath lingering on his lips. Let twenty men, representing the various religious beliefs among us, be standing around him. As they see him fall, and gather nearer and look upon his lifeless body; I ask, not how one or another of them would reason about it, whether they would admit or deny a special judgment, but I ask how would they one and all feel about it—what would be their inward thoughts? I have not a doubt that in the mind of every one of them, the death and blasphemy would be connected together, that the one would bear the relation of a divine visitation upon the other. God does not always instantaneously seal the lips in death which are blaspheming his name. But when he does it, we all feel that the providence has a meaning. God does not commission his winds to upset every sail-boat that goes forth from our wharves on a Sabbath-day's pleasure excursion, and cause the lives to be lost. But when he does it, and we look upon the recovered bodies, we feel that there is a voice of warning in every such providence. The voice that more than three thousand years ago said, amidst the thunderings of Mount Sinai, 'Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy,' seems to be heard afresh as we there stand and gaze. We may have little disposition to talk about it, but we turn away feeling that we have witnessed the special judgment of God.

The sum of the matter, then, seems to be this. We are not warranted in charging upon the signally afflicted secret sins, and adducing the afflictions as evidence. The friends of Job did this and the Jews of our Saviour's time were prone to do it—and were severely rebuked. But when calamity meets and overwhelms the transgressor in the very act of sin, we do instinctively connect the transgression and the calamity, and there is no voice of reason or of revelation that forbids it.

W.

CROPS.—The crops of corn, wheat and other grains, potatoes, and hay, as we see them reported in the papers from all parts of the country, are generally good, and promise in the aggregate, an unusual abundance. The abundance of grain, with heavy grass, and pasturage which never was better, the dairy product will be plenty, and the prices cannot be kept up where they have been for three years past. The same may be said of beef, which to a considerable extent we receive from the West. The demand for California has fallen off, and in the high prices of bullocks, the whole West have taken to raising calves, which like their pigs, must soon find a market in the east.

There is a great crop in Europe, and there will consequently be less foreign demand. The New York Evening Post, of last week, says—"From private letters received by the last steamer, we learn that the prospects of a large and early European harvest, are very encouraging.—In England, in the southern, eastern and western counties, the crops are remarkably forward, and ten days more of the same fine harvest weather that had of late prevailed would secure them, and then prices would fall. In Russia, also, the prospects of an exceeding abundance are good; and on the continent—in Italy, Spain, Germany, and even France—fine corn harvest weather was ripening the crops."

Finally, the Newburyport Herald says, if we have to pay great prices for flour, corn, potatoes and meat, this winter, it will be because we are cheated by speculators, or some false policy which we have invented and encouraged; for everywhere there is enough for man and beast. From the seven fruitful years that preceded the seven lean years of famine, in the days of Joseph, till the present, there has scarcely been a season that promised more abundant harvests.

POLITICAL PRIESTCRAFT EXPOSED.—We have received the first number of a weekly paper with this title, — which turns out, on examination, to be a most intensely proslavery campaign paper, edited by Theophilus Fiske. Two copies of it came by mail to this place, one to the pastor of the Universalist church here, and the other to Uncle Toby. Whether this selection of priests was made because they were supposed to be more or less political than the others, it may be difficult to say.—Very queerly, among the prominent matters on the first page, are a proslavery speech by Judge Oldham of Texas, an article against Horace Greeley, and a dose of extracts from Wm. L. Garrison's Fourth of July speech.—What either of these can possibly have to do with exposing political priestcraft, is beyond our ken. By the way, the editor seems to be somewhat of a political priest himself.

MR. BUCHANAN'S RECORD.—The Louisville Democrat of July 16, which we have before us, contains several earnest articles in favor of electing Mr. Buchanan; among them is one of five columns, designed to show that Mr. Buchanan is, and Mr. Fillmore is not, favorable to slavery. It copies from his speeches, reports and votes, and quotes the new platform, and his acceptance thereof, and then says:—

Such is an outline of the record of James Buchanan—full, clear, conservative, and consistent. He has stood in the breach and fought for 25 years in defense of the constitutional rights of the south against fanaticism in all its forms.

HAIL STORM.—A very severe hail storm occurred in Raymond on Tuesday afternoon. The hail was of very large size, and besides severely damaging the corn, grain, &c., broke several hundred lights of glass.

LOW WATER.—The water has not been so low in the Merrimac river for a long period. The "Devil's Chair," can now be seen at Amoskeag Falls—a sight which has not occurred for the last fifty years.—Manchester (N. H.) Mirror.

Wonder if the old fellow has not vacated his chair. From indications, we should judge he was roaming up and down in the earth, as of old.

SALE OF A RAILROAD.—The Portland Advertiser mentions the sale of the York & Cumberland Railroad on Tuesday, by the mortgagee, Mr. Myers. It was struck off by Mr. Patten, the actioneer, for $120,000, to F. O. J. Smith, who buys it for Amos Finch of New York.

☞ The Newburyport Herald says, the head and front of the Republican movement of the day, is Senator Wilson. The whole plan of the campaign is his, and it is he that has the marshalling of the forces.

☞ The Empire House, in Boston, near the East Boston Ferry, was burnt on Wednesday morning about 9 o'clock.

MR. SUMNER.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Times says: I cannot avoid the melancholy conviction that Mr. Sumner will never recover from the effects of the Brooks assault.

"If you are Coming, Why don't you Come along?"

THAT is the "mot" now-a-days. Every locomotive on every Railroad shrieks it. It is daily rapped out on every Telegraphic Line in the country. The echoing blows of our Ship Carpenters hourly exemplify it. The smith at his anvil hammers it out. The clanking Press with breathless haste, sends the cry home to every family—"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"

It is uttered in an hundred tongues in a hundred lands. It has sounded like a slogan through the political world, and the "Old Fogies" are creeping along among the baggage wagons and the wounded. Thought, that moved at a funeral pace, now rushes on a tremendous charge; and all the old remedies for Liver Complaint have given way for

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along."—Six paces to the front, is the word to everybody and everything that wants to be listened to or looked at. If you have anything to do, do it; if you wish any person to see anything, show it; if you have anything to be cured, CURE IT WITH

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS,

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you have a Bottle of Holman's Bitters in your house, you need not suffer from

Biliousness, Weakness at the Stomach, Indigestion, Heartburn, Lowness of Spirits,

Nor any of the diseases incident to the season.

It used to take six men to make a pin; now one boy, a pull, a clip, and two strokes, and that's the way the pins are made. Once it took a Physician, lots of precious time, and quantities of nauseous drugs to cure some simple disease of the Blood.—Now, a quarter expended in

HOLMAN'S SPRING BITTERS

Brings Life and Health, flowing spirits and rosy cheeks.

"If you are coming, why don't you come along?"—If you are sick and weak, why don't you cure yourself? Here we offer you the article that will do it—there is no mistake about it. Every body knows about HOLMAN'S BITTERS; they have been tried and have "toed the mark straight."

They are a good medicine; they are better than anything else for all Spring Complaints; they are just the best Bitters that can be bought—and that's the best thing we can say about them. "If you are coming, why don't you come along," before they are all gone?

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The young man Jarboe, tried to-day in the Criminal Court, for the murder of Nalley, by shooting him for the seduction of his sister, has been acquitted. The jury were only out about fifteen minutes, and on the announcement of the verdict the crowd expressed their joy by excessive ap- plause, and eagerly pressed forward to con- gratulate the avenger of his sister's wrongs.— The result has produced general rejoicing.

CONGRESS.

TUESDAY, July 4.

SENATE.—The Senate, to-day, rejected the bill appropriating money for testing the prac- ticability of Richardson's Atmospheric Tele- graph.

The internal improvement bills on the cal- endar were then considered. That for the construction of a new harbor at New Buffalo, Michigan, was rejected, and those for the con- struction of a new harbor at the mouth of the Clinton River, for completing the harbor of St. Joseph's, and for completing the piers of the harbor of Monroe, Michigan, were, after debate passed. Adj.

HOUSE.—The House took action on the amendments of the Committee to the Army Appropriation bill. Mr. Barbour's amend- ment, declaring the laws of Kansas null and void, was rejected—yeas 88, nays 89.

The amendment of Mr. Sherman of Ohio (see yesterday's proceedings) was concurred in—yeas 91, nays 85.

Among the yeas, were Messrs. Cragin, Pike and Tappan, of New Hampshire.

The bill was ordered to be engrossed—93 to 80.

After a spicy debate, the bill was passed— 93 to 80.

On motion of Mr. Dunn, the house recon- sidered the vote by which was referred to the Committee of the Whole the bill to annull certain acts of the Legislative Assembly of Kansas, and secure to the citizens of that ter- ritory their rights and privileges. Mr. Dunn submitted a substitute, reorganizing Kansas, and providing the usual territorial machinery. Provision is made for freedom of speech and of the press; test oaths, of whatever kind, are prohibited, and cruel or unusual punish- ments are not to be allowed; all criminal prosecutions now pending in any courts of Kansas, imputing to any persons the crime of any persons the charge of treason, and all criminal prosecutions for alleged violation or disregard whatever of what are usually known as the laws of the Legislature of Kansas, shall forthwith be dismissed, and every person thus restrained of his liberty released. The bill also restores the Missouri restriction;— provides for the encouragement of settlement and of education, and repeals all parts of the Kansas-Nebraska and other acts in conflict with the bill.

Mr. Sneed moved that the bill be laid on the table. Lost—77 to 98.

Mr. Dunn's substitute was then agreed to, and,the bill, thus amended, passed by a vote of 88 against 74.

In the evening session, no business of any consequence was done.

FIRE IN BOSTON.

A great fire, with the loss of six lives, took place in Boston on Tuesday afternoon.

IT broke out at 3 o'clock, in the large brick building, No. 234 North street, known as Jef- ferson Block—which was owned by Cornelio- us Doherty, and occupied in the first story as a wine and liquor store and ale agency, by C. & M Doherty; and the upper portion was rented to sundry poor families. The fire com- menced in the back part of the store, and in less than five minutes had gained such head- way as to render it unsafe for any person to remain in it. The entire block was soon in a blaze, and the inmates had barely time to es- cape. The flames communicated with four small wooden tenements on Everett Place, in the rear of the block, owned by the Messrs. Doherty, thence with two houses (also in Ev- erett Place) and the stable of John Seaver, on Clark street.

All these buildings were soon reduced to ashes. The wooden buildings between Sea- ver's stable and the large brick building on the corner of North and Clark streets, now took fire, and the brick building itself was soon after in a blaze. The brick building was occupied by Patrick Collins, as a board- ing-house, and was owned, as was the wooden building, by John W. James. This completes a list of seven wooden houses, a stable, a three story brick house, and Jefferson Block, which, together with their contents were totally destroyed. The fire next broke out on the roof of a wooden building corner of North street and Burbour lane. While the firemen were bravely combating the flames at this point, a chimney in the rear part of the house fell into the lane. Charles Warren, of hook and ladder company No. 3, was struck on the head by a mass of falling bricks, and was so severely wounded, that he died in ten minutes. His body was bought to Somersworth, N. H. for interment.

Other firemen were more or less injured.

Mrs. Mary Collins, wife of Daniel Collins, jumped from a window in Jefferson Block, and sustained mortal injury. She died on the sidewalk instantly. She was 64 years old.

Mrs. Margaret Sweeney jumped from a window in the house of Patrick Collins, and broke a leg and an arm.

It was rumored during the progress of the flames, that several persons had been burned: a search was made, and up to Tuesday even- ing, five bodies were taken from the ruins.— The first body discovered was that of a man; then a woman with the charred remains of an infant in her arms; next the bodies of a man and a boy; then that of a woman. The bodies could not be identified.

There were about 60 families rendered homeless by this fire.

The fire, as was stated, was the result of gross carelessness. While a woman was pouring camphene from a jug into a small vessel, a person came along having a match or lighted cigar in his hand, and the liquid was accidentally fired. The flames spread at once.

Another rumor is that an explosion of gas, followed by the burning of a barrel of liquor, was the immediate cause of the fire.

The steam fire engine was in attendance, and did good service.

C. C. Moulton states that while looking at the fire, three "gentlemen" surrounded him, and stole his watch and chain—valued at $40.

Nine lives are known (on Wednesday) to be lost,—and more bodies may yet be found.

ACCIDENT.—At Dartmouth College, July 28, at the raising of a Fremont and Dayton pole, John W. Wellington, of Boston, a stu- dent, fell 40 feet from the angle of the shears, and was badly hurt. His left arm was badly broken, but as yet no fatal internal injury is perceived. It is believed he will recover.

PROVINCETOWN, July 30.—We learn from a letter dated Green Island, Straits of Belle- isle, July 7, from Capt. Cook, of brig Samuel Cook, that during a gale on July 1st, 29 ves- sels went ashore at that place, two of which belonged to this port, the brig S. Cook, and sch Louisa. 350 men are living in tents on the island. But one vessel rode out the gale, which was the most severe ever experienced.

At Dog Island, three vessels were lost and the crews all perished.

Probably a vessel will be sent to the assist- ance of the shipwrecked men.

BOTH PERSONAL AND POLITICAL—Hon. Daniel D. Barnard of Albany, and Ex-Gov- ernor Hunt of New York, have published let- ters, giving reasons for preferring Mr. Fill- more to either of the other Presidential can- didates.

Gen. Houston has just completed a letter to his constituents, defining his political posi- tion, declaring for Fillmore and Donelson.

Ole Bull has given $500 towards establish- ing a new German Republican paper in Wis- consin. He is to take the stump for Fremont through that State.

From the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentle- man would remain under the curse of a disagree- able breath, when using the "Balm of a Thou- sand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as al- baster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate, their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may easily be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." It will remove tan, pimples and freckles from the skin, leaving it of a soft and roseate hue. Wet a towel, pour on two or three drops, and wash the face night and morning

SHAVING MADE EASY.—Wet your shaving brush in either warm or cold water, pour on two or three drops of "Balm of a Thousand Flowers," run the beard well and it will make a beautiful soft lather, much facilitating the operation of shaving. Price only 50 cents.

ALABAMA LOTTERY.

"Fortune! do thou but aid me now,
And I will never trouble thee again."

A CHANCE THAT SHOULD NOT BE NE- GLECTED.—Mr. SWAIN of Montgomery, Ala., the old and honored public agent for the State in which he resides, has forwarded a prospec- tus containing the plan by which Alabama proposes to endow her Southern Military Academy. There are to be 30,000 subscri- bers, and among those, on the 13th of August will be distributed 15,185 "tokens of grati- tude" for their co operation in such a lauda- ble design. These "tokens" vary, through all gradations of hundreds and thousands, from a prize of $8, which is the lowest, up to the magnificent climacteric of Forty Thousand Dollars in hard gold, without deduction or per centage! A man may become a whole sub- scriber for $10, a half for $5, a quarter for $2,50, and who could grudge any of these pal- try sums for such a chance of limitless pros- perity? Whether it is better to invest a gold piece in a speculation which may render you independent for life, or two squander it in a debauch which will surely injure your health and character? How delightfully a wife might surprise a husband by saving the price of a ticket from the weekly expenditures, and some day, if successful, laying before him a sum of gold sufficient for all their future wants! Think of it Ladies. If orders are di- rected to S. Swain & Co., Montgomery, Ala., they will be immediately answered. F.

Secured by Royal Letters Patent in England and by Patent in the United States.

THE Subscribers, having been for a long time desirous of securing to the public a Needle that will not only be a superior article, but per- fect in the Eye, recommend their "Patented Gold Inlaid Needle." They are justly celebrated, and preferred above all others, the eyes being inlaid with gold and burnished, which renders the cut- ting or chafing the thread utterly impossible.— They are manufactured from the best steel, and tempered according to the most approved plan.— We therefore offer with confidence these Needles to the public, having secured them against all frauds or imitations either in Paper, Label or Nee- dle. We desire all parties purchasing these Nee- dles to be cautious in the selection of them, as unprincipled persons have sought to imitate our style, and thus palm off an inferior article, not- withstanding the heavy damages we have recov- ered from various parties; and a reward of $500 will be paid for such information that will lead to the detection and conviction of any person or persons thus engaged. None are genuine except those labelled on the back, 'Warranted by R. Crow- ley.' A liberal discount will be allowed to deal- ers who purchase in large quantities.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with U S Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st. oppo. Kilby st. Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal thereof within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that some is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY.

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in saying (even knowing that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. EDDY, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company

IS NOW PREPARED TO SELL

OF

FARMING LANDS,

In Tracts of 40 acres and upwards, on long credits and at low rates of interest.

THESE lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richest and most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago, on the north-east, to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the north-west extreme of the State, and as all the lands lie within fifteen miles on each side of this Road, ready and cheap means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to any of those points and from thence to Eastern and Southern markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by immigration, etc. afford a substantial and growing home demand for farm produce.

The soil is a dark, rich mould, from one to five feet in depth, is gently rolling and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, or the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, etc.

Economy in cultivating and great productiveness are the well known characteristics of Illinois lands. Trees are not required to be cut down, stumps grubbed, or otherwise cleared off, as is generally the case in cultivating new land in the older States. The first crop of Indian corn, planted on the newly broken sod, usually repays the cost of plowing and fencing.

Wheat sown on the newly-turned sod is sure to yield very large profits. A man with a plow and two yoke of oxen will break one and a half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at from $2 to 2.50 per acre. By judicious management, the land may be plowed and fenced the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

Corn, grain, cattle, etc. will be forwarded at reasonable rates to Chicago, for the Eastern market, and to Cairo for the Southern. The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois over the high priced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market.

Bituminous coal is mined at several points along the Road, and is a cheap and desirable fuel. It can be delivered at several points along the Road at $1.50 to $4 per ton; Wood can be had at the same rates per cord.

Those who think of settling in Iowa or Minnesota, should bear in mind, that lands there of any value, along the water courses and for many miles inland, have been disposed of;—that for those located in the interior, there are no conveniences for transporting the produce to market, railroads not having been introduced there. That to send the produce of these lands, one or two hundred miles by wagon to market, it would cost much more than the expense of cultivating them; and hence Government lands thus situated, at $1.25 per acre are not so good investments as the lands of this company at the prices fixed.

The same remark holds good in relation to the lands in Kansas and Nebraska, for although vacant lands may be found nearer the water courses the distance to market is far greater, and every hundred miles the product of those lands is carried either in wagons or interrupted water communications, increases the expense of transportation, which must be borne by the settlers, in the reduced price of their produce, and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course on their investments, annually and every year reduced.

The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this company, and their consequent yield over those of the Middle and Eastern States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and other roads with which connections, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of summer, or the frosts of winter.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The Price will vary from $5 to $25, according to the quality, location, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year 1856, stipulating the purchase money to be paid in five annual instalments; the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

Interest will be charged at only 3 per ct. per ann.

As a security to the performance of the contract the first two years' interest must be paid in advance, and it must be understood that at least one tenth of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Twenty per cent. from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

READY FRAMED FARM BUILDINGS,

Which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from Responsible Persons.

They will be 12 ft. by 20 ft. divided into one living and three bed rooms, and will cost complete set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be constructed at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over the Road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing of the Company's land with fencing materials, agricultural tools, and an outfit of provisions in any quantity, at the lowest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price long credit, and low rate of interest, charged for these lands will enable a man with a few hundred dollars in cash, and ordinary industry, to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the rapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required an experienced person will accompany applicants, to give information, and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroad lands, throughout the State—also the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, &c. by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French or German, addressed to

JOHN WILSON,

Land Commissioner of Ill. Central R. R. Co., Office up to the 1st of May, 52 Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill; after that date in the New Stone Passenger Depot, So. Water st. a3 6m

NOVEL SCENE.—The Paris correspondent of the New Orleans Picayune gives the following account of an amusing scene which occurred during the representation of a play recently. The piece was a successful one, and in one of the scenes lamb played an important part. To give greater effect, the machinist determined to procure the genuine article, instead of using the lamb representatives. The animals were trained so that they played their part to a charm in the rehersals: at the first performance they form a beautiful group around a corydon, whom they saluted with bleatings. The theatre shook to its foundation with the loud applause. The applause continued and the sheep became frightened, and popped—some into the stage boxes—some over the footlights into the orchestra, and of course the whole flock followed their leaders. The ladies in the boxes shricked,—the orchees whooped and hooed to prevent the sheep from tumbling on their violins, and the house roared. The supnumeraries were thrown off before them, but was an hour before they were caught. The next day they were sent to the shambles.

DISTRESSING AND SINGULAR OCCURRENCE.—Men and team attacked by bees.—Mr. S. Hooper, residing near M'Kissack's Grove, Iowa, while driving his team past the house of Eli Slusher, last Tuesday was attacked by bees. They made the attack in three distinct strings about the size of a man's arm, first attacking the horses. Mr. H still held to the team until Messrs. Gilmore and Slusher came to his assistance. One hoisted endeavering to extricate himself, broke a blood vessel and died shortly after; the other is severely injured. They next attacked Mr. Hooper and those who came to his assistance. Everything was done that could be to extricate the unfortunate men, but not until Mr. Hooper and Mr. Slusher were so severely injured that but little hope of their recovery is entertained. The symptoms and sufferings of the unfortunate men resemble those of hydrophobia.

THE PIANO TRADE—AN IMPORTANT MOVEMENT.—A gentleman from Scotland, wishing to purchase several pianos, with the assurance of getting perfect instruments, made the experiment of trying the various specimens both at home and in this country. After having applied thorough tests to all of the instruments showed to him, and without stating any preferences, the gentleman returned home, and quite unexpected to them, Messrs. Hallett, Davis & Co., of this city, were favored with an order for two of their 7 octave, modern improved square pianos. Accordingly two Boston pianos are now on their way for the "land of cakes," having been shipped by the steamer Canada, via Liverpool, on the 16th inst. It must be a source of great gratification to our enterprising townsmen, to find such a compliment paid them by a foreign party, and by one who has had all the appliances at his ready disposal for a selection near home.

It speaks strongly for their capabilities as manufacturers, and of the perfection they have attained in their profession; the more especially when it is understood that no pains have been taken to blazon forth virtues which in reality can only be found to exist by such tests as were applied by the party alluded to above.—Boston Transcript.

FATAL AFFRAY ON STANISLAUS.—On Tuesday last, one of the most cold blooded murders that ever blackened the pages of history, took place at Horse Shoe Bend on the Stanislaus river in this County. We are informed that the circumstances are these: It appears that a Mr Jacob Graham and Mr. Wm. Smith, were, on the night previous to this sad occurrence, holding a strong argument in regard to the merits and demerits of the Vigilance Committee of San Francisco. They parted differing in opinions in regard to the good or evil effects produced by the Vigilance Committee.

On the next day said Graham took his gun and went to the same claim where Smith was at work, and asked him if he still retained the same opinion he did the night previous? Smith said he did; Graham then levelled his gun and shot Smith through, the ball striking him under the shoulder-blade, and coming out under the opposite arm, killing him almost instantly.—Sonora Herald, June 27.

A BELGIAN BROADCLOTH FACTORY.—An English paper gives a very interesting description of the celebrated establishment of F. Blolley & Sons, Verviers, who were the first to give a world-wide reputation to Belgian broadcloths. Their works are conducted by four water wheels, and five steam engines, and employ between 1300 and 1400 laborers, many of them the most skilled in Europe. It is not easy for a workman to obtain a situation in their establishment, but once employed, he is supported through all illness and infirmities to the end of his days, unless he forfeits his place by gross misconduct. The great medal at the London Exhibition was awarded to this house; and the display of Cloths, Cassimeres and Doeskins from their establishment at the French Exhibition, is said by those who have visited it, to form one of the most interesting features.

MARRIAGE EXTRAORDINARY.—Yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock on board the prison brig, by Judge Jenks, Samuel Garrat and Louisa Brickell were married. It will be remembered that Garrett, some time during last summer, killed the father of his bride, for which offence he was tried, convicted of the crime of murder, and sentenced to be hung on the 27th June. Many have been the queries concerning this strange marriage. Some say that she married him to inherit either money or property, of which he is supposed to be possessed. A strange infatuation has seized the mind of the seduced, so as to cause her to cling to him through the time of his arrest, trial and conviction, and must even be married to him within five days of the time when he will have to atone to the offended law.—Sacramento Journal, June 10.

The Baltimore papers are highly exultant over "a breakdown on the underground railroad," as they call it. The negro cook of a New York schooner, moved with a very natural but, according to southern ethics, a very damnable compassion, concealed two of his enslaved race in his cabin, and intended to smuggle them off to freedom. But the poor fellows were discovered, and taken home to be whipped and sold to the slave-driver, and their nothern friend is in jail with the certainty of the penetentiary for twenty years, for his indiscreet exhibition of human weakness. Over these incidents the editors of Baltimore explode with joy, as if the very Union itself had been saved.

ASSASSINATION.—On the night of the 18th inst. at Monterey, Mr. Lewis T. Belcher was assassinated by some unknown person. At the time of this occurence he was acting as receiver of the orphan heirs of Jose Maria Sanches. This is the seventh violent death, it is said, that has occurred in connexion with the settlement of that fated estate.

Belcher has left a great fortune accumulated by ranching and selling his cattle several years since, in this place and other camps. His property is in Monterey, Santa Clara, and Stanislaus counties. He leaves a wife and one child.—Sonora Herald, June 28.

FIRES IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—The Manchester Mirror of Monday evening reports that the railroad bridge on the Merrimac and Connecticut River Railroad at Kelley's Falls, on Piscataquog River, about two miles from that city, was burned in the forenoon between 11 and 12 o'clock, after the train had passed—supposed to have caught from the engine. The bridge was about 50 feet in length, and cost some $800. Repairs will probably be made in course of two or three days. The afternoon passengers for that route went by the way of Concord.

The Union Democrat reports that the house of Mr. T. L. Morgan, situated in Bow, a short distance from Robinson's Ferry, was burned last Saturday, together with all the buildings attatched. The loss is about ten or twelve hundred dollars.

MODEST BULL.—The Spaniards excused their cruelties to the West-Indians, by maintaining that they were not men, but a species of ourang-outang—because they were of a copper color, spoke an unknown language, and wore no beard. The pope issued a bull, declaring that it pleased him and the Holy Ghost to acknowledge the Americans to be men. This was, however, violently disputed in the council of Lima in 1583.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 1, 1856.

THE CHRONICLE—VOL. IX.

With the present number (1240) commences the fifth year and ninth volume of our Daily. And with this issue we also announce the close of the responsible business connection of Mr. Samuel Gray with this establishment. Mr. Gray was one of the three who commenced the publication of the Daily Chronicle, four years ago this day—which was thought to be at best but a doubtful experiment; and now that its success is no longer a question, (which, by the way we never regarded it,) he resigns the entire control of affairs into the hands of the projector of the enterprise.

Our four years of business association has been varied, but probably as pleasant in the main as falls to the lot of most men, and reasonably successful. The only gloomy aspect in which it presents itself, is from the spot where our younger associate bid adieu to all things earthly. In closing this connexion we can but cordially wish Mr. Gray abundant prosperity, wherever his future lot may be cast. We have ever found him just and fair, and could not have asked a more faithful partner.

Now one word as to our business prospects, &c. We began with a large and good list, for a new one — which for a time grew rapidly, and has never ceased to increase steadily. Our advertising columns were full then, and have become more and more crowded, till we feel the need of more room for advertisers and readers.

A Daily paper in Portsmouth, as in all the smaller cities, needs the good wishes and patronage of the people generally, of all parties and opinions—which we are happy to acknowledge we have had from our start, and of which we trust to merit a continuance. While we do not hesitate to express our own opinions, we endeavor to treat fairly all those who differ from us.

Our fifth year we commence with a larger sheet, and price somewhat increased—though with our enlarged space for reading matter, we shall present a paper more varied and really cheaper than before, and we have no doubt the change will be agreeable to most of our patrons.

In assuming the sole charge of the business, where at first were two, and always one efficient helper, we will only express the wish that all who consider our paper worthy of encouragement, will afford us in the way of business, what aid may lie within their power and convenience. The many kindnesses already bestowed by our fellow citizens, will be pleasantly remembered; and we hope to merit a continuance of the same in our further endeavors to supply a readable and acceptable newspaper, which has and must depend chiefly upon local encouragement for support.

FRANK W. MILLER.

Portsmouth, Aug. 1, 1856.

From and after the 1st of August, the price of the Daily Chronicle will be $4 per year, in advance, $1 for three months, 33 cents per month, 8 cents per week, and 2 cents per single copy. Of course this change will not affect those who have paid their subscription in advance.

The Weekly Chronicle and Phenix we are also intending to enlarge and correspondingly improve, in a week or two. The price will remain the same—$1 per year, in advance.

The New York Courts have just decided a case in favor of a passenger who sued the Erie Railroad Company for damages for expelling him from a car because he would not pay the extra price demanded for a ticket not purchased at the office. Three cents per mile is the utmost that the general railroad law allows any company to exact, and for attempting to exact more in the case in question the Erie had to pay $25 and costs.

This is correct. The five cents extra fare charged on most of our New England Roads, are not above, but within the limits prescribed by the laws and charters.

A new Secret Political Pro-slavery Society has recently been established in St. Louis, of which the Democrat says:—

They have abolished the religious test, as none who have yet applied have any religion, and it was thought best, therefore, to make their ritual short and sweet.

Horace Mann remarks of the rum traffic, that "licensing for the 'public good,' has proved to be licensing for both public and private evil." And again, "the excellence of the Maine Law is, that it is prevention instead of cure; that it kills the fiend before it gets into the the man, instead of waiting till we have to kill the man to expel the fiend."

M. M. Cheney, convicted of negro stealing, was hung at Lancasterville, S. C., on the 11th inst. He persisted to the last in asserting his innocence. Moses Gosset, convicted of the same offence, confessed his crime on the same day at Union, S. C.

RUM AND "RUFFIANISM."—On Monday last the friends of temperance in South Woodstock, Vt., were led to suppose that a young man residing in their vicinity had gone to Hartland Depot for a barrel of Rum, and early in the evening there suspicions were confirmed by his reappearance with a barrel in his wagon. A warrant was obtained, and on search of some premises, two barrels of liquors were seized, no doubt belonging to one Thomas, who was duly summoned to appear and show why it should not be destroyed, &c., but did not appear, preferring to lose his share in the liquor rather than run the chance of being fined for furnishing, and it was finally poured out in presence of quite a collection of persons, most of whom rejoiced to see the law carried into effect, and a few suckers and sympathizers with Thomas & Co., who owned the liquor, but dare not proclaim it. So much for Rum.

Now for the "Ruffianism." The next day Thomas was seen prowling around the village of So. Woodstock, and occasionally threatening the persons who made oath before the magistrate, but finally disappeared, and on the next morning again appeared, when he met with Mr. Hiram Powers, one of the persons, and fell upon him and beat him in an unmerciful manner, knocking him down and pounding him after he was down in a manner that would do credit to Brooks himself.—Thomas, immediately after, acting under the the advice of some of the rum champions, went before a grand jury and entered a complaint against himself for a breach of the peace, supposing he would be fined a mere nominal sum, and thus end the matter; but soon found that he had had bad advice in the case, as the grand jury employed the States Attorney to investigate the matter, and on a regular bearing before Walter Palmer, he was put under $200 bonds for his appearance before the County Court for the assault. The next day a suit was commenced against him for private damages, and a Sheriff dispatched to his residence, not for the purpose of looking for rum as before, but to attach all his property on a civil writ for damages, which is entered, and Thomas gets a receipter. — So we learn from the Standard.

WEATHER, &c.—The vicinities of Nashua and Hollis were visited by a smart hail storm and shower on Tuesday. Buildings and trees were injured, and some corn fields entirely destroyed. In Hollis the ground was white with hail.

In Newburyport, the weather on Sunday and Monday, was oppressively hot. On Sunday, the most reliable thermometers reached 102, which is higher than the same glasses had gone for twenty-five years before. The heat has occasioned many deaths, and we see that some of the papers warn people from drinking cold water as dangerous. But the Herald says,—We believe that in three cases out of four where these deaths are charged upon cold water, it is not so much the water as what goes into it, that injures. Let the people avoid over exercise and excitement—keep as cool in body and mind as possible—and drink nothing but cold water, and they are about as safe as they can be. Nobody but madmen will drink spirituous liquors in such weather as we have had for the last three weeks.

In this city, for four successive days, ending with Monday, the thermometer indicated 90 degrees or more.

DEDICATION.—The Christian Era states that on the 2d inst., at 1 o'clock P. M., an overflowing congregation collected to attend the dedication of the remodelled Baptist meeting-house at Danbury, N. H. The services commenced by Invocation by Rev. Mr. Goodhue, of Danbury, Congregationalist; Reading select portions of Scripture by Prof. Gardner, New London; Introductory prayer by Rev. P. Richardson, New Hampton. The assembly listened to a letter from Bro. Winter, Georgetown, Mass., presenting a fine toned bell, weighing rising eight hundred pounds—a gift to the church, already rung and tolled for the dedication. Also a clock, inside, presented by three brethren in Nashua, Flanders and Manchester. Then followed the sermon, delivered by Rev. A. M. Swain of Brentwood, from Haggai, 2: 9. "The glory of this latter house shall be greater than of the former." Dedicatory prayer by Rev. H. F. Lane, New London; dismission by Rev. T. B. Eastman, pastor of the church.—The exercises, with excellent singing of anthems and hymns, made a deep impression upon the listening congregation.

THE WAY BROOKS CATCHES IT.—The Louisville Journal thus speaks of the excuse Brooks gave for not fighting Burlingame:

Mr. Brooks, however, objects, it seems, to travelling through New Jersey and New York to get to Canada. He thinks he would have to run the gauntlet of mobs and assassins. He is afraid! Yes, the grim fire-eater, who boasts that with one blow he could inaugurate revolutions, and destroy the Union, is afraid to travel through New Jersey and New York. We rather wonder that he does not found his objection upon the insecurity of the railroads, for we really think there would be more chances of his losing his life by a railroad accident than by the hand of assassins. He certainly backs out from a fight. He runs. And herein is an instructive moral. There are "books in the running Brooks."

MONTREAL, July 30.—Corrivean who murdered Miss Todd at St. Thomas, in January, 1855, was this morning sentenced to be hung at Quebec on the 26th of September next.

THE FOOTE AND FREMONT DIFFICULTY.—The difficulty between Senator Foote and Fremont grew out of the circumstance that Foote charged Fremont, in the Senate, with seeking legislation with reference to the gold mines for the sake of his own private advantage, which Fremont pronounced false. Afterwards they met in the ante-chamber, when Fremont struck Foote, and brought blood.—They were immediately separated by Senator Clarke. Subsequently Fremont addressed a note to Foote, demanding a retraction of the language used by him in debate, to be signed in the presence of witnesses, and a challenge note was left if he refused.

Mr. Foote declined to sign the paper, but addressed a note to Fremont, disclaiming any intention of giving any personal offence in the language used by him in debate.

The friends of both parties considered this satisfactory to Fremont, and a card was issued, declaring that the affair had been adjusted satisfactorily and honorably to both those gentlemen. So says the Cleveland Plaindealer.

We have seen the enquiry proposed, in apparent honesty, why this assault did not make as much noise, or excite as much sympathy, as the attack by Brooks on Sumner—and one paper especially says the one attack very nearly resembled the other.

One reason probably was, that nobody at that time cared much about Mr. Foote,—another that it was a truly and merely personal affront, — a third that both were Southern men,—and the fourth and last because there was no conspiracy in the matter to crush out liberty.

The resemblance is as near, between the two assaults, as between an open blow by one man on another, both standing face to face, and a stealthy blow by one who crept up by stealth and struck so as to stun a man sitting at a desk;—exactly as great a resemblance as there is between an antagonist and an assassin.

Mrs. Rohan had an arm and leg injured, and was conveyed to her home in Fleet st., where her drunken husband stoutly resisted her admittance. He was taken to the lockup.

We hear but one account given of the origin of the fire, which is, that a woman was purchasing some camphene in the store of Cornelius Doherty, in Jefferson Block, and while it was being drawn from a cask, some person standing near threw a lighted match or cigar into it, causing it to ignite. The flames spread with great rapidity, and resulted in the work of death and destruction which we have recorded.

In the time of the fire at the Empire House, a female by the name of Harriet Doherty escaped from an attic window of the Empire House, and walking along the roof gutter, got clear of the burning building by entering an attic window further up the block. How the fire originated is not known.

The Boston Courier in speaking of the late fires and loss of life, urges on Gov. Gardner's notice the fact that Boston Coroners are not suitable men, not courteous men, and says:

And in the same breath, we urge the Mayor to see to it that his fire police are sober when on duty. It is mournful enough to have friends 'burned alive'; but when the 'insolence of office' is added, and people who ask civil questions about missing friends are jostled by a surly officer, it becomes necessary to appeal ardently for reform.

SELFISHNESS.—A further dispatch from Provincetown, speaking of the fishing vessels, wrecked at the Straits of Belleisle, says:

Capt. Cook gives the names of none of the vessels wrecked at Green Island, except the two before reported. He says the whole island was strewed with wrecks and merchandize, and it was impossible to hire the residents to aid in saving property, as they thought it would be sold at auction, and they could buy at their own price.

TOBACCO.—The tobacco exported from the United States to Europe in 1855 amounted to 140,090,000 lbs., and the revenue derived from it by the European governments in the shape of duties or monopolies amounted to $38,567,869. Yet notwithstanding the high price of the weed in Europe, burdened as it is with this duty, the people of Europe consume more per capita than those of the United States. We consume but about two pounds and a half for each man, woman, and child. In some of the Hanse towns of Germany, each human being consume five pounds.

In Sweden, the floors of the stables are planked, and the planks are perforated with holes, so that wet will not lodge on them—the bare boards being the only bedding allowed. To this lodging the Swedes attribute the soundness of their horses' feet, as it is quite uncommon to meet with a lame or foundered horse in Sweden which has been so stabled.

VERMONT CASUALITIES.—George Fox of Wilmington, Vt., badly gored by a vicious bull three weeks since has died; his wife, who came to his assistance, was considerably injured.—A little son of Chauncey Lamb of Morgan, came to his death on the 14th by drinking corrosive sublimate dissolved in alcohol, a bottle of which had been left within his reach; also, a child of Mr Bishop of Mendon, two years of age, was poisoned by drinking cobalt placed on the table for the destruction of flies.

☞ One of the passengers who perished on Lake George in the late steamboat disaster, is Mrs. S. C. Thwng. Her husband was on board, but was saved.

The case of Passmore Williamson against Judge Kane is put down for trial at the August term of the Common Pleas of Delaware county. It is supposed that the case will be postponed until November next.
